

WE ARE GETTING CLOSE

We had a winner last year in this week eight of the pool last year. I sense we are very close to having the first winner being named. But who??

Real slow start last week. Nothing hit Monday or Tuesday. Through Friday only 2 numbers got hit - the worst week in my memory for hitting numbers. Until Sunday. Things got exciting then.

The Giants picked up a 13 on Sunday for Kevin Garcia. Arizona nailed the 12 Sunday making for a Happy Father's Day for Bobby Higgins. They join Cleveland in the exclusive (for now) 1 Away Club. They still need the 13 so that new bowling ball Bob has his eyes on will have to wait a while but a fella can dream, can't he?!

In the near miss department, The Dodgers flew by the coveted 13 in the 6th inning on Tuesday, landing on 14. No joy for Arnie Komet. Minnesota could have stopped at 12 or 13 for Ralph Marra on Wednesday but just kept going to 17!

The numbers 4 and 7 went off the board Saturday. All the small numbers will be gone soon with the zero and 6 the last holdouts. 1 team each needs those numbers.

So, two players in position to win at any time. 14 (almost half the pool) are 2 away. Keep your eye on any double digit score. It could get us our first winner.

Keep you posted.
