

OUT OF THE GATES FAST

A real nice start to the pool. On Monday, many higher scores were achieved, highlighted by two 13 run efforts. The Phils and Twins turned the trick, putting smiles on the faces of Bo LeBon and Dan Stensgard. Not so happy a start for Carolyn Johnson, who's Pirates wasted a great opportunity, going way over with a 16 run outburst on day 1.

The Cubs nabbed three double digit numbers in the first few days. Great start for them and Dan Hofstein. Arnie Komet and the Angels of Los Angeles are off to a nice start as well, nailing several high numbers early.

The Yankees netted the elusive butterfly of 13 on Saturday. Matt Durocher is another happy camper.

At weeks end, all teams had hit between 4 and 6 numbers so no early mathematical edge, but we do like the Cubs right now to be a solid contender this year.
