Heather it was very nice speaking with you today. It is such a small world. Please have your parents give Lynne my best. I saw her last year for my nephews Bar Mitzvah in New Jersey. I love her laugh!

Here are a few links to the last film I produced and directed titled PINK & BLUE: COLORS OF HEREDITARY CANCER.

Some background-

The theatrical world premiere started at the Laemmle Theatre in Beverly Hills, California and also at the AMC 25 in Times Square, N.Y. The documentary played to enthusiastic crowds throughout the United States, Canada and England, winning several awards. It also qualified for Oscars in two categories.

Since October 2015, the film has screened throughout the U.S. and internationally from Montreal to London at the International Filmmaker Festival of World Cinema. It won Best Documentary at the Women's Independent Film Festival, honorable mention for Best Documentary at the Buffalo Niagara International Film Festival, the Excellence Award at the Rincon International Film Festival in Puerto Rico, and was an official selection at the Palm Beach International Film Festival.

Pink & Blue: Colors of Hereditary Cancer was released December 1st throughout the United States and Canada via iTunes, Amazon, and Google Play. The film continues to screen throughout the states and privately at top medical institutions. We will be screening again at UCSF February 13th. Future international theatrical showings include France, Australia and Israel.

If you need any information, please let me know.

GODDESS OF THE SKY-FEATURE LENGTH DOCUMENTARY

Lhakpa Sherpa is a WHOLE FOODS Market team member from West Hartford, CT where I was born and raised. She holds the world record for climbing Mount Everest 7 times. I believe in universal energy and that Lhakpa and I were supposed to tell her story. We can pay it forward and help a lot of people who are suffering out there.

Attached is the treatment for the film. Lets touch base after you have had a chance to look it over. Again, It was great speaking with you, and I look forward to hearing from you soon.

In health and gratitude-

Team Lhakpa-

I want to shoot the final scene of the film this year, which will consist of Shiny and Sunny meeting their grandparents for their first time. I will need Mingma's assistance with scheduling, and other [REDACTED] coordination which I will follow up with him on a subsequent email.

The end scene of the film-

I see a helicopter landing in the remote village where your mom still lives. I'm hoping we can bring your father to the house as well. Lhakpa will be at the house when the grandkids meet their grandparents for the first time. Lhakpa will be finished with her climb. This is the perfect tear jerker ending to a great film.

Who is looking after the girls while Lhakpa is away?

Can Darryl/someone take Lhakpa and the girls to Hartford and get the kids their passports? (We will pay for the costs connected with getting the passports) They can be expedited for an additional cost.) The girls would need a few days off of school in the middle/end of May or June. Is that possible?

I will be in Connecticut and could fly with our crew and the girls to Kathmandu. I would also be able to pay for someone you trust to fly with Sunny and Shiny as well.

LS

Hello Alan good morning he is an honest lawyer. I am not comfortable shooting at whole foods because I don't want to disturb all the people there. I want to work normally like everyone else. I wash dishes there everyday for my girls, they just gave me my job back. Thank you for understanding, right now I'm back to my normal life.
