

The background of the poster is a vibrant, high-energy image of a football stadium at night. In the foreground, two football helmets are positioned on either side, facing each other. The helmet on the left is white with a blue star and a red facemask, representing the New England Patriots. The helmet on the right is dark blue with a white seahawk logo and a blue facemask, representing the Seattle Seahawks. In the center, a brown football with white laces sits on the field. The stadium lights are bright, creating a sense of anticipation and excitement. The text is overlaid on this background.
