Ron,

I would like you to understand one thing and understand this clearly please. I felt a need as you did. There has been a problem for quite some time with "LOOSE TRAILERS". I have a simple solution and guess what? It works. You were trying to get something done about it and there has always been a solution but the solution was a very expensive one and would of cost the manufacture millions of dollars in manufacturing cost. It just so happened that Safety Sentry came to be with the timing and we came to meet for a reason. So, what I want you to do is consider for better lack of the word a "solution" that has presented itself as a profit center for everyone involved in "manufacturing, sales and distribution. And there is no price that can be determined for safety. And the value of life has no dollar amount. So lets look it as what it is an opportunity for my company to feel like we are making a difference and by doing so it is helping your cause for you as a "solution" and we can do this and formulate an agreement that we can both keep our direction and get this product into the hands to keep it going until its made a difference it needs to do. So, I understand your prideful but don't let your pride get in your way of understanding your advertising for me and getting my product in the hands of people that will make the difference. So I am wanting to work an agreement to help my advertising campaign "you" so that has a value that I feel needs compensation. So I ask you again I am not giving anything. I am only including and needing your assistance as an advertising arm and if it includes working with your cause then so be it. Lets get our highways safe. Without my product in use I feel you will kill yourself as a reporting arm. Lets make our reporting efforts be a positive action to a problematic situation. I hope you realize if it wasn't for your website I feel like my product would of made it out there. But, after discovering your website I was compelled to do this immediately and I have started the wheels in motion. So I say to you Ron, Thank You for doing all that you have done to get me to the point of fatigue but it feels great. I am making a difference with my product and I feel that with every sale of a Safety Sentry we are removing 2 incidents on our highways. 1 for the peace of mind of the person towing and 2 with someone on the highway behind the person towing or the person coming towards that person towing. So I am going to strive each day to feel good about my product and what it is doing to preserve life and safety as well as security for all that use it.

Thank You
Karl Pratt

Thanks for all of your help!!!
I got to thinking... you don't have to do anything for me... somehow I will keep going.

You are the person who did it....

I am trying to get more people's attention...
