

Orangey's Best Snack

Once upon a time, there were two jellyfish named Orangey and Pinky. They went on a scavenger hunt, specifically a snack scavenger hunt. Pinky got distracted and disappeared. Orangey visited the coral reefs and found goldfish crackers. Then he went to the bottom of the ocean to find shrimp chips. He was still kind of hungry, so he wanted to look for the number one best snack. He decided to try looking on the beach. So then he swam into a whale's mouth to take a ride to the beach. Orangey said, "Thank you, Whale!" and looked at the sand. He found his favorite snack, Cheetos, but he also saw something pink on the Cheetos. When he got closer, he found Pinky eating the Cheetos!
