FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Capitol Productions Television Offers Live Streaming Services to Maximize Social Distancing Practices In Wake of Covid-19 Spread

March 19, 2020 Leesburg, Virginia – Capitol Productions Television is offering Live Streaming services, locally, to limit large gatherings of people.

“If you were organizing a meeting, conference, or other event that has to be canceled due to social distancing practices, we are able to stream direct to people’s homes so that you do not have to cancel.” says CEO Robert Cohencious. “Right now, more than ever, these services could be vital to keeping communication channels open, education available, clients and staff engaged etc. Live Streaming is an incredible tool right now for everything from getting out vital news, to reading stories to children who are home from school, the possibilities are endless and we’d like to be available to help limit as many large gatherings as possible.”

Capitol Productions Television has been providing video production services in Leesburg since 1989, and will continue to, while implementing safety measures to maintain appropriate social distancing practices while in production.
