Reposted 4 days before THE GREAT RESET my Offer & Plan for President! (THE GREAT RESET = TRASH COMPACTOR & SMELTER). I hereby offer all gas, coal, tree burner people all their "stranded assets" for $1.00. Everyone gets a FREE bullet proof Tesla Cyber-Truck and a real Whoopee Cushion. Treatise to Inventions of Edison by Tesla Leaks: To demonstrate "Genius"; I will then use your Hero, Thomas Edison, his patent for a "Trash Compactor" and put it all in a "Hugh pile of scrap" --Nikola Tesla because of your "costly historical error" NT. I will then transport it using the millions of miles of gas, coal and tree rail-lines (that were never intended for People to travel on) and scrap the rails along the way. Along the way still; 3,000 Thomas Edison DC generators for those coal plant rails were already scrapped when Niagara Falls went online in 1896 (a job well done). Next, I will dump it using another Thomas Edison patent in 1903 for a "Dumping Mechanism" at the newly formed site called the "Niagara Falls Dinosaur Dump" where jobs will be available riding "Dinosaur's" and picking up "rubble" or rocks. There, I will dump it again into the first in the world in 1899 the Nikola Tesla Electric Furnace at Niagara Falls. The steel Smelter will turn it all into one big slag of super-luminescent Krypton, superconductive, diamond encrusted (Alien) Dinosaur Dung. The up to 30 carat synthetic diamonds come free as a waste product of an electric furnace. So, the carbon dust diamonds is an automatic; sprinkling on the dung to make it 1000X brighter or more luminescent than your LED. (China has a patent for lights using this diamond dust, 1000X more efficient than LED.) These special Tesla Dynamos and "translation device" (a Tesla light bulb) are also used to hydro-crack the superconductive Krypton gas from Air like they do in Westinghouse Nuclear Reactors. Any remaining plastic waste will be turned into real rubber "Whoopie Cushions" for everyone's new Tesla Model Y. Not the fake sound ones the have in their cars now. Real Ones! The Whoopie Cushions will be manufactured using the various and famous patents by Edison for Plastic Mold's. So, the cost of the Super-Slab of Dung, including the power, as described would be FREE. Lastly, I'm going to present it to the public for worship, pledges and allegiance called the "Thomas Edison" patent for a "Milking Machine". The Milking Machine will have an attachment; another Thomas Edison invention for the world's 1st "Cash Register"; so that the money changers can "calculate" what your "money" is worth; and keeps the rest anyhow. The "Milking Machine" will be available for pledges at the famous National Plastic Museum where the other statue of Edison resides for pledges (and allegiance) for his great work on "Plastic Moldings" for sex toys. I will then use those pledges to build a system where we don't need your crap. Ok? #Earth #Potential #Motion #machines #Ocean #Mountain #Mass The Tesla (Deepwater) Tube of 1900: Patent Office Classification Y10S415/916 PERPETUAL MOTION DEVICES -- The potential energy in the "Mass" of the Oceans and "Mass" of Mountains is PERMENANT', 24-7 and can power the Earth, Quadrillions of times over. How much is that worth?

Method and apparatus for generating energy using pressure from a large mass

<HTTPS://PATENTS.GOOGLE.COM/PATENT/US6666024B1/> Y02E10/30 Energy from the sea, e.g. using wave energy or salinity gradient. F03G7/04 Mechanical-power-producing mechanisms, not otherwise provided for or using energy sources not otherwise provided for using pressure differences or thermal differences occurring in nature. F03G7/06 Mechanical-power-producing mechanisms, not otherwise provided for or using energy sources not otherwise provided for using expansion or contraction of bodies due to heating, cooling, moistening, drying or the like. -- In spite of the improvements disclosed in the prior art there is no practical method and apparatus to translate the potential energy created by the gravitational force of a large mass of liquid or solid into kinetic energy and in turn utilize that kinetic energy to safely and efficiently generate electricity. The use of gravitational force of a mass of liquid or solid to induce pressure on a closed cycle of a fluid as described herein for the present invention is unprecedented.

"Tesla Tube of 1900" <https://teslauniverse.com/nikola-tesla/articles/problem-increasing-human-energy>Note to Dia. b. — A, medium with little energy; B, B, ambient medium with much energy; O, path of the energy. But was it not possible to realize a similar condition without necessarily going to a height? Conceive, for the sake of illustration, an inclosure T, as illustrated in diagram b, such that energy could not be transferred across it except through a channel or path O, and that, by some means or other, in this inclosure a medium were maintained which would have little energy, and that on the outer side of the same there would be the ordinary ambient medium with much energy. Under these assumptions the energy would flow through the path O, as indicated by the arrow, and might then be converted on its passage into some other form of energy. The question was, Could such a condition be attained? Could we produce artificially such a "sink" for the energy of the ambient medium to flow in? Suppose that an extremely low temperature could be maintained by some process in a given space; the surrounding medium would then be compelled to give off heat, which could be converted into mechanical or other form of energy, and utilized. By realizing such a plan, we should be enabled to get at any point of the globe a continuous supply of energy, day and night. More than this, reasoning in the abstract, it would seem possible to cause a quick circulation of the medium, and thus draw the energy at a very rapid rate. Here, then, was an idea which, if realizable, afforded a happy solution of the problem of getting energy from the medium. But was it realizable? I convinced myself that it was so in a number of ways, of which one is the following. As regards heat, we are at a high level, which may be represented by the surface of a mountain lake considerably above the sea, the level of which may mark the absolute zero of temperature existing in the interstellar space. Heat, like water, flows from high to low level, and, consequently, just as we can let the water of the lake run down to the sea, so we are able to let heat from the earth's surface travel up into the cold region above. Heat, like water, can perform work in flowing down, and if we had any doubt as to whether we could derive energy from the medium by means of a thermopile, as before described, it would be dispelled by this analogue. But can we produce cold in a given portion of the space and cause the heat to flow in continually? To create such a "sink," or "cold hole," as we might say, in the medium, would be equivalent to producing in the lake a space either empty or filled with something much lighter than water. This we could do by placing in the lake a tank, and pumping all the water out of the latter. We know, then, that the water, if allowed to flow back into the tank, would, theoretically, be able to perform exactly the same amount of work which was used in pumping it out, but not a bit more. Consequently nothing could be gained in this double operation of first raising the water and then letting it fall down. This would mean that it is impossible to create such a sink in the medium. But let us reflect a moment. Heat, though following certain general laws of mechanics, like a fluid, is not such; it is energy which may be converted into other forms of energy as it passes from a high to a low level. To make our mechanical analogy complete and true, we must, therefore, assume that the water, in its passage into the tank, is converted into something else, which may be taken out of it without using any, or by using very little, power. For example, if heat be represented in this analogue by the water of the lake, the oxygen and hydrogen composing the water may illustrate other forms of energy into which the heat is transformed in passing from hot to cold. If the process of heat transformation were absolutely perfect, no heat at all would arrive at the low level, since all of it would be converted into other forms of energy. Corresponding to this ideal case, all the water flowing into the tank would be decomposed into oxygen and hydrogen before reaching the bottom, and the result would be that water would continually flow in, and yet the tank would remain entirely empty, the gases formed escaping. We would thus produce, by expending initially a certain amount of work to create a sink for the heat or, respectively, the water to flow in, a condition enabling us to get any amount of energy without further effort. This would be an ideal way of obtaining motive power. We do not know of any such absolutely perfect process of heat-conversion, and consequently some heat will generally reach the low level, which means to say, in our mechanical analogue, that some water will arrive at the bottom of the tank, and a gradual and slow filling of the latter will take place, necessitating continuous pumping out. But evidently there will be less to pump out than flows in, or, in other words, less energy will be needed to maintain the initial condition than is developed by the fall, and this is to say that some energy will be gained from the medium. What is not converted in flowing down can just be raised up with its own energy, and what is converted is clear gain. Thus the virtue of the principle I have discovered resides wholly in the conversion of the energy on the downward flow.

F03G7/06 Mechanical-power-producing mechanisms, not otherwise provided for or using energy sources not otherwise provided for using expansion or contraction of bodies due to heating, cooling, moistening, drying or the like. -- In spite of the improvements disclosed in the prior art there is no practical method and apparatus to translate the potential energy created by the gravitational force of a large mass of liquid or solid into kinetic energy and in turn utilize that kinetic energy to safely and efficiently generate electricity. The use of gravitational force of a mass of liquid or solid to induce pressure on a closed cycle of a fluid as described herein for the present invention is unprecedented.

Note to Dia. b. — A, medium with little energy; B, B, ambient medium with much energy; O, path of the energy. But was it not possible to realize a similar condition without necessarily going to a height? Conceive, for the sake of illustration, an inclosure T, as illustrated in diagram b, such that energy could not be transferred across it except through a channel or path O, and that, by some means or other, in this inclosure a medium were maintained which would have little energy, and that on the outer side of the same there would be the ordinary ambient medium with much energy. Under these assumptions the energy would flow through the path O, as indicated by the arrow, and might then be converted on its passage into some other form of energy. The question was, Could such a condition be attained? Could we produce artificially such a "sink" for the energy of the ambient medium to flow in? Suppose that an extremely low temperature could be maintained by some process in a given space; the surrounding medium would then be compelled to give off heat, which could be converted into mechanical or other form of energy, and utilized. By realizing such a plan, we should be enabled to get at any point of the globe a continuous supply of energy, day and night. More than this, reasoning in the abstract, it would seem possible to cause a quick circulation of the medium, and thus draw the energy at a very rapid rate. Here, then, was an idea which, if realizable, afforded a happy solution of the problem of getting energy from the medium. But was it realizable? I convinced myself that it was so in a number of ways, of which one is the following. As regards heat, we are at a high level, which may be represented by the surface of a mountain lake considerably above the sea, the level of which may mark the absolute zero of temperature existing in the interstellar space. Heat, like water, flows from high to low level, and, consequently, just as we can let the water of the lake run down to the sea, so we are able to let heat from the earth's surface travel up into the cold region above. Heat, like water, can perform work in flowing down, and if we had any doubt as to whether we could derive energy from the medium by means of a thermopile, as before described, it would be dispelled by this analogue. But can we produce cold in a given portion of the space and cause the heat to flow in continually? To create such a "sink," or "cold hole," as we might say, in the medium, would be equivalent to producing in the lake a space either empty or filled with something much lighter than water. This we could do by placing in the lake a tank, and pumping all the water out of the latter. We know, then, that the water, if allowed to flow back into the tank, would, theoretically, be able to perform exactly the same amount of work which was used in pumping it out, but not a bit more. Consequently nothing could be gained in this double operation of first raising the water and then letting it fall down. This would mean that it is impossible to create such a sink in the medium. But let us reflect a moment. Heat, though following certain general laws of mechanics, like a fluid, is not such; it is energy which may be converted into other forms of energy as it passes from a high to a low level. To make our mechanical analogy complete and true, we must, therefore, assume that the water, in its passage into the tank, is converted into something else, which may be taken out of it without using any, or by using very little, power. For example, if heat be represented in this analogue by the water of the lake, the oxygen and hydrogen composing the water may illustrate other forms of energy into which the heat is transformed in passing from hot to cold. If the process of heat transformation were absolutely perfect, no heat at all would arrive at the low level, since all of it would be converted into other forms of energy. Corresponding to this ideal case, all the water flowing into the tank would be decomposed into oxygen and hydrogen before reaching the bottom, and the result would be that water would continually flow in, and yet the tank would remain entirely empty, the gases formed escaping. We would thus produce, by expending initially a certain amount of work to create a sink for the heat or, respectively, the water to flow in, a condition enabling us to get any amount of energy without further effort. This would be an ideal way of obtaining motive power. We do not know of any such absolutely perfect process of heat-conversion, and consequently some heat will generally reach the low level, which means to say, in our mechanical analogue, that some water will arrive at the bottom of the tank, and a gradual and slow filling of the latter will take place, necessitating continuous pumping out. But evidently there will be less to pump out than flows in, or, in other words, less energy will be needed to maintain the initial condition than is developed by the fall, and this is to say that some energy will be gained from the medium. What is not converted in flowing down can just be raised up with its own energy, and what is converted is clear gain. Thus the virtue of the principle I have discovered resides wholly in the conversion of the energy on the downward flow.

The Empire has been dissolved into a smoking amalgam (Like Tesla's Lab in 1895). Jedi, Tesla in cursive spelling Yoda, have successfully saved the data (tapes?) containing plans to the Death Star in R2D2 units around the world. On the anniversary of George Washington & (Or what would be his brother) plan to cross the Delaware.

Welcome to Rise of the Jedi. I come to you with a message of the Empire and the for the Jedi; from the original Jedi Master, Nikola Tesla, known in cursive as Yoda. The emodiment of all Jedi's. In the last years, The Empire, basing it's New World Order on control of countries with food and continents with energy, has been shattered into a 1000 pieces. The old order of Clinton's Walmart, and George Herbert Walker Scherff, known as Curious George, HAARP, have been swept away.

The old Jedi's who used The Force from the free powers of the sun, the wind, the Ocean and the Ether for the side of Light, like Tesla, have caused the Empire to attack the Jedi's hometown, his home, and museum, four times, and yours, using the idea of "World Wars" as the excuse. The powers of The Force are unlimited compared to the old powers of destroying resources for energy. Today, the Empire hired Donald Trump, as the Emperor, with Presidential Directive Powers, and Alex Jones as the self proclaimed "Cobra Commander" as Darth Vader. The dark forces of the Information War have been commanded to quote "release the greatest evil onto mankind" and to "jam the signals" of the Jedi on the Internet with quote "fake news".

In the current episode, the Empire attempted to "end the Jedi", and failed. But in the previous episode, succeeded by the attempted assassination, castration and later kidnapping and torturing the old Jedi, Nikola Tesla. Despite the efforts of Princess Lea in hiding the plans to the Death Star, the Empire found the plans to the Death Star in a Multi-Decade Resistant Box; opened after 30 years of Yoda's disappearance. Their current attempt for a World Empire, however, has failed. The plans to the Death Star, at Wardenclyffe, and the free energy powers have been successfully hidden by the old Jedi and now transfered to R2D2 units around the Galaxy.

Boba Fett hired by Darth Vader, failed to find and stop Hans Solo and his faster than light Mellenium Falcon from clearing a path for Luke Skywalker to destroy their Death Star. But the Emperor and the Empire is a Phantom Menace, of Fear, for Millenia using CRISES to create ORDER, and it will continue to be. Empire spy Snowden and troll trap Assange were sent throughout the Galaxy to determine what technology the Jedi's have created that would put an end to the power of the Empire. Both have failed. New Jedi energy ministers around Alderan, have declared "nothing can stop this transition".

Since the capture and disappearance of Nikola Tesla, the Empire has spent hundreds of Trillions of dollars in newer elements of their defense; from Depleted Uranium, Osmium and Iridium, to HydraZine or Napalm, to the Death Star's Directed Energy Weapons. The Empire has already used their weaponry in World War 2, on Vietnam, Iraq, Serbia and New York. The great Jedi, William Bill Cooper, declared the Empire is "at least, 50-100 years beyond, what you can even imagine". Another Jedi, the publisher of Borderland Books declared "we are living at least 1000 years behind, what's already known".

UNTIL THE LATEST of these conflicts, the Empire had no armaments industry. Only Thomas Edisons's DC coal plants and Incandescent light bulbs. With the Empire's Dark Side forces, their makers of plowshares could, with time and as required, make light sabers as well. But now the Empire can no longer risk emergency improvisation of its defense; they have been compelled to create a permanent armaments industry of vast proportions. Added to this, 5 million men and women are directly engaged in the Empire's defense.

The Empire spends on military security alone more than the net income of all private corporations. The Government has become the ultimate power in the Universe; as Emperor Obama declared "you must give your rights to an all powerful Sovereign". THIS CONJUNCTION of an immense military establishment and a large arms industry is new to the Empire. The total influence economic, political, even spiritual is felt in every city, every State house, every office of the Empire.

The Emperor's loss of control of the Galaxy, created the imperative need for this development. Yet the Jedi must not fail to comprehend its grave implications. Our toil, resources and livelihood are all involved; so is the very structure of our society. IN THE COUNCILS of Empire, we must guard against the acquisition of unwarranted influence, whether sought or unsought, by the military industrial complex.

The potential for the disastrous rise of misplaced power exists and will persist. WE MUST NEVER let the weight of this combination endanger our liberties or democratic processes. We should take nothing for granted. Only an alert and knowledgeable Jedi can compel the proper meshing of the huge industrial and military machinery of the Empire with the Jedi's peaceful methods and goals, so that security and liberty may prosper together.

AKIN TO, and largely responsible for the sweeping changes in the Empire's industrial military posture, has been the technological revolution developed by Yoda. Yoda, under the auspices of the Empire, had been double crossed. The Empire, not aware of the powers of the Jedi, have spent your fortunes on research of The Force; but it has become more formalized, complex, and costly. A steadily increasing share is conducted for, by, or at the direction of, the Empire.

TODAY, the solitary Jedi, tinkering in his shop, has been overshadowed by task forces of New World Order stooges in laboratories and testing fields. In the same fashion, the free university, historically the fountainhead of free energy and scientific discovery, has experienced a revolution in the conduct of research. Partly because of the huge costs involved, an Empires contract becomes, virtually, a substitute for learning the true methods and uses of The Force. Even today, Disneyland, for example, was built by the Empires Army.

THE PROSPECT of domination of the nation's scholars by Empire employment, project allocations, and the power of fiat money is ever present and is gravely to be regarded. YET, in holding scientific research and discovery of The Force in respect, as we should, we must also be alert to the equal and opposite danger that the Empire has become the captive of a Dark Side scientific-technological elite.

In the following episode, Episode 2, learn the powers of The Force, Jedi Mind Tricks and the Instinct, Intuition and Imagination of the Jedi. Begin training at the Rise of the Jedi Podcast Facebook Page

Treatise to Inventions of Edison by Tesla Leaks: To demonstrate "Genius"; I will then use your Hero, Thomas Edison, his patent for a "Trash Compactor" and put all the stranded assets, and everything else you've built up until this date, into a "Hugh pile of scrap" --Nikola Tesla. Because of your "costly historical error" NT. I will then transport the scrap using the millions of miles of gas, coal and tree rail-lines (that were never intended for People to travel on) and scrap the rails along the way. Along the way still; 3,000 Thomas Edison 1MW DC generators for those coal plant rails were already scrapped when Niagara Falls 3GW went online in 1896 (a job well done). Next, I will dump it using another Thomas Edison patent in 1903 for a "Dumping Mechanism" at the newly formed site called the "Niagara Falls Dinosaur Dump" where jobs will be available riding "Dinosaur's" and picking up "rubble" or rocks. There, I will dump it again into the first in the world steel smelter in 1899; the Nikola Tesla Electric-Arc Furnace at Niagara Falls. The smelter or sinter will turn all your junk into one big slag of super-luminescent, superconductive, diamond encrusted (Alien) Dinosaur dung. The 30 carat synthetic diamonds come free from the carbon dust waste product of an electric arc furnace; since about 1888. The carbon dust diamond sprinkles on the dung also make the dung 1000X brighter than your LED. (China has a patent for lights using this diamond dust, 1000X more efficient than LED.) These special Tesla Dynamos and "translation device" (a Tesla light bulb) are also used to hydro-crack the self-luminescent Krypton gas from Air like they do in Westinghouse Nuclear Reactors. Any remaining plastic waste will be turned into real rubber "Whoopie Cushions" for everyone's new Tesla Model Y. Not the fake sound ones they have in their cars now. Real Ones! The Whoopie Cushions will be manufactured using the various and famous patents by Edison for Plastic Mold's. So, the cost of the Super-Slab of Dung, including the power, as described would be FREE. Lastly, I'm going to present it to the public for worship, pledges and allegiance called the "Thomas Edison" patent for a "Milking Machine". The Milking Machine will have an attachment; another Thomas Edison invention for the world's 1st "Electronic Cash Register"; so that the money changers can "calculate" what your "money" is worth; and the money changer keeps the rest anyhow. The "Milking Machine" will be available for pledges at the famous National Plastic Museum where the other statue of Edison resides for pledges (and allegiance) for his great work on "Plastic Moldings" for sex toys. I will then use those pledges to build a system where we don't need your crap. Ok? Repost of Offer: My plan for President! THE GREAT RESET = TRASH COMPACTOR & SMELTER. I hereby offer all gas, coal, tree burner people all their "stranded assets" for $1. Everyone gets a FREE bullet proof Tesla Cyber-Truck and a real Whoopee Cushion. Treatise to Inventions of Edison by Tesla Leaks: To demonstrate "Genius"; I will then use your Hero, Thomas Edison, his patent for a "Trash Compactor" and put it all in a "Hugh pile of scrap" --Nikola Tesla because of your "costly historical error" NT. I will then transport it using the millions of miles of gas, coal and tree rail-lines (that were never intended for People to travel on) and scrap the rails along the way. Along the way still; 3,000 Thomas Edison DC generators for those coal plant rails were already scrapped when Niagara Falls went online in 1896 (a job well done). Next, I will dump it using another Thomas Edison patent in 1903 for a "Dumping Mechanism" at the newly formed site called the "Niagara Falls Dinosaur Dump" where jobs will be available riding "Dinosaur's" and picking up "rubble" or rocks. There, I will dump it again into the first in the world in 1899 the Nikola Tesla Electric Furnace at Niagara Falls. The steel Smelter will turn it all into one big slag of super-luminescent Krypton, superconductive, diamond encrusted (Alien) Dinosaur Dung. The up to 30 carat synthetic diamonds come free as a waste product of an electric furnace. So, the carbon dust diamonds is an automatic; sprinkling on the dung to make it 1000X brighter or more luminescent than your LED. (China has a patent for lights using this diamond dust, 1000X more efficient than LED.) These special Tesla Dynamos and "translation device" (a Tesla light bulb) are also used to hydro-crack the superconductive Krypton gas from Air like they do in Westinghouse Nuclear Reactors. Any remaining plastic waste will be turned into real rubber "Whoopie Cushions" for everyone's new Tesla Model Y. Not the fake sound ones the have in their cars now. Real Ones! The Whoopie Cushions will be manufactured using the various and famous patents by Edison for Plastic Mold's. So, the cost of the Super-Slab of Dung, including the power, as described would be FREE. Lastly, I'm going to present it to the public for worship, pledges and allegiance called the "Thomas Edison" patent for a "Milking Machine". The Milking Machine will have an attachment; another Thomas Edison invention for the world's 1st "Cash Register"; so that the money changers can "calculate" what your "money" is worth; and keeps the rest anyhow. The "Milking Machine" will be available for pledges at the famous National Plastic Museum where the other statue of Edison resides for pledges (and allegiance) for his great work on "Plastic Moldings" for sex toys. I will then use those pledges to build a system where we don't need your crap. Ok? Thomas Edison, McGraw companies 2011 "Trash Compactor" <https://patents.google.com/patent/US9221600/> / -- 1972 "Control Mechanisms for Trash Compactors". <https://patents.google.com/patent/US3855919A/en> -- From all these inventions of Thomas Edison; the best Patent citation is for a giant "Trash Can". The Tesla Model 3 comes with no trash can; so get on Inventing! Thomas Edison's Trash Compactor: <https://patents.google.com/patent/US1311955A/en> -- Dumping Mechanism:

#Earth #Potential #Motion #machines #Ocean #Mountain #Mass The Tesla (Deepwater) Tube of 1900: Patent Office Classification Y10S415/916 PERPETUAL MOTION DEVICES -- The potential energy in the "Mass" of the Oceans and "Mass" of Mountains is PERMENANT', 24-7 and can power the Earth, Quadrillions of times over. How much is that worth?

Method and apparatus for generating energy using pressure from a large mass <https://patents.google.com/patent/US6666024B1/Y02E10/30> Energy from the sea, e.g. using wave energy or salinity gradient. F03G7/04 Mechanical-power-producing mechanisms, not otherwise provided for or using energy sources not otherwise provided for using pressure differences or thermal differences occurring in nature. F03G7/06 Mechanical-power-producing mechanisms, not otherwise provided for or using energy sources not otherwise provided for using expansion or contraction of bodies due to heating, cooling, moistening, drying or the like. -- In spite of the improvements disclosed in the prior art there is no practical method and apparatus to translate the potential energy created by the gravitational force of a large mass of liquid or solid into kinetic energy and in turn utilize that kinetic energy to safely and efficiently generate electricity. The use of gravitational force of a mass of liquid or solid to induce pressure on a closed cycle of a fluid as described herein for the present invention is unprecedented.

"Tesla Tube of 1900" <https://teslauniverse.com/nikola-tesla/articles/problem-increasing-human-energy>Note to Dia. b. — A, medium with little energy; B, B, ambient medium with much energy; O, path of the energy. But was it not possible to realize a similar condition without necessarily going to a height? Conceive, for the sake of illustration, an inclosure T, as illustrated in diagram b, such that energy could not be transferred across it except through a channel or path O, and that, by some means or other, in this inclosure a medium were maintained which would have little energy, and that on the outer side of the same there would be the ordinary ambient medium with much energy. Under these assumptions the energy would flow through the path O, as indicated by the arrow, and might then be converted on its passage into some other form of energy. The question was, Could such a condition be attained? Could we produce artificially such a "sink" for the energy of the ambient medium to flow in? Suppose that an extremely low temperature could be maintained by some process in a given space; the surrounding medium would then be compelled to give off heat, which could be converted into mechanical or other form of energy, and utilized. By realizing such a plan, we should be enabled to get at any point of the globe a continuous supply of energy, day and night. More than this, reasoning in the abstract, it would seem possible to cause a quick circulation of the medium, and thus draw the energy at a very rapid rate. Here, then, was an idea which, if realizable, afforded a happy solution of the problem of getting energy from the medium. But was it realizable? I convinced myself that it was so in a number of ways, of which one is the following. As regards heat, we are at a high level, which may be represented by the surface of a mountain lake considerably above the sea, the level of which may mark the absolute zero of temperature existing in the interstellar space. Heat, like water, flows from high to low level, and, consequently, just as we can let the water of the lake run down to the sea, so we are able to let heat from the earth's surface travel up into the cold region above. Heat, like water, can perform work in flowing down, and if we had any doubt as to whether we could derive energy from the medium by means of a thermopile, as before described, it would be dispelled by this analogue. But can we produce cold in a given portion of the space and cause the heat to flow in continually? To create such a "sink," or "cold hole," as we might say, in the medium, would be equivalent to producing in the lake a space either empty or filled with something much lighter than water. This we could do by placing in the lake a tank, and pumping all the water out of the latter. We know, then, that the water, if allowed to flow back into the tank, would, theoretically, be able to perform exactly the same amount of work which was used in pumping it out, but not a bit more. Consequently nothing could be gained in this double operation of first raising the water and then letting it fall down. This would mean that it is impossible to create such a sink in the medium. But let us reflect a moment. Heat, though following certain general laws of mechanics, like a fluid, is not such; it is energy which may be converted into other forms of energy as it passes from a high to a low level. To make our mechanical analogy complete and true, we must, therefore, assume that the water, in its passage into the tank, is converted into something else, which may be taken out of it without using any, or by using very little, power. For example, if heat be represented in this analogue by the water of the lake, the oxygen and hydrogen composing the water may illustrate other forms of energy into which the heat is transformed in passing from hot to cold. If the process of heat transformation were absolutely perfect, no heat at all would arrive at the low level, since all of it would be converted into other forms of energy. Corresponding to this ideal case, all the water flowing into the tank would be decomposed into oxygen and hydrogen before reaching the bottom, and the result would be that water would continually flow in, and yet the tank would remain entirely empty, the gases formed escaping. We would thus produce, by expending initially a certain amount of work to create a sink for the heat or, respectively, the water to flow in, a condition enabling us to get any amount of energy without further effort. This would be an ideal way of obtaining motive power. We do not know of any such absolutely perfect process of heat-conversion, and consequently some heat will generally reach the low level, which means to say, in our mechanical analogue, that some water will arrive at the bottom of the tank, and a gradual and slow filling of the latter will take place, necessitating continuous pumping out. But evidently there will be less to pump out than flows in, or, in other words, less energy will be needed to maintain the initial condition than is developed by the fall, and this is to say that some energy will be gained from the medium. What is not converted in flowing down can just be raised up with its own energy, and what is converted is clear gain. Thus the virtue of the principle I have discovered resides wholly in the conversion of the energy on the downward flow.

Welcome to Rise of the Jedi. I come to you with a message of the Empire and the for the Jedi; from the original Jedi Master, Nikola Tesla, known in cursive as Yoda. The emodiment of all Jedi's. In the last years, The Empire, basing it's New World Order on control of countries with food and continents with energy, has been shattered into a 1000 pieces. The old order of Clinton's Walmart, and George Herbert Walker Scherff, known as Curious George, HAARP, have been swept away.

The old Jedi's who used The Force from the free powers of the sun, the wind, the Ocean and the Ether for the side of Light, like Tesla, have caused the Empire to attack the Jedi's hometown, his home, and museum, four times, and yours, using the idea of "World Wars" as the excuse. The powers of The Force are unlimited compared to the old powers of destroying resources for energy. Today, the Empire hired Donald Trump, as the Emperor, with Presidential Directive Powers, and Alex Jones as the self proclaimed "Cobra Commander" as Darth Vader. The dark forces of the Information War have been commanded to quote "release the greatest evil onto mankind" and to "jam the signals" of the Jedi on the Internet with quote "fake news".

In the current episode, the Empire attempted to "end the Jedi", and failed. But in the previous episode, succeeded by the attempted assassination, castration and later kidnapping and torturing the old Jedi, Nikola Tesla. Despite the efforts of Princess Lea in hiding the plans to the Death Star, the Empire found the plans to the Death Star in a Multi-Decade Resistant Box; opened after 30 years of Yoda's disappearance. Their current attempt for a World Empire, however, has failed. The plans to the Death Star, at Wardencylffe, and the free energy powers have been successfully hidden by the old Jedi and now transferred to R2D2 units around the Galaxy.

Boba Fett hired by Darth Vader, failed to find and stop Hans Solo and his faster than light Mellenium Falcon from clearing a path for Luke Skywalker to destroy their Death Star. But the Emperor and the Empire is a Phantom Menace, of Fear, for Millenia using CRISES to create ORDER, and it will continue to be. Empire spy Snowden and troll trap Assange were sent throughout the Galaxy to determine what technology the Jedi's have created that would put an end to the power of the Empire. Both have failed. New Jedi energy ministers around Alderan, have declared "nothing can stop this transition".

Since the capture and disappearance of Nikola Tesla, the Empire has spent hundreds of Trillions of dollars in newer elements of their defense; from Depleted Uranium, Osmium and Iridium, to HydraZine or Napalm, to the Death Star's Directed Energy Weapons. The Empire has already used their weaponry in World War 2, on Vietnam, Iraq, Serbia and New York. The great Jedi, William Bill Cooper, declared the Empire is "at least, 50-100 years beyond, what you can even imagine". Another Jedi, the publisher of Borderland Books declared "we are living at least 1000 years behind, what's already known".

UNTIL THE LATEST of these conflicts, the Empire had no armaments industry. Only Thomas Edisons's DC coal plants and Incandescent light bulbs. With the Empire's Dark Side forces, their makers of plowshares could, with time and as required, make light sabers as well. But now the Empire can no longer risk emergency improvisation of its defense; they have been compelled to create a permanent armaments industry of vast proportions. Added to this, 5 million men and women are directly engaged in the Empire's defense.

The Empire spends on military security alone more than the net income of all private corporations. The Government has become the ultimate power in the Universe; as Emperor Obama declared "you must give your rights to an all powerful Sovereign". THIS CONJUNCTION of an immense military establishment and a large arms industry is new to the Empire. The total influence economic, political, even spiritual is felt in every city, every State house, every office of the Empire.

The Emperor's loss of control of the Galaxy, created the imperative need for this development. Yet the Jedi must not fail to comprehend its grave implications. Our toil, resources and livelihood are all involved; so is the very structure of our society. IN THE COUNCILS of Empire, we must guard against the acquisition of unwarranted influence, whether sought or unsought, by the military industrial complex.

The potential for the disastrous rise of misplaced power exists and will persist. WE MUST NEVER let the weight of this combination endanger our liberties or democratic processes. We should take nothing for granted. Only an alert and knowledgeable Jedi can compel the proper meshing of the huge industrial and military machinery of the Empire with the Jedi's peaceful methods and goals, so that security and liberty may prosper together.

AKIN TO, and largely responsible for the sweeping changes in the Empire's industrial military posture, has been the technological revolution developed by Yoda. Yoda, under the auspices of the Empire, had been double crossed. The Empire, not aware of the powers of the Jedi, have spent your fortunes on research of The Force; but it has become more formalized, complex, and costly. A steadily increasing share is conducted for, by, or at the direction of, the Empire.

TODAY, the solitary Jedi, tinkering in his shop, has been overshadowed by task forces of New World Order stooges in laboratories and testing fields. In the same fashion, the free university, historically the fountainhead of free energy and scientific discovery, has experienced a revolution in the conduct of research. Partly because of the huge costs involved, an Empires contract becomes, virtually, a substitute for learning the true methods and uses of The Force. Even today, Disneyland, for example, was built by the Empires Army.

THE PROSPECT of domination of the nation's scholars by Empire employment, project allocations, and the power of fiat money is ever present and is gravely to be regarded. YET, in holding scientific research and discovery of The Force in respect, as we should, we must also be alert to the equal and opposite danger that the Empire has become the captive of a Dark Side scientific-technological elite.

In the following episode, Episode 2, learn the powers of The Force, Jedi Mind Tricks and the Instinct, Intuition and Imagination of the Jedi. Begin training at the Rise of the Jedi Podcast Facebook Page

We would thus produce, by expending initially a certain amount of work to create a sink for the heat or, respectively, the water to flow in, a condition enabling us to get any amount of energy without further effort. This would be an ideal way of obtaining motive power. We do not know of any such absolutely perfect process of heat-conversion, and consequently some heat will generally reach the low level, which means to say, in our mechanical analogue, that some water will arrive at the bottom of the tank, and a gradual and slow filling of the latter will take place, necessitating continuous pumping out. But evidently there will be less to pump out than flows in, or, in other words, less energy will be needed to maintain the initial condition than is developed by the fall, and this is to say that some energy will be gained from the medium. What is not converted in flowing down can just be raised up with its own energy, and what is converted is clear gain. Thus the virtue of the principle I have discovered resides wholly in the conversion of the energy on the downward flow. Note to Dia. b. — A, medium with little energy; B, B, ambient medium with much energy; O, path of the energy. But was it not possible to realize a similar condition without necessarily going to a height? Conceive, for the sake of illustration, an inclosure T, as illustrated in diagram b, such that energy could not be transferred across it except through a channel or path O, and that, by some means or other, in this inclosure a medium were maintained which would have little energy, and that on the outer side of the same there would be the ordinary ambient medium with much energy. Under these assumptions the energy would flow through the path O, as indicated by the arrow, and might then be converted on its passage into some other form of energy. The question was, Could such a condition be attained? Could we produce artificially such a "sink" for the energy of the ambient medium to flow in? Suppose that an extremely low temperature could be maintained by some process in a given space; the surrounding medium would then be compelled to give off heat, which could be converted into mechanical or other form of energy, and utilized. By realizing such a plan, we should be enabled to get at any point of the globe a continuous supply of energy, day and night. More than this, reasoning in the abstract, it would seem possible to cause a quick circulation of the medium, and thus draw the energy at a very rapid rate. Here, then, was an idea which, if realizable, afforded a happy solution of the problem of getting energy from the medium. But was it realizable? I convinced myself that it was so in a number of ways, of which one is the following. As regards heat, we are at a high level, which may be represented by the surface of a mountain lake considerably above the sea, the level of which may mark the absolute zero of temperature existing in the interstellar space. Heat, like water, flows from high to low level, and, consequently, just as we can let the water of the lake run down to the sea, so we are able to let heat from the earth's surface travel up into the cold region above. Heat, like water, can perform work in flowing down, and if we had any doubt as to whether we could derive energy from the medium by means of a thermopile, as before described, it would be dispelled by this analogue. But can we produce cold in a given portion of the space and cause the heat to flow in continually? To create such a "sink," or "cold hole," as we might say, in the medium, would be equivalent to producing in the lake a space either empty or filled with something much lighter than water. This we could do by placing in the lake a tank, and pumping all the water out of the latter. We know, then, that the water, if allowed to flow back into the tank, would, theoretically, be able to perform exactly the same amount of work which was used in pumping it out, but not a bit more. Consequently nothing could be gained in this double operation of first raising the water and then letting it fall down. This would mean that it is impossible to create such a sink in the medium. But let us reflect a moment. Heat, though following certain general laws of mechanics, like a fluid, is not such; it is energy which may be converted into other forms of energy as it passes from a high to a low level. To make our mechanical analogy complete and true, we must, therefore, assume that the water, in its passage into the tank, is converted into something else, which may be taken out of it without using any, or by using very little, power. For example, if heat be represented in this analogue by the water of the lake, the oxygen and hydrogen composing the water may illustrate other forms of energy into which the heat is transformed in passing from hot to cold. If the process of heat transformation were absolutely perfect, no heat at all would arrive at the low level, since all of it would be converted into other forms of energy. Corresponding to this ideal case, all the water flowing into the tank would be decomposed into oxygen and hydrogen before reaching the bottom, and the result would be that water would continually flow in, and yet the tank would remain entirely empty, the gases formed escaping. We would thus produce, by expending initially a certain amount of work to create a sink for the heat or, respectively, the water to flow in, a condition enabling us to get any amount of energy without further effort. This would be an ideal way of obtaining motive power. We do not know of any such absolutely perfect process of heat-conversion, and consequently some heat will generally reach the low level, which means to say, in our mechanical analogue, that some water will arrive at the bottom of the tank, and a gradual and slow filling of the latter will take place, necessitating continuous pumping out. Here, then, was an idea which, if realizable, afforded a happy solution of the problem of getting energy from the medium. But was it realizable? I convinced myself that it was so in a number of ways, of which one is the following. As regards heat, we are at a high level, which may be represented by the surface of a mountain lake considerably above the sea, the level of which may mark the absolute zero of temperature existing in the interstellar space. Heat, like water, flows from high to low level, and, consequently, just as we can let the water of the lake run down to the sea, so we are able to let heat from the earth's surface travel up into the cold region above. Heat, like water, can perform work in flowing down, and if we had any doubt as to whether we could derive energy from the medium by means of a thermopile, as before described, it would be dispelled by this analogue. But can we produce cold in a given portion of the space and cause the heat to flow in continually? To create such a "sink," or "cold hole," as we might say, in the medium, would be equivalent to producing in the lake a space either empty or filled with something much lighter than water. This we could do by placing in the lake a tank, and pumping all the water out of the latter. We know, then, that the water, if allowed to flow back into the tank, would, theoretically, be able to perform exactly the same amount of work which was used in pumping it out, but not a bit more. Consequently nothing could be gained in this double operation of first raising the water and then letting it fall down. This would mean that it is impossible to create such a sink in the medium. But let us reflect a moment. Heat, though following certain general laws of mechanics, like a fluid, is not such; it is energy which may be converted into other forms of energy as it passes from a high to a low level. To make our mechanical analogy complete and true, we must, therefore, assume that the water, in its passage into the tank, is converted into something else, which may be taken out of it without using any, or by using very little, power. For example, if heat be represented in this analogue by the water of the lake, the oxygen and hydrogen composing the water may illustrate other forms of energy into which the heat is transformed in passing from hot to cold. If the process of heat transformation were absolutely perfect, no heat at all would arrive at the low level, since all of it would be converted into other forms of energy. Corresponding to this ideal case, all the water flowing into the tank would be decomposed into oxygen and hydrogen before reaching the bottom, and the result would be that water would continually flow in, and yet the tank would remain entirely empty, the gases formed escaping. We would thus produce, by expending initially a certain amount of work to create a sink for the heat or, respectively, the water to flow in, a condition enabling us to get any amount of energy without further effort. This would be an ideal way of obtaining motive power. We do not know of any such absolutely perfect process of heat-conversion, and consequently some heat will generally reach the low level, which means to say, in our mechanical analogue, that some water will arrive at the bottom of the tank, and a gradual and slow filling of the latter will take place, necessitating continuous pumping out. But evidently there will be less to pump out than flows in, or, in other words, less energy will be needed to maintain the initial condition than is developed by the fall, and this is to say that some energy will be gained from the medium. What is not converted in flowing down can just be raised up with its own energy, and what is converted is clear gain. Thus the virtue of the principle I have discovered resides wholly in the conversion of the energy on the downward flow.

Note to Dia. b. — A, medium with little energy; B, B, ambient medium with much energy; O, path of the energy. But was it not possible to realize a similar condition without necessarily going to a height? Conceive, for the sake of illustration, an inclosure T, as illustrated in diagram b, such that energy could not be transferred across it except through a channel or path O, and that, by some means or other, in this inclosure a medium were maintained which would have little energy, and that on the outer side of the same there would be the ordinary ambient medium with much energy. Under these assumptions the energy would flow through the path O, as indicated by the arrow, and might then be converted on its passage into some other form of energy. The question was, Could such a condition be attained? Could we produce artificially such a "sink" for the energy of the ambient medium to flow in? Suppose that an extremely low temperature could be maintained by some process in a given space; the surrounding medium would then be compelled to give off heat, which could be converted into mechanical or other form of energy, and utilized. By realizing such a plan, we should be enabled to get at any point of the globe a continuous supply of energy, day and night. More than this, reasoning in the abstract, it would seem possible to cause a quick circulation of the medium, and thus draw the energy at a very rapid rate. Note to Dia. b. — A, medium with little energy; B, B, ambient medium with much energy; O, path of the energy. But was it not possible to realize a similar condition without necessarily going to a height? Conceive, for the sake of illustration, an inclosure T, as illustrated in diagram b, such that energy could not be transferred across it except through a channel or path O, and that, by some means or other, in this inclosure a medium were maintained which would have little energy, and that on the outer side of the same there would be the ordinary ambient medium with much energy. Under these assumptions the energy would flow through the path O, as indicated by the arrow, and might then be converted on its passage into some other form of energy. The question was, Could such a condition be attained? Could we produce artificially such a "sink" for the energy of the ambient medium to flow in? Suppose that an extremely low temperature could be maintained by some process in a given space; the surrounding medium would then be compelled to give off heat, which could be converted into mechanical or other form of energy, and utilized. By realizing such a plan, we should be enabled to get at any point of the globe a continuous supply of energy, day and night. More than this, reasoning in the abstract, it would seem possible to cause a quick circulation of the medium, and thus draw the energy at a very rapid rate. Here, then, was an idea which, if realizable, afforded a happy solution of the problem of getting energy from the medium. But was it realizable? I convinced myself that it was so in a number of ways, of which one is the following. As regards heat, we are at a high level, which may be represented by the surface of a mountain lake considerably above the sea, the level of which may mark the absolute zero of temperature existing in the interstellar space. Heat, like water, flows from high to low level, and, consequently, just as we can let the water of the lake run down to the sea, so we are able to let heat from the earth's surface travel up into the cold region above. Heat, like water, can perform work in flowing down, and if we had any doubt as to whether we could derive energy from the medium by means of a thermopile, as before described, it would be dispelled by this analogue. But can we produce cold in a given portion of the space and cause the heat to flow in continually? To create such a "sink," or "cold hole," as we might say, in the medium, would be equivalent to producing in the lake a space either empty or filled with something much lighter than water. This we could do by placing in the lake a tank, and pumping all the water out of the latter. We know, then, that the water, if allowed to flow back into the tank, would, theoretically, be able to perform exactly the same amount of work which was used in pumping it out, but not a bit more. Consequently nothing could be gained in this double operation of first raising the water and then letting it fall down. This would mean that it is impossible to create such a sink in the medium. But let us reflect a moment. Heat, though following certain general laws of mechanics, like a fluid, is not such; it is energy which may be converted into other forms of energy as it passes from a high to a low level. To make our mechanical analogy complete and true, we must, therefore, assume that the water, in its passage into the tank, is converted into something else, which may be taken out of it without using any, or by using very little, power. For example, if heat be represented in this analogue by the water of the lake, the oxygen and hydrogen composing the water may illustrate other forms of energy into which the heat is transformed in passing from hot to cold. If the process of heat transformation were absolutely perfect, no heat at all would arrive at the low level, since all of it would be converted into other forms of energy. Corresponding to this ideal case, all the water flowing into the tank would be decomposed into oxygen and hydrogen before reaching the bottom, and the result would be that water would continually flow in, and yet the tank would remain entirely empty, the gases formed escaping. We would thus produce, by expending initially a certain amount of work to create a sink for the heat or, respectively, the water to flow in, a condition enabling us to get any amount of energy without further effort. This would be an ideal way of obtaining motive power. We do not know of any such absolutely perfect process of heat-conversion, and consequently some heat will generally reach the low level, which means to say, in our mechanical analogue, that some water will arrive at the bottom of the tank, and a gradual and slow filling of the latter will take place, necessitating continuous pumping out. But evidently there will be less to pump out than flows in, or, in other words, less energy will be needed to maintain the initial condition than is developed by the fall, and this is to say that some energy will be gained from the medium. What is not converted in flowing down can just be raised up with its own energy, and what is converted is clear gain. Thus the virtue of the principle I have discovered resides wholly in the conversion of the energy on the downward flow.

Corresponding to this ideal case, all the water flowing into the tank would be decomposed into oxygen and hydrogen before reaching the bottom, and the result would be that water would continually flow in, and yet the tank would remain entirely empty, the gases formed escaping. We would thus produce, by expending initially a certain amount of work to create a sink for the heat or, respectively, the water to flow in, a condition enabling us to get any amount of energy without further effort. This would be an ideal way of obtaining motive power. We do not know of any such absolutely perfect process of heat-conversion, and consequently some heat will generally reach the low level, which means to say, in our mechanical analogue, that some water will arrive at the bottom of the tank, and a gradual and slow filling of the latter will take place, necessitating continuous pumping out. But evidently there will be less to pump out than flows in, or, in other words, less energy will be needed to maintain the initial condition than is developed by the fall, and this is to say that some energy will be gained from the medium. What is not converted in flowing down can just be raised up with its own energy, and what is converted is clear gain. Thus the virtue of the principle I have discovered resides wholly in the conversion of the energy on the downward flow.

The use of gravitational force of a mass of liquid or solid to induce pressure on a closed cycle of a fluid as described herein for the present invention is unprecedented.

"Tesla Tube of 1900" <https://teslauniverse.com/nikola-tesla/articles/problem-increasing-human-energy>Note to Dia. b. — A, medium with little energy; B, B, ambient medium with much energy; O, path of the energy. But was it not possible to realize a similar condition without necessarily going to a height? Conceive, for the sake of illustration, an inclosure T, as illustrated in diagram b, such that energy could not be transferred across it except through a channel or path O, and that, by some means or other, in this inclosure a medium were maintained which would have little energy, and that on the outer side of the same there would be the ordinary ambient medium with much energy. Under these assumptions the energy would flow through the path O, as indicated by the arrow, and might then be converted on its passage into some other form of energy. The question was, Could such a condition be attained? Could we produce artificially such a "sink" for the energy of the ambient medium to flow in? Suppose that an extremely low temperature could be maintained by some process in a given space; the surrounding medium would then be compelled to give off heat, which could be converted into mechanical or other form of energy, and utilized. By realizing such a plan, we should be enabled to get at any point of the globe a continuous supply of energy, day and night. More than this, reasoning in the abstract, it would seem possible to cause a quick circulation of the medium, and thus draw the energy at a very rapid rate. Here, then, was an idea which, if realizable, afforded a happy solution of the problem of getting energy from the medium. But was it realizable? I convinced myself that it was so in a number of ways, of which one is the following. As regards heat, we are at a high level, which may be represented by the surface of a mountain lake considerably above the sea, the level of which may mark the absolute zero of temperature existing in the interstellar space. Heat, like water, flows from high to low level, and, consequently, just as we can let the water of the lake run down to the sea, so we are able to let heat from the earth's surface travel up into the cold region above. Heat, like water, can perform work in flowing down, and if we had any doubt as to whether we could derive energy from the medium by means of a thermopile, as before described, it would be dispelled by this analogue. But can we produce cold in a given portion of the space and cause the heat to flow in continually? To create such a "sink," or "cold hole," as we might say, in the medium, would be equivalent to producing in the lake a space either empty or filled with something much lighter than water. This we could do by placing in the lake a tank, and pumping all the water out of the latter. We know, then, that the water, if allowed to flow back into the tank, would, theoretically, be able to perform exactly the same amount of work which was used in pumping it out, but not a bit more. Consequently nothing could be gained in this double operation of first raising the water and then letting it fall down. This would mean that it is impossible to create such a sink in the medium. But let us reflect a moment. Heat, though following certain general laws of mechanics, like a fluid, is not such; it is energy which may be converted into other forms of energy as it passes from a high to a low level. To make our mechanical analogy complete and true, we must, therefore, assume that the water, in its passage into the tank, is converted into something else, which may be taken out of it without using any, or by using very little, power. For example, if heat be represented in this analogue by the water of the lake, the oxygen and hydrogen composing the water may illustrate other forms of energy into which the heat is transformed in passing from hot to cold. If the process of heat transformation were absolutely perfect, no heat at all would arrive at the low level, since all of it would be converted into other forms of energy. Corresponding to this ideal case, all the water flowing into the tank would be decomposed into oxygen and hydrogen before reaching the bottom, and the result would be that water would continually flow in, and yet the tank would remain entirely empty, the gases formed escaping. Heat, like water, can perform work in flowing down, and if we had any doubt as to whether we could derive energy from the medium by means of a thermopile, as before described, it would be dispelled by this analogue. But can we produce cold in a given portion of the space and cause the heat to flow in continually? To create such a "sink," or "cold hole," as we might say, in the medium, would be equivalent to producing in the lake a space either empty or filled with something much lighter than water. This we could do by placing in the lake a tank, and pumping all the water out of the latter. We know, then, that the water, if allowed to flow back into the tank, would, theoretically, be able to perform exactly the same amount of work which was used in pumping it out, but not a bit more. Consequently nothing could be gained in this double operation of first raising the water and then letting it fall down. This would mean that it is impossible to create such a sink in the medium. But let us reflect a moment. Heat, though following certain general laws of mechanics, like a fluid, is not such; it is energy which may be converted into other forms of energy as it passes from a high to a low level. To make our mechanical analogy complete and true, we must, therefore, assume that the water, in its passage into the tank, is converted into something else, which may be taken out of it without using any, or by using very little, power. For example, if heat be represented in this analogue by the water of the lake, the oxygen and hydrogen composing the water may illustrate other forms of energy into which the heat is transformed in passing from hot to cold. If the process of heat transformation were absolutely perfect, no heat at all would arrive at the low level, since all of it would be converted into other forms of energy. Corresponding to this ideal case, all the water flowing into the tank would be decomposed into oxygen and hydrogen before reaching the bottom, and the result would be that water would continually flow in, and yet the tank would remain entirely empty, the gases formed escaping. We would thus produce, by expending initially a certain amount of work to create a sink for the heat or, respectively, the water to flow in, a condition enabling us to get any amount of energy without further effort. This would be an ideal way of obtaining motive power. We do not know of any such absolutely perfect process of heat-conversion, and consequently some heat will generally reach the low level, which means to say, in our mechanical analogue, that some water will arrive at the bottom of the tank, and a gradual and slow filling of the latter will take place, necessitating continuous pumping out. But evidently there will be less to pump out than flows in, or, in other words, less energy will be needed to maintain the initial condition than is developed by the fall, and this is to say that some energy will be gained from the medium. What is not converted in flowing down can just be raised up with its own energy, and what is converted is clear gain. Thus the virtue of the principle I have discovered resides wholly in the conversion of the energy on the downward flow.

Under these assumptions the energy would flow through the path O, as indicated by the arrow, and might then be converted on its passage into some other form of energy. The question was, Could such a condition be attained? Could we produce artificially such a "sink" for the energy of the ambient medium to flow in? Suppose that an extremely low temperature could be maintained by some process in a given space; the surrounding medium would then be compelled to give off heat, which could be converted into mechanical or other form of energy, and utilized. By realizing such a plan, we should be enabled to get at any point of the globe a continuous supply of energy, day and night. More than this, reasoning in the abstract, it would seem possible to cause a quick circulation of the medium, and thus draw the energy at a very rapid rate. Here, then, was an idea which, if realizable, afforded a happy solution of the problem of getting energy from the medium. But was it realizable? I convinced myself that it was so in a number of ways, of which one is the following. As regards heat, we are at a high level, which may be represented by the surface of a mountain lake considerably above the sea, the level of which may mark the absolute zero of temperature existing in the interstellar space. Heat, like water, flows from high to low level, and, consequently, just as we can let the water of the lake run down to the sea, so we are able to let heat from the earth's surface travel up into the cold region above. Heat, like water, can perform work in flowing down, and if we had any doubt as to whether we could derive energy from the medium by means of a thermopile, as before described, it would be dispelled by this analogue. But can we produce cold in a given portion of the space and cause the heat to flow in continually? Note to Dia. b. — A, medium with little energy; B, B, ambient medium with much energy; O, path of the energy. But was it not possible to realize a similar condition without necessarily going to a height? Conceive, for the sake of illustration, an inclosure T, as illustrated in diagram b, such that energy could not be transferred across it except through a channel or path O, and that, by some means or other, in this inclosure a medium were maintained which would have little energy, and that on the outer side of the same there would be the ordinary ambient medium with much energy. Under these assumptions the energy would flow through the path O, as indicated by the arrow, and might then be converted on its passage into some other form of energy. The question was, Could such a condition be attained? Could we produce artificially such a "sink" for the energy of the ambient medium to flow in? Suppose that an extremely low temperature could be maintained by some process in a given space; the surrounding medium would then be compelled to give off heat, which could be converted into mechanical or other form of energy, and utilized. By realizing such a plan, we should be enabled to get at any point of the globe a continuous supply of energy, day and night. More than this, reasoning in the abstract, it would seem possible to cause a quick circulation of the medium, and thus draw the energy at a very rapid rate. Here, then, was an idea which, if realizable, afforded a happy solution of the problem of getting energy from the medium. But was it realizable? I convinced myself that it was so in a number of ways, of which one is the following. As regards heat, we are at a high level, which may be represented by the surface of a mountain lake considerably above the sea, the level of which may mark the absolute zero of temperature existing in the interstellar space. Heat, like water, flows from high to low level, and, consequently, just as we can let the water of the lake run down to the sea, so we are able to let heat from the earth's surface travel up into the cold region above. Heat, like water, can perform work in flowing down, and if we had any doubt as to whether we could derive energy from the medium by means of a thermopile, as before described, it would be dispelled by this analogue. But can we produce cold in a given portion of the space and cause the heat to flow in continually? To create such a "sink," or "cold hole," as we might say, in the medium, would be equivalent to producing in the lake a space either empty or filled with something much lighter than water. This we could do by placing in the lake a tank, and pumping all the water out of the latter. We know, then, that the water, if allowed to flow back into the tank, would, theoretically, be able to perform exactly the same amount of work which was used in pumping it out, but not a bit more. Consequently nothing could be gained in this double operation of first raising the water and then letting it fall down. This would mean that it is impossible to create such a sink in the medium. But let us reflect a moment. Heat, though following certain general laws of mechanics, like a fluid, is not such; it is energy which may be converted into other forms of energy as it passes from a high to a low level. To make our mechanical analogy complete and true, we must, therefore, assume that the water, in its passage into the tank, is converted into something else, which may be taken out of it without using any, or by using very little, power. For example, if heat be represented in this analogue by the water of the lake, the oxygen and hydrogen composing the water may illustrate other forms of energy into which the heat is transformed in passing from hot to cold. If the process of heat transformation were absolutely perfect, no heat at all would arrive at the low level, since all of it would be converted into other forms of energy. Corresponding to this ideal case, all the water flowing into the tank would be decomposed into oxygen and hydrogen before reaching the bottom, and the result would be that water would continually flow in, and yet the tank would remain entirely empty, the gases formed escaping. We would thus produce, by expending initially a certain amount of work to create a sink for the heat or, respectively, the water to flow in, a condition enabling us to get any amount of energy without further effort. This would be an ideal way of obtaining motive power. We do not know of any such absolutely perfect process of heat-conversion, and consequently some heat will generally reach the low level, which means to say, in our mechanical analogue, that some water will arrive at the bottom of the tank, and a gradual and slow filling of the latter will take place, necessitating continuous pumping out. But evidently there will be less to pump out than flows in, or, in other words, less energy will be needed to maintain the initial condition than is developed by the fall, and this is to say that some energy will be gained from the medium. What is not converted in flowing down can just be raised up with its own energy, and what is converted is clear gain. Thus the virtue of the principle I have discovered resides wholly in the conversion of the energy on the downward flow.

In Tesla's last article on wireless Power, Electrical Experimenter, March 1920 "Wireless Transmission of Power Now Possible", Tesla refers to "John Hettinger" patents that "opened up the way for its realization. Tesla Leaks published the Hettinger Patent on Wireless Power 4 years ago. The Hettinger Patent confirms the concept of NEGATIVE RESISTANCE in A/C Impulse systems with Mercury/Gas bulbs at a distance. <https://youtube.com/watch?v=bh-VpC9zyqg> -- June 1917 Patent for Aerial Signaling by John Hettinger <https://google.com/patents/US1309031> -- WIRELESS TRANSMISSION OF POWER NOW POSSIBLE by Thomas W. Benson for Electrical Experimenter, March 1920 Recent developments tend to fulfill the old, old dream of power transmission without wires. For years men have labored in vain to transmit power without wires and thus solve a myriad of transportation problems, such as a propelling vehicles, ships, trains, aircraft, etc., without having to include a source of power in their construction. It makes one's head almost reel to think of the possibilities in such an achievement and now the dream promises to come true. By one bold stroke an English genius, Mr. John Hettinger, has unthinkingly opened up the way for its realization. Like numerous other inventions, the way lay before our very eyes, but we were all too blind to see it. While working on a means for transmitting radio waves without material aerials, MR. Hettinger hit upon the idea of using ionized light beams as elevated conductors. Obviously simple when one thinks of it. It is a well-known fact that an ionized gas is a conductor; in fact, the conductivity of a gas is a measure of its ionization. Furthermore, it is possible to ionize a gas by means of a stream of ultra violet rays. Working with these facts, Mr. Hettinger devised means to utilize them for radio transmission in the following manner. As shown in Fig. 1, a source of ultra violet rays, an arc or mercury vapor lamp. A. is arranged to throw a beam of ionizing rays vertically. These rays result in an ionized stream of air that acts as a conductor, the surrounding un-ionized air being practically a perfect insulator. By making connection to this conducting beam with a metallic screen or mesh at B, it can be utilized as an aerial for radio communication. We are perfectly aware that this ionized beam rapidly loses its conducting power as the distance from the source increases, therefore the effective height of such an arrangement is determined by the intensity of the ray generator. So much for the idea as applied to radio communication. But let us consider further. In studying the spectrum we find that the sunlight on reaching the earth contains few ultra violet rays of shorter wavelengths than 3.000 Angstrom units, yet we are able to generate much shorter rays with an arc light. It is unreasonable to assume that shorter waves do not leave the sun, and in view of the fact that it has been determined that the upper stratum of our atmosphere is ionized, it is accepted that the shorter rays are absorbed to cause this ionization. It will now be apparent that a very good condition exists for the transmission of energy without wires. As shown in Fig. 2, we have the earth, a good conductor, surrounded with a blanket of insulating air about ten miles thick, beyond which, up to about a hundred miles, the air is highly rarefied and kept in a state of ionization by light from the sun and stars. Hence, we have two good conductors separated by several miles of atmosphere, practically a perfect insulator, an ideal arrangement for our purposes. We have but to connect a source of current to the earth and to the ionized strata of air and energy can be transmitted entirely around the earth without wires. The energy could be utilized in any part of the earth by merely connecting to the pair of conductors. This condition has been recognized for some time, but the difficulty lies in making connections to the upper layer of conducting atmosphere. It is hardly practical to construct towers six or seven miles high for the purpose, then again the energy could not be utilized without using a similar structure at the point of reception, which makes this scheme hardly feasible for aircraft or moving vehicles. Return then to the ionized stream for radio aerials. We can easily construct arcs that will throw a beam ten or twenty miles. Then why not make connection to that upper stratum with an ionized stream of air? Wonderful in its simplicity. In Fig. 2 the writer attempts to portray a generating station embodying these principles. In the main building will be housed the generating units for supplying the current to the arc and the primary of the high voltage apparatus for transmission of energy. Supported on the roof of this structure will be a monstrous arc lamp capable of throwing a stream of ultra violet rays for at least ten miles. In this beam is supported a conducting screen to make connection to the conducting stream of ionized air. The insulation of these parts present no great difficulties to modern engineering. The building will also house a huge step-up transformer, a set of high voltage condensers, a spark gap either of the rotary or quenched type and a huge oscillation transformer or Tesla coil. These instruments are connected in the usual manner and tuned so that the inductance in the circuit and the capacity formed by the earth and ionized upper strata will have a well defined oscillation period. By these means the whole earth will become an electrified body, energy to be drawn at any point by simply making metallic connection to the earth and pointing a beam of light vertically, a screen being used to take the energy that will flow down the beam. An inductance coil being necessary in the circuit to insure resonance with the transmitter at the receiving set. After once started, the receiving energy can be used to keep the arc going. Ships will have an arc and reflector mounted on the masts, airplanes have two arcs, one on top, the other below, and so on. This scheme will not interfere with present short range transmission, it being hardly practical for each home to have an arc on the roof when one arc would serve for a town and several for a large city. Rather its benefit will lie in the utilization of water falls far from civilization, now unused on account of difficulties in transmitting the power hundreds or thousands of miles. Aside from the transmission of power other advantages may accrue. Will such a stress between the earth and upper air strata reduce the presence of dust particles in the atmosphere? Or, again, cause the immediate condensation of fogs and moisture in the air to give us perfectly cloudless days? Perhaps it will become simply a matter of changing the frequency or voltage of the current to cause rain or to prevent it. Then the question of effect on radio communication: will it make our present sets obsolete, a transmitter of the future being connected directly to the power set and acting by superimposing different frequencies on the power frequency? Or will radio-telephony work hand in hand with the power system, the voice currents being impressed on the power circuit and filtered out at the receiver? There are thousand and one things such an arrangement might effect. Will trees and vegetation increase in growth as experiments in electrical culture would indicate? What effect would such stresses have on germs and bacilli? Their numbers will be decreased by the destructive effects of the ultra-violet light. Will man grow to an unsuspected height and become uniformly healthier due to the electrical treatment he would be constantly undergoing? And so on – conjuncture in without bounds, but the scheme is practical to all appearances; it requires but some financial genius to give it a trial. And to think it all was within reach such a short time ago! Had Tesla but put a gigantic arc on top of the tower of his experimental station in Long Island accurate data would be at hand now – were it but even a promise it would mean another step towards the final mastery of all matter by man.

Welcome to Rise of the Jedi. I come to you with a message of the Empire and the for the Jedi; from the original Jedi Master, Nikola Tesla, known in cursive as Yoda. The emodiment of all Jedi's. In the last years, The Empire, basing it's New World Order on control of countries with food and continents with energy, has been shattered into a 1000 pieces. The old order of Clinton's Walmart, and George Herbert Walker Scherff, known as Curious George, HAARP, have been swept away.

The old Jedi's who used The Force from the free powers of the sun, the wind, the Ocean and the Ether for the side of Light, like Tesla, have caused the Empire to attack the Jedi's hometown, his home, and museum, four times, and yours, using the idea of "World Wars" as the excuse. The powers of The Force are unlimited compared to the old powers of destroying resources for energy. Today, the Empire hired Donald Trump, as the Emperor, with Presidential Directive Powers, and Alex Jones as the self proclaimed "Cobra Commander" as Darth Vader. The dark forces of the Information War have been commanded to quote "release the greatest evil onto mankind" and to "jam the signals" of the Jedi on the Internet with quote "fake news".

In the current episode, the Empire attempted to "end the Jedi", and failed. But in the previous episode, succeeded by the attempted assassination, castration and later kidnapping and torturing the old Jedi, Nikola Tesla. Despite the efforts of Princess Lea in hiding the plans to the Death Star, the Empire found the plans to the Death Star in a Multi-Decade Resistant Box; opened after 30 years of Yoda's disappearance. Their current attempt for a World Empire, however, has failed. The plans to the Death Star, at Wardencylffe, and the free energy powers have been successfully hidden by the old Jedi and now transferred to R2D2 units around the Galaxy.

Boba Fett hired by Darth Vader, failed to find and stop Hans Solo and his faster than light Mellenium Falcon from clearing a path for Luke Skywalker to destroy their Death Star. But the Emperor and the Empire is a Phantom Menace, of Fear, for Millenia using CRISES to create ORDER, and it will continue to be. Empire spy Snowden and troll trap Assange were sent throughout the Galaxy to determine what technology the Jedi's have created that would put an end to the power of the Empire. Both have failed. New Jedi energy ministers around Alderan, have declared "nothing can stop this transition".

Since the capture and disappearance of Nikola Tesla, the Empire has spent hundreds of Trillions of dollars in newer elements of their defense; from Depleted Uranium, Osmium and Iridium, to HydraZine or Napalm, to the Death Star's Directed Energy Weapons. The Empire has already used their weaponry in World War 2, on Vietnam, Iraq, Serbia and New York. The great Jedi, William Bill Cooper, declared the Empire is "at least, 50-100 years beyond, what you can even imagine". Another Jedi, the publisher of Borderland Books declared "we are living at least 1000 years behind, what's already known".

UNTIL THE LATEST of these conflicts, the Empire had no armaments industry. Only Thomas Edisons's DC coal plants and Incandescent light bulbs. With the Empire's Dark Side forces, their makers of plowshares could, with time and as required, make light sabers as well. But now the Empire can no longer risk emergency improvisation of its defense; they have been compelled to create a permanent armaments industry of vast proportions. Added to this, 5 million men and women are directly engaged in the Empire's defense.

The Empire spends on military security alone more than the net income of all private corporations. The Government has become the ultimate power in the Universe; as Emperor Obama declared "you must give your rights to an all powerful Sovereign". THIS CONJUNCTION of an immense military establishment and a large arms industry is new to the Empire. The total influence economic, political, even spiritual is felt in every city, every State house, every office of the Empire.

The Emperor's loss of control of the Galaxy, created the imperative need for this development. Yet the Jedi must not fail to comprehend its grave implications. Our toil, resources and livelihood are all involved; so is the very structure of our society. IN THE COUNCILS of Empire, we must guard against the acquisition of unwarranted influence, whether sought or unsought, by the military industrial complex.

The potential for the disastrous rise of misplaced power exists and will persist. WE MUST NEVER let the weight of this combination endanger our liberties or democratic processes. We should take nothing for granted. Only an alert and knowledgeable Jedi can compel the proper meshing of the huge industrial and military machinery of the Empire with the Jedi's peaceful methods and goals, so that security and liberty may prosper together.

AKIN TO, and largely responsible for the sweeping changes in the Empire's industrial military posture, has been the technological revolution developed by Yoda. Yoda, under the auspices of the Empire, had been double crossed. The Empire, not aware of the powers of the Jedi, have spent your fortunes on research of The Force; but it has become more formalized, complex, and costly. A steadily increasing share is conducted for, by, or at the direction of, the Empire.

TODAY, the solitary Jedi, tinkering in his shop, has been overshadowed by task forces of New World Order stooges in laboratories and testing fields. In the same fashion, the free university, historically the fountainhead of free energy and scientific discovery, has experienced a revolution in the conduct of research. Partly because of the huge costs involved, an Empires contract becomes, virtually, a substitute for learning the true methods and uses of The Force. Even today, Disneyland, for example, was built by the Empires Army.

THE PROSPECT of domination of the nation's scholars by Empire employment, project allocations, and the power of fiat money is ever present and is gravely to be regarded. YET, in holding scientific research and discovery of The Force in respect, as we should, we must also be alert to the equal and opposite danger that the Empire has become the captive of a Dark Side scientific-technological elite.

Rise of the Jedi Podcast Episode 1: Transcript

Welcome to Rise of the Jedi. I come to you with a message of the Empire and the for the Jedi; from the original Jedi Master, Nikola Tesla, known in cursive as Yoda. The emodiment of all Jedi's. In the last years, The Empire, basing it's New World Order on control of countries with food and continents with energy, has been shattered into a 1000 pieces. The old order of Clinton's Walmart, and George Herbert Walker Scherff, known as Curious George, HAARP, have been swept away.

The old Jedi's who used The Force from the free powers of the sun, the wind, the Ocean and the Ether for the side of Light, like Tesla, have caused the Empire to attack the Jedi's hometown, his home, and museum, four times, and yours, using the idea of "World Wars" as the excuse. The powers of The Force are unlimited compared to the old powers of destroying resources for energy. Today, the Empire hired Donald Trump, as the Emperor, with Presidential Directive Powers, and Alex Jones as the self proclaimed "Cobra Commander" as Darth Vader. The dark forces of the Information War have been commanded to quote "release the greatest evil onto mankind" and to "jam the signals" of the Jedi on the Internet with quote "fake news".

In the current episode, the Empire attempted to "end the Jedi", and failed. But in the previous episode, succeeded by the attempted assassination, castration and later kidnapping and torturing the old Jedi, Nikola Tesla. Despite the efforts of Princess Lea in hiding the plans to the Death Star, the Empire found the plans to the Death Star in a Multi-Decade Resistant Box; opened after 30 years of Yoda's disappearance. Their current attempt for a World Empire, however, has failed. The plans to the Death Star, at Wardenclyffe, and the free energy powers have been successfully hidden by the old Jedi and now transfered to R2D2 units around the Galaxy.

Boba Fett hired by Darth Vader, failed to find and stop Hans Solo and his faster than light Mellenium Falcon from clearing a path for Luke Skywalker to destroy their Death Star. But the Emperor and the Empire is a Phantom Menace, of Fear, for Millenia using CRISES to create ORDER, and it will continue to be. Empire spy Snowden and troll trap Assange were sent throughout the Galaxy to determine what technology the Jedi's have created that would put an end to the power of the Empire. Both have failed. New Jedi energy ministers around Alderan, have declared "nothing can stop this transition".

Since the capture and disappearance of Nikola Tesla, the Empire has spent hundreds of Trillions of dollars in newer elements of their defense; from Depleted Uranium, Osmium and Iridium, to HydraZine or Napalm, to the Death Star's Directed Energy Weapons. The Empire has already used their weaponry in World War 2, on Vietnam, Iraq, Serbia and New York. The great Jedi, William Bill Cooper, declared the Empire is "at least, 50-100 years beyond, what you can even imagine". Another Jedi, the publisher of Borderland Books declared "we are living at least 1000 years behind, what's already known".

UNTIL THE LATEST of these conflicts, the Empire had no armaments industry. Only Thomas Edisons's DC coal plants and Incandescent light bulbs. With the Empire's Dark Side forces, their makers of plowshares could, with time and as required, make light sabers as well. But now the Empire can no longer risk emergency improvisation of its defense; they have been compelled to create a permanent armaments industry of vast proportions. Added to this, 5 million men and women are directly engaged in the Empire's defense.

The Empire spends on military security alone more than the net income of all private corporations. The Government has become the ultimate power in the Universe; as Emperor Obama declared "you must give your rights to an all powerful Sovereign". THIS CONJUNCTION of an immense military establishment and a large arms industry is new to the Empire. The total influence economic, political, even spiritual is felt in every city, every State house, every office of the Empire.

The Emperor's loss of control of the Galaxy, created the imperative need for this development. Yet the Jedi must not fail to comprehend its grave implications. Our toil, resources and livelihood are all involved; so is the very structure of our society. IN THE COUNCILS of Empire, we must guard against the acquisition of unwarranted influence, whether sought or unsought, by the military industrial complex.

The potential for the disastrous rise of misplaced power exists and will persist. WE MUST NEVER let the weight of this combination endanger our liberties or democratic processes. We should take nothing for granted. Only an alert and knowledgeable Jedi can compel the proper meshing of the huge industrial and military machinery of the Empire with the Jedi's peaceful methods and goals, so that security and liberty may prosper together.

AKIN TO, and largely responsible for the sweeping changes in the Empire's industrial military posture, has been the technological revolution developed by Yoda. Yoda, under the auspices of the Empire, had been double crossed. The Empire, not aware of the powers of the Jedi, have spent your fortunes on research of The Force; but it has become more formalized, complex, and costly. A steadily increasing share is conducted for, by, or at the direction of, the Empire.

TODAY, the solitary Jedi, tinkering in his shop, has been overshadowed by task forces of New World Order stooges in laboratories and testing fields. In the same fashion, the free university, historically the fountainhead of free energy and scientific discovery, has experienced a revolution in the conduct of research. Partly because of the huge costs involved, an Empires contract becomes, virtually, a substitute for learning the true methods and uses of The Force. Even today, Disneyland, for example, was built by the Empires Army.

THE PROSPECT of domination of the nation's scholars by Empire employment, project allocations, and the power of fiat money is ever present and is gravely to be regarded. YET, in holding scientific research and discovery of The Force in respect, as we should, we must also be alert to the equal and opposite danger that the Empire has become the captive of a Dark Side scientific-technological elite.

The Empire spends on military security alone more than the net income of all private corporations. The Government has become the ultimate power in the Universe; as Emperor Obama declared "you must give your rights to an all powerful Sovereign". THIS CONJUNCTION of an immense military establishment and a large arms industry is new to the Empire. The total influence economic, political, even spiritual is felt in every city, every State house, every office of the Empire.

The Emperor's loss of control of the Galaxy, created the imperative need for this development. Yet the Jedi must not fail to comprehend its grave implications. Our toil, resources and livelihood are all involved; so is the very structure of our society. IN THE COUNCILS of Empire, we must guard against the acquisition of unwarranted influence, whether sought or unsought, by the military industrial complex.

The potential for the disastrous rise of misplaced power exists and will persist. WE MUST NEVER let the weight of this combination endanger our liberties or democratic processes. We should take nothing for granted. Only an alert and knowledgeable Jedi can compel the proper meshing of the huge industrial and military machinery of the Empire with the Jedi's peaceful methods and goals, so that security and liberty may prosper together.

AKIN TO, and largely responsible for the sweeping changes in the Empire's industrial military posture, has been the technological revolution developed by Yoda. Yoda, under the auspices of the Empire, had been double crossed. The Empire, not aware of the powers of the Jedi, have spent your fortunes on research of The Force; but it has become more formalized, complex, and costly. A steadily increasing share is conducted for, by, or at the direction of, the Empire.

TODAY, the solitary Jedi, tinkering in his shop, has been overshadowed by task forces of New World Order stooges in laboratories and testing fields. In the same fashion, the free university, historically the fountainhead of free energy and scientific discovery, has experienced a revolution in the conduct of research. Partly because of the huge costs involved, an Empire's contract becomes, virtually, a substitute for learning the true methods and uses of The Force. Even today, Disneyland, for example, was built by the Empire's Army.

THE PROSPECT of domination of the nation's scholars by Empire employment, project allocations, and the power of fiat money is ever present and is gravely to be regarded. YET, in holding scientific research and discovery of The Force in respect, as we should, we must also be alert to the equal and opposite danger that the Empire has become the captive of a Dark Side scientific-technological elite.

Rise of the Jedi Podcast Episode 1: Transcript

Welcome to Rise of the Jedi. I come to you with a message of the Empire and the for the Jedi; from the original Jedi Master, Nikola Tesla, known in cursive as Yoda. The emodiment of all Jedi's. In the last years, The Empire, basing it's New World Order on control of countries with food and continents with energy, has been shattered into a 1000 pieces. The old order of Clinton's Walmart, and George Herbert Walker Scherff, known as Curious George, HAARP, have been swept away.

The old Jedi's who used The Force from the free powers of the sun, the wind, the Ocean and the Ether for the side of Light, like Tesla, have caused the Empire to attack the Jedi's hometown, his home, and museum, four times, and yours, using the idea of "World Wars" as the excuse. The powers of The Force are unlimited compared to the old powers of destroying resources for energy. Today, the Empire hired Donald Trump, as the Emperor, with Presidential Directive Powers, and Alex Jones as the self proclaimed "Cobra Commander" as Darth Vader. The dark forces of the Information War have been commanded to quote "release the greatest evil onto mankind" and to "jam the signals" of the Jedi on the Internet with quote "fake news".

In the current episode, the Empire attempted to "end the Jedi", and failed. But in the previous episode, succeeded by the attempted assassination, castration and later kidnapping and torturing the old Jedi, Nikola Tesla. Despite the efforts of Princess Lea in hiding the plans to the Death Star, the Empire found the plans to the Death Star in a Multi-Decade Resistant Box; opened after 30 years of Yoda's disappearance. Their current attempt for a World Empire, however, has failed. The plans to the Death Star, at Wardencllyffe, and the free energy powers have been successfully hidden by the old Jedi and now transfered to R2D2 units around the Galaxy.

Boba Fett hired by Darth Vader, failed to find and stop Hans Solo and his faster than light Mellenium Falcon from clearing a path for Luke Skywalker to destroy their Death Star. But the Emperor and the Empire is a Phantom Menace, of Fear, for Millenia using CRISES to create ORDER, and it will continue to be. Empire spy Snowden and troll trap Assange were sent throughout the Galaxy to determine what technology the Jedi's have created that would put an end to the power of the Empire. Both have failed. New Jedi energy ministers around Alderan, have declared "nothing can stop this transition".

Since the capture and disappearance of Nikola Tesla, the Empire has spent hundreds of Trillions of dollars in newer elements of their defense; from Depleted Uranium, Osmium and Iridium, to HydraZine or Napalm, to the Death Star's Directed Energy Weapons. The Empire has already used their weaponry in World War 2, on Vietnam, Iraq, Serbia and New York. The great Jedi, William Bill Cooper, declared the Empire is "at least, 50-100 years beyond, what you can even imagine". Another Jedi, the publisher of Borderland Books declared "we are living at least 1000 years behind, what's already known".

UNTIL THE LATEST of these conflicts, the Empire had no armaments industry. Only Thomas Edisons's DC coal plants and Incandescent light bulbs. With the Empire's Dark Side forces, their makers of plowshares could, with time and as required, make light sabers as well. But now the Empire can no longer risk emergency improvisation of its defense; they have been compelled to create a permanent armaments industry of vast proportions. Added to this, 5 million men and women are directly engaged in the Empire's defense.

The Empire spends on military security alone more than the net income of all private corporations. Partly because of the huge costs involved, an Empires contract becomes, virtually, a substitute for learning the true methods and uses of The Force. Even today, Disneyland, for example, was built by the Empires Army.

THE PROSPECT of domination of the nation's scholars by Empire employment, project allocations, and the power of fiat money is ever present and is gravely to be regarded. YET, in holding scientific research and discovery of The Force in respect, as we should, we must also be alert to the equal and opposite danger that the Empire has become the captive of a Dark Side scientific-technological elite.

Welcome to Rise of the Jedi. I come to you with a message of the Empire and the for the Jedi; from the original Jedi Master, Nikola Tesla, known in cursive as Yoda. The emodiment of all Jedi's. In the last years, The Empire, basing it's New World Order on control of countries with food and continents with energy, has been shattered into a 1000 pieces. The old order of Clinton's Walmart, and George Herbert Walker Scherff, known as Curious George, HAARP, have been swept away.

The old Jedi's who used The Force from the free powers of the sun, the wind, the Ocean and the Ether for the side of Light, like Tesla, have caused the Empire to attack the Jedi's hometown, his home, and museum, four times, and yours, using the idea of "World Wars" as the excuse. The powers of The Force are unlimited compared to the old powers of destroying resources for energy. Today, the Empire hired Donald Trump, as the Emperor, with Presidential Directive Powers, and Alex Jones as the self proclaimed "Cobra Commander" as Darth Vader. The dark forces of the Information War have been commanded to quote "release the greatest evil onto mankind" and to "jam the signals" of the Jedi on the Internet with quote "fake news".

In the current episode, the Empire attempted to "end the Jedi", and failed. But in the previous episode, succeeded by the attempted assassination, castration and later kidnapping and torturing the old Jedi, Nikola Tesla. Despite the efforts of Princess Lea in hiding the plans to the Death Star, the Empire found the plans to the Death Star in a Multi-Decade Resistant Box; opened after 30 years of Yoda's disappearance. Their current attempt for a World Empire, however, has failed. The plans to the Death Star, at Wardenclyffe, and the free energy powers have been successfully hidden by the old Jedi and now transfered to R2D2 units around the Galaxy.

Boba Fett hired by Darth Vader, failed to find and stop Hans Solo and his faster than light Mellenium Falcon from clearing a path for Luke Skywalker to destroy their Death Star. But the Emperor and the Empire is a Phantom Menace, of Fear, for Millenia using CRISES to create ORDER, and it will continue to be. Empire spy Snowden and troll trap Assange were sent throughout the Galaxy to determine what technology the Jedi's have created that would put an end to the power of the Empire. Both have failed. New Jedi energy ministers around Alderaan, have declared "nothing can stop this transition".

Since the capture and disappearance of Nikola Tesla, the Empire has spent hundreds of Trillions of dollars in newer elements of their defense; from Depleted Uranium, Osmium and Iridium, to HydraZine or Napalm, to the Death Star's Directed Energy Weapons. The Empire has already used their weaponry in World War 2, on Vietnam, Iraq, Serbia and New York. The great Jedi, William Bill Cooper, declared the Empire is "at least, 50-100 years beyond, what you can even imagine". Another Jedi, the publisher of Borderland Books declared "we are living at least 1000 years behind, what's already known".

UNTIL THE LATEST of these conflicts, the Empire had no armaments industry. Only Thomas Edisons's DC coal plants and Incandescent light bulbs. With the Empire's Dark Side forces, their makers of plowshares could, with time and as required, make light sabers as well. But now the Empire can no longer risk emergency improvisation of its defense; they have been compelled to create a permanent armaments industry of vast proportions. Added to this, 5 million men and women are directly engaged in the Empire's defense.

The Empire spends on military security alone more than the net income of all private corporations. The Government has become the ultimate power in the Universe; as Emperor Obama declared "you must give your rights to an all powerful Sovereign". THIS CONJUNCTION of an immense military establishment and a large arms industry is new to the Empire. The total influence economic, political, even spiritual is felt in every city, every State house, every office of the Empire.

The Emperor's loss of control of the Galaxy, created the imperative need for this development. Yet the Jedi must not fail to comprehend its grave implications. Our toil, resources and livelihood are all involved; so is the very structure of our society. IN THE COUNCILS of Empire, we must guard against the acquisition of unwarranted influence, whether sought or unsought, by the military industrial complex.

The potential for the disastrous rise of misplaced power exists and will persist. WE MUST NEVER let the weight of this combination endanger our liberties or democratic processes. We should take nothing for granted. Only an alert and knowledgeable Jedi can compel the proper meshing of the huge industrial and military machinery of the Empire with the Jedi's peaceful methods and goals, so that security and liberty may prosper together.

AKIN TO, and largely responsible for the sweeping changes in the Empire's industrial military posture, has been the technological revolution developed by Yoda. Yoda, under the auspices of the Empire, had been double crossed. The Empire, not aware of the powers of the Jedi, have spent your fortunes on research of The Force; but it has become more formalized, complex, and costly. A steadily increasing share is conducted for, by, or at the direction of, the Empire.

TODAY, the solitary Jedi, tinkering in his shop, has been overshadowed by task forces of New World Order stooges in laboratories and testing fields. In the same fashion, the free university, historically the fountainhead of free energy and scientific discovery, has experienced a revolution in the conduct of research. Partly because of the huge costs involved, an Empires contract becomes, virtually, a substitute for learning the true methods and uses of The Force. Even today, Disneyland, for example, was built by the Empires Army.

Welcome to Rise of the Jedi. I come to you with a message of the Empire and the for the Jedi; from the original Jedi Master, Nikola Tesla, known in cursive as Yoda. The emodiment of all Jedi's. In the last years, The Empire, basing it's New World Order on control of countries with food and continents with energy, has been shattered into a 1000 pieces. The old order of Clinton's Walmart, and George Herbert Walker Scherff, known as Curious George, HAARP, have been swept away.

The old Jedi's who used The Force from the free powers of the sun, the wind, the Ocean and the Ether for the side of Light, like Tesla, have caused the Empire to attack the Jedi's hometown, his home, and museum, four times, and yours, using the idea of "World Wars" as the excuse. The powers of The Force are unlimited compared to the old powers of destroying resources for energy. Today, the Empire hired Donald Trump, as the Emperor, with Presidential Directive Powers, and Alex Jones as the self proclaimed "Cobra Commander" as Darth Vader. The dark forces of the Information War have been commanded to quote "release the greatest evil onto mankind" and to "jam the signals" of the Jedi on the Internet with quote "fake news".

In the current episode, the Empire attempted to "end the Jedi", and failed. But in the previous episode, succeeded by the attempted assassination, castration and later kidnapping and torturing the old Jedi, Nikola Tesla. Despite the efforts of Princess Leia in hiding the plans to the Death Star, the Empire found the plans to the Death Star in a Multi-Decade Resistant Box; opened after 30 years of Yoda's disappearance. Their current attempt for a World Empire, however, has failed. The plans to the Death Star, at Wardencllyffe, and the free energy powers have been successfully hidden by the old Jedi and now transferred to R2D2 units around the Galaxy.

Boba Fett hired by Darth Vader, failed to find and stop Hans Solo and his faster than light Mellenium Falcon from clearing a path for Luke Skywalker to destroy their Death Star.

But the Emperor and the Empire is a Phantom Menace, of Fear, for Millenia using CRISES to create ORDER, and it will continue to be. Empire spy Snowden and troll trap Assange were sent throughout the Galaxy to determine what technology the Jedi's have created that would put an end to the power of the Empire. Both have failed. New Jedi energy ministers around Alderaan, have declared "nothing can stop this transition".

Since the capture and disappearance of Nikola Tesla, the Empire has spent hundreds of Trillions of dollars in newer elements of their defense; from Depleted Uranium, Osmium and Iridium, to HydraZine or Napalm, to the Death Star's Directed Energy Weapons.

The Empire has already used their weaponry in World War 2, on Vietnam, Iraq, Serbia and New York. The great Jedi, William Bill Cooper, declared the Empire is "at least, 50-100 years beyond, what you can even imagine". Another Jedi, the publisher of Borderland Books declared "we are living at least 1000 years behind, what's already known".

UNTIL THE LATEST of these conflicts, the Empire had no armaments industry. Only Thomas Edison's DC coal plants and Incandescent light bulbs. With the Empire's Dark Side forces, their makers of plowshares could, with time and as required, make light sabers as well. But now the Empire can no longer risk emergency improvisation of its defense; they have been compelled to create a permanent armaments industry of vast proportions. Added to this, 5 million men and women are directly engaged in the Empire's defense.

The Empire spends on military security alone more than the net income of all private corporations. The Government has become the ultimate power in the Universe; as Emperor Obama declared "you must give your rights to an all powerful Sovereign". THIS CONJUNCTION of an immense military establishment and a large arms industry is new to the Empire. The total influence economic, political, even spiritual is felt in every city, every State house, every office of the Empire.

The Emperor's loss of control of the Galaxy, created the imperative need for this development. Yet the Jedi must not fail to comprehend its grave implications. Our toil, resources and livelihood are all involved; so is the very structure of our society. IN THE COUNCILS of Empire, we must guard against the acquisition of unwarranted influence, whether sought or unsought, by the military industrial complex.

The potential for the disastrous rise of misplaced power exists and will persist. WE MUST NEVER let the weight of this combination endanger our liberties or democratic processes. We should take nothing for granted. Only an alert and knowledgeable Jedi can compel the proper meshing of the huge industrial and military machinery of the Empire with the Jedi's peaceful methods and goals, so that security and liberty may prosper together.

AKIN TO, and largely responsible for the sweeping changes in the Empire's industrial military posture, has been the technological revolution developed by Yoda. Yoda, under the auspices of the Empire, had been double crossed. The Empire, not aware of the powers of the Jedi, have spent your fortunes on research of The Force; but it has become more formalized, complex, and costly. A steadily increasing share is conducted for, by, or at the direction of, the Empire.

TODAY, the solitary Jedi, tinkering in his shop, has been overshadowed by task forces of New World Order stooges in laboratories and testing fields. In the same fashion, the free university, historically the fountainhead of free energy and scientific discovery, has experienced a revolution in the conduct of research. Partly because of the huge costs involved, an Empire's contract becomes, virtually, a substitute for learning the true methods and uses of The Force. Even today, Disneyland, for example, was built by the Empire's Army.

THE PROSPECT of domination of the nation's scholars by Empire employment, project allocations, and the power of fiat money is ever present and is gravely to be regarded. YET, in holding scientific research and discovery of The Force in respect, as we should, we must also be alert to the equal and opposite danger that the Empire has become the captive of a Dark Side scientific-technological elite.

What happened in Episode 1, December 26th at 1AM: Yoda/Tesla started off by saying "the old order weapons of "Curious George" (HAARP) have been swept away"; meaning they have been "REVEALED"; David Rockefeller's Oil & Clinton's Walmart; world order by control of Country's with Food & FEMA Camps; have been "REVEALED". The Infinite, free-energy of the Earth, described by Tesla over 100 years ago, have been "REVEALED". Leading to the Covid-19 AI Scenario for the Great Reset. This was the first paragraph of Rise of the Jedi Podcast, Episode 1: <https://facebook.com/riseofthejedi>

May 10, 2014 A George Herbert Walker Scherff, Jr. "Curious George" appears to have information on High-Tension Radiant Beams aka "Teleforce"

Jan 19, 2016 Full FBI File with letter to the FBI director, without attachments, from none other than Nikola Tesla's assistants son, George Herbert Walker Scherff, Jr. "Curious George". As all researches on this this subject have confirmed, the "Scherff" family disappeared; and researchers have alleged that the Scherff Family, is the Bush Family. George Herbert Walker Bush Sr, is Curious George.

There is another letter in the Tesla FBI File between Scherff and Tesla confedant, Leland Anderson.

The article linked to under "Operation Paperclip Involvement" is total conspiracy wackness about Skorzeny's supposed "deathbed confessions": President George H.W. Bush is actually a German agent named "George H. Scherff, Jr." and was involved with the "murder" of Nikola Tesla, Hitler was alive and well in the U.S. and posing for photos in 1997 at age 107, etc. It's very entertaining but obviously not a reliable resource. The Clinton's Connection to Nikola Tesla's "Death Ray";

In the Nikola Tesla FBI File, Tesla's Death Ray was held at the "Governor Clinton Hotel" in New York, for payment for his rent over the years. The device was held in a multi-decade resistant box, that could only be opened after 30 years of Tesla's death, or 1973'ish. The un-redacted Tesla FBI File is sitting on Comey's desk and on Hillary's hard-drive.

I come to you with a message of the Empire and the for the Jedi; from the original Jedi Master, Nikola Tesla, known in cursive as Yoda. The emodiment of all Jedi's. In the last years, The Empire, basing it's New World Order on control of countries with food and continents with energy, has been shattered into a 1000 pieces. The old order of Clinton's Walmart, and George Herbert Walker Scherff, known as Curious George, HAARP, have been swept away. The old Jedi's who used The Force from the free powers of the sun, the wind, the Ocean and the Ether for the side of Light, like Tesla, have caused the Empire to attack the Jedi's hometown, his home, and museum, four times, and yours, using the idea of "World Wars" as the excuse. The powers of The Force are unlimited compared to the old powers of destroying resources for energy. Today, the Empire hired Donald Trump, as the Emperor, with Presidential Directive Powers, and Alex Jones as the self proclaimed "Cobra Commander" as Darth Vader. The dark forces of the Information War have been commanded to quote "release the greatest evil onto mankind" and to "jam the signals" of the Jedi on the Internet with quote "fake news". In the current episode, the Empire attempted to "end the Jedi", and failed. But in the previous episode, succeeded by the attempted assassination, castration and later kidnapping and torturing the old Jedi, Nikola Tesla. Despite the efforts of Princess Lea in hiding the plans to the Death Star, the Empire found the plans to the Death Star in a

Multi-Decade Resistant Box; opened after 30 years of Yoda's disappearance. Their current attempt for a World Empire, however, has failed. The plans to the Death Star, at Wardencllyffe, and the free energy powers have been successfully hidden by the old Jedi and now transferred to R2D2 units around the Galaxy. Boba Fett hired by Darth Vader, failed to find and stop Hans Solo and his faster than light Mellenium Falcon from clearing a path for Luke Skywalker to destroy their Death Star. But the Emperor and the Empire is a Phantom Menace, of Fear, for Millenia using CRISES to create ORDER, and it will continue to be. Empire spy Snowden and troll trap Assange were sent throughout the Galaxy to determine what technology the Jedi's have created that would put an end to the power of the Empire. Both have failed. New Jedi energy ministers around Alderaan, have declared "nothing can stop this transition". Since the capture and disappearance of Nikola Tesla, the Empire has spent hundreds of Trillions of dollars in newer elements of their defense; from Depleted Uranium, Osmium and Iridium, to HydraZine or Napalm, to the Death Star's Directed Energy Weapons. The Empire has already used their weaponry in World War 2, on Vietnam, Iraq, Serbia and New York. The great Jedi, William Bill Cooper, declared the Empire is "at least, 50-100 years beyond, what you can even imagine". Another Jedi, the publisher of Borderland Books declared "we are living at least 1000 years behind, what's already known". UNTIL THE LATEST of these conflicts, the Empire had no armaments industry. Only Thomas Edisons's DC coal plants and Incandescent light bulbs. With the Empire's Dark Side forces, their makers of plowshares could, with time and as required, make light sabers as well. But now the Empire can no longer risk emergency improvisation of its defense; they have been compelled to create a permanent armaments industry of vast proportions. Added to this, 5 million men and women are directly engaged in the Empire's defense. The Empire spends on military security alone more than the net income of all private corporations. The Government has become the ultimate power in the Universe; as Emperor Obama declared "you must give your rights to an all powerful Sovereign". THIS CONJUNCTION of an immense military establishment and a large arms industry is new to the Empire. The total influence economic, political, even spiritual is felt in every city, every State house, every office of the Empire. The Emperor's loss of control of the Galaxy, created the imperative need for this development. Yet the Jedi must not fail to comprehend its grave implications. Our toil, resources and livelihood are all involved; so is the very structure of our society. IN THE COUNCILS of Empire, we must guard against the acquisition of unwarranted influence, whether sought or unsought, by the military industrial complex. The potential for the disastrous rise of misplaced power exists and will persist. WE MUST NEVER let the weight of this combination endanger our liberties or democratic processes. We should take nothing for granted. Only an alert and knowledgeable Jedi can compel the proper meshing of the huge industrial and military machinery of the Empire with the Jedi's peaceful methods and goals, so that security and liberty may prosper together. AKIN TO, and largely responsible for the sweeping changes in the Empire's industrial military posture, has been the technological revolution developed by Yoda. Yoda, under the auspices of the Empire, had been double crossed. The Empire, not aware of the powers of the Jedi, have spent your fortunes on research of The Force; but it has become more formalized, complex, and costly. A steadily increasing share is conducted for, by, or at the direction of, the Empire. TODAY, the solitary Jedi, tinkering in his shop, has been overshadowed by task forces of New World Order stooges in laboratories and testing fields. In the same fashion, the free university, historically the fountainhead of free energy and scientific discovery, has experienced a revolution in the conduct of research. Partly because of the huge costs involved, an Empires contract becomes, virtually, a substitute for learning the true methods and uses of The Force. Even today, Disneyland, for example, was built by the Empires Army. THE PROSPECT of domination of the nation's scholars by Empire employment, project allocations, and the power of fiat money is ever present and is gravely to be regarded. YET, in holding scientific research and discovery of The Force in respect, as we should, we must also be alert to the equal and opposite danger that the Empire has become the captive of a Dark Side scientific-technological elite. In the following episode, Episode 2, learn the powers of The Force, Jedi Mind Tricks and the Instinct, Intuition and Imagination of the Jedi. Repost: January 28th 2018 by Tesla Leaks: Voted the most Awesome, Epic Retort in Internet history with a call to shut-down the rest of the Internet! Response to those who claim "They know everything about "Nikola Tesla"", then claim they can "debunk" Tesla. <https://nikolateslasolar.blogspot.com/2017/01/tesla-leaks-nicola-tesla-missing.html> To begin with, it's unlikely they know how to spell his name or where he is from, since the town he was born in doesn't exist anymore. Tesla Leaks has sourced the documents and admission by Tesla, Library of Congress in 1891, prior to 1897, his name is spelt with a (C) "NiCola Tesla" (see other variations in the comments below). -- Tesla Leaks - Missing Patents & Inventions found under the name spelt "NiCola Tesla" -- Some think that everything online about Tesla, is made up! Much of it is! But, how could you know "everything"? Have you read all the top secret documents in every country on Earth? You must work for the CIA! In fact, you must have written the entire un-redacted FBI File and the other 3 files referred to in the FBI File. Do you have the Alien skeletons too? And the real pictures of Space, not the 100% fake Photoshop pictures NASA puts out. Only "Space Raven" knows for sure. To his credit, Tesla invented Photoshop in 1899 with his composite picture of him sitting there inside his Colorado Springs Lab. Either way, the Tyrannasaur bone, rock, fossil fuel tooth looking thing you have might catch $10M on eBay. The 800,000 documents, newspapers, articles, Library of Congress and 900 patents and Inventions at the Tesla Museum; much available online to find in 5 seconds is "made up"? You must have also worked for the 13 companies Doctor Tesla owned, have his 600 missing patents and Inventions (900 FBI File) and read the 400,000 documents locked up at the Tesla Museum. You also must have worked at the Tesla society in 1915 during WW1, worked at his Museum that was bombed in WW2 and worked at the one that Bill Clinton bombed in 1999. It must have been a miracle that you survived the 10,000 tons of depleted Uranium NATO dropped on Serbia. Was it you that compiled the Colorado Springs Experiments Notes in 1955, published in 1978, from events that took place in 1899, or is it 1889 according Tesla at his Wardencliff appeal case. You must be sure "he had it all in his head". Of course it also helps to have the other 400,000 documents, 40 trunk's, 30 bundles, a safe and a multi-decade resistance box you were able to impossibly crack. Instead it was people who called themselves "government officials" and John G Trump who admitted reviewing the information in Tesla's NY storage unit. While you were there, you must have seen the two pictures of everything the FBI said they took. Sava Kosanovich told the FBI under oath that the 200 page notebook Tesla was writing before his death (hoax), was also missing. You must have snatched that too! Even beyond that, you must have gotten access to Einstein's brain held in (according to Tesla, non destructive) cryogenic freezing at CERN. And of course you are aware that Tesla has the earliest patent for superconductivity "Means for increasing electrical intensity using cold temperature" in 1900. As you know, CERN gets its superconductive gasses like Krypton using a Westinghouse Nuclear Power Plant or Tesla's Electrical method using his 1897 Patent and Apparatus for producing Ozone and other gasses. The point being, with Einstein's brain you can figure out Nuclear Power and the Nuclear Bomb Hoax, since, according to UN and US law, Nuclear is considered "classified on birth". It's a benefit if you can speak and write 13 languages, because his Serbian handwriting is terrible. They should have brought you in to analyze the Tesla papers, instead of the FBI bringing in Deforest. If you were right there like his Assistants Marconi, Hammond, Kolman Tzito Father and Son, Lowenstein, Scherff, Hettinger or agents Spanel & Fitzgerald, you might have seen it all. Were you the get away driver in the movie "Fragments from Olympus" that tells the story of real-life FBI agents P. E Foxworth and Dennis Haberfeld, who died on January 15, 1943 during the posthumous investigation of Nikola Tesla's property? The mission described by FBI documents as being part of "a secret mission of critical importance"; the two were killed on their way to General Eisenhower when their military transport mysteriously crashed. The cause of the crash was never ascertained. It must have been the faulty Autonomous driving technology that crashed the 2 truck loads of Tesla's effects. Like other great minds study scientists before them, it's also great that you have the 1000 points of lights and tubes that Tesla said he had in a separate room on the Wardenclyffe property up until 1907, under oath in his 1922 Supreme Court foreclosure appeals case. Each light he said "described a unique scientific discovery". We're all glad you have that, because, it's been missing since mentioned in the Wardenclyffe appeal. Since Fitzgerald told the FBI director in 1945 that because the Russians had access to the "Entire Tesla Collection" behind the Iron Curtain, and because of experiments going on at Hill AFB, that he was soliciting Army Intelligence and "Wealthy Backers" like the Ford Foundation, to accumulate all they can on Tesla's effects and turn them into "Idea Factories". You being a double-agent for the Army and the Air Force, and a Russian agent would be the coup de gras; you might even get to work for Alex Jones at Infowars. If you could return those audio recordings of Tesla's real voice and videos of the real person, since they are also ALL missing, that would be great. If you could just fallaciously go back in time like Einstein said, then you could have asked Tesla's financier in Radio, Peck, his financiers John Astor & JP Morgan, his last co-designer in Wardenclyffe, the famous Stanford White, friend witness and politician Mark Twain, or even President William McKinley who was shot immediately after touring the Westinghouse, Tesla Hydro-electric plant at Niagara Falls; what they knew about Wireless Power and the Death Ray, because they were all assassinated. Within the same year, Nikola Tesla told JP Morgan that the Niagara electric company already approved Tesla using 10,000 horsepower from the Niagara Falls generators for wireless power. Tesla even offered the electric company stock in his company. Tesla told Morgan that he, Tesla, had secured all worldwide rights to his and the only practical method to generate, "Trillions" of simultaneous, secure, pulse-width and pulse-position modulated (Terrestrial GPS) radio signals. By March 8th 1907, prior to the 1907 stock market crash that bankrupt Westinghouse & Tesla, Tesla secured "all" patents on what he calls "Tuned Lightening", the processes, appliances, generation, transmission, transformation, distribution, direction, storage, regulation, control and economic utilization. Two months later after the stock market crash in 1907, the patent office accepted his refilling of his patent for the Wardenclyffe Tower Structure, but did not approve the patent until 1914. This delay gave time for the Federal Reserve Act to be passed to create a Fiat money system, and when WW1 started. Then, in WW1, the supposed entire world attacked Tesla's hometown, Serbia. But, you knew all that! Granted, a few years earlier, Tesla did tell JP Morgan that if he did not provide the next $250,000 or more to finish Wardenclyffe that you, JP Morgan would "Never see that machinery" (the final pieces that included the high tension UV generator to be placed in the Wardenclyffe Tower Cupola and Spark-Gap controls within the Tower structure). Since Tesla mentioned to Morgan that he, Tesla, was responsible for more than $60 Billion in sales to industry based on his inventions by 1904, that this venture would work as sure as "my name is Tesla". But later in Tesla's 1919 Autobiography in Electrical Experimenter, he wanted to dispell a rumor in the press about the destruction of his tower, Wardenclyffe, he said "They were building more of them". In the same Autobiography he states "every one of my Inventions prior to 1919 worked 100% as he prescribed". Fortunately, in Tesla's last publication in the 1920 Electrical Experimenter, Tesla gives credit to John Hays Hammond for his June 22nd 1917 patent which he says "makes wireless power possible". Days after Tesla dies, in a letter to the FBI director, Tesla tells Fitzgerald that his experiments in conjunction to the transmission of electrical power had been "completed and perfected" wireless power transmission and that the main goal of Tesla's latest works was to provide electricity to the world absolutely for free. Is Tesla lying? If you think so, prove it up! (Now you're looking for the secret, but you won't find it, because of course, you're not really looking, you don't want to work it out, ... You want to be Fooled! -- Ending sequence in The Prestige)

#stopthesteal Predicted by *Chris Edwards of Kernville & Tesla Leaks on Voter Fraud & Cancellation of Christmas & Covid19 AI Scenario (He is the smartest man in the world, by far; that runs Tesla Leaks and used to date Danyelly); he predicted in 2012, 2016, 2018, 2019 "Your Vote Doesn't Count Part 7:" Governors pick Electors, not your vote. In states such as MI, PA, AZ, NV & GA; Governors can throw-out official Electors (as Mitt Romney threw out Ron Paul's 22 electors and replaced them with his own, in 2012) and can by law appoint their own Electors; throwing out your electors and votes.

* Edwards also worked for the Orange County, FL, Department of Elections; and was also a Ron Paul Volunteer from 2010-2012. He created all his Yellowpage profiles for his campaign office listings in every state. Then, the news and all the candidates tried to beat Ron Paul. So, they proceeded to CHEAT Ron Paul at least 37 different ways.

Repost: January 28th 2018 by Tesla Leaks: Voted the most Awesome, Epic Retort in Internet history with a call to shut-down the rest of the Internet! Response to those who claim "They know everything about "Nikola Tesla"", then claim they can "debunk" Tesla. <https://nikolateslasolar.blogspot.com/2017/01/tesla-leaks-nicola-tesla-missing.html> To begin with, it's unlikely they know how to spell his name or where he is from, since the town he was born in doesn't exist anymore. Tesla Leaks has sourced the documents and admission by Tesla, Library of Congress in 1891, prior to 1897, his name is spelt with a (C) "NiCola Tesla" (see other variations in the comments below). -- Tesla Leaks - Missing Patents & Inventions found under the name spelt "NiCola Tesla" -- Some think that everything online about Tesla, is made up! Much of it is! But, how could you know "everything"? Have you read all the top secret documents in every country on Earth? You must work for the CIA! In fact, you must have written the entire un-redacted FBI File and the other 3 files referred to in the FBI File. Do you have the Alien skeletons too? And the real pictures of Space, not the 100% fake Photoshop pictures NASA puts out. Only "Space Raven" knows for sure. To his credit, Tesla invented Photoshop in 1899 with his composite picture of him sitting there inside his Colorado Springs Lab. Either way, the Tyrannasaur bone, rock, fossil fuel tooth looking thing you have might catch $10M on eBay. The 800,000 documents, newspapers, articles, Library of Congress and 900 patents and Inventions at the Tesla Museum; much available online to find in 5 seconds is "made up"? You must have also worked for the 13 companies Doctor Tesla owned, have his 600 missing patents and Inventions (900 FBI File) and read the 400,000 documents locked up at the Tesla Museum. You also must have worked at the Tesla society in 1915 during WW1, worked at his Museum that was bombed in WW2 and worked at the one that Bill Clinton bombed in 1999. It must have been a miracle that you survived the 10,000 tons of depleted Uranium NATO dropped on Serbia. Was it you that compiled the Colorado Springs Experiments Notes in 1955, published in 1978, from events that took place in 1899, or is it 1889 according Tesla at his Wardencllyffe appeal case. You must be sure "he had it all in his head". Of course it also helps to have the other 400,000 documents, 40 trunk's, 30 bundles, a safe and a multi-decade resistance box you were able to impossibly crack. Instead it was people who called themselves "government officials" and John G Trump who admitted reviewing the information in Tesla's NY storage unit. While you were there, you must have seen the two pictures of everything the FBI said they took. Sava Kosanovich told the FBI under oath that the 200 page notebook Tesla was writing before his death (hoax), was also missing. You must have snatched that too! Even beyond that, you must have gotten access to Einstein's brain held in (according to Tesla, non destructive) cryogenic freezing at CERN. And of course you are aware that Tesla has the earliest patent for superconductivity "Means for increasing electrical intensity using cold temperature" in 1900. As you know, CERN gets it's superconductive gasses like Krypton using a Westinghouse Nuclear Power Plant or Tesla's Electrical method using his 1897 Patent and Apparatus for producing Ozone and other gasses. The point being, with Einstein's brain you can figure out Nuclear Power and the Nuclear Bomb Hoax, since, according to UN and US law, Nuclear is considered "classified on birth". It's a benefit if you can speak and write 13 languages, because his Serbian handwriting is terrible. They should have brought you in to analyze the Tesla papers, instead of the FBI bringing in Deforest. If you we're right there like his Assistants Marconi, Hammond, Kolman Tzito Father and Son, Lowenstein, Scherff, Hettinger or agents Spanel & Fitzgerald, you might have seen it all. Were you the get away driver in the movie "Fragments from Olympus" that tells the story of real-life FBI agents P. E Foxworth and Dennis Haberdorf, who died on January 15, 1943 during the posthumus investigation of Nikola Tesla's property? The mission described by FBI documents as being part of "a secret mission of critical importance"; the two were killed on their way to General Eisenhower when their military transport mysteriously crashed. The cause of the crash was never ascertained. It must have been the faulty Autonomous driving technology that crashed the 2 truck loads of Tesla's effects. Like other great minds study scientists before them, it's also great that you have the 1000 points of lights and tubes that Tesla said he had in a separate room on the Wardencllyffe property up until 1907, under oath in his 1922 Supreme Court foreclosure appeals case. Each light he said "described a unique scientific discovery". We're all glad you have that, because, it's been missing since mentioned in the Wardencllyffe appeal. Since Fitzgerald told the FBI director in 1945 that because the Russians had access to the "Entire Tesla Collection" behind the Iron Curtain, and because of experiments going on at Hill AFB, that he was soliciting Army Intelligence and "Wealthy Backers" like the Ford Foundation, to accumulate all they can on Tesla's effects and turn them into "Idea Factories". You being a double-agent for the Army and the Air Force, and a Russian agent would be the coup de gras; you might even get to work for Alex Jones at Infowars. If you could return those audio recordings of Tesla's real voice and videos of the real person, since they are also ALL missing, that would be great. If you could just fallaciously go back in time like Einstein said, then you could have asked Tesla's financier in Radio, Peck, his financiers John Astor & JP Morgan, his last co-designer in Wardencllyffe, the famous Stanford White, friend witness and politician Mark Twain, or even President William McKinley who was shot immediately after touring the Westinghouse, Tesla Hydro-electric plant at Niagara Falls; what they knew about Wireless Power and the Death Ray, because they were all assassinated. Within the same year, Nikola Tesla told JP Morgan that the Niagara electric company already approved Tesla using 10,000 horsepower from the Niagara Falls generators for wireless power. Tesla even offered the electric company stock in his company. Tesla told Morgan that he, Tesla, had secured all woldwide rights to his and the only practical method to generate, "Trillions" of simultaneous, secure, pulse-width and pulse-position modulated (Terrestrial GPS) radio signals. By March 8th 1907, prior to the 1907 stock market crash that bankrupt Westinghouse & Tesla, Tesla secured "all" patents on what he calls "Tuned Lightening", the processes, appliances, generation, transmission, transformation, distribution, direction, storage, regulation, control and economic utilization. Two months later after the stock market crash in 1907, the patent office accepted his refilling of his patent for the Wardencllyffe Tower Structure, but did not approve the patent until 1914. This delay gave time for the Federal Reserve Act to be passed to create a Fiat money system, and when WW1 started. Then, in WW1, the supposed entire world attacked Tesla's hometown, Serbia. But, you knew all that! Granted, a few years earlier, Tesla did tell JP Morgan that if he did not provide the next $250,000 or more to finish Wardencllyffe that you, JP Morgan would "Never see that machinery" (the final pieces that included the high tension UV generator to be placed in the Wardencllyffe Tower Cupola and Spark-Gap controls within the Tower structure). Since Tesla mentioned to Morgan that he, Tesla, was responsible for more than $60 Billion in sales to industry based on his inventions by 1904, that this venture would work as sure as "my name is Tesla". But later in Tesla's 1919 Autobiography in Electrical Experimenter, he wanted to dispell a rumor in the press about the destruction of his tower, Wardencllyffe, he said "They were building more of them". In the same Autobiography he states "every one of my Inventions prior to 1919 worked 100% as he prescribed". Fortunately, in Tesla's last publication in the 1920 Electrical Experimenter, Tesla gives credit to John Hays Hammond for his June 22nd 1917 patent which he says "makes wireless power possible". Days after Tesla dies, in a letter to the FBI director, Tesla tells Fitzgerald that his experiments in conjunction to the transmission of electrical power had been "completed and perfected" wireless power transmission and that the main goal of Tesla's latest works was to provide electricity to the world absolutely for free. Is Tesla lying? If you think so, prove it up! (Now you're looking for the secret, but you won't find it, because of course, you're not really looking, you don't want to work it out, ... You want to be Fooled! -- Ending sequence in The Prestige)

#stopthesteal Predicted by *Chris Edwards of Kernville & Tesla Leaks on Voter Fraud & Cancellation of Christmas & Covid19 AI Scenario (He is the smartest man in the world, by far; that runs Tesla Leaks and used to date Danyelly); he predicted in 2012, 2016, 2018, 2019 "Your Vote Doesn't Count Part 7:" Governors pick Electors, not your vote. In states such as MI, PA, AZ, NV & GA; Governors can throw-out official Electors (as Mitt Romney threw out Ron Paul's 22 electors and replaced them with his own, in 2012) and can by law appoint their own Electors; throwing out your electors and votes.

* Edwards also worked for the Orange County, FL, Department of Elections; and was also a Ron Paul Volunteer from 2010-2012. He created all his Yellowpage profiles for his campaign office listings in every state. Then, the news and all the candidates tried to beat Ron Paul. So, they proceeded to CHEAT Ron Paul at least 37 different ways.

A Bill Gates Vaccine Christmas - 'Twas the night before Christmas, next to a foreclosed house, A family was camping, their dinner, a mouse. They thought politicians should be hung high with care, While they stayed socially distanced from others who were there. Around the campfire, each wore a mask, Ending the brainwashing would be no easy task. The children were in sleeping bags, of Santa they dreamed, Instead jolly Bill Gates was coming, as the cold moonlight beamed. He arrived in a sleigh packed with needles of harm, The shots were all mandatory; a vaccination for each arm. He spoke not a word, but went straight to his work, Bill hoped they'd all die, because he is such a jerk. Then he sprang to his sleigh with a grin on his face, Bill Gates would get even with the whole human race. "On Pfizer, On Monsanto, On Fauci!" he shouted, Bill was doing good work—it was not allowed to be doubted. Away he flew, leaving the homeless in dread, They thought Bill might be right after all—they'd be better off dead. So while they should fight back with all of their might, They instead faded gently into that goodnight. —Ben Garrison <https://grrrgraphics.com/2020-christmas-gift-guide/>

Then he sprang to his sleigh with a grin on his face,
Bill Gates would get even with the whole human race.
"On Pfizer, On Monsanto, On Fauci!" he shouted,
Bill was doing good work—it was not allowed to be doubted.

Away he flew, leaving the homeless in dread,
They thought Bill might be right after all—they'd be better off dead.
So while they should fight back with all of their might,
They instead faded gently into that goodnight.

October 28 2020 On Wardenclyffe Tower, Wireless Power through Natural Mediums, Earthquake Machine, Telegeodynamics, Geology & Seismology: By Interesting Engineering - Nikola Tesla's Wireless Transmitter <https://interestingengineering.com/nikola-teslas-wireless-transmitter-technology>

Nikola Tesla was one of the first minds to envision a wireless future. In the year 1900, he claimed that there would be precise wireless transmission of signals that would be received by devices no larger than a watch. He's of course describing what we now know as radiowaves, the foundation of how our modern connected electronics work.

Tesla, in fact, believed in this idea of wireless communication and energy transfer so much that he started constructing a transmitting station in New York to prove his point. Called Tesla's 'World System of Wireless', it was unfortunately never completed due to Tesla running out of money.

With that said, we still have the plans from Tesla for this wireless technology so we can take a closer look at its design and how it would've worked.

Tesla's idea of wireless transmission

After Tesla had already made a name for himself in the scientific and electrical realm, he started opening up laboratories in New York City. In 1888, he was conducting experiments at one of the laboratories specifically focused on alternating current.

Through these experiments and tests, he was able to develop a method of converting direct current and even low-frequency alternating currents into high-frequency currents.

RELATED: HOW NIKOLA TESLA'S VISION OF OUR WORLD CAME TO BE A REALITY

It was during the development of these transformers and alternators that he realized alternating current circuits can still function if they aren't fully 'complete'. Rather, that the current can still flow along just one wire from one grounded terminal to a second grounded terminal and the circuit would still work. Tesla discovered that when the source of the current was of high enough frequency, he could essentially use the ground as a part of the circuit.

If the grounded terminal had a high enough voltage grounded, and a wire was connected to the other terminal, the current could be drawn along the wire by the capacitance of a conducting body connected to the other end of it.

The capacitance of say, a light bulb, was enough to draw current from the circuit to light it up, which is similar to how radio transmitters work.

Tesla's Wardenclyffe wireless station, located in Shoreham, New York, seen in 1904. The test facility was intended to be a transatlantic radiotelegraphy station and wireless power transmitter, but was never completed due to funding drying up. Source: Wikimedia Along the same train of thought, Tesla came up with a brilliant wireless transmission idea. It was to use the earth as the conductor for transmitting currents. As described in a lecture from Tesla in 1893, the device would connect a generator between the ground and a spherical conductor raised into the air.

The electromagnetic frequencies resulting from the generator in this setup would ensure that the alternating current was of opposite sign from the earth. Tesla consequentially believed that the ground—the earth—could be set into a state of oscillations with little dissipation of energy.

In essence, this technology was the first way that geologists were able to see into the Earth without digging holes or taking bore samples. In fact, the principle of using an oscillation generator that creates seismic waves to study subsurface conditions is still used by seismologists today.

January 7th 2020 Nikola Tesla's Earthquake Machine

<https://www.forbes.com/sites/davidbressan/2020/01/07/nikola-teslas-earthquake-machine/>

Tesla imagined using the waves generated by his invention for peaceful applications. One device would transform electricity into vibrations. Tesla then would use the rocks in the underground to send the vibrations to a second device. This receiving device would pick up the vibrations and transform the oscillations into electricity, to be used locally. In fact, so Tesla, the device, consisting of a piston vibrating in a cylinder, was already powerful enough to vibrate an entire building. Just one precaution was necessary. If powerful enough, so Tesla, his machine could match Earth's frequency, causing even earthquakes. Still, in the 1930s, Tesla imagined using smaller devices to relieve energy from Earth, in this case, to prevent earthquakes. However, the "telegeodynamics" system by Tesla never managed to get beyond the prototype. The device was in reality not powerful enough to send energy far enough. Dampening of the oscillations by structures and the underground was far too strong. Another idea of Tesla was more successful. He imagined using the oscillations generated by his device to prospect the underground. Waves sent into the underground would be reflected by obstacles or different rocks. Observing the returning waves, a geologist may be able to see the underground. It's just this basic idea that modern seismologists use. Pulses of energy, generated by electromagnetic devices, controlled explosions or mechanical pistons, send deep into the underground are reflected or deflected by geological structures. The reflected signals can then be used to reconstruct a model of the underground.

TeslaLeaks.com - The WikiLeaks of Nikola Tesla

February 9th-25th 2020 "CoronaVirus" & "Test Kit" Hoax to stop Tesla Giga Shanghai Part 1: 1) Coronavirus Hoax was invented the day after the Rise of the Jedi Podcast Launched, December 26 2019 <https://facebook.com/riseofthejedi> AND December 30th 2019, same day Tesla delivers first China-made cars from $5bn Shanghai factory. <https://theguardian.com/technology/2019/dec/30/tesla-delivers-first-china-made-cars-from-shanghai-factory> 2) Coronaviruses are types of viruses?? 3) Viruses are too small to see with a light microscope — only seen with Scanning Transmission Electron Microscopy (STEM) detector in a scanning electron microscope 4) See these examples of HIV imagery. If some images are colored for scientific purposes, and others altered for aesthetic reasons, how can a viewer tell the difference? #NASA #PHOTOSHOP <https://blogs.scientificamerican.com/symbiartic/youve-never-really-seen-a-virus-until-you-see-this/> 5) October 2017, A method for accurate quantitation of virus particles has long been sought, but a perfect method still eludes the scientific community. 6) There is only 1 claimed "real" photo of Coronavirus in Google Images <https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Coronavirus> 7) Coronavirus originated by an "illegal" "fish market" in China. OH SURE!! 8) Sounds like Long John Silvers & Walmart have a hand in this one; to "stop the wildlife trade"? A "wet market" in Wuhan, China, is catching the #blame as the #probable source of the current coronavirus outbreak that's sweeping the globe. <https://www.nytimes.com/2020/02/19/health/coronavirus-animals-markets.html> 9) All pathogens can be killed with UV lights in the air, on surfaces and in water (Nikola Tesla) <https://facebook.com/groups/teslaleaks> 10) All pathogens can be killed by purifying the blood with electric fields (John G Trump, MIT, 1978) <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=wozw24RACZ8> 11) Tesla Bio-Defense Mode: <https://electrek.co/2019/10/13/tesla-bioweapon-defense-air-wildfires/>

Where is wireless power used? Wireless power transfer is already widely used. For example, unconnected induction coils are at the heart of transformers in television sets, smartphones, energy-saving lamps, power lines, neutron generators, UV lights, Laser, microwave transmission; all with reflectors or amplifiers at the receiver etc. By increasing or decreasing the alternating voltage in the electrical grid and individual devices, transformers enable efficient power transmission and the operation of consumer electronics. <https://phys.org/news/2018-04-electromagnetic-wizardry-wireless-power.html> Wireless power transfer was originally proposed by Nikola Tesla in the late 19th century. He managed to light fluorescent and incandescent lamps from a distance without any wires connecting the lamps to a generator. To pull off this feat, he used the principle of electromagnetic induction: When an alternating current passes through a coil—that is, a conductor wound in a spiral around a cylinder-shaped core—this gives rise to an alternating magnetic field both inside and outside the coil. Faraday's law says that if a second coil is placed in this magnetic field (figure 1), an electric current is induced in this other coil, which can then be used for charging an accumulator or some other purpose.

And that could someday take from the country's current 3,000 megawatts of geothermal energy production to almost 500,000.

"To put that into perspective," Williams says, "the entire electric power generating capacity in the United States is about a million megawatts."

So if there's that much clean energy just waiting in the ground, what's taking so long?

33 WAYS TO POWER THE WORLD: 9/29/2018 Yellowstone Supervolcano Could Power The Entire Planet 327X Over <https://www.forbes.com/sites/robinandrews/2017/09/29/yellowstone-supervolcano-could-power-the-entire-planet-twice-over/#6eff3c302d87> -- Jan 5th 2018 - Geothermal could provide 500 Gigawatts, or 1/2 the current electrical power needs if the U.S. <https://ww2.kqed.org/science/2018/02/05/the-forgotten-renewable-geothermal-energy-production-heats-up-in-the-mojave/> -- Hydro-electric power, just the high spots, according to Nikola Tesla in 1904 could provide another 150GW, today 300GW and "would displace the need for Billions of slaves" Williams says scientists and engineers are still working on the technology for enhanced geothermal systems, but if they are able to make it a reality, that could potentially open up thousands of megawatts of energy potential from new reservoirs. And that could someday take from the country's current 3,000 megawatts of geothermal energy production to almost 500,000.

"To put that into perspective," Williams says," the entire electric power generating capacity in the United States is about a million megawatts."

So if there's that much clean energy just waiting in the ground, what's taking so long?

33 WAYS TO POWER THE WORLD: 9/29/2018 Yellowstone Supervolcano Could Power The Entire Planet 327X Over <https://www.forbes.com/sites/robinandrews/2017/09/29/yellowstone-supervolcano-could-power-the-entire-planet-twice-over/#6eff3c302d87> -- Jan 5th 2018 - Geothermal could provide 500 Gigawatts, or 1/2 the current electrical power needs if the U.S. <https://ww2.kqed.org/science/2018/02/05/the-forgotten-renewable-geothermal-energy-production-heats-up-in-the-mojave/> -- Hydro-electric power, just the high spots, according to Nikola Tesla in 1904 could provide another 150GW, today 300GW and "would displace the need for Billions of slaves" Williams says scientists and engineers are still working on the technology for enhanced geothermal systems, but if they are able to make it a reality, that could potentially open up thousands of megawatts of energy potential from new reservoirs. And that could someday take from the country's current 3,000 megawatts of geothermal energy production to almost 500,000.

"To put that into perspective," Williams says," the entire electric power generating capacity in the United States is about a million megawatts."

So if there's that much clean energy just waiting in the ground, what's taking so long?

33 WAYS TO POWER THE WORLD: 9/29/2018 Yellowstone Supervolcano Could Power The Entire Planet 327X Over <https://www.forbes.com/sites/robinandrews/2017/09/29/yellowstone-supervolcano-could-power-the-entire-planet-twice-over/#6eff3c302d87> -- Jan 5th 2018 - Geothermal could provide 500 Gigawatts, or 1/2 the current electrical power needs if the U.S. <https://ww2.kqed.org/science/2018/02/05/the-forgotten-renewable-geothermal-energy-production-heats-up-in-the-mojave/> -- Hydro-electric power, just the high spots, according to Nikola Tesla in 1904 could provide another 150GW, today 300GW and "would displace the need for Billions of slaves" Williams says scientists and engineers are still working on the technology for enhanced geothermal systems, but if they are able to make it a reality, that could potentially open up thousands of megawatts of energy potential from new reservoirs. And that could someday take from the country's current 3,000 megawatts of geothermal energy production to almost 500,000.

"To put that into perspective," Williams says," the entire electric power generating capacity in the United States is about a million megawatts."

So if there's that much clean energy just waiting in the ground, what's taking so long?

33 WAYS TO POWER THE WORLD: 9/29/2018 Yellowstone Supervolcano Could Power The Entire Planet 327X Over <https://www.forbes.com/sites/robinandrews/2017/09/29/yellowstone-supervolcano-could-power-the-entire-planet-twice-over/#6eff3c302d87> -- Jan 5th 2018 - Geothermal could provide 500 Gigawatts, or 1/2 the current electrical power needs if the U.S. <https://ww2.kqed.org/science/2018/02/05/the-forgotten-renewable-geothermal-energy-production-heats-up-in-the-mojave/> -- Hydro-electric power, just the high spots, according to Nikola Tesla in 1904 could provide another 150GW, today 300GW and "would displace the need for Billions of slaves" Williams says scientists and engineers are still working on the technology for enhanced geothermal systems, but if they are able to make it a reality, that could potentially open up thousands of megawatts of energy potential from new reservoirs. And that could someday take from the country's current 3,000 megawatts of geothermal energy production to almost 500,000.

"To put that into perspective," Williams says, "the entire electric power generating capacity in the United States is about a million megawatts."

So if there's that much clean energy just waiting in the ground, what's taking so long?

33 WAYS TO POWER THE WORLD: 9/29/2018 Yellowstone Supervolcano Could Power The Entire Planet 327X Over <https://www.forbes.com/sites/robinandrews/2017/09/29/yellowstone-supervolcano-could-power-the-entire-planet-twice-over/#6eff3c302d87> -- Jan 5th 2018 - Geothermal could provide 500 Gigawatts, or 1/2 the current electrical power needs if the U.S. <https://ww2.kqed.org/science/2018/02/05/the-forgotten-renewable-geothermal-energy-production-heats-up-in-the-mojave/> -- Hydroelectric power, just the high spots, according to Nikola Tesla in 1904 could provide another 150GW, today 300GW and "would displace the need for Billions of slaves" Williams says scientists and engineers are still working on the technology for enhanced geothermal systems, but if they are able to make it a reality, that could potentially open up thousands of megawatts of energy potential from new reservoirs. And that could someday take from the country's current 3,000 megawatts of geothermal energy production to almost 500,000.

"To put that into perspective," Williams says, "the entire electric power generating capacity in the United States is about a million megawatts."

So if there's that much clean energy just waiting in the ground, what's taking so long?

Chris Edwards shared a post to the group: Nikola Tesla Institute Brasil.

Where is wireless power used? Wireless power transfer is already widely used. For example, unconnected induction coils are at the heart of transformers in television sets, smartphones, energy-saving lamps, power lines, neutron generators, UV lights, Laser, microwave transmission; all with reflectors or amplifiers at the receiver etc. By increasing or decreasing the alternating voltage in the electrical grid and individual devices, transformers enable efficient power transmission and the operation of consumer electronics.
<https://phys.org/news/2018-04-electromagnetic-wizardry-wireless-power.html> Wireless power transfer was originally proposed by Nikola Tesla in the late 19th century. He managed to light fluorescent and incandescent lamps from a distance without any wires connecting the lamps to a generator. To pull off this feat, he used the principle of electromagnetic induction: When an alternating current passes through a coil—that is, a conductor wound in a spiral around a cylinder-shaped core—this gives rise to an alternating magnetic field both inside and outside the coil. Faraday's law says that if a second coil is placed in this magnetic field (figure 1), an electric current is induced in this other coil, which can then be used for charging an accumulator or some other purpose.

Where is wireless power used? Wireless power transfer is already widely used. For example, unconnected induction coils are at the heart of transformers in television sets, smartphones, energy-saving lamps, power lines, neutron generators, UV lights, Laser, microwave transmission; all with reflectors or amplifiers at the receiver etc. By increasing or decreasing the alternating voltage in the electrical grid and individual devices, transformers enable efficient power transmission and the operation of consumer electronics. <https://phys.org/news/2018-04-electromagnetic-wizardry-wireless-power.html> Wireless power transfer was originally proposed by Nikola Tesla in the late 19th century. These devices were the reason for the monacher "quackery" came from; banned by the AMA in the 1920's, from the sound of clack, clack, clack coming from the spark gaps transformers. This device also has an insertion tube to interject UV light inside the body; as referred to by President Donald Trump. -- 100 Year Old Healing Tesla Coil (Violet Ray) The Violet Ray device, originally invented by Nikola Tesla, quickly found use during the 1920's as the Violet Wand. By the end of the 1890s Tesla had come to the conclusion that it might be possible to transmit electrical power without wires at high altitudes where the air is thinner, and consequently it is more conductive. In a patent US645,576 - System of Transmission of Electrical Energy - March 20, 1900 Tesla claimed: "it has become possible to transmit through even moderately rarefied strata of atmosphere electrical energy to practically any amount and to any distance." <https://teslaresearch.jimdo.com/colorado-springs-lab-1899-1900/>

June-December 1899 Nikola Tesla was the first to scientifically document the artificial generation of fog by atmospheric ionization in his Colorado Springs lab, later reporting: "In Colorado I succeeded one day in precipitating a dense fog, so dense that when the hand was held only a few inches from the face it could not be seen." <http://www.shamanicengineering.org/wp-content/uploads/2014/07/Nikola-Tesla-Colorado-Springs-Notes-1899-1900.pdf>

By the end of the 1890s Tesla had come to the conclusion that it might be possible to transmit electrical power without wires at high altitudes where the air is thinner, and consequently it is more conductive. In a patent US645,576 - System of Transmission of Electrical Energy - March 20, 1900 Tesla claimed: "it has become possible to transmit through even moderately rarefied strata of atmosphere electrical energy to practically any amount and to any distance." <https://teslaresearch.jimdo.com/colorado-springs-lab-1899-1900/>

June-December 1899 Nikola Tesla was the first to scientifically document the artificial generation of fog by atmospheric ionization in his Colorado Springs lab, later reporting: "In Colorado I succeeded one day in precipitating a dense fog, so dense that when the hand was held only a few inches from the face it could not be seen." <http://www.shamanicengineering.org/wp-content/uploads/2014/07/Nikola-Tesla-Colorado-Springs-Notes-1899-1900.pdf>

By the end of the 1890s Tesla had come to the conclusion that it might be possible to transmit electrical power without wires at high altitudes where the air is thinner, and consequently it is more conductive. In a patent US645,576 - System of Transmission of Electrical Energy - March 20, 1900 Tesla claimed: "it has become possible to transmit through even moderately rarefied strata of atmosphere electrical energy to practically any amount and to any distance." <https://teslaresearch.jimdo.com/colorado-springs-lab-1899-1900/>

June-December 1899 Nikola Tesla was the first to scientifically document the artificial generation of fog by atmospheric ionization in his Colorado Springs lab, later reporting: "In Colorado I succeeded one day in precipitating a dense fog, so dense that when the hand was held only a few inches from the face it could not be seen." <http://www.shamanicengineering.org/wp-content/uploads/2014/07/Nikola-Tesla-Colorado-Springs-Notes-1899-1900.pdf>

NIKOLA TESLA'S 9 of 13 PATENTS FOR NIAGARA FALLS

<https://archive.org/details/transmissionpow00teslgoog/page/n7/mode/2up>

Multi-phase generator with mechanical break. Experiments in the laboratory at 35 South Fifth Avenue and subsequently. I gave them a demonstration which was published in Martin's article in the Century Magazine of April 1895, and I know that on these occasions I used a two-phase arrangement. Later on I made it four phase. That apparatus existed, therefore, prior to the destruction of my laboratory in 1895. (photo)

This [Fig. 38] illustrates another development in a different direction. In order to increase the number of breaks, I employed currents of different phase. I had in my laboratory, permanently, a two-phase dynamo and could get phases between; that is, from two phases, 90 apart, I could obtain four phases, 45 apart. Here is an arrangement shown as I had it, working with three phases [60 apart, and could obtain six phases, 30 apart], and later on I had one with four phases [45 apart, and could obtain eight phases 22 1/2 apart]. You see, as I multiplied the number of the phases, I increased the number of the fundamental discharges.

I made no publication, and I vividly remember that when I installed my apparatus on Long Island I had an arrangement with four transformers and four phases 45 apart. After I had been using this apparatus there, several years afterwards, I ran across a patent, I believe held by the General Electric Company, describing precisely the same arrangement.[*] It was a similar experience as with that patent of Fessenden on the compressed air condenser. Any time I want to use these improvements all I need to do is to produce my records and that will settle the patents.

No. I have hundreds of inventions that were to be patented but side-stepped. The expense was too great and I could not do it. This form of apparatus with two and four phases was used prior to the destruction of my laboratory in 1895, and it was installed on a large scale with four phases in my plant on Long Island with which I was to telephone around the world, but that is a long story.

Method for manufacturing Lead-Acid batteries like used at Niagara Falls. Niagara had a "soft lead" electric storage plate battery and a method for treating such plate. USL Battery Corp, US Patent #2169226A.

Niagara patent #406776 & 428289 Magneto Electric Machines.

William Stanley "System of Electrical Distribution" with Transformers, UPS & Self-Regulation features U.S. Patent # 469809, 1892. Frequency Regulation, With special adaptation to incandescent electric lighting, although it is applicable also to other purposes. In the DC Dynamo's, These converters may be of any construction; but are preferably constructed to have the greatest magnetic conductivity in their magnetic circuits.

NIKOLA TESLA'S 9 of 13 PATENTS FOR NIAGARA FALLS

<https://archive.org/details/transmissionpow00teslgoog/page/n7/mode/2up>

Multi-phase generator with mechanical break. Experiments in the laboratory at 35 South Fifth Avenue and subsequently. I gave them a demonstration which was published in Martin's article in the Century Magazine of April 1895, and I know that on these occasions I used a two-phase arrangement. Later on I made it four phase. That apparatus existed, therefore, prior to the destruction of my laboratory in 1895. (photo)

This [Fig. 38] illustrates another development in a different direction. In order to increase the number of breaks, I employed currents of different phase. I had in my laboratory, permanently, a two-phase dynamo and could get phases between; that is, from two phases, 90 apart, I could obtain four phases, 45 apart. Here is an arrangement shown as I had it, working with three phases [60 apart, and could obtain six phases, 30 apart], and later on I had one with four phases [45 apart, and could obtain eight phases 22 1/2 apart]. You see, as I multiplied the number of the phases, I increased the number of the fundamental discharges.

I made no publication, and I vividly remember that when I installed my apparatus on Long Island I had an arrangement with four transformers and four phases 45 apart. After I had been using this apparatus there, several years afterwards, I ran across a patent, I believe held by the General Electric Company, describing precisely the same arrangement.[*] It was a similar experience as with that patent of Fessenden on the compressed air condenser. Any time I want to use these improvements all I need to do is to produce my records and that will settle the patents.

No. I have hundreds of inventions that were to be patented but side-stepped. The expense was too great and I could not do it. This form of apparatus with two and four phases was used prior to the destruction of my laboratory in 1895, and it was installed on a large scale with four phases in my plant on Long Island with which I was to telephone around the world, but that is a long story.

April 21st 2020 Apple US Patent #10,630,127 decides to use Nikola Tesla's AC Induction Motor/(Heat Pump vs Sintering) because of it's unique features 1) Power increases towards Infinity in both directions, or 500% rated power for the first .5-1 second of spin-up 2) It can generate a high starting torque when the voltage/frequency is controlled 3) It's cheaper, and is also useful over rugged terrain. 4) Longer life 5) less maintenance, than, for instance, a permanent magnet drive. 6) When properly controlled, a three-phase AC induction motor can be made to be 90-98% efficient. "Perfectly Efficient" - Nikola Tesla -- Instead, Apple's patent concentrates on the motor technology paired with a method for dissipating heat from the engine. "[A] cooling structure [is] disposed in a thermally conductive relationship with at least one of the upper exterior ring surface or the lower exterior ring surface for receiving heat from the end turn ring," it says.

Was the Wardencllyffe Tower Binary/Digital? Did Nikola Tesla invent Logic Gates (0/1), Quantum Mechanics (0/1), Electro-Magnetism (0/1) System for his Remote Control Boat & Radiant Energy Receiver & Wardencllyffe Tower? Magnetic Nano-particles Enhance Performance of Solar Cells "It has been shown, for example, that gold nano-particles absorb additional sunlight, which in turn produces additional electrical charge carriers when the energy is released again by the gold particles." "This strategy makes use of a quantum physical principle which states that electrons have a kind of internal rotation, known as spin. According to the laws of quantum physics, this spin has a value of 1/2. The positively charged hole also has a spin of 1/2. The two spins can either add up, if they are in the same direction, or cancel each other out if they are in opposite directions. The electron-hole pair can therefore have an overall spin of 0 or 1. Pairs with a spin of 1 exist for longer than those with an overall spin of 0. The researchers set out to find a material that was able to convert the spin 0 state into a spin 1 state. This required nano-particles of heavy elements, which flip the spin of the electron or the hole so that the spins of the two particles are aligned in the same direction. The iron oxide magnetite (Fe<sub>3</sub>O<sub>4</sub>) is in fact able to do just this. "In our experiment, adding magnetite nano-particles to the substrate increased the efficiency of the solar cells by up to 11 per cent," reports Mosegué González. The lifetime of the electron-hole pair is significantly prolonged." Building a Quantum Computer One Logic Gate At A Time. Berkeley Lab Nuclear Magnetic Resonance With No Magnets "spin up", spin down".

A Nikola Tesla logic gates + quantum mechanics method of encoding an unlimited number of secure, instantaneous communications channels for his Wardencllyffe Tower. "While elements of classical computers (bits) can only be in two states (logic zero and logic one), qubits are based on quantum objects that can be in a -coherent superposition- of two states, which means that they can encode the intermediate states between logic zero and one. When a qubit is measured, the outcome is either a zero or a one with a certain probability (determined by the laws of quantum mechanics).

A companion piece to Nikola Tesla: Lecture Before The New York Academy of Sciences, this paper was read in absentia before an 1898 meeting of The American Electro-Therapeutic Association. It provides additional information about the construction and use of Tesla's New York oscillator as well as other smaller devices. Also included are comments on possible applications for HF currents by the medical profession and Tesla's personal observations of the effects "when a person is subjected to the action of such a coil." <http://www.tfcbooks.com/mall/more/374hfo.htm>

Magnetic Nano-particles Enhance Performance of Solar Cells "It has been shown, for example, that gold nano-particles absorb additional sunlight, which in turn produces additional electrical charge carriers when the energy is released again by the gold particles." "This strategy makes use of a quantum physical principle which states that electrons have a kind of internal rotation, known as spin. According to the laws of quantum physics, this spin has a value of 1/2. The positively charged hole also has a spin of 1/2. The two spins can either add up, if they are in the same direction, or cancel each other out if they are in opposite directions. The electron-hole pair can therefore have an overall spin of 0 or 1. Pairs with a spin of 1 exist for longer than those with an overall spin of 0. The researchers set out to find a material that was able to convert the spin 0 state into a spin 1 state. This required nano-particles of heavy elements, which flip the spin of the electron or the hole so that the spins of the two particles are aligned in the same direction. The iron oxide magnetite (Fe<sub>3</sub>O<sub>4</sub>) is in fact able to do just this. "In our experiment, adding magnetite nano-particles to the substrate increased the efficiency of the solar cells by up to 11 per cent," reports Mosegué González. The lifetime of the electron-hole pair is significantly prolonged." Building a Quantum Computer One Logic Gate At A Time. <https://popularmechanics.com/cars/how-to/a84/1272491/> -- April 22 2019 The case for banning the Internal Combustion Engine (ICE): VAD (#Vibratory #Acoustic #Disease) is real, but not caused by Wind Turbines. By definition, Internal Combustion Engines are "Vibratory" Reciprocating Engines with the Timing of Vibration set to the potential energy in the "Rigidity of the Spring" used. The Spark Plug creates high powered, impulse, Acoustic Radio Waves and interference patters in its "Telegeodynamics" in the ICE Automobiles; which normally have to be suppressed by spark plug wires. The ICE engines is also referred to as --Nikola Tesla's "Earthquake Machine" or "Mechanical Oscillator" in which at a particular resonant frequency, any materials can be made to mechanically shatter it's structure. In addition, The Reciprocating Engine for all Internal Combustion Engines (predates and describes proper reciprocation, the floating piston, fluid dynamics etc.) was patented by --Nikola Tesla in 1894. By 1897, The Spark Plug and Starter in a reciprocating cylinder was patented by Tesla and used in the Wright Brother's airplane in 1901.

Radio waves by definition are non-ionising. Long distance AM/FM is electrostatic induction, not electromagnetic nor "radiation". Nikola Tesla. -- The radio wave band - used for mobile phone networks - is non-ionising, "which means it lacks sufficient energy to break apart DNA and cause cellular damage,". As reported by Tesla Leaks many years previously, only 2.89 THZ waves at high electrical pressure can break DNA. More like the THZ scanners at airports. The sun's ultra-violet A&B rays fall within this harmful category, and can lead to skin cancers. UV-C is safe for the skin and retina. "It's crucial to note that radio waves are far less energetic than even the visible light we experience every day," says Dr Grimes. "There is no reputable evidence," he says "that mobile phones or wireless networks have caused us health problems." because there are more transmitters, 5G can run at (lower power) levels than previous 4G. Terahertz is the common frequency now used in the body scanners at the Airport. It's common knowledge that 5G is 28 Gigahertz is not capable of destroying DNA. The electrical pressures needed to gassify Hydrogen in your body using a high frequency, high tension induction generator is 300,000 Volts, 35,000 cycles/second, Plasma Impulse DC rate is unknown; commonly in Femtoseconds. Some reports require a laser with 5 Gigavolts per meter of electrical pressure at Terahertz frequency in order to break DNA; others need a BWO, Backwards Wave Oscillator a version of a TWTA, Traveling Wave Tube Amplifier. – Nov 15, 2016 Nature: Terahertz molecular resonance of cancer DNA <https://nature.com/articles/srep37103>

April 2 2018 BREAKING: Cell Phones / 5G Confirmed To Cause Cancer. "Milliwatts" of non-ionizing radiation wouldn't hurt a fly. On the other hand, coal plants are 100x more radioactive than nuclear power. Petro-chemicals at the gas station, not only cause Cancer, they create cancer by definition. Update: March 30 2020 Donald Trump (Diablo's Minon) "Mephisto", the Lord of Hatred & Lies, tells his 33,911 lie. Trump claims he saw stacks of "body bags" and "freezer trucks" at his Queens hospital. Yet, provides no proof. Just numbers on a TV screen. There are no dead bodies from Coronavirus, only Targeted Assassinations & False Positives based on a Phony Test.

Jan 9th 1901 "Electricity: A Popular Electrical Journal ..., Volume 20" - Page 86 (Nikola Tesla claims to have discovered a new law in electrical science which will necessitate the re-writing of most of the text books now in use. "The capacity of an electrical conductor ... varies under different conditions ... it is not fixed and unalterable at all ... it is susceptible to great changes ... I observed that the capacity varied with the elevation of the conduction surface above the ground (THE IONOSPHERE).

"The EXACT LAW to "Infinite Speed" will be understood in Fig. 82, which a transmitting circuit is shown connected to earth and to an antenna. The transmitter being in action, two effects are produced: Hertz waves pass thru the air, and a current traverses the earth." - Nikola Tesla

By the end of the 1890s Tesla had come to the conclusion that it might be possible to transmit electrical power without wires at high altitudes where the air is thinner, and consequently it is more conductive. In a patent US645,576 - System of Transmission of Electrical Energy - March 20, 1900 Tesla claimed: "it has become possible to transmit through even moderately rarefied strata of atmosphere electrical energy to practically any amount and to any distance."

Jan 9th 1901 "Electricity: A Popular Electrical Journal ..., Volume 20" - Page 86 (Nikola Tesla claims to have discovered a new law in electrical science which will necessitate the re-writing of most of the text books now in use. "The capacity of an electrical conductor ... various under different conditions ... it is not fixed and unalterable at all ... it is susceptible to grate changes ... I observed that the capacity varied with the elevation of the conduction surface above the ground (THE IONOSPHERE).

"The EXACT LAW to "Infinite Speed" will be understood in Fig. 82, which a transmitting circuit is shown connected to earth and to an antenna. The transmitter being in action, two effects are produced: Hertz waves pass thru the air, and a current traverses the earth." - Nikola Tesla

By the end of the 1890s Tesla had come to the conclusion that it might be possible to transmit electrical power without wires at high altitudes where the air is thinner, and consequently it is more conductive. In a patent US645,576 - System of Transmission of Electrical Energy - March 20, 1900 Tesla claimed: "it has become possible to transmit through even moderately rarefied strata of atmosphere electrical energy to practically any amount and to any distance."

Repost of Offer: My plan for President! I hereby offer all gas, coal, tree burner people all their "stranded assets" for $1. Everyone gets a FREE bullet proof Tesla Cyber-Truck and a real Whoopee Cushion. Treatise to Inventions of Edison by Tesla Leaks: To demonstrate "Genius"; I will then use your Hero, Thomas Edison, his patent for a "Trash Compactor" and put it all in a "Hugh pile of scrap" --Nikola Tesla because of your "costly historical error" NT. I will then transport it using the millions of miles of gas, coal and tree rail-lines (that were never intended for People to travel on) and scrap the rails along the way. Along the way still; 3,000 Thomas Edison DC generators for those coal plant rails were already scrapped when Niagara Falls went online in 1896 (a job well done). Next, I will dump it using another Thomas Edison patent in 1903 for a "Dumping Mechanism" at the newly formed site called the "Niagara Falls Dinosaur Dump" where jobs will be available riding "Dinosaur's" and picking up "rubble" or rocks. There, I will dump it again into the first in the world in 1899 the Nikola Tesla Electric Furnace at Niagara Falls. The steel Smelter will turn it all into one big slag of super-luminescent Krypton, superconductive, diamond encrusted (Alien) Dinosaur Dung. The up to 30 carat synthetic diamonds come free as a waste product of an electric furnace. So, the carbon dust diamonds is an automatic; sprinkling on the dung to make it 1000X brighter or more luminescent than your LED. (China has a patent for lights using this diamond dust, 1000X more efficient than LED.) These special Tesla Dynamos and "translation device" (a Tesla light bulb) are also used to hydro-crack the superconductive Krypton gas from Air like they do in Westinghouse Nuclear Reactors. Any remaining plastic waste will be turned into real rubber "Whoopie Cushions" for everyone's new Tesla Model Y. Not the fake sound ones the have in their cars now. Real Ones! The Whoopie Cushions will be manufactured using the various and famous patents by Edison for Plastic Mold's. So, the cost of the Super-Slab of Dung, including the power, as described would be FREE. Lastly, I'm going to present it to the public for worship, pledges and allegiance called the "Thomas Edison" patent for a "Milking Machine". The Milking Machine will have an attachment; another Thomas Edison invention for the world's 1st "Cash Register"; so that the money changers can "calculate" what your "money" is worth; and keeps the rest anyhow. The "Milking Machine" will be available for pledges at the famous National Plastic Museum where the other statue of Edison resides for pledges (and allegiance) for his great work on "Plastic Moldings" for sex toys. I will then use those pledges to build a system where we don't need your crap. Ok? Thomas Edison, McGraw companies 2011 "Trash Compactor" <https://patents.google.com/patent/US9221600/> / -- 1972 "Control Mechanisms for Trash Compactors".

<https://patents.google.com/patent/US3855919A/en> -- From all these inventions of Thomas Edison; the best Patent citation is for a giant "Trash Can". Nikola Tesla gives credit to "John Hettinger" for realizing WIRELESS POWER. In Tesla's last article on wireless Power, Electrical Experimenter, March 1920 "Wireless Transmission of Power Now Possible", Tesla refers to "John Hettinger" patents that "opened up the way for it's realization. Tesla Leaks published the Hettinger Patent on Wireless Power 4 years ago. The Hettinger Patent confirms the concept of NEGATIVE RESISTANCE in A/C Impulse systems with Mercury/Gas bulbs at a distance.

<https://google.com/patents/US1309031>

"By one bold stroke an English genius, Mr. John Hettinger, has unthinkingly opened up the way for its realization. Like numerous other inventions, the way lay before our very eyes, but we were all too bling to see it.

While working on a means for transmitting radio waves without material aerials, MR. Hettinger hit upon the idea of using ionized light beams as elevated conductors. Obviously simple when one thinks of it.

It is a well-known fact that an ionized gas is a conductor; in fact, the conductivity of a gas is a measure of its ionization. Furthermore, it is possible to ionize a gas by means of a stream of ultra violet rays. Working with these facts, Mr. Hettinger devised means to utilize them for radio transmission in the following manner.

As shown in Fig. 1, a source of ultra violet rays, an arc or mercury vapor lamp. A. is arranged to throw a beam of ionizing rays vertically.

These rays result in an ionized stream of air that acts as a conductor, the surrounding un-ionized air being practically a perfect insulator. By making connection to this conducting beam with a metallic screen or mesh at B, it can be utilized as an aerial for radio communication."

February 25, 2020 Simple #self #charging battery offers power solutions for devices. A new type of battery combines negative capacitance and negative resistance within the same cell, allowing the cell to self-charge without losing energy, which has important implications for long-term storage and improved output power for batteries. Researchers report making their very simple battery with two different metals, as electrodes and a lithium or sodium glass electrolyte between them.

I spoke to everyone at the conference about Nikola Tesla, even SunEdison. There, I told Dahn about Nikola Tesla's patents for wound coil capacitors and other patents. Only 1 person at the entire convention knew any patent of Nikola Tesla. The one person knew about the November 5th 1901 AURE patent using Mica, but knew nothing about it. At the conference, only 1 company produced thin-film solar, for toys. By July 9th 2015, Tesla Leaks published the Renewable Energy Treatise describing all types of solar technology. <http://nikolateslasolar.blogspot.com/2015/07/radiant-energy-harvesting-night-time.html?view=flipcard> -- November 2014 Treatise on AURE:

Tesla Leaks has published evidence the Wardencllyffe Tower site was still in operation in 1907-1908. After his announcement of "Tuned Lightning" in March 1907, after JP Morgan stages the great banking panic of 1907 that Bankrupt Westinghouse and Tesla and in 1908 for Tunguska. Since Aliens and Meteors from "Space" is not the source, then we know that Nikola Tesla probably did it. This video also agrees with the sources that admit Tesla was using parameters of the Earth that were provided by the "officials" and that his wireless system is electro-static in nature and not hertzian electromagnetic waves. Chris Edwards shared a post to the group: Knowledge and Wonders of Science with Brian Cox and Neil Degrasse Tyson ?. #science February 12 2020 #graphene - ACS Applied Materials & Interfaces, creates LIG with features more than 60% smaller than the macro version and almost 10 times smaller and less expensive than typically achieved with the former infrared laser. "This method allows us to make structures that are 10 times denser than we formerly made." <https://phys.org/news/2020-02-laser-induced-graphene-flexible-electronics.html> -- February 12 2020 #tellurium - For Leslie Schoop's lab, one recent such investigation has uncovered a layered compound with a trio of properties not previously known to exist in one material. An international interdisciplinary team published a paper last week in Science Advances reporting that the van der Waals material gadolinium tritelluride (GdTe<sub>3</sub>) displays the highest electronic mobility among all known layered magnetic materials. In addition, it has magnetic order, and can easily be exfoliated. The lab has already shipped a number of samples to researchers eager to explore how the compound fits into a category previously occupied only by black phosphorous and graphite. High mobility is rare in layered materials. <https://advances.sciencemag.org/content/6/6/eaay6407>

February 12 2020 #perovskite - Cracks in perovskite films for solar cells easily healed, study finds. The study, published in the journal Acta Materialia, finds that though perovskite films tend to crack easily, those cracks are easily healed with some compression or a little bit of heat. Temperatures around 100 degrees Celsius—quite modest heating by material science standards—were enough to completely heal cracks in perovskite films. <http://dx.doi.org/10.1016/j.actamat.2020.01.040>

February 12 2020 #topological #insulators #superconductivity "Powering a topological superconductor using a time crystal gives you more than the sum of its parts," says Jason Alicea, a researcher at California Institute of Technology (Caltech). In crossing this boundary, the wave function has to undergo a change that can lead to conducting edge or surface states at the boundary that are symmetry-protected by particle number conservation and time-reversal symmetry, making them particularly robust to perturbations. 3-D topological states have come to light in which intrinsic spin-orbit coupling takes the place of the magnetic field, as well as topological superconductors and photonic and magnetic analogues. Alicea explains that the study led them to the discovery that it is possible to enrich topological superconductors by coupling them to controllable magnetic degrees of freedom. "Then we realized that by turning those magnetic degrees of freedom into a time crystal, topological superconductivity responds in remarkable ways," says Alicea. <https://journals.aps.org/prl/accepted/8207bY04Ua413365468292600efeed0fb1530ecd4>

February 12 2020 #negative #resistance #electron #transport #Weyl #semimetals - Anomalous phonon-mode dependence in polarized Raman spectroscopy of the topological Weyl semimetal. "For example, they can show negative magnetoresistance, which means when you apply a magnetic field, the resistance drops. With many conventional materials, it increases." Topological Weyl semimetals (WSMs) have attracted widespread interest due to the chiral Weyl fermions and surface Fermi arcs that enable unique optical and transport phenomena. <https://phys.org/news/2020-02-class-materials-strange-electron-properties.html>

February 11 2020 #water #purification #fluorescent #arclamp #plasma - Blasting NASA's 'forever' chemicals out of water with a vortex of cold plasma. These chemicals, commonly called PFAS—a shortening of per- and polyfluoroalkyl substances, were used for some 60 years as coatings for nonstick pans and waterproof clothing and in fire-fighting foams. Though precise exposure routes have not yet been identified, studies suggest that PFAS has been detected in the bloodstream of as much as 98 percent of the U.S. population through some combination of direct exposure, drinking water contamination and bioaccumulation. The Drexel team is proposing the use of highly energized gas, or plasma, as a way to activate the PFAS atoms without heating the water. In non-equilibrium, or "cold" plasma, an electromagnetic field is used to excite the electrons in a gas without raising its overall temperature. In a common example of cold plasma, a fluorescent light, electrons are excited to the point where they emit visible light while the gas itself remains at room temperature. <https://pubs.rsc.org/en/content/articlelanding/2020/EW/C9EW01050E#!divAbstract>

February 11 2020 #light #sound #multiplexing #cascade #laser - Using sound and light to generate ultra-fast data transfer. A research team from the University of Leeds and University of Nottingham believe they have found a way of delivering ultra-fast modulation, by combining the power of acoustic and light waves. They have published their findings today in Nature Communications. Instead of using external electronics, the teams of researchers at Leeds and Nottingham Universities used acoustic waves to vibrate the quantum wells inside the quantum cascade laser. The acoustic waves were generated by the impact of a pulse from another laser onto an aluminium film. This caused the film to expand and contract, sending a mechanical wave through the quantum cascade laser. <https://phys.org/news/2020-02-ultra-fast.html>

February 11 2020 #power #to #gas - New method offers more stable, efficient electrocatalytic reactions. The technique, which fluidizes catalyst particles in electrolyte instead of gluing them to electrodes, avoids a rapid decline in reaction performance—a phenomenon researchers call fatigue. The approach could improve production processes for electrolysis and electrochemical energy conversion and storage. Huang tested his ideas using a well-known, commercially available catalyst called Pt/C, which is made of carbon black powders decorated by platinum nanoparticles to catalyze oxygen evolution, hydrogen evolution, and methanol oxidation reactions. These three electrochemical reactions, when catalyzed by Pt/C, normally suffer from severe performance decay, but all showed higher efficiency and stability when the particles were fluidized. <http://dx.doi.org/10.31635/ccschem.019.201900065>

February 10 2020 #inverted #perovskite #solar - Inverted perovskite solar cells with a power conversion efficiency of 22.3%. Researchers at King Abdullah University of Science and Technology (KAUST) and the University of Toronto were recently able to reduce the previously observed efficiency gap between perovskite PV cells with a regular structure and those with an inverted structure. Their paper, published in Nature Energy, introduces a new design strategy that allowed them to fabricate inverted solar cells with long operation lifetimes and power conversion efficiencies of 22.3%. <https://www.nature.com/articles/s41560-019-0538-4>

February 10 2020 #hydrogenation #palladium - Power to Gas without Hydrogen: Chemists develop safer hydrogenation processes. Safe and environmentally-friendly hydrogen gas on demand could be on the horizon following a new "hydrogenation" chemical process in development at The City College of New York. Led by Mahesh K. Lakshman, the research uniquely bypasses the need for an external source of hydrogen gas to accomplish a wide range of hydrogenations. Lakshman explained hydrogenation as the addition of hydrogen atoms. For instance, a very common application is for the production of fats from vegetable oils. In industry, production of paraffin is an example. "What we have found is that we can mix two stable materials together in the presence of palladium on charcoal and this produces a mixture capable of "hydrogenation," without requiring an external source of compressed hydrogen gas," It would allow labs to dispense with compressed hydrogen gas cylinders. <http://dx.doi.org/10.1002/adsc.201901099>

February 10 2020 #desalination - Harnessing the sun to bring fresh water to remote or disaster-struck communities. A device that takes a novel approach to removing salt from water has been developed in Bath, paving the way for small, solar-powered desalination units. Developed by the university's Water Innovation and Research Centre in partnership with Indonesia's Bogor Agricultural University and the University of Johannesburg, the prototype desalination unit is a 3-D-printed system with two internal chambers designed to extract and/or accumulate salt. When power is applied, salt cations (positively charged ions) and salt anions (negatively charged ions) flow between chambers through arrays of micro-holes in a thin synthetic membrane. The flow can only happen in one direction thanks to a mechanism that has parallels in mobile-phone technology. As a result of this one-way flow, salt is pumped out of seawater. This contrasts with the classical desalination process, where water rather than salt is pumped through a membrane. <http://dx.doi.org/10.1016/j.desal.2020.114351>

February 11 2020 #water #purification #fluorescent #arclamp #plasma - Blasting NASA's 'forever' chemicals out of water with a vortex of cold plasma. These chemicals, commonly called PFAS—a shortening of per- and polyfluoroalkyl substances, were used for some 60 years as coatings for nonstick pans and waterproof clothing and in fire-fighting foams. Though precise exposure routes have not yet been identified, studies suggest that PFAS has been detected in the bloodstream of as much as 98 percent of the U.S. population through some combination of direct exposure, drinking water contamination and bioaccumulation. The Drexel team is proposing the use of highly energized gas, or plasma, as a way to activate the PFAS atoms without heating the water. In non-equilibrium, or "cold" plasma, an electromagnetic field is used to excite the electrons in a gas without raising its overall temperature. In a common example of cold plasma, a fluorescent light, electrons are excited to the point where they emit visible light while the gas itself remains at room temperature. <https://pubs.rsc.org/en/content/articlelanding/2020/EW/C9EW01050E#divAbstract>

February 11 2020 #light #sound #multiplexing #cascade #laser - Using sound and light to generate ultra-fast data transfer. A research team from the University of Leeds and University of Nottingham believe they have found a way of delivering ultra-fast modulation, by combining the power of acoustic and light waves. They have published their findings today in Nature Communications. Instead of using external electronics, the teams of researchers at Leeds and Nottingham Universities used acoustic waves to vibrate the quantum wells inside the quantum cascade laser. The acoustic waves were generated by the impact of a pulse from another laser onto an aluminium film. This caused the film to expand and contract, sending a mechanical wave through the quantum cascade laser. <https://phys.org/news/2020-02-ultra-fast.html>

February 11 2020 #power #to #gas - New method offers more stable, efficient electrocatalytic reactions. The technique, which fluidizes catalyst particles in electrolyte instead of gluing them to electrodes, avoids a rapid decline in reaction performance—a phenomenon researchers call fatigue. The approach could improve production processes for electrolysis and electrochemical energy conversion and storage. Huang tested his ideas using a well-known, commercially available catalyst called Pt/C, which is made of carbon black powders decorated by platinum nanoparticles to catalyze oxygen evolution, hydrogen evolution, and methanol oxidation reactions. These three electrochemical reactions, when catalyzed by Pt/C, normally suffer from severe performance decay, but all showed higher efficiency and stability when the particles were fluidized. <http://dx.doi.org/10.31635/ccschem.019.201900065>

February 10 2020 #hydrogenation #palladium - Power to Gas without Hydrogen: Chemists develop safer hydrogenation processes. Safe and environmentally-friendly hydrogen gas on demand could be on the horizon following a new "hydrogenation" chemical process in development at The City College of New York. Led by Mahesh K. Lakshman, the research uniquely bypasses the need for an external source of hydrogen gas to accomplish a wide range of hydrogenations. Lakshman explained hydrogenation as the addition of hydrogen atoms. For instance, a very common application is for the production of fats from vegetable oils. In industry, production of paraffin is an example. "What we have found is that we can mix two stable materials together in the presence of palladium on charcoal and this produces a mixture capable of "hydrogenation," without requiring an external source of compressed hydrogen gas," It would allow labs to dispense with compressed hydrogen gas cylinders. <http://dx.doi.org/10.1002/adsc.201901099>

February 10 2020 #desalination - Harnessing the sun to bring fresh water to remote or disaster-struck communities. A device that takes a novel approach to removing salt from water has been developed in Bath, paving the way for small, solar-powered desalination units. developed by the university's Water Innovation and Research Centre in partnership with Indonesia's Bogor Agricultural University and the University of Johannesburg, the prototype desalination unit is a 3-D-printed system with two internal chambers designed to extract and/or accumulate salt. When power is applied, salt cations (positively charged ions) and salt anions

(negatively charged ions) flow between chambers through arrays of micro-holes in a thin synthetic membrane. The flow can only happen in one direction thanks to a mechanism that has parallels in mobile-phone technology. As a result of this one-way flow, salt is pumped out of seawater. This contrasts with the classical desalination process, where water rather than salt is pumped through a membrane. <http://dx.doi.org/10.1016/j.desal.2020.114351>

February 12 2020 #topological #insulators #superconductivity "Powering a topological superconductor using a time crystal gives you more than the sum of its parts," says Jason Alicea, a researcher at California Institute of Technology (Caltech). In crossing this boundary, the wave function has to undergo a change that can lead to conducting edge or surface states at the boundary that are symmetry-protected by particle number conservation and time-reversal symmetry, making them particularly robust to perturbations. 3-D topological states have come to light in which intrinsic spin-orbit coupling takes the place of the magnetic field, as well as topological superconductors and photonic and magnetic analogues. Alicea explains that the study led them to the discovery that it is possible to enrich topological superconductors by coupling them to controllable magnetic degrees of freedom. "Then we realized that by turning those magnetic degrees of freedom into a time crystal, topological superconductivity responds in remarkable ways," says Alicea. <https://journals.aps.org/prl/accepted/8207bY04Ua413365468292600efeed0fb1530ecd4>

February 12 2020 Tesla #FUD : Regulators admitted that it was the fault of government officials for failure to repair the divider for 11 days, where previous accidents not involving a Tesla, occurred. In that incident, a 2010 Toyota Prius traveling over 75 mph crashed against the attenuator, a cushion that protects vehicles from hitting the end of concrete lane dividers. In the three years before the Tesla crash, the device was struck at least five times, including one crash that resulted in fatalities. A car struck it again on May 20, 2018, about two months after the Tesla crash, the NTSB said."

February 12 2020 Tesla #FUD : Regulators admitted that it was the fault of government officials for failure to repair the divider for 11 days, where previous accidents not involving a Tesla, occurred. A report from the agency says California officials failed to fix the barrier that was damaged in a crash 11 days before Huang was killed. In that incident, a 2010 Toyota Prius traveling over 75 mph crashed against the attenuator, a cushion that protects vehicles from hitting the end of concrete lane dividers. In the three years before the Tesla crash, the device was struck at least five times, including one crash that resulted in fatalities. A car struck it again on May 20, 2018, about two months after the Tesla crash, the NTSB said."

Hitlers Jet Fuel & U.S. "Bouncing Bombs" -- In WW2, Hitler used Coal gassification from the vast German and Polish coal plants. During the War, Germany was using the West German Hydro-electric Dams to manufacture the Jet Fuel (and other gasses). Because of this, the US invented the "Bouncing Bomb" to destroy German Dams. Since the Dams are indestructable, the US largely failed. <https://oilprice.com/Energy/General/Hitlers-Renewable-Jet-Fuel-Could-End-Flight-Shaming.html>

"Forward prices for summer are now at levels where U.S. LNG shut-ins begin to seem viable," a lot of this development doesn't work as well at $2.50 gas." On the Chevron-Texaco Wikipedia page odd-ly mentions the Louisiana salt disaster that was allegedly an "accident"; (by drilling just 400 feet from a salt mine the size of Mount Everest); for a reason that has never been ascertained, that destroyed the world's largest Salt, Lithium-Carbonate mine. Soon after, Chevron turned the mine into a Compressed Natural Gas storage facility. Go figure!

Chevron-Texaco in Feb 2002 after 9/11. George Bush's, Cheney's Wyoming Coal, Condoleezza Rice a board member at Chevron & Bahrain ran the oil and coal wars, stole all the resources and money to put into Fools-ball Games from about 1980-2020. They are also likely the culprits in all staged events and "natural disasters", monetary scams and bail-outs, government taxes and regulations on renewable energy and electric cars, and everything else!

Chevron honored Rice by naming an oil tanker Condoleezza Rice after her, but controversy led to its being renamed Altair Voyager.

Tesla's Flashes Startling - New York Sun - July 17th, 1903. Starting the night of July 15, 1903 and for the next couple of nights, Tesla set up a few additional poles (antennas), and then fired up the generators that brought the wireless plant to life. From the poles and the top dome of the tower bolts of lightning shot out for miles which actually lit up the sky and could be seen for literally hundreds of miles. At times the surrounding area was filled with streaks of lightning shooting into the darkness. The residents of that area were literally treated to an electrical fireworks display. Part 13: David Rockefeller's Standard Oil's Chevron-Texaco-Armaco Funded Hitler with Oil Espionage, funded both sides of the Vietnam War with Oil, funded both sides of WW2 with Oil, and even funded the Facist in Spain in the Spanish American War; Espionage

On the Chevron-Texaco Wikipedia page odd-ly mentions th Louisiana salt disaster that was allegedly an "accident"; (by drilling just 400 feet from a salt mine the size of Mount Everest); for a reason that has never been ascertained, that destroyed the worlds largest Salt, Lithium-Carbonate mine. Soon after, Chevron turned the mine into a Compressed Natural Gas storage facility. Go figure!

Chevron-Texaco in Feb 2002 after 9/11. George Bush's, Cheney's Wyoming Coal, Condolezza Rice a board member at Chevron & Bahrain ran the oil and coal wars, stole all the resources and money to put into Fools-ball Games from about 1980-2020. They are also likely the culprits in all staged events and "natural disasters", monetary scams and bail-outs, government taxes and regulations on renewable energy and electric cars, and everything else!

Chevron honored Rice by naming an oil tanker Condoleezza Rice after her, but controversy led to its being renamed Altair Voyager.

Chevron-Texaco blocked the Chevrolet Gas-Turbine Car at the same time Chevron became nationwide in 1960 and then used the goverment, run by them, to ban them with regulations.

By definition, Internal Combustion Engines are "Vibratory" Reciprocating Engines with the Timing of Vibration set to the potential energy in the "Rigidity of the Spring" used. The Spark Plug creates high powered, impulse, Acoustic Radio Waves and interference patters in its "Telegeodynamics" in the ICE Automobiles; which normally have to be suppressed by spark plug wires. The ICE engines is also referred to as --Nikola Tesla's "Earthquake Machine" or "Mechanical Oscillator" in which at a particular resonant frequency, any materials can be made to mechanically shatter it's structure. In addition, The Reciprocating Engine for all Internal Combustion Engines (predates and describes proper reciprocation, the floating piston, fluid dynamics etc.) was patented by --Nikola Tesla in 1894. By 1897, The Spark Plug and Starter in a reciprocating cylinder was patented by Tesla and used in the Wright Brother's airplane in 1901.

Top 20 details on Nikola Tesla, prior to the last 40 years of mis-information; August, 1981 High Times.

<https://hightimes.com/culture/nikola-tesla/> -- 0) Wardenclyffe was to shoot all power for Paris Exposition of 1903—all the way across the Atlantic 1) #Magnifying #transformer to step the current down, after you siphon it off the main #Neutral feeder cable 2) Thomas Edison: Terrible dangerous idea, Old Tom called it. All that electricity all over, #trillions of volts maybe, terrible, terrible dangerous. Think of the children! Enough of 'em fried themselves dead every year on low-test, old-fashioned Edison DC. And now some crazy Serb wants to have trillions of volts sizzling all up and down the whole blame country? Unthinkable. Irresponsible. Obscene! 3) Westinghouse gave him $1 million cash for the title to all his patents so far, and guaranteed him a $1 royalty—U.S. and foreign—for every unit of horsepower his system might generate. 4) Edison, of course, was desperately filling the #Hearst papers with scientific-sounding jeremiads about the certain and horrible consequences of this alternating-current #witchcraft. Goddammit, it just produced too much juice, Old Tom wailed, the world wasn't ready for it. "Just as certain as death," he guaranteed the papers, "Westinghouse will kill a customer within six months after he puts in a system of any size." To prove it, Edison got a lot of people physically killed, dead forever, with this newfangled Tesla-Westinghouse AC 5) Edison showed the Hearst papers how you could fry live dogs, calves, and ultimately a horse. But it never got him anywhere. Inside ten years, Edison was renting AC from Westinghouse by the megawatt. 7) This is where he would #galvanize and #disintegrate metal plates with his bare fingers, strobing and flaring magnificently in his tux and cummerbund, before awed thousands at the Academy of Music and Carnegie Hall. 8) He even showed the foremen at Alcoa how most efficiently to use Niagara Falls #electric #arc #furnace to extract aluminum out of bauxite ore. 9) He would free humanity of those stupid copper wires, if it was the last thing he did. "I must first ascertain exactly how many vibrations to the second are caused by disturbing the mass of electricity which the earth contains..." #Schumann #Resonance 10) Tesla bouncing signal impulses up through the magnetosphere, from a land-based transmitter to a land-based receiver, was only prelude to some immensely grander notion about driving signals down into the earth itself and having them burst out elsewhere, immeasurably #amplified 11) Lab Fire; Typical of Tesla's life, the lab somehow caught fire just then: all his equipment, models, notes, and a big bundle of hard cash up in smoke, with no insurance. #Insurance?! Nikola Tesla had more important things to do with his money than haggle with insurance agents, those troglodytic slaves to Mammon. 12) Earthquake Machine: By and by they were getting 5, 10, 15 times more energy back out of the ground than it took to run the hammer's air compressor. Eureka! This was something better than #perpetual #motion! 13) Colorado Springs: It had to do with a 200-foot metal mast surmounted by a four-foot copper ball, dominating the lonesome Colorado prairie under Pike's Peak. Below this pylon, in a shed, sat Tesla's "magnifying transformer," extruding a primary coil that wound about a 75-foot-diameter fence and stretched up aloft to make contact with the giant copper ball, or "#electrode." 14) The visual display would be a challenge to #George #Lucas. Tesla was casting lightning bolts as high as the #Empire #State #Building, and that was just the stray skim-off from the 12 million volts he was able to pump through this baby continuously. When visitors wanted impressing, Nikola would put up in the night sky whole extended ballets of many-colored "#globe #lightning" 15) Resonance: Nikola was jamming megafixes of pure juice into Mother Earth, to see how much lightning he could call down out of God's sky to #restabilize the local electromagnetic setup. At least this was one part of what he was doing, as frantically as possible, while the money held out. His broader project had something to do with precisely measuring the exact wattage of #potential resonance between the electricity within the earth and the electricity in the sky above it. 16) Tesla's Wardencllyffe Tower was designed to shoot all the electric power for the grand #Paris #Exposition of 1903—all the way across the almighty Atlantic, no hands, no wires, nothing up his sleeve. 17) Nikola was still #copper-plating his 150-foot-diameter "electrode," 18) When Tesla died in 1943, the FBI went through his place and carried off all his papers while the body was still warm. 19) Sunday-supplement writers found him a dependable source of diverting comment, prattling on about gem-focused "#death #rays," #faster-than-light communications systems, #climate-modifications through magnetic manipulation of the #Ionosphere.

His broader project had something to do with precisely measuring the exact wattage of #potential resonance between the electricity within the earth and the electricity in the sky above it. 16) Tesla's Wardenclyffe Tower was designed to shoot all the electric power for the grand #Paris #Exposition of 1903—all the way across the almighty Atlantic, no hands, no wires, nothing up his sleeve. 17) Nikola was still #copper-plating his 150-foot-diameter "electrode," 18) When Tesla died in 1943, the FBI went through his place and carried off all his papers while the body was still warm. 19) Sunday-supplement writers found him a dependable source of diverting comment, prattling on about gem-focused "#death #rays," #faster-than-light communications systems, #climate-modifications through magnetic manipulation of the #Ionosphere.

Electrical Experimenter, Jan 1919 editors notes on Nikola Tesla's technical prints, inventions and discoveries. The following is only a partial list of terms now adopted and published in text books: Tesla two-phase, three-phase, multi-phase, poly-phase system of power transmission

Tesla principal

Tesla rotating magnetic field

Tesla rotating magnetic field transformer

Tesla induction motor

Tesla split-phase motor

Tesla system of distribution

Tesla rotary transformer

Tesla system of transformation by condenser discharges

Tesla coil

Tesla oscillation transformer

Tesla electrical oscillator

Tesla mechanical oscillator

Tesla high frequency machines

Tesla dynamo-electric oscillator

Tesla tube

Tesla lamp

Tesla high-potential methods

Tesla inductor

Tesla marvels

Tesla impedance phenomena

Tesla electro-therapy

Tesla electrical massage

Tesla currents

Tesla transmission

Teslaic experiments

Tesla capacity

Tesla arclight system

Tesla third brush regulation

Tesla devices

Tesla sparks

Tesla arrangements

Tesla theory

Tesla point

Tesla Steam Turbine

Tesla Gas Turbine

Tesla Water Turbine

Tesla Pump

Tesla Compressor

Tesla Igniter

Tesla condensers

Tesla electro-static field

Tesla effects

Tesla wireless system
Tesla methods of wireless transmission
Tesla magnifying transmitter
Tesla telautomata
Tesla insulation
Tesla underground transmission, etc.
