

Creation

(3 puppets, Chimp, Bird and Frog)

(Chimp and Frog enter looking around)

Chimp: It sure is a pretty day today.

Frog: Sure is. Yep, the sunshine feels awful good after all that rain yesterday.

(Bird flies in)

Bird: Hi guys. Pretty day today, don't you think?

Frog: Uh huh. Hard to believe God made all this in seven days.

Chimp: God made the whole forest in seven days?

Frog: No, He made ...

Chimp: (interrupting) I didn't think anybody could build a whole forest in seven days!

Frog: That's not what I said. You interrupted me before I could finish! What I was gonna say was that---

Bird: (interrupting) Well if you wanna know the truth, it was six days, not seven.

Frog: But, but . . .

Chimp (interrupting): I don't understand! Did He or did He not make the whole forest in six . . . or seven? Days?

(He looks at Frog, Frog just looks back without answering.)

Bird: (to Frog) Aren't you going to answer him?

Frog: Only if you both promise to QUIT INTERRUPTING ME!!

Bird: Okay, my lips are sealed.

Chimp: Duh, I didn't know that birds HAD lips!

Frog: She just meant she wouldn't interrupt again. What about you?

Chimp: What about me? Oh, I have lips.

Frog: I know you have lips!! (exasperated) Now do you promise to quit interrupting me?

Chimp: Sure! You don't have to get all huffy! Now what about this person who made the forest?

Frog: It wasn't just a regular person, it was GOD. And God is so powerful that He made the whole world in six days.

Chimp: He did?

Frog Uh huh. He made the world in one day, and all the stars and planets in one day, and all the plants in one day, including the forest, and all the animals in one day.

Chimp: Uh, like, wow! So He made the whole forest in one day! He must be more powerful than Superman!

Bird: Mmm mm mmm mmm

Frog: What? I can't understand you.

Chimp: Uh, her lips are sealed, remember?

Frog: Oh yeah. Ok Bird, you can talk now.

Bird: Thank you! I think the best thing about God creating the world is that he made it beautiful, with just the right amount of sunshine and rain and heat and everything, so that people and animals would know He loved them.

Frog: That is terrific.

Chimp: I didn't know someone like that would love a chimp like me! Let's go have a banana and celebrate.

Frog: ( to himself as both exit) I'm not too fond of bananas myself, but oh, well. . .

Bird: I'll be along in a minute: Thanks God for this beautiful world!
