Family News

Pete and Marie Steggerda want to thank the congregation for their prayer support. They invite us to thank God with them that Pete's heart tests this past Tuesday went well and that he had good reports. He will continue to work with doctors to find ways to help improve his strength and health. That includes some additional testing in this coming week.

Please continue to pray for Pete and Marie.

Jan Wielenga is very thankful that Don was moved to the Orange City hospital this past week following his surgery for a broken leg. Please continue to pray for his healing and for Don and Jan as they deal with this challenge.

Community Bulletin News: With the rising cost of paper, I will be putting a paper copy of the community bulletin in the church mailboxes for those who do not have email. If you would still like a paper copy in your mailbox just let me know. I will also put some paper copies on the table on Sunday along with the Dove. Thanks! Linda

From the Council:

The Council continued the nomination process at its meeting this past Monday night. Letters were sent to nominees this week to ask them to consider their nomination prayerfully and dutifully. We ask the congregation to continue to pray for this important process in the life of Immanuel. The Council has also been discussing the possibility of moving from 7 districts down to 6. This would affect the number of elders and deacons we need along with the number of members serving as Shepherds. They will make a decision on this at the March meeting. That meeting will be held on March 13 due to the auction on March 20.
