What we offer

Over 55 programs in districts across all provinces in English & French Canada

Educatus Canada (Educanetic Inc) provides its own homestays in the most popular regions requested by students including in Toronto (ON), Ottawa (ON), Burnaby (BC), Coquitlam (BC), regions on Vancouver Island (BC), select regions in QC, and select regions on the East Coast including in PEI and in St John's (NL).

For other regions, we partner with high-quality school partners who either have their own host families or work with one or more Regional homestay providers. In this case, we ensure that they also meet our quality standards.

Educatus Canada provides complete application support from our experts across Canada, custodianship services as needed, a host family happiness promise for the regions where we provide homestay services, a personalized student preparation program prior to departure, an emergency support line within North America, and staff across Canada. With staff on the ground in Canada, you have a full team for a consistent level of service from those who know their country inside out.

Please note that for partner schools, communication may also include a school or additional homestay point of contact.

100% Host Family happiness promise

As much as the perfect school is important, where students live and who takes care of them is even more so. We want all students to be happy with their host family placement. If not, we'll change it free of charge for the first move!

*Please note that changes can take up to 2-4 weeks depending on the region

Why study High School in Canada

A leader in education and quality of life, Canada is great for international students

True Canadian Hospitality "eh"

From vibrant cities like Toronto and Montreal to stunning regions in British Columbia and Newfoundland, Canada's beauty is evident throughout the country. Canadians are friendly, well-educated, and provide excellent hospitality.

Canada, the "education superpower" (BBC)

Canadian education is largely focused on equity — international students often perform just as well as their Canadian peers, and teaching in Canada is a highly accredited profession, which means that the quality of education is very high across the country. With all that in mind, it's no surprise that Canada is a fantastic place to study.

Specialty Programs at Canadian High Schools

Specialty Programs are fantastic ways for students to pursue their passions while keeping up with their academics. What can you choose?

Sports Academies

Some schools and districts have Sports Academies, which allow students to pursue advanced athletics while completing their academic studies. Academies provide students with high-level coaching, competitive games, strength and conditioning training, sports psychology, and post-secondary planning. Students also have the opportunity to participate in competitions year-round, as seasons permit.

While Canada is the global home of hockey, many additional sports academies are available including equestrian, rugby, lacrosse, dance, basketball, baseball, golf and soccer.

French Immersion

With 2 official languages, Canada is one of the best places for students to perfect their French and English at the same time! Elective French Immersion programs let students develop their French language skills while studying at an English-speaking school. Students will study French as a subject, and French will be the language of instruction in two or more other subjects. Many students accumulate 10 credits in French — four ESL language courses and six other subjects in French instruction. Some schools allow students to graduate with a bilingual certificate, which can be a huge benefit for students applying to college or seeking employment!

Skill-specific Programs

Skill-specific programs give students the opportunity to gain experience in a particular field. These can be highly beneficial, allowing students to deepen a specialization, explore careers, and even obtain training or certification.

Sector-specific programs are available throughout Canada. In Ontario, for example, the Specialist High Skills Major (SHSM) program allows students in Grades 11 and 12 to explore areas like Business, Environmental Studies and Sports.

All levels of English accepted, ESL

Many international students want to study at a Canadian high school, but fear that they don't have the English level necessary to do so.

We have good news — some of our Canadian schools provide ESL (English as a Second Language instruction) at all levels!

Certain Canada SELECT high schools provide ESL (English as a Second Language) instruction and support even to students with no English ability.

Each student's English proficiency will be assessed prior to — or immediately after — arrival in Canada. Students with a high level of English will enter classes without English language support; all other students will receive an individualized study course plan that is tailored to their needs.

Students with low levels of English will be placed in a program or courses where they'll be able to improve their English speaking and listening skills quickly. Reading and writing will also be part of the curriculum, and this immersion in the language will help students improve in all ways.

The ESL instruction is centered around language that is important to students' education — so they'll be learning terms that are of particular use to what they'll be studying in the rest of their program. Ultimately, the aim is to have students comfortable enough speaking English to be in mainstream classes without additional language support. Until they reach that point, however, the schools and districts will work with students to ensure that they receive the support that they need to succeed.
