OCCUPIED HOMES

An occupied home often needs to be presented for today's buyer by blending the old and new. We are able to bring together furniture, accents and the expertise to leverage the existing and new to present the home to buyers. Understanding the character of the home and consistent design creates a well positioned home for the best sale.

VACANT HOMES

With home searches starting online, buyers make an impression even before they walk in. Staging a vacant home is an investment for a faster and better sale. A beautifully staged home is met with a "WOW" when buyers walk in. SD Home Stylist's expertise in understanding buyer demographics and design experience helps vacant homes sell faster and for much more.
