

Somebody has stolen the chest full of golden geocoins!

It was last seen at the Parkville Mega event in the main foyer. Over 500 people passed through the event that weekend but I definitely saw it on my way into the special invite only Grand Finale afterparty.

I knew everybody in attendance and I'm pretty observant so I have a fair idea who the culprit is.

I know for sure it wasn't AHomburg or Bonnie Black because they were talking to us about Oxfam Trailwalker.

Carkisser and Day1976 were over talking to the Bunjil about a new cache series they wanted to submit.

Kejajo89 and BernieH were having a giggle when they saw Grugthethug, who was having an interview to join the Dirtbag Geocaching Society with Team Smokey-Bear and his sample caches were all mint tins.

SedgwickDave was watching Scody and Clever Monkey pack up the ropes from the tree climbing session earlier.

Muzza was showing Riddell how to build a gadget cache.

Atsmug and Paultheball were playing a game of chess for the whole time!

Maccamob and the Tassie Trekkers were busily planning the next part of their travels.

Geoturtle37, Ozhockeychic and Papi4506 were talking with Kryslazz about some idiot who yelled at them when they were picking up some Robot Charlie caches.

Really only leaves one person doesn't it?????
