

CREATE PROGRAMS Inc.

I have always been an artsy-craftsy person and I believe everyone has a creative bone in their body. I enjoy creating projects that are current, fun, easy and suitable for adults, teens and children to complete.

Crafting is easy because... it's creative! It's not supposed to look perfect—it's supposed to be fun and handmade with love.

After several years in the activities world and honing my programming skills, I am now working at the Glen Cove library, where it has been the perfect place to contribute my ideas. I believe it is important to recognize and allow for individual differences in development and abilities. I love to be encouraging and I will provide opportunities for all to be useful, engaged and have fun.

Presently, I am providing Programs for over 30 Nassau County libraries and I would love to bring my entertaining projects to your location as well. I offer a wide variety of programs and I am always adding new items to our list. As we are all aware, the way we interact post Covid has changed. With that said, I offer my programs by live Zoom, Take & Make Kits / YouTube video and In-Person events.

I also provide all materials necessary to complete each project based on the presentation choice. My goal is always to have participants enjoy themselves while ensuring that the kids learn dignity and gain a sense of usefulness to self and the larger community.

Please feel free to visit my Instagram account, @lisacolon1 or website, and take a look at photos showing some of the presentations that have been a hit with all.

I have some availability and am now booking future dates. Please contact me at your convenience with any questions and I hope to hear from you soon!

Thank you,

Lisa Colón
