

Presence Clinical Intern

Presence is seeking a Clinical Intern to fill In-Home Therapist positions.

A Clinical Intern at Presence Development Services or Presence Counseling Services is enrolled in a professional training program that includes psychology, professional counseling, or social work and has experience working with individuals with developmental disabilities.

As an In-Home Therapist, you will be responsible for the assessment and in-person treatment psychotherapy or behavioral goals of clients within the local communities, be the onsite resource for Presence business communications, and collaborate with other community providers.

Internships at Presence are designed to help students develop generalized professional practice skills appropriate to their levels under supervision.

The hours are flexible.

What We Require:

- Enrolled in a master's degree in counseling, Social Work, or a related field of study required.
- Must have knowledge of the Internet and Microsoft Office software (MS Word, MS Excel, MS PowerPoint, MS Outlook).
- Must have a laptop to install the electronic health record application (application license paid by Presence)
- Must be able to be trained on the electronic health record.
- Must have an email address for Presence business communication.

What You'll Get:

- On-the-job training, professional development, mentorship, flexible work schedules and shifts.
- The rare opportunity to make a difference in the very community that you call home.
- Smart, passionate, and engaged co-workers.
