King David Center's Kosher Leadership Team

KING DAVID CENTER
Senior Living Community

Trusted leadership. Dedicated oversight. A community rooted in Jewish life.

Rabbi Nosson Rossman

HEAD KOSHER SUPERVISOR

Rabbi Nosson Rossman serves as the Head Kosher Supervisor at King David Center. As kashrus coordinator, he oversees food preparation from start to finish, ensuring that all kosher standards are consistently maintained. Prior to joining King David, Rabbi Rossman served as a rabbinic field representative with the Orthodox Union for 12 years. His extensive experience helps provide trusted guidance, leadership and oversight throughout the campus kosher program.

Rabbi Akiva Feinstein

RABBINIC LEADERSHIP

Rabbi Akiva Feinstein's background bridges medicine, Torah, and pastoral care. After studying biology and philosophy at Northwestern U., he continued his Torah studies in Israel and NY, later receiving Semicha from Ohr Somayach under Rabbi Shraga Feivel Zimmerman. His interest in Jewish biomedical ethics led him to hospital chaplaincy, where he became the Cleveland Clinic CPE program's first Orthodox Jewish participant. He has served for many years as a hospice chaplain and Director of Spiritual Care before becoming Director of Spiritual Living for the entire campus, where he remains involved in resident programming, community initiatives, and the campus-wide kosher program.

Rabbi Joseph Kirsch

SPIRITUAL LIVING

Rabbi Joseph Kirsch received his rabbinical degree from Mirrer Yeshiva in 1985 and a Master's degree from University of Phoenix in 2003. Kirsch completed 3 units of Clinical Pastoral Education with The Cleveland Clinic in 2015. Since joining the campus more than 30 years ago, Joseph has been leading Judaic programming and providing a rabbinical presence to our many residents. Kirsch's teachings on various Jewish topics have been published in newspapers and magazines. Since the opening of Kollel Kol Yosef on campus, Kirsch has helped residents integrate into the Kollel community and maximize their spiritual well-being.

Raymi Hennessey, MASHGIACH/FOOD SAFETY EXPERT

As a cook, mashgiach, and food safety expert, Raymi Hennessey brings well over a decade of hands-on experience in halachic kashrus and food preparation to Deer Creek Lodge on the King David campus. For the past two years, Raymi has helped ensure residents are served high-quality kosher food by providing hands-on staff training, conducting produce inspections, overseeing all incoming ingredients, and maintaining an active presence throughout food preparation and service areas.

Simcha Tamkin, ENRICHMENT PLANNING

Simcha Tamkin serves in Jewish Life Enrichment, creating and leading Jewish educational and musical programming for all of our residents. With twenty years of experience in camps, music, and education, he provides one-on-one learning, lectures, concerts, and Jewish music. His warm, engaging approach helps residents stay connected to Jewish traditions and community life. He has also served as a mashgiach, bringing valuable kashrus knowledge to his background in Jewish education and enrichment.

Questions About Kashrus?

We welcome questions from residents, families and the community

Rabbi Nosson Rossman, (e) nrossman@kdnursing.org
(p) 216-218-6594

Questions About Spiritual Living?

We are happy to answer questions about Jewish Life and Programming

Rabbi Joseph Kirsch, (e) jkirsch@kdnursing.org
Rabbi Akiva Feinstein, (e) afeinstein@kdnursing.org