For 2022, the camp is modifying its format from years past

More strike zone training • More engaging activities • More Classroom
More simulated plays • Less on-field evaluation • Less capacity

COORDINATOR

Paul Guillie - As Coordinator of four Division I conferences, Paul has made great strides by utilizing technology, specifically video training. Because of this approach, he has been able to provide tangible, real-world scenarios that lead officials to an in-depth and immersive understanding of the rules. Paul has also been instrumental in the development of video review at the collegiate level, with the assistance of MLB, and several professional and former professional umpires.

INSTRUCTORS

Kevin Sweeney - Fresh off a selection to the 2022 Men's College World Series the experienced SEC/ACC official also officiated the 2021 Summer Olympics in Tokyo! During AAA, he earned Arizona Fall League and MLB Spring Training assignments.

Jeff Head - The long-time veteran SEC official has earned multiple trips to Omaha for the NCAA World Series. Jeff's previous experience at the AAA level and humbled approach to always keep getting better carries over into his instructional methods.

Morris "Mo" Hodges - The veteran SEC official brings previous MLB call-up experience gained during his time in AAA. Gaining NCAA Super Regional Experience at the collegiate level. A very bright attitude that is more than willing to break it down for our campers.

Seth Buckminster - Professional baseball experience in MLB as a call-up during his time in AAA baseball before transitioning to collegiate officiating. The SEC/BIG12 official brings a candid, experienced, and humorous addition to our staff.

Marcus Pattillo - Previous MLB regular season call-up status during his time in AAA brings a plethora of experience from professional baseball before NCAA Super Regional selections. He can notice the little things to improve any level umpire.
