Welcome to the latest edition of the OnStage PLUS TV Guide! As curators of this quarterly guide, we, David and Bernadette Watts, are thrilled to share this vibrant collection of content designed to enrich, entertain, and inspire you. OnStage PLUS is more than just a network; it is a platform where creativity meets purpose, and every show, movie, and article is carefully chosen to uplift and empower our viewers.

In this edition, you'll find a lineup of exceptional shows and films that not only entertain but also provide insights into diverse worlds and perspectives. Beyond the screen, our guide spotlights extraordinary individuals who exemplify excellence and leadership in their fields. These are the voices and mentors we believe should be celebrated and emulated. By featuring their stories, we hope to encourage you to seek out your own mentors, learn from their journeys, and be inspired to reach new heights in your personal and professional life.

Our goal with OnStage PLUS and this guide is to spark growth and motivation within our audience. Just as the network is dedicated to showcasing stories that inspire change and resilience, this guide offers the same value by serving as a compass for discovery and self-improvement. Whether you're tuning into a thought-provoking drama, a motivational talk show, or exploring the articles within these pages, know that we've designed this guide to support your journey toward being the best version of yourself.

Thank you for being part of the OnStage PLUS family. We invite you to explore, learn, and be inspired by what this network has to offer. Here's to embracing the power of storytelling and mentorship as we all strive for a brighter, more empowered future.

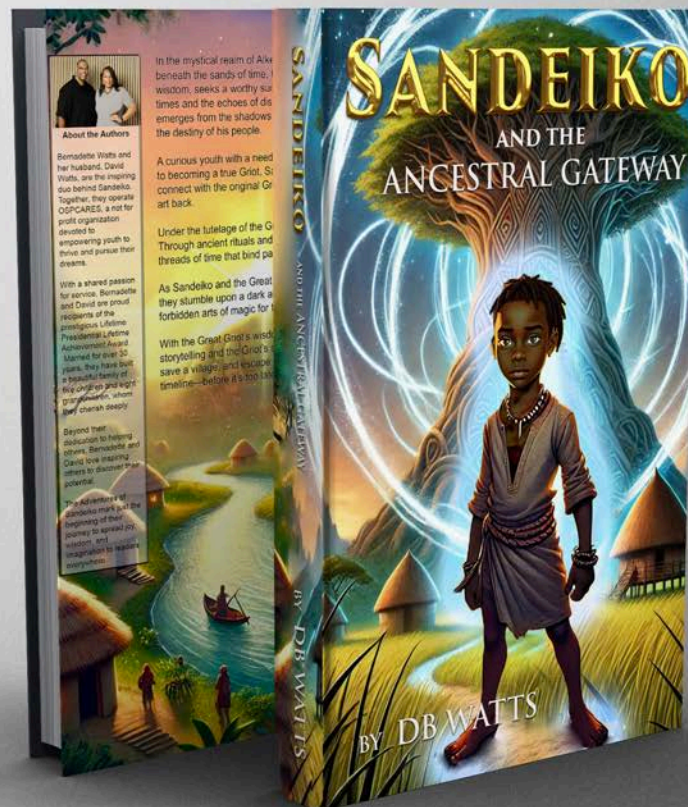

With gratitude and enthusiasm,
David & Bernadette Watts Founders, OnStage PLUS

SANDEIKO and the Ancestral Gateway

You can purchase Sandeiko and the Ancestral Gateway on Amazon for instant access to this enchanting tale. However, for a truly special experience, Success Driven is offering a limited hardback series promotion at <https://bit.ly/sandeiko>. This collector's edition comes personally autographed by the authors and includes a detailed map of the ancient kingdom of Alkebulan plus a Certificate of Citizenship to the village of Tutkindo. Buyers also gain entry to Sandeiko's short courses on the Sun, Moon, and Soil, along with special Griot lessons exploring Nyama—an ancient magical art. Secure your exclusive hardcover package today and immerse yourself in the ancestral magic of Sandeiko's world.

“UNLEASH THE MAGIC OF ALKEBULAN: SANDEIKO AND THE ANCESTRAL GATEWAY”

Written with warmth, imagination, and a touch of wonder, Sandeiko and the Ancestral Gateway will capture the hearts of readers both young and old. Join Sandeiko on his quest as he grapples with fate, family bonds, and a universe far more immense than he ever envisioned. Through mesmerizing worlds and courageous acts, the story celebrates the power of unity, heritage, and the unbreakable spirit that binds us all.

Sandeiko and the Ancestral Gateway is a spellbinding tale that follows a daring young hero, Sandeiko, as he unravels his hidden heritage. Penned by Bernadette and David Watts—directors of the nonprofit OSPCARES—the story showcases their passion for guiding young minds toward greater self-awareness and the courage to dream.

At the heart of this adventure is an ancient portal—the Ancestral Gateway—that links Sandeiko to a forgotten world. When he crosses its threshold, he’s confronted with vivid echoes of his ancestors’ struggles and triumphs. Through cryptic symbols and whispered legends, Sandeiko learns that his family legacy isn’t merely a relic of the past; it holds the key to reshaping his present and future. Each step forward tests his mettle, fostering resilience and self-belief as he navigates hidden challenges to learn and stay alive!

Bernadette and David’s own commitment to uplifting others weaves gracefully through the narrative. In the same way they strive to empower youth through OSPCARES, they bring Sandeiko to life as a beacon of hope, demonstrating that personal and communal transformation begin with the bravery to stand up for what’s right.

In today's fast-paced digital world, the ability to navigate media effectively is more essential than ever. That's where Media Wise and OSPCARES come together to make a meaningful impact. Media Wise is a transformative initiative under the OSPCARES umbrella, focused on equipping individuals, particularly youth, with media literacy and video production skills to amplify their voices and create powerful stories. This initiative aligns with OSPCARES' mission to inspire creativity, foster education, and drive positive change in underserved communities.

OSPCARES, the philanthropic branch of OnStage PLUS, is built on the belief that storytelling has the power to uplift and unite.

MEDIA WISE

EMPOWERING COMMUNITIES THROUGH STORYTELLING

By offering training and resources in media production, OSPCARES aims to empower people to share their unique experiences, tackle pressing social issues, and connect with a global audience. Media Wise is one of its flagship programs, addressing the growing need for digital competency and creative expression in a media-driven society.

Through the Media Wise program, students not only learn technical skills like video editing and content creation but also develop critical thinking to assess and interpret information responsibly. This dual focus ensures that participants are not only creators but also informed consumers of media. By training 400 students, Media Wise hopes to build a new generation of changemakers who use media as a tool for advocacy and innovation.

The impact of these efforts extends beyond the individual. Graduates of Media Wise are empowered to use their newfound skills to uplift their communities, creating a ripple effect of positive change. Whether it's producing compelling documentaries, launching social media campaigns, or telling stories that challenge norms, these individuals become ambassadors for change.

Media Wise and OSPCARES demonstrate the incredible potential of combining education, media, and philanthropy. Together, they are paving the way for a more informed, connected, and compassionate world—one story at a time.

SHAWN FAIR
(Empowering Leaders for a New Era)

SPEED OF THOUGHT

In a world that evolves at the speed of thought, personal growth has never been more crucial. Mentorship, particularly from someone as seasoned and impactful as Shawn Fair, becomes a catalyst for unlocking individual potential, empowering leaders, and transforming the landscape of thought leadership. Shawn Fair, a celebrated speaker and trainer, has made it his mission to equip aspiring professionals with the tools to communicate effectively and present themselves as influential leaders. His Leadership Experience Tour has trained thousands from Fortune 500 and 1,000 companies, with a profound impact on both seasoned professionals and emerging entrepreneurs.

Thought
Leadership transcends public visibility—it touches every aspect of society and creates a ripple effect of inspiration and empowerment that goes far
individual.

The documentary Speed of Thought delves into the journey of growth and mentorship that unfolds within Shawn Fair's leadership training program. It takes a deep dive into how mentorship, clear milestones, and intensive preparation propel participants from obscurity to prominence in the public speaking arena.

Under Shawn's expert guidance, aspiring speakers refine their messages, sharpen their presentation skills, and learn how to represent themselves and their businesses with the utmost professionalism.

A core part of the Leadership Experience Tour is the preparation process, which includes a whirlwind of activities designed to elevate participants' public image and presentation skills. Three days before their presentation, participants undergo intense training, including LIVE taped interviews with media professionals, immersive classes on business representation, and techniques to boost their sales strategies.

Additionally, a professional branding photoshoot with renowned photographer Emma Burcusel ensures that each participant has a high-quality visual identity that they can use across articles, publications, speaking engagements, and beyond.

Shawn Fair's mentorship extends beyond just technical skills; it is about presenting oneself with confidence, making a lasting impression, and owning the stage. With multiple wardrobe changes throughout various events, Shawn understands the importance of creating a memorable visual identity that complements a powerful message.

In the documentary, viewers get an inside look at the monumental impact of this program, where participants' speeches are broadcasted on the OnStage PLUS TV Network, offering them global exposure to potentially hundreds of thousands of viewers. This unprecedented level of visibility provides participants with the platform to amplify their message, share their stories, and take their brands to new heights. As their narratives spread across media channels, their voices resonate far beyond their own ambitions, inspiring audiences across the world.

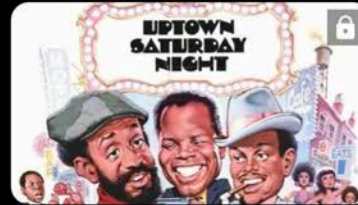

Speed of Thought highlights not just the stories of those who have gone through the Leadership Experience Tour, but also the undeniable influence of Shawn Fair's mentorship. His legacy is reflected in the success of countless individuals who have transformed from business professionals into thought leaders and trainers. Through unwavering dedication, clear guidance, and relentless preparation, Shawn Fair continues to empower others, shaping a new generation of speakers who are ready to make an enduring impact on the world.

In the end, the documentary serves as a reminder that thought leadership transcends public visibility—it touches every aspect of society and creates a ripple effect of inspiration and empowerment that goes far beyond the individual.

BALANCING ENTERTAINMENT WITH BUDGETS

In today's fast-paced world, finding balance in life can feel like a challenge. Between managing responsibilities, staying within budget, and maintaining a healthy lifestyle, it's easy to overlook the importance of simply enjoying yourself. But making room for entertainment and fun can actually play a critical role in reducing stress and improving overall well-being.

Studies show that incorporating enjoyable activities, like dancing, into your routine can boost physical health, elevate your mood, and even improve social connections. Dancing, in particular, is a full-body workout that strengthens muscles, burns calories, and keeps your heart healthy—all while putting a smile on your face. It's also a great way to unwind, express yourself, and reconnect with others.

Creating a budget for entertainment doesn't mean you're being frivolous—it means you're prioritizing your mental and physical health. Whether it's a monthly night out or a fun weekend event, planning these moments gives you something to look forward to and helps break up the grind of daily life. Even if you're just dancing in your living room to your favorite songs, the act of moving and having fun can refresh your mind and body.

Remember, life isn't just about getting through the day; it's about enjoying the journey. So, take a moment to prioritize joy and connection. Whether it's through dancing, music, or any activity that brings you happiness, find the balance that works for you. You'll be amazed at how these small, intentional choices can lead to a healthier, more fulfilling life.

Being success driven is more than just a mindset; it is a way of life. It's the constant pursuit of growth, achievement, and fulfillment, fueled by a deep desire to reach your full potential. Success-driven individuals don't settle for mediocrity. They seek out opportunities to excel, whether it's by taking on challenging projects at work, setting personal fitness goals, or dedicating time to learn new skills. For example, rather than being satisfied with completing a task, they strive to master it, often going above and beyond what is expected. This proactive approach ensures continuous improvement and a mindset focused on excellence.

By refusing to accept mediocrity, success-driven individuals open the door to greater possibilities and a more fulfilling life. They are intentional about their goals, proactive in their actions, and resilient in the face of challenges. They understand that success isn't just about external accolades or financial gain; it's about consistently striving to be better, to grow, and to make a meaningful impact in the world.

A message from SUCCESS DRIVEN

A success-driven life requires clarity of purpose. It begins with understanding your "why" — the reason behind your goals and dreams. Once you define your purpose, you can align your actions with your values, staying focused and disciplined even when distractions or obstacles arise. Success-driven individuals know that the path to greatness is rarely smooth, but they are prepared to adapt, learn, and persevere.

At the core of being success driven is the commitment to personal and intellectual growth. The mind is your most powerful tool, and cultivating it is essential for success. Developing your mind means continually seeking knowledge, challenging your perspectives, and honing your skills.

This can be achieved by reading books on diverse subjects, taking online courses to learn new skills, and attending workshops or seminars to gain fresh insights. Engaging in meaningful conversations with mentors or peers who offer differing viewpoints can also broaden your horizons.

Additionally, journaling your thoughts and reflecting on feedback helps you identify areas for improvement and track your growth. By actively exploring new ideas and challenging the status quo, you empower yourself to think critically and stay ahead in your journey toward success. It involves reading, learning from mentors, engaging in meaningful conversations, and staying curious about the world around you.

When you make a habit of learning, you're better equipped to recognize and seize opportunities. The most successful individuals understand that success is not a destination but a journey of continual improvement.

OVERCOMING OBSTACLES

SHAVONNA HERRON JOHNSON

Shavonna Herron-Johnson is a dynamic leader, entrepreneur, and inspirational speaker with a remarkable story of resilience, determination, and success. Born and raised in Long Island, NY, Shavonna became a young teen mother and made the difficult decision to leave high school to care for her children. Despite the odds, her determination to create a brighter future for herself and her family never wavered.

After marrying her school sweetheart, Shavonna relocated to Raleigh, North Carolina, where she set her sights on rebuilding her life. She earned her high school diploma from Wake Tech Community College and quickly forged a path toward professional and personal success. Shavonna went on to become a licensed North Carolina real estate broker, real estate investor, and certified property management professional.

In 2010, she launched 3D Professional Services, and in 2017, she founded East Coast Property Management Services and Consulting, a thriving business dedicated to property management and portfolio supervision. Today, her companies stand as pillars of excellence in the industry, serving a diverse range of clients with integrity and innovation.

In addition to her entrepreneurial pursuits, Shavonna is a sought-after speaker and coach who empowers others to overcome obstacles, set ambitious goals, and realize their potential. Her journey from a young teen mother to a successful business owner and leader inspires audiences to believe in the power of perseverance and purpose.

Her incredible achievements have earned her widespread recognition, including the prestigious Lifetime Achievement Presidential Award, a testament to her dedication to excellence and her lasting impact in her field.

Currently, Shavonna is writing a book that chronicles her remarkable journey and sheds light on her path to success. She hopes her story will encourage others to embrace their own challenges and turn them into opportunities for growth.

When she's not managing her companies or captivating audiences with her story, Shavonna cherishes her roles as a wife, mother, and daughter. She is deeply committed to family and leads with compassion, determination, and an unwavering belief in the value of faith and hard work.

Shavonna Herron-Johnson continues to shape lives, businesses, and communities across the East Coast and beyond, proudly embodying her title as the "Queen of the East."

Who is Greg and Gator?

What happens when the life you've worked so hard to build gets hijacked by a dangerous, streetwise alter ego you didn't even know you had? That's the premise behind Greg and Gator, an exciting new podcast drama that's as suspenseful as it is entertaining. This is not just another tale of dual personalities—it's a gritty, hilarious, and heart-pounding exploration of identity, ambition, and the fine line between control and chaos.

At the center of the story is Gregory Thompson, a by-the-book accountant and loving family man whose biggest thrill in life is mowing his lawn every Saturday. But when a spiked drink at his boss's retirement party unleashes his darker side, Greg is thrown into a world he can't control. Enter Gator: a slick, charismatic hustler who thrives in the shadows, making money fast and living even faster.

The twist? Greg and Gator are the same person, yet neither knows the other exists. As Greg desperately tries to uncover the truth behind his blackouts and the mysterious roll of cash in his pocket, Gator is out in the streets, building a reputation and making enemies that Greg will eventually have to face.

Greg and Gator isn't just about the thrill of the duality—it's about survival, ambition, and what happens when the life you've buried deep inside refuses to stay hidden. With unforgettable characters like Darcell, the street-savvy "Black Assassin" who's always got Gator's back, and Detective Jones, the grizzled veteran cop determined to put Gator away before his retirement, the series offers a vibrant world full of twists, danger, and surprising moments of humor.

- 1 We will conduct an assessment of your business goals, capabilities, and readiness to do business with the government, analyze current business processes to identify inefficiencies, or assess your supply chain operations evaluating supplier relationship, inventory management, and logistics.

Strategy Development

- 2 Based on the assessment, we will collaborate to develop a tailored strategy to identify and pursue relevant government contracts aligned with your objectives, recommendations to streamline processes, enhance productivity and reduce cost, or develop a plan to optimize your supply chain, minimize risk, and improve efficiency.

Next Steps

- 3 Once we are done, I will send you an email for a follow up on how my consultation may have helped you and then ask you tell the world how awesome your experience was and hey...don't forget to tag me 🌟
