The United States Constitution

Article II, Section 1 of the U.S. Constitution imposes only three eligibility requirements on persons serving as president, based on the officeholder's age, time of residency in the U.S., and citizenship status:

U.S. Constitution – Presidential Candidate Eligibility

Presidential White Paper: The Parallel Renewal Doctrine

Title: The Parallel Renewal Doctrine: Rebuilding America Without a Coup

Author: Vincent Cordova, 2028 Presidential Candidate

Date: 6/9/2025

Introduction: The Collapse Has Begun — But a Coup is Not the Answer

The United States of America faces a quiet collapse. Our institutions—once designed to serve, protect, and elevate the people—have become bloated, privatized, corrupted, or obsolete. Yet the solution is not to destroy them violently or to seize totalitarian control. The solution is to outgrow them, legally and ethically, by building a new system in parallel.

This white paper proposes a constitutional, peaceful, and people-led strategy for renewal: The Parallel Renewal Doctrine.

1. Foundational Premise

"We will not dismantle the old through war — we will walk into the new through peace, participation, and purpose."

The doctrine rests on four core beliefs:

- Systems that no longer serve the people must be replaced, not reformed.
- The Constitution is not inherently the problem — but those who interpret and control it without public accountability are. A people-first constitutional reform is necessary to restore balance.
- The federal government can create ethical, transparent, opt-in systems.
- We can build the new without permission — but with the full awareness of the public.

2. Legal Tools of Transition

A. Executive Orders

Use EO authority to:

- Establish nonprofit national alternatives (e.g. Public Health Corps, National Housing Guarantee)
- End federal contracts with extractive corporations (private equity-run prisons, healthcare providers, etc.)

B. Federal Pilot Programs

- Launch parallel cities, counties, or programs where new models are tested with full transparency
- Allow public choice between legacy systems and new people-powered systems

C. Constitutional Budget Reallocations

- Shift funding toward ethical institutions not driven by profit (e.g. nonprofit banking, nonprofit insurance, national co-ops)

D. Direct Public Input & Tech

- Create a national app for immediate public voting and policy suggestions
- Invite people to choose between old and new services — at no penalty

3. Guiding Ethics

- Nonviolence: No removal of rights or force-based imposition

- Transparency: Every dollar tracked and published
- Voluntary Participation: No coercion — only informed choice
- Redeemability: Even those who once opposed renewal are welcomed into it

4. Sample Parallel Systems

Domain	Current System	New Parallel System
Healthcare	For-profit HMOs	People's Nonprofit Health Plan
Banking	Wall Street Control	Public National Bank
Justice	Private Prisons	Community Justice + National Service Rehab
Housing	Rental Serfdom	Homeownership Guarantee Program
Media	Corporate Narrative	Truth Commons & Citizen Journalism Hub
Data	Surveillance Capitalism	Public Data Commons
Currency	Centralized Private Control (Federal Reserve-linked)	Transparent, Public-Interest Currency System

5. Role of the People

- Citizens will opt into systems through open registration, public vote, or community referenda
- Schools and communities will be invited to help co-create the curriculum, values, and structure of the new systems
- People will be paid to participate in rebuilding through National Transition Corps employment

6. Why It Works

- Legally Sound: Fully within presidential powers when rooted in spending, EOs, and emergency ethics
- Constitutionally Aligned: Upholds liberty, property, equal protection, and due process, while committing to needed reforms to limit centralized misuse
- Peacefully Scalable: Offers an exit from collapse without violence or economic devastation

7. When the Old System Fights Back

- Maintain calm, transparency, and documentation
- Refuse to retaliate; offer every opposition member a seat at the table
- Trust the people to choose the better system when both are visible

8. A Presidential Offer of Peaceful Transition to the Power Structure

Open Letter to Power: "A New Contract for Renewal"

To those who have long held power — in government, industry, media, and finance — we recognize that you, too, feel the instability of the system we were all born into. This doctrine is not an act of vengeance. It is an invitation.

We do not seek your destruction. We seek transformation.

If you are ready to walk with the people, to help build something ethical, sustainable, and just — then you will not be cast out. You will be part of the restoration.

But you must make a choice.

Acceptable Terms of Participation:

- End involvement in extractive, monopolistic, or surveillance-based ventures
- Reinvest your capital into public institutions or national cooperatives
- Disclose systems of corruption and abuse — and help reform them
- Relinquish roles of unchecked control in exchange for legacy-based contribution

If you do these things, you will be remembered not for how you held on — but for how you helped build what came next.

This is your moment too. Choose wisely.

9. Currency Reform: The Heart of True Sovereignty

“No system built on exploitation can ever truly serve the people if its currency is controlled by profit and secrecy.”

Without monetary reform, all progress will remain vulnerable. The current currency system is deeply tied to centralized private institutions that prioritize speculative wealth over public stability.

To succeed, the new system must:

- Transition to a transparent, public-interest-backed currency system
- Eliminate compound-interest debt traps used by private banks against the people
- Introduce sovereign digital currency under full constitutional oversight
- Cap corporate hoarding and introduce expiration for hoarded capital during the transition phase

This isn't just about money. It's about freedom, accountability, and economic justice. Without monetary sovereignty, every parallel system built will remain under threat.

Conclusion: This Is How We Win Without War

We do not need to beg the corrupt to become moral. We do not need to convince the unconvincible.

We simply need to build what works, protect it legally, and invite every American into it.

This is not revolution. It is renewal.

And this is how we will restore the soul of America.
