HISTORY:

The NYC Soil and Water Conservation District was established under the New York State Soil and Water Conservation Law. It is a subdivision of the state government, governed by a board of nine members representing all five boroughs.

ABOUT:

The NYC Soil and Water Conservation District, part of a nationwide system of 3000 districts, assists New Yorkers and local decision-makers in making wise use of the City's soil, water and related resources. Like districts throughout the nation, the NYC District receives technical assistance from the USDA Natural Resources Conservation Service (NRCS) under a signed Memorandum of Agreement.
