

Mayor Pro Tem Ollie Cantos...

ANSWERING THE CALL

Making our Community Safer

"When Ollie first came into office, Woodgrove Park was a mess. Homeless people at all hours, graffiti, and overgrown landscaping. A group of us met with Ollie and he cleaned it all up! Today the park is safe and beautiful. Thanks, Ollie!"

– John C., Neighborhood Resident

Supporting our Youth

"When I first called Ollie, he asked 'how can I help you?' His passion is to support our youth. He helped us with fundraising and knows the importance of youth sports!"

– Cameron S., Local Youth Sports President

Backing our Seniors

"Ollie has been there for us from the very beginning. He beautified our Senior Center, championed more robust programming, and addressed the concerns of seniors. He REALLY listens, and then he acts fast!"

– Betty V., Senior Activist

Listening and Acting on Resident Concerns

"Ollie is literally the only Councilmember to host quarterly town hall meetings. He has held at least 14 thus far and invited residents to come from across the city. As a result, individual issues and problems have been solved!"

– Gerri P., Resident

Bolstering our Faith Community

"Whenever we need Ollie for anything, both large and small, he's there. From securing funding and supplies to help the less fortunate, to volunteering his time, to building relationships." – Ezra L., Faith Community Leader

Protecting our Neighborhoods

"My neighbors and I really appreciate Ollie for supporting our Neighborhood Watch Group! He keeps our neighborhood informed and solves our issues! He answers the call for action!"

– Steven Y., Neighborhood Watch Captain

Supporting Business

"I owned Rainbow Donuts for over 37 years. Ollie always helped me when I had a problem. From homelessness to crime problems to just being there, he's the best!!"

– Sing Yam, former owner Rainbow Donuts West Covina

Who You Gonna Call?

In every city, there are moments when the lights flicker, not from fear, but from uncertainty. A question rises in the minds of neighbors, business owners, and families trying to build a better tomorrow: When something needs fixing, when a voice needs hearing, when a community needs steady hands — who you gonna call?

In West Covina, many have learned the answer through experience.

They call the man who walks the neighborhoods not for applause, but for understanding. They call the leader who listens before he speaks, and acts before he boasts. They call the public servant who believes that representation is not a title, but a responsibility.

They call Ollie Cantos, Mayor Pro Tem of West Covina.

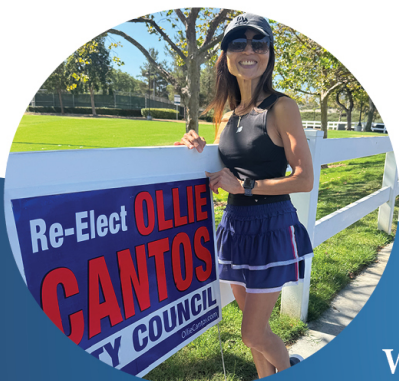

He is the steady presence at community meetings, the advocate for accessibility, the bridgebuilder across diverse neighborhoods. His work is not loud, but it echoes — in safer streets, clearer communication, and a city that feels just a little more connected than it did yesterday.

So when the question comes again — Who you gonna call? — the answer is simple:

Call the person who shows up. Call the person who listens. Call the person who serves.
