By Lisa Dudley

Nestled up in Churchtown, NY - is the Churchtown Firehouse Community Support Center, Inc. located at 2219 County Route 27 in Claverack. The former firehall is transitioning and reinventing itself to continue to provide valuable service to the community. Churchtown Firehouse Community Support Center, a 501-c3, volunteer-driven organization, has a mission to provide help to those in need. With a legal and fully inspected commercial kitchen, a banquet hall and liquor license, a warming station and a Red Cross emergency disaster shelter - this is a remarkable endeavor.

Since the property is located in the rolling hills of Columbia County, people come from near and far to enjoy the peaceful country atmosphere. The banquet hall is a perfect venue for weddings, anniversaries, baby and bridal showers and HOLIDAY PARTIES. The space has lovely wooden ceilings and trim, beautiful bathrooms, and a finished basement/man cave suitable for bachelor parties. There is a pristine multi-acre park behind the building with trees and grass enough to hold outdoor events as well as a sparkling water fountain and easy parking. There are still red firetrucks in their bays - which is perfect for photo shoots, children's birthday parties and other fun uses.

ART GALLERY 71 PRESENTS "THAT HUDSON VALLEY LIGHT"

An exhibit of oil paintings by Kevin Palfreyman
Showing November 6th- December 6th
Opening Reception: Saturday, November 21st, 4-6pm

In Kevin's words—All my life I've felt the need to create things. Mixing that with my deep reverence for the natural world I feel I have found the perfect mode of expression in landscape painting. I see nature as a benevolent presence. Land, sea and sky are my sacred places.

Although I began painting with pastels, I've found that with oils I enjoy not only the process in creating a painting but even the tactile sensation of the way the paint comes off the brush.

November's show will feature paintings that celebrate the special quality of light that we enjoy in the Hudson Valley and that inspired the Hudson River School artists before us.

Millbrook Arts Project presents Patterns of Life

an exhibition of artwork by Shari Diamond, Richard Garrison, Paul Lewandowski, and Jim Morris, curated by Sharon Bates. Patterns of Life opens Friday, October 23 and runs through Saturday, November 28, 2026. Whether found in personal histories, everyday surroundings, natural processes, or systems of information, patterns can shape how we experience the world around us. Patterns of Life brings together four artists whose works suggest that patterns are more than repetitions of form; they can reveal connections and structures that might otherwise go unnoticed. Shari Diamond transforms photographs from her family archive into evocative silhouettes, considering the relationship between memory and the traces of a life. Richard Garrison observes the visual language of the contemporary American landscape, translating colors, forms, and the rhythms of ordinary places into systematic grids. Paul Lewandowski explores pattern through fiber, knotting, and three-

Take A Moment To Thank A Veteran

By Joanna Fuchs

When you see someone in a uniform,
Someone who serves us all,
Doing military duty,
Answering their country's call,
Take a moment to thank them
For protecting what you hold dear;
Tell them you are proud of them;
Make it very clear.
Just tap them on the shoulder,
Give a smile, and say,
"Thanks for what you're doing
To keep us safe in the USA!"

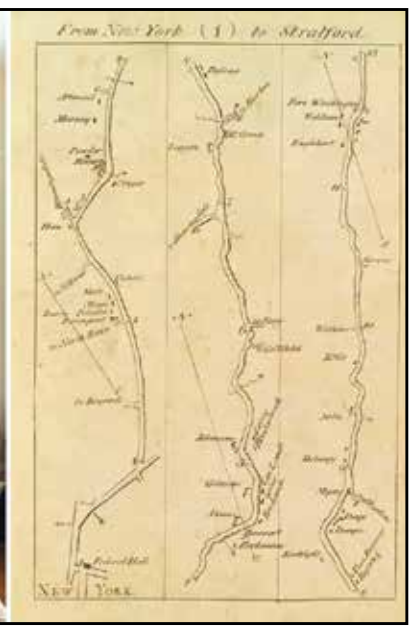

A Thanksgiving Prayer

Oh, God, when I have food
help me to remember the hungry;
when I have work, help me
to remember the jobless;
when I have a warm home,
help me to remember the homeless;
when I am without pain, help me to remember those who suffer;
and remembering, help me
to destroy my complacency
and bestir my compassion.
Make me concerned enough to help, by word and deed,
those who cry out
for what we take for granted.
—Samuel F. Pugh

Author Talk: The Old Albany Post Road, with Bruce Graves

Sunday, November 8, 4 PM, In person and on Zoom Historic Red Hook at the Elmendorph Inn, 7562 N. Broadway, Red Hook, NY 12571 Free,registration required. https://www.historicredhook.org/upcoming-events

New York's largest historical artifact isn't housed in a museum; it's hiding in plain sight. Stretching more than 150 miles, portions of the old Albany Post Road are traveled by thousands every day—but few realize the rich history beneath their wheels and tucked into the sights around them. Join researcher and author Bruce Graves for a journey along the old Albany Post Road, following the surviving buildings, landscapes, milestones, and stories that trace the route from New York City north toward Albany. Graves and research partner Kathleen Reilly have spent years reconstructing the historic road using eighteenth-century maps, archival collections, modern mapping tools, and field research. Their work follows the road and explores not only where it ran, but the people, places, and events connected to it.

ACCORDING TO QUACKERS

What Should I Be Thankful For?

Patricia A Fleming

Now what should I be thankful for?
Now where do I begin?
Of course the greatest gift of all -
My family and my friends.
But it's also all the little things
That touch my life each day
That I sometimes take for granted
Letting life get in the way.
Like my comfy bed that keeps me warm
As I sleep away the night
And that lovely glowing, smiling sun
That wakes me with her light.
Just lying there and taking time
To hear the world as she awakes.
The peaceful sounds of early morn
That nature starts to make.
The smell of breakfast cooking
My cat entreating me to rise
Breathing in the crisp fall air
And looking up at pillowed skies.
To be blessed with still another day
To laugh and love and live.
To have enough to care for me
And still have plenty more to give.
To smell and hear the rainfall
As it pitter patters from the sky.
To watch a snowy blizzard roar
While sitting safe and warm inside.
To look upon the bluest sea
As the gulls go soaring by.
To feel the salt upon my skin
As I lay beneath the sun to dry.
I'm so grateful that God still allows
Another child to be born
And that He opens up His heavens
To all those loved ones I mourn.
I feel blessed by each new moment.
Another chance to make things right
And for all good people in this world
Who love and give with all their might.
It's important each and every day
To bring all our thanks to mind.
It's tragic we're so lost in life
That we seldom take the time.
But as for me, I plan to make a change.
It's a simple change to make.
To thank God for all my blessings
Every morning when I wake!

Facilities and equipment such as screen and projector are available to the public for community occasions, organizational meetings, fundraising, and any other activity that promotes and benefits the community and the people of Columbia County.

One such event is the wildly popular WILD GAME DINNER Saturday, November 14th featuring foods such as bison brisket, pheasant breasts, BBQ boar ribs and a variety of venison specialties. Vegetarian option includes Dan's famous vegetarian eggplant parmesan. Doors open 3:30pm; hors d'oeuvres at 4:pm; dinner and gun raffle at 5:30pm. Beer, wine and soda included. Limited tickets will sell fast. Call soon to purchase your tickets: 518.821.0934 or visit www.churchtownfireny.com website to see extended preliminary menu.

"One of the biggest organizations benefitting from the Churchtown Firehouse Community Support Center is our partnership with Columbia Kitchen," says Bob Preusser, Treasurer.

"We renamed ourselves the Churchtown Firehouse Community Support Center, Inc. because we know our neighbors need help sometimes. We partnered with Columbia Kitchen and extended the use of our commercial kitchen for their preparation of more than 2500 fresh and free meals each week that they deliver to adults and children who struggle with food security," he adds. "We believe, as they do, that everyone deserves access to nourishing food - no exceptions."

The Churchtown Firehouse Community Support Center is big enough to support the needs and the vision of the folks at Columbia Kitchen including a large commercial kitchen, workspace and food storage capacity. "Meals are locally sourced from generous Columbia County farms and crafted by talented chefs." Volunteers help prepare and deliver pleasing and nutritious meals all over the county. For more information visit www.ColumbiaKitchen.org; email info@columbiakitchen.org; or call 518-751-0764. P.S., they now have an outdoor Community Fridge that is open 24 hours a day for anyone passing by who is in need as well as an outdoor canned food shelf and a mini-library box with free books.

There is hardly enough room in this story to list and laud all the businesses, farms and people who are helping their neighbors - nor is there enough room to list all the people who give thanks for help received when they desperately needed it. To that end, the folks at Churchtown Firehouse Community Support Center contacted the Red Cross and qualified as a Red Cross

Disaster and Emergency Shelter serving the Town of Claverack and surrounding communities.

And sure enough, after a watermain break occurred in the village of Philmont in front of Richardson Hall, EMS contacted Red Cross, who contacted the Churchtown Firehouse requesting use of the facility to house residents for the night. Churchtown Firehouse volunteers "arrived early to set up for arriving residents" and according to a Facebook post by Debbie L Brandt, it was "Churchtown to the rescue!" Churchtown Firehouse is also a warming center.

Beyond helping local families, the Churchtown Firehouse Community Support Center is also helping Everlasting Hope Animal Rescue, located in Hillsdale by appointment only. Facebook: @Everlasting Hope Animal Rescue; email: adoptapup@hotmail.com; phone: (518) 821-9422. According to vice-president Linda Guntert, "we are a small animal rescue organization committed to finding safe and long-term homes for abandoned pets. The Churchtown Firehouse has been a wonderful venue for our yearly fundraiser (Nov 21st – see FB for details.) They provide an amazing kitchen. We discovered our supporters like our home-made spaghetti sauce made with hamburger, sausage and pepperoni. People come back every year and bring photos of their adopted dogs. We have become a big family and we raise enough in donations to make a difference."

Another regular fundraising patron is Marine Corp veteran, Greg Mosley, from the Operation UNITE Uganda Farm Project which empowers local farmers in Pallisa, Uganda, by providing the tools, training, and resources needed to grow nutritious crops and raise healthy livestock. For additional information, visit https://www.ugandafarmproject.org/. Mr. Mosely raves about the Churchtown Firehouse Community Support Center. "They're a great bunch of people." So, now they do a twice-yearly chicken Bar-B-Que fundraiser and they raise enough money to buy "back-pack sprayers and goats for food and breeding. We also provide training for the farmers." Mr. Mosely likes that the children in Uganda are staying in school and in some cases, growing up to be doctors and lawyers. Also, he is teaching his own children compassion by "helping other kids locally and in Africa."

Lastly, Mr. Preusser is "excited to share a business success story of our own" by renting the commercial kitchen to Amber Linke, a local chocolatier who must by law, cook in a commercial kitchen. Once again, Churchtown Firehouse saves the day. "Without their support I wouldn't be able to grow my business," she declares. And now they are building a second commercial kitchen. Check out her Facebook page @Amber Lyn's Sweet Shoppe for her schedule of public appearances selling her chocolates at local holiday fairs. Instagram: @alsweetshoppe Email: alsweetshoppe@yahoo.com

And speaking of the holidays, Mr. Preusser suggests you book your HOLIDAY PARTIES today. "Whether you chose to rent our hall, pavilion and/or grounds, Churchtown Firehouse Community Support Center, Inc is here to make your event memorable. We have an absolutely beautiful space - perfect for weddings, birthdays, corporate events, and more. Plus, we offer catering service, so you can relax at your event and trust us to serve your guests our delicious food. This, in addition to our great rates, makes us the perfect choice for your event."

For more information visit http://churchtownfireny.com, email: cfc@churchtownfire.com or call: 518-851-5194. Tap tax-deductible donation button on their website to purchase gift certificates.

ANDERSON FOUNDATION FOR AUTISM NAMES 2026 ABOVE AND BEYOND AWARD WINNERS AND RAISES OVER $230,000 AT GALA

Anderson Foundation for Autism today announced results of its October 24th gala, which surpassed $230,000 in funds raised and attracted 240 attendees. The event theme was "An Evening in Paris," and included a cocktail reception with a string quartet, along with dinner, dancing, auction, and an awards program. Sponsors included The Ryan Family, Barry R. Feirstein, Pamal Broadcasting, Susan Brune and Chip Loewenson, Buzzy Geduld, Central Hudson, Mid-Hudson Construction Management, Kirchhoff, The Kollar Family, Tondra and Jeff Lynford, NFP, CDPHP, The Jennerich Family, Siegrist Construction, among others; it was held at The Grandview in Poughkeepsie.

As has become an annual tradition, during the celebration the winners of the coveted "Above and Beyond" awards were acknowledged. This year, those honorees were Anderson team members Angelica Berrios-Swenson and Jared McLaughlin.

Berrios-Swenson, resident of Poughkeepsie, is a nurse in Anderson's Children's Services program. McLaughlin, who resides in Highland, is likewise a nurse, but works in Adult Services at Anderson. In addition to a full presentation recognizing their specific efforts and outcomes, thanks to Anderson donors, the two professionals each received a monetary award of $3,000.

Said Dr. Tina Marie Covington, PhD., BCBA-D, LBA, Chief Operating Officer at Anderson Center for Autism (and incoming CEO/Executive Director of the nonprofit), "Angelica Berrios-Swenson and Jared McLaughlin were both nominated by families who shared impressive examples of the ways that these two nurses have respectively exceeded every expectation when it comes to care. They are truly deserving of the Above and Beyond Awards, and it was a privilege and joy to acknowledge them for all that they do to further our mission. Both Angelica and Jared embody the kind of compassion, perseverance, and patience that help optimize the quality of life for individuals with autism, while giving parents and caregivers much-needed peace of mind. They both lead by example - and by honoring them at the gala, we had a chance to publicly applaud them for their extraordinary dedication. It was clearly meaningful for everyone in the room - and I hope they know how much they have inspired us all."

L-R: Dr. Tina Marie Covington, PhD., BCBA-D, LBA, Chief Operating Officer at Anderson Center for Autism (incoming CEO/Executive Director); Marybeth Cale, Chair of Anderson Foundation for Autism's Board of Trustees; Vanessa and Pat Ryan, recipients of the 2026 V.V. Anderson Community Service Award; Philip Bronzi, Chair of Anderson Center for Autism and Anderson Center Services, Inc.'s Board of Trustees

And, as was previously announced, the V.V. Anderson Community Service Award was also bestowed upon Anderson parents, philanthropists, advocates, and Mahopac residents Patrick and Vanessa Ryan that evening.

A longtime accountant with a career spanning nearly 40 years, Patrick Ryan is currently the CFO of an asset management firm in Greenwich, Connecticut called AQR Capital Management. His wife of 30 years, Vanessa, is employed by the Putnam County Office of Senior Services, where she manages a program that provides medical transportation to senior citizens. Their family also includes three children: Peter, Ciara, and Sean.

Reflected Kelly Dooley, Interim Assistant Director of Development at Anderson, "When Patrick and Vanessa Ryan came up to the podium to receive their award, they shared a deeply moving message that will undoubtedly resonate with everyone in that room for many years to come, reminding all of us of the profound purpose behind Anderson's work, and the incredible impact that it has on families like theirs." Covington added, "They shared so beautifully, and in doing so, connected everyone in that room to what our work is all about. And the Ryans have wholeheartedly embraced every opportunity to advance our cause. We are incredibly grateful for their dedication, generosity, and unwavering commitment to enriching life not only for their son, but for all who are touched by autism."

Proceeds from the annual gala are used to advance Anderson's organizational mission by directly supporting the educational, vocational, residential and clinical services that help "optimize the quality of life for individuals with autism."

Dooley continued, "It was a very special evening that motivated and inspired all of us in the room - and we are very thankful to our ever-growing circle of support; these fundraising events are successful because of the many people who believe in what we do - and every dollar raised helps us expand our impact." For more information, call 845.889.9208 or visit andersoncenterforautism.org.

AAHA Accreditation

Julianne Porter, DVM

AAHA-accredited. You may have seen this statement on your veterinarian's website, or on a plaque in their waiting room, but you may not know exactly what it means. AAHA is an acronym for the American Animal Hospital Association, an organization developed to create and promote a Standard in Veterinary Excellence. To become accredited, or to maintain established accreditation, animal hospitals must adhere to specific guidelines. It is worth noting that animal hospitals are not required to be accredited. Hospitals may decide to pursue accreditation to improve upon policies and operations and to ensure that they are practicing the highest standard of care. AAHA accreditation shows that your veterinary practice has met or exceeded stringent quality standards that encompass all aspects of veterinary medicine. Therefore, an AAHA-accredited hospital holds themselves to an exceptional standard of care. AAHA was officially founded in 1933 by seven veterinary professionals with the goal of raising the bar of veterinary excellence. This was in response to the growing need for quality care for companion animals. After World War I and the 1929 Great Depression, there was an increase in the number of companion animals per household nationwide. As more households included pets, veterinarians found themselves treating more dogs and cats as opposed to a prior focus primarily on agricultural animals. Since its inception, AAHA has continuously updated its guidelines to accommodate the ever-evolving world of veterinary care. To become accredited, and to maintain an accreditation, animal hospitals are evaluated on 900 standards of veterinary excellence, including anesthesia, pain management, pharmacy, medical management, record keeping, safety, x-ray techniques, and continuing education. To maintain accreditation status, each animal hospital undergoes a rigorous, comprehensive on-site evaluation every three years. Currently, there are more than 4,500 animal hospitals accredited in the United States and Canada. That accounts for approximately 15% of all animal hospitals in these countries! The Rhinebeck Animal Hospital is proud to be an AAHA-accredited hospital and has maintained the distinction since 1979. AAHA-accredited hospitals are considered among the finest in the industry and are consistently at the forefront of advanced veterinary medicine. Taking care of you and your pets with the finest of veterinary excellence is our absolute pleasure. It's our way of showing your pet we love them too! For more information, please visit https://www.aaha.org/.

The Columbia-Greene Humane Society/ SPCA (CGHS/SPCA)

is appealing to the community for help following the arrival of 42 cats rescued from a property in Catskill, New York, as part of an ongoing animal cruelty investigation. Among the animals are 19 adults and 23 kittens, many of whom face a difficult road to recovery. The kittens are in particularly poor condition. Thin, sick, and suffering from significant parasitic infestations, these young animals have arrived at the shelter needing immediate medical attention, proper nutrition, and the kind of care every animal deserves from the beginning of its life. For kittens who should be spending their earliest weeks playing, exploring, and growing stronger, life has instead become a struggle to get healthy. Their small bodies tell a heartbreaking story, but their arrival at CGHS/SPCA offers the promise of a much brighter future. Caring for 42 additional cats has placed considerable demands on the shelter's veterinary staff, shelter personnel, and resources. Each animal must be evaluated, treated, nourished, and given the time and attention necessary to recover. The investigation into the circumstances surrounding their condition remains ongoing. "These kittens have already endured far more than they should have," said CGHS/SPCA President/CEO Ron Perez. "We're going to give them every chance at the lives they deserve." CGHS/SPCA is asking the public for help in meeting this unexpected need through donations and by opening their homes to animals awaiting adoption. Financial contributions will help support veterinary treatment, medications, food, and the continuing care of the rescued cats. There is also encouraging news for families considering welcoming a new companion into their homes. Beginning Monday, October 19, all dog and cat adoptions at CGHS/SPCA, including cats rescued through this cruelty investigation once they are medically cleared and available for adoption, will be sponsored through the Subaru Loves Pets program. Prospective adopters are strongly encouraged to complete the shelter's adoption preapproval process in advance, allowing them to be ready when an appropriate animal becomes available. With so many cats requiring care, every successful adoption also creates valuable space and resources for the next animal in need. For these 42 cats, the journey toward recovery is just beginning. Some will need more time than others. But with proper treatment, patience, and the generosity of a caring community, animals who arrived frightened, sick, and vulnerable can have something they may never have known before: a safe, loving home. The Columbia-Greene Humane Society/SPCA is a 501(c)(3) nonprofit animal welfare organization serving Columbia and Greene Counties and the surrounding communities. Those wishing to contribute to the care of these animals, support the shelter's work, or learn more about adoption are encouraged to visit www.cghs.org or contact CGHS/SPCA at 518-828-6044.

Red Hook's Old Dutch Village Garden Club Celebrates the Seasons

Nancy Bendiner and Felice Gelman

The Old Dutch Village Garden Club (ODVGC) moves through Fall toward Winter as we create Fall pumpkin decorations and prepare our Memorial Garden for cold weather. Local residents meanwhile are still enjoying our Fall display next to Yum Yum noodle bar at Red Hook's Four Corners.

Cindy Damon's pumpkin

ODVGC display. next to Yum Yum noodle bar, Red Hook

Looking forward to winter, ODVGC's Thursday, November 12 meeting will feature a talk by member Theresa Burke on Bird House Gourds. Meeting attendees will learn how to clean these unusual bottle gourds out, create the proper sized hole for the birds you wish to attract, add hangers and preserve them for long-term nesting use. Wrens, chickadees, bluebirds, swallows, cardinals and purple martins all love these bird houses.

At October's meeting Linda Lawson led a workshop in pumpkin decoration, using pressed flowers and decoupage techniques. Each monthly meeting covers a different, including talks from gardening experts on subjects like pruning, winter sowing, putting the fall garden to bed. ODVGC meets most months on the second Thursday at 12:30 pm at St. John's Reformed Church in Upper Red Hook. The meetings are free and open to the public. You can check the schedule on The Old Dutch Village Garden Facebook page.

Vera Tsumagari and Linda Glowienka work in Memorial Garden

ODVGC always contributes plants from our Memorial Garden to our spring plant sale. To help them get a good start, Linda Lawson and a team of club members recently dug up, potted and moved 300 plants (yes, that's right) to the yards of Ciska Hard and Linda and Rich Lawson. The plants will be protected, covered and their roots will be established by spring. It's never too early to prepare for Spring and for the ODVGC's primary fundraiser of the year. The garden still looks beautiful. You are invited to stop by and take a break on the garden benches. It's directly across from CVS in Red Hook.

about the human existence, love, dreams, challenges, and triumph. Dr. Aundrea L. Matthews is a scholar, educator, public historian, and nonprofit leader whose interdisciplinary work examines the intersections of African American history, religion, art, material culture, collective memory, and civic engagement. Her work explores how creative expression preserves cultural knowledge, elevates overlooked histories, and inspires community engagement and social impact. Dr. Matthews contributed to the development of Rice University's Religion and Hip Hop Culture course with Grammy nominated UGK Rapper Bernard "Bun -B" Freeman , an innovative exploration of the intersections of hip-hop, religion, and popular culture. Her scholarship also examines the cultural and spiritual significance of artistic expression. Her forthcoming book, Sacred Stitches, builds on her dissertation research on African American quilting in Houston, Texas, exploring quilts as expressions of faith, cultural memory, lived experience, and African American history. Previously, Dr. Matthews served as Cultural Arts Director at Ike Hall at the United States Military Academy at West Point, where she established a cultural arts department that leveraged artistic programming to reinforce West Point's Leader Development System (WPLDS). Her work connected cultural arts programming with the development of leadership, character, and intellectual growth. The program received recognition from New York State Senator James Skoufis and earned the Reader's Choice Award for Best Place to See a Theatrical Production. Dr. Matthews currently serves as Program Director for the Office of Community and Inclusion at Marist University where she awarded the SPARK grant for a pilot program that connects students with Hudson Valley artists through collaborative creative experiences. She is also President of the Buffalo Soldiers Association of West Point. Under her leadership with the Association, efforts to preserve and honor Buffalo Soldiers history culminated in the installation of a monument at West Point modeled in the likeness of her grandfather. The monument honors the service and sacrifice of the contributions of enlisted soldiers while connecting family legacy to the broader work of public history and historical remembrance. Whether preserving the stories of the Buffalo Soldiers, cultivating future leaders, curating arts-based experiences, or advancing inclusive historical narratives, Dr. Matthews's work is grounded in the principles of remembrance, service, art, and community.

The Tivoli Artists Gallery presents Marie Cole: ESCAPE ROUTE

Marie Cole has been a member of the Tivoli Artists Gallery since 1993, and we are thrilled to announce her solo exhibition ESCAPE ROUTE. The show runs from October 16-November 15, 2026. Please join us for an opening reception on Saturday, October 17, from 5-7 p.m. Known for her large-scale oil paintings of the Hudson Valley, Jersey Shore, and Cape Cod, Cole works from her studio overlooking the Hudson River in Germantown, capturing the light and changing weather of the Catskills. Her work also encompasses the farmland, fields, and barns of the Hudson Valley. Working from direct observation, she transforms familiar places into paintings that explore light, weather, atmosphere, and a sense of place. Her paintings also draw on memory and imagination, letting observed landscapes become starting points for more personal, evocative interpretations. In ESCAPE ROUTE, Cole brings together painting and printmaking as two related but distinct aspects of her practice. Printmaking can stand on its own as a finished work or serve as a starting point and visual exploration for a painting. Across both disciplines, Cole seeks "to create order amid the chaos." She describes painting as both purposeful and restorative, saying her work allows viewers "to escape from the everyday world and retreat into the wonder and beauty of the landscape." Tivoli Artists Gallery, 60 Broadway, Tivoli, NY. 12583 Exhibition: October 16 - November 15, 2026 Opening Reception: October 17, 5-7 p.m. Gallery Hours: Friday, 5-8:30 p.m., Saturday, noon-8 p.m., Sunday, 11 a.m.-7 p.m. For more information or additional photos: tivoliartistsgallery@gmail.com

LIVING THE LIFE OF THANKSGIVING!

"In every thing give thanks; for this is the will of God in Christ Jesus concerning you." 1 Thessalonians 5:18 This year Thanksgiving is Thursday, November 26. Thanksgiving is a day set aside for the purpose of giving thanks for all the blessings we have received. As Christians we know that the blessings and benefits we receive are from the Lord. "Bless the LORD, O my soul, and forget not all his benefits" (Psalm 103:2). For the Believer every day is a Thanksgiving Day as we live a life of Thanksgiving not only by the words that proceed out of our mouth, but also by the life that we live. In the world we often hear people complain or find fault over a number of different things. As Christians we are to live differently from the ways and attitudes of the world. It is important to be thankful for the blessings that we receive from the Lord and not be discontented over the things that we don't have. "I will praise the name of God with a song, and will magnify him with thanksgiving" (Psalm 69:30). When we realize that the Lord has and is blessing us then we will be content. "But godliness with contentment is great gain (1 Timothy 6:6). There are many things we can give thanks to God for in our lives. I would like to mention a number of things we are thankful for in our lives.

BEING THANKFUL THAT WE ARE FEARFULLY AND WONDERFULLY MADE!

"We will praise thee; for I am fearfully and wonderfully made: marvellous are thy works; and that my soul knoweth right well" (Psalm 139:14). We need to be thankful that we are created by God. We know that God created man and woman after His image. Every person is an offspring of the original creation. "So, God created man in his own image, in the image of God created he him; male and female created he them" (Genesis 1:27). We are thankful for our Creator. Every person is Special in his sight.

BEING THANKFUL FOR OUR FAMILIES AND HOMES

We are thankful for our families and our homes that God has provided for us. It is a joy to serve the Lord together. Joshua said, "But as for me and my house, we will serve the LORD" (Joshua 24:15c). May that be said by all of us that are living our lives for the Lord. Let's ensure that our homes are centered in Christ. I trust the Lord has His rightful place in your family and your home.

BEING THANKFUL THAT JESUS CAME TO SAVE US!

After the fall of man in the Garden of Eden the Lord promised to send a Redeemer to save us from our sins. "For all have sinned, and come short of the glory of God " (Romans 3:23)." We are thankful for God's plan of salvation by sending His Son, Jesus to die for our sins. Let's be thankful for the salvation offered to all that believe on and have received the Lord Jesus Christ as our Personal Savior and Lord. Jesus paid the price in full for our sins on the Cross and rose victoriously over death and the grave. "Thanks be unto God for his unspeakable gift" (2 Corinthians 9:15).

BEING THANKFUL FOR THE MINISTRY OF THE HOLY SPIRIT IN OUR LIVES!

The moment a person believes on and receives salvation in Christ they also receive the indwelling presence of the Holy Spirit in their life. "Even the Spirit of truth, whom the world cannot receive, because it seeth him not, neither knoweth him: but ye know him; for he dwelleth with you, and shall be in you" (John 14:17). The ministry of the Holy Spirit in the life of the Believer enables the Believer to live a victorious life in Christ.

BEING THANKFUL FOR THE CHURCH (THE BODY OF CHRIST)!

The Church is the Body of Christ. Every Christian is a member of the Church. The Lord Jesus Christ is the head of the Church and every Believer is a member of His Body. They become a member the moment they believe on the Lord Jesus Christ as their Personal Savior. "For as the body is one, and hath many members, and all the members of that one body, being many, are one body, so also is Christ" (1 Corinthians 12:12). It is a blessing to be with one another and to enjoy fellowship together in Christ.

BEING THANKFUL THAT GOD IS ALWAYS WITH US!

We are blessed to have the Lord's presence in our lives all times. We are thankful for the promises of God's Word that ensures that the Lord will always be with us and never leave us. For he hath said, "I will never leave thee, nor forsake thee" (Hebrews 13:5b).

BEING THANKFUL THAT WE CAN LIVE FOR CHRIST NOW AND BE WITH HIM FOREVER!

It is a blessing to live for Christ every day of our lives. Whatever we do or wherever we go we know that Christ will be with us. When we pass on (go Home be with the Lord in Heaven) we can be assured that it will be gain because we will in the presence with the Lord in Heaven. "For to me to live is Christ and to die is gain" (Philippians 1:21). I trust that you have the hope of eternal life. If you don't come to Christ today. Salvation is a gift of God's grace. "For whosoever shall call upon the name of the Lord shall be saved" (Romans 10:13). If you would like to know more about the life of Thanksgiving and/or how to become a Christian, contact us by Email at fdcirone@aol.com or by phone at (845) 876-6923 or (845) 876-2122. Choosing Thanksgiving

By Naomi Fata

When my kids were younger, we started a tradition for the month of November. Each of them received a large poster board and drew a grid of the November calendar on it. After completing the calendar, they tape a piece of candy on every date. Every day for the month of November, they remove a piece of candy and write something they are thankful for. My friend, who inspired us to start this tradition, calls it a "Thanks-living" calendar.

As the Thanksgiving holiday approaches in just a few weeks, you may experience situations where others ask you to share what you appreciate. When life isn't going well, this might be a challenge. The psalmist David had his own set of struggles, which are evidenced repeatedly in the book of Psalms.

For example, look at the opening line of Psalm 22: "My God, my God, why have you abandoned me?" Yet he doesn't stay stuck in his despair. Instead, he frequently reminds himself of God's past faithfulness. By verses 4 and 5 he recounts, "Our ancestors trusted in you, and you rescued them. They cried out to you and were saved."

David made a choice to remind himself of God's faithfulness. Giving thanks doesn't mean we aren't going through something hard. It means we are choosing to believe that God is at work despite the hard thing.

In my book Stitching Your Story Piece by Peace, I wrote "When you are struggling with a negative thought pattern, the best thing to do is come to God with thanksgiving rooted in Scripture, which will help you build new memory pathways in your brain."

One of the crucial elements to overcome negativity or despair is knowing the character of God and His promises found in Scripture. As my friend Rosemary has taught me, "Thanksgiving is an enabling power as you activate the Word of God by inviting Him to fulfill His Word."

God has something to say about every worry and stressor in your life. The following are just a few examples along with a prayer of thanks which will help integrate the Scripture into your life.

When relationships are challenging and you feel unloved by those close to you:

- Romans 8:37-39 reminds us that nothing "will be able to separate us from the love of God that is in Christ Jesus our Lord."
- Prayer: God, thank You that even though I feel unloved by those around me, I believe You love me, and You promise that nothing can separate me from Your love. Help me feel Your love surround me today. Amen.

When the bills are mounting:

- Psalm 23:1 "The Lord is my shepherd, I lack nothing."
- Prayer: God, thank You for being my shepherd. You promise that I will lack nothing. Thank You for the provision You have already prepared for me, even if I can't see it right now. Amen.

When the future feels uncertain:

- Proverbs 3:5-6 "Trust in the Lord with all your heart and lean not on your own understanding; in all your ways submit to him, and he will make your paths straight
- Prayer: God, thank You for helping me to trust You, with the future. I bring my plans to You, believing that Your plans are better than mine. Thank You for making my path into the future straight. Amen.

Maybe there are other situations in life that are causing you anxiety. Look for a verse of Scripture that will encourage you and turn it into a prayer of thanksgiving and belief. Your thanksgiving is an invitation for Him to come fulfill His Word in your life.

Naomi Fata is the author of the award-winning book, Stitching Your Story Piece by Peace, available on Amazon.

Hudson River Maritime Museum Launches Professional Genealogical Research Services

The Hudson River Maritime Museum has launched a new Genealogical Research Services program, offering professional research assistance to individuals and families interested in exploring their family histories and connections to the Hudson River. HRMM's staff Genealogist works with clients to uncover the stories of ancestors who lived beside, traveled, or worked along the Hudson River. After an initial consultation to discuss research questions and goals, the Genealogist conducts research in the museum's archives and beyond. The results of that research are developed into a detailed research report or long-form family narrative. Depending on the project, materials may include family tree visuals, historical records, timelines, and photographs. This new service is available to anyone interested in exploring their family's Hudson River connections, whether they are beginning their genealogical research or looking to learn more about a family history they have already begun to explore. To get started, visit HRMM.org/research and complete the Genealogy Inquiry Form to schedule a free consultation. The Hudson River Maritime Museum is dedicated to the preservation and interpretation of the maritime history of the Hudson River, its tributaries and related industries. In addition to extensive collections documenting maritime transportation, industry, recreation, and natural science, the museum offers classes and programs at its Woodworking School, Sailing and Rowing School, and aboard Solaris, the 100% solar powered tour boat and floating classroom. Now in its 46th year, HRMM is located along the historic Rondout waterfront in downtown Kingston. For more information about the Hudson River Maritime Museum, please visit hrmm.org, find HRMM on Facebook, or call 845.338.0071.

It's Complicated.

New York says "keep it."
The IRS might say "not so fast."

New York State won't touch your Social Security benefits—zero state tax, guaranteed. But the IRS didn't get that memo. Depending on your total income, up to 85% of your benefits could still be federally taxable.

The magic number? Combined income over $25,000 (single) or $32,000 (married).

Doing so heightened her curiosity and turned her into an insufferable presidential nerd. She can't get enough of the weird trivia, coincidences, and quirks. Along the way, she encountered many fascinating people who were never president but played important (or interesting) roles in history — like the Livingstons. There are Livingstons everywhere and it's enough to make one's head spin. To make sense of it all, Heather has drawn seemingly endless Livingston family trees. She'll even connect the family to a president or two, because that's what she does. The presentation will not end with a quiz to see if you can distinguish the various Roberts Livingston. Or will it..? Interested but not available? The session will be recorded. Register and we'll send out the full presentation afterward. I'm So Thankful! Sunday, November 1, 2026 Hybrid Lecture: The Great New York Fire of 1776 2:00 PM | Free in-person at Philipse Manor Hall State Historic Site and online via YouTube Live! Greater New York City, the strategic center of the Revolutionary War, was the most important place in North America in 1776. That summer, an unruly rebel army under George Washington repeatedly threatened to burn the city rather than let the British take it. Shortly after the Crown's forces took New York City, much of it mysteriously burned to the ground. This is the first book to fully explore the Great Fire of 1776 and why its origins remained a mystery even after the British investigated it in 1776 and 1783. Uncovering stories of espionage, terror, and radicalism, Benjamin L. Carp paints a vivid picture of the chaos, passions, and unresolved tragedies that define a historical moment we usually associate with "life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness." This lecture is sponsored by the Friends of Philipse Manor Hall. As we mark the 250th Anniversary of the American Revolution, Philipse Manor Hall State Historic Site and Johnson Hall State Historic Site are partnering to highlight the experiences of Loyalists in New York throughout the war. They will host a public virtual symposium, "Declaring Dependence: Loyalist in Revolutionary New York" on November 14-15, 2026, online. Between November 25 and 28, 1776, over five hundred New York residents signed what became known as the Declaration of Dependence, declaring their loyalty to the British Crown. This document stood in sharp contrast to the Declaration of Independence ratified and signed just a few months earlier by the rebellious colonies. Between July 4 and November 28, 1776, the British Army fought for and secured New York City, where it would remain headquartered for the remainder of the war. For eight long years, New York State saw some of the most enduring conflicts of the war, pitting families against each other, and subjecting civilians to some of the most brutal "exigencies of war," as George Washington once put it. OLD CROTON AQUEDUCT // 914.693.5259

The Old Croton Aqueduct State Historic Park is a 26.2-mile linear park located atop the Westchester portion of the 41-mile underground Aqueduct. A National Historic Landmark, the brick Aqueduct was built 1837-1842 to bring much-needed clean water to New York City. The brick Keeper's House, constructed in 1857, is located at 15 Walnut Street, Dobbs Ferry. Keepers kept watch over the area of the Aqueduct under their care, ensuring that any damage to the Aqueduct was promptly repaired. After the Aqueduct was decommissioned in 1955, NYS opened the park in Westchester in 1968. The abandoned Keeper's House was restored in 2016 as a Visitor and Education Center. Open to the public for free on weekends between 1:00PM – 4:00PM, the Keeper's House hosts exhibits, events and talks about the Aqueduct and NYC's water system. See www.aqueduct.org for more details.
