TALBOTT & ARDING TO HOST LUCA CALVANI FOR A TUSCAN TABLE

Actor, filmmaker and cook joins Walter Pogliani for an afternoon of conversation, seasonal Tuscan food, wine and olive oil.

Talbott & Arding will welcome actor, filmmaker, cook and author Luca Calvani to its Event Space in Hudson on Sunday, October 11, from 4:00 to 6:00 PM, for an advanced preview of his new cookbook, A Tuscan Table: Seasonal Vegetarian Recipes from Italy.

Calvani will join Walter Pogliani of Pogliani Select for a conversation about food, olive oil, hospitality and the experiences behind the recipes he serves at Le Gusciane, the farmhouse and guesthouse he runs with his husband, Alessandro Franchini, in the Tuscan hills.

Throughout the event, guests will enjoy Italian wine and three tastes from A Tuscan Table, prepared by the Talbott & Arding kitchen. Pogliani Select will also lead a tasting of Frantoio di Croci, a single-estate extra-virgin olive oil produced in Tuscany. Guests will be able to pre-order copies of A Tuscan Table, which Luca can personalize in advance for pick-up after the official U.S. publication date of October 20.

ABOUT A TUSCAN TABLE

A Tuscan Table is a love letter to seasonal cooking, simple pleasures and the Italian tradition of gathering around the table.

Organized around the seasons, the book gives vegetables star

LIMNER GALLERY IN HUDSON, NY PRESENTS “A SHOW OF HEADS” OCTOBER 8–31 16 HEADS, ONE COLLECTIVE SCREAM: BOSTON ARTIST LORI MORETTI BRINGS A PORTRAIT OF AMERICAN ANXIETY TO HUDSON

Boston artist Lori Moretti's SCREAM: A Portrait of Collective Voices, a 5-by-5-foot installation featuring 16 black-and-white portraits of women caught mid-scream, will be on view at Limner Gallery in Hudson October 8–31, 2026, as part of A Show of Heads, the gallery's annual national exhibition devoted to interpretations and portrayals of the human head.

The exhibition opens with a reception Sat., Oct. 10, from 3–5 p.m. at Limner Gallery, 123

Lori Moretti

Warren Street in Hudson. The exhibition will also be available to view online through the Limner Gallery website. The complete exhibition and participating artists can be viewed online at the Limner Gallery website.

SCREAM brings together sixteen 14-by-14-inch black-and-white portraits in a four-by-four grid, with each face set against a vivid, saturated color field. The figures are not portraits of specific individuals, but archetypes drawn from diverse racial, ethnic and religious identities. Presented together, the sixteen heads become one collective portrait and a visual chorus expressing grief, rage, defiance and exhaustion.

Moretti created SCREAM as a response to the anxiety and emotional strain of contemporary American life.

“We are living through a time when many of the freedoms we have taken for granted feel increasingly threatened — from women's and LGBTQ+ rights to racial justice, the treatment of immigrants and

ART GALLERY 71 PRESENTS “OTHERWORLDLY”

An exhibit of paintings and fairy houses by JULIA VAN DEVELDER Showing Oct. 9th- Nov. 1st Opening Reception: Sat., Oct. 17th, 4-6pm

When Julia was a young girl, she used to go around looking in the backs of closets to see if she could get to Narnia. She was crushed and skeptical when her mother explained that it was “an allegory”. But she never lost her belief that there is a magical world. The paintings and fairy houses in this exhibit aim to capture that beauty and mystery. These are places where you might find magical beings or portals to other realms-or at the very least reconnect with your own sense of the otherworldly. Proceeds from the sale of the fairy houses in this exhibit will go to the Winnakee Land Trust and will qualify purchasers for a charitable tax deduction of 100% of the purchase price. ACCORDING TO QUACKERS

Song of the Witches

—William Shakespeare

Double, double toil and trouble;
Fire burn and caldron bubble.
Fillet of a fenny snake,
In the caldron boil and bake;
Eye of newt and toe of frog,
Wool of bat and tongue of dog,
Adder's fork and blind-worm's sting,
Lizard's leg and howlet's wing,
For a charm of powerful trouble,
Like a hell-broth boil and bubble.
Double, double toil and trouble;
Fire burn and caldron bubble.
Cool it with a baboon's blood
Then the charm is firm and good.

Each Season Brings

By Catherine Pulsifer

Each season brings a special time,
Changing like our lives' sweet rhyme.
Spring's flowers bloom in colorful delight,
As new beginnings take their flight.
Summer's warmth wraps us in its embrace,
Filling days with joy at a steady pace.
Autumn's hues paint nature's splendid show,
Reminding us of the beauty life can bestow.
Winter's chill brings a tranquil grace,
A time for reflection, in a quieter space.
With gratitude, we embrace each timely shift,
For seasons, like life, offer us a precious gift.

billing in recipes ranging from summer panzanella and pappa al pomodoro to pumpkin gnocchi with Gorgonzola, vegetable lasagne and potato tortelli with vegetarian ragù. The recipes are rooted in Calvani's life at Le Gusciane and shaped by family memories, local ingredients and the rhythms of the Tuscan countryside.

"This is not just a collection of recipes; it is a window into a life full of authentic flavors and extraordinary adventures," Calvani says.

ABOUT LUCA CALVANI

Born in Prato, Italy, Calvani moved to New York and studied acting at the Actors Studio before beginning an international career in film and television. His credits include The International, To Rome with Love, The Man from U.N.C.L.E., Sex and the City and

The Bold and the Beautiful. In 2023, he directed his first feature film, Fosco and Fred.

Alongside his work on screen, Calvani has pursued a lifelong passion for food and hospitality. At Le Gusciane, he personally oversees the kitchen and culinary experiences. The recipes developed there form the heart of A Tuscan Table, his first cookbook.

ABOUT POGLIANI SELECT
Founded by Walter Pogliani and Mike Fish, Pogliani Select works directly with small, multigenerational farms and producers to bring distinctive Italian olive oils, aged balsamic vinegars and specialty foods to the Hudson Valley.

Its collection emphasizes single-estate extra-virgin olive oils from family-owned producers in regions including Tuscany, Liguria and Sicily. Through guided tastings and educational events, Pogliani Select helps guests understand the connection between olive variety, place, harvest and flavor.

JEFF WIGMAN: THE SCAPEGOAT AND THE BEAR

A solo exhibition curated by Mark Dion
September 25–November 20, 2026

The Arts Center of the Capital
Region, Troy, New York
Opening reception: Friday,
September 25, 6–8 PM
Admission: Free

A clear image can be the quickest path into the uncanny, the implausible, and the magically ordinary, where even the simplest image points toward the inner churning of mind and emotion that words can’t uproot or explain away.
“The Scapegoat and the Bear” brings together over fifty works of painting, printmaking, and drawing in this solo exhibition by Troy artist Jeff Wigman. This enigmatic romp is filled with impossible animals, symbolist landscapes, and humorous disasters, all drawing from the treasury of images handed down through the ages. The paintings take familiar forms and turn

Jeff Wigman

them every which way, finding unexpected angles of reflection on a shifting world. Curated by Mark Dion, whose own work illuminates the porousness of our thought systems, this is the largest presentation of Wigman’s work to date.
Grounded in traditional painting methods but shaped by a contemporary understanding of images and media, the work treats historical techniques as living technologies rather than mere nostalgia. Sense is made from fragments built upon fragments. Layers of paint look solid and thin at the same time, and what appear to be clear images are often just wisps completed within the mind’s eye. Navigating the world in this way leads to a borderland where forms disappear if examined too long, where material stops and mind takes over.

From this loose gauze of mind and vision, a whole spectrum of experience takes shape. Aspects of the grotesque, allegorical language, satire, and a deep, ardent, appreciation for the history of art and philosophy are encoded throughout the exhibition. Shifts in scale and flipped hierarchies poke at the edges of reasonability.
History gets wrung out and twisted like a dish towel. The more recognizable a scene, the more questions it opens. Can an animal do that? How am I supposed to feel about this? Is this funny or sad? Why am I left tenderhearted? Does the solid ground I’m standing on even have anything underneath it?
The exhibition is accompanied by a richly illustrated catalog and interview.

About the curator:
The visual artist Mark Dion was born in 1961 in New Bedford, Massachusetts. Since the late 1980s Dion has produced a wide variety of artworks concerned with the environment, the history of natural history, and the cultures of museums. Dion describes the job of the artist as going against the grain of dominant culture, challenging perception and convention.

About the artist:
Jeff Wigman’s paintings take pictorial space as a given, acting as a mirror for the play of mind and magnifying the uncertainty of experience and memory. Born in 1970 in Buffalo, New York, he earned his BFA in painting and sculpture from Parsons School of Design in 1992. His paintings have shown nationally and internationally in solo and group shows. His work has been exhibited at The Albany Institute of History and Art, Albany, NY; Opalka Gallery, Albany, NY; The Hyde Collection, Glens Falls,
NY; Manifest Gallery, Cincinnati,
OH; Bowery Gallery, Manhattan;
Good Naked Gallery, Brooklyn;
Kunstverein Eisenstadt, Austria;
NADA Miami 2023; KDR
Gallery, Miami, FL; Adhesivo Contemporary, Mexico City;
and Friends Fair, Austin, TX.
Jeff has reviews and mentions in
The Wall Street Journal, Times

Union, Miami New Times, and Buddhadharma. He lives and works in Troy, New York.
The Arts Center of the Capital
Region, founded in 1962, serves the Capital Region as a leader

God's Corner

Welcome Home

By Naomi Fata

Recently my writer's group completed a writing prompt describing our childhood home. The writers' pieces varied. One had lived in the same home from the time she was born until she was married. Another had moved multiple times to different countries and states. Another did not have solid memories of a childhood home because of related trauma.

When I think of home, I want it to be a safe place, filled with love and happy memories. But that is not always the case. Life experiences do not always leave us with a pleasant taste of 'home'.

If you do not have positive feelings about home, do you struggle to understand the spiritual longing for home?

In Christian circles, you may hear someone say, "This earth is not my home." Instead, they look to heaven as their forever home. God wants us to look forward to dwelling with Him forever. He is inviting you to join Him. In John 14:2 & 3, Jesus promises, "There is more than enough room in my Father's home....When everything is ready, I will come get you, so that you will always be with me where I am." (NLT)

Just think—there is more than enough room for you! The invitation is open; Jesus wants you to accept so that you can dwell with Him forever. But like most homes, there is a rule or two. In my house, it's the basic rule for my kids, "leave your shoes at the door," along with a few others.

The rule for God's house has to do with entry. Jesus said it this way, "I am the way, the truth, and the life. No one can come to the Father except through me." (John 14:8) You can not dwell with Him in the home He has prepared for you unless you believe in Jesus, as the perfect Son of God who died to restore a relationship with the Father. Entering His home isn't based on good works, charitable donations, or civic involvement. There is nothing any of us can do to earn our place in this home. It doesn't come with a steep rental fee.

Entry is so simple, yet sometimes faith is hard. If you have felt unloved, troubled by memories of a childhood home, unsure that you would even want to dwell in God's home forever, His is patiently waiting to welcome you home.

Start with a simple prayer. A small step in His direction.

Father, I struggle to believe that You love me and that You sent Jesus to restore my relationship with You. Thank You for the gift of Jesus. Help my unbelief. Amen.

Welcome home—where you are safe and you are loved. Naomi Fata is the author of the award-winning book, Stitching Your Story Piece by Piece, available on Amazon.

THE PROMISES OF GOD!

"For all the promises of God in him are yea, and in him Amen, unto the glory of God by us." 2 Corinthians 1:20 I am sure that most of us know the meaning of a Promise. We have all made promises to others. The Greek word for Promise is 'epangelia' which means to intend to do something for someone or to give something to someone. There are several thousands of promises mentioned in the Bible. The Apostle Peter wrote, "Whereby are given unto us exceeding great and precious promises: that by these ye might be partakers of the divine nature, having escaped the corruption that is in the world through lust" (2 Peter 1:4). The Word of God records promises given by God to the world in general, to the Nation of Israel, to the Church, to other situations, and personally to individuals. Some promises are unconditional and others conditional. The unconditional promises will occur according to God's divine will, while the conditional promises occur as a result of individuals responding to the promises. A hymn that we love to sing in the Christian Church is: Standing on the Promises of God. In this note I will cover several promises that affects each one of us.

WE ARE FEARFULLY AND WONDERFULLY MADE!

"We will praise thee; for I am fearfully and wonderfully made: marvellous are thy works; and that my soul knoweth right well" (Psalm 139:14). It is a blessing to know that we have been created by God. In the beginning God made man and woman. God said, "Let us make man in our image. The Father, the Son, and the Holy Spirit were involved in Creation. (Genesis 1:26a). Every human being is the offspring of the original creation by God of Adam and Eve.

THE PROMISE OF GOD WITH US!

When Adam and Eve sinned in the Garden of Eden God promised to send the Lord Jesus Christ to die for our sins. In Genesis 3:15 is the promise of the coming Messiah. Also the Prophet Isaiah promised that Jesus would be born of a Virgin. "Therefore the LORD himself shall give you a sign; Behold a virgin shall conceive, and bear a son, and shall call his name Immanuel" (Isaiah 7:14). Immanuel means that God with us. The Lord Jesus Christ is Perfect God-Perfect Man. The humanity of the Messiah was conceived in the womb of a Virgin, Mary and He is called Jesus. Jesus was conceived of the Virgin and is without sin. He lived a perfect life. He spoke with authority, did many wonderful works and miracles, reached out to people in need with love and compassion.

THE PROMISE OF ETERNAL LIFE!

"For God so loved the world that he gave his only begotten Son that whosoever believeth in him shall not perish, but have everlasting life" (John 3:16). The promise of eternal life begins the moment a person trusts in and receives the Lord Jesus Christ into their life. The reality of this promise is absolutely true because the Lord Jesus Christ paid the price in full for our sins on the Cross and Rose in Victory over death and the grave. Because He lives as Christians we will live forever with Him.

THE PROMISE OF THE HOLY SPIRIT PRESENCE WITH US!

The Holy Spirit is the Third person of the Trinity. In the Upper Room on the night in which Jesus was betrayed by Judas, Jesus promised the coming of the Holy Spirit to His disciples. "Even the Spirit of truth, whom the world cannot receive, because it seeth him not, neither knoweth him: but ye know him; for he dwelleth with you, and shall be in you" (John 14:17). On the Day of Pentecost the Disciples received the Holy Spirit and were sealed by the Holy Spirit. Every Believer receives the Holy Spirit the moment they believe on and receive salvation in Christ and in Christ alone.

THE PROMISE THAT HE WILL ALWAYS BE WITH US!

The promise that God will always be with us is encouraging and gives the Believer the assurance for living life every day and living a victorious Christian life. "For he hath said, I will never leave thee, nor forsake thee" (Hebrews 13:5b). THE PROMISE OF HEAVEN AND THAT JESUS IS COMING AGAIN!

In the Upper Room the Lord Jesus Christ promised that after he died on the Cross and was Risen from the dead that he would ascend back to Heaven and that He would come again. Jesus said, "Let not your heart be troubled: ye believe in God, believe also in me. In my Father's House are many mansions: if it were not so, I would have told you. I go to prepare a place for you. And if I go and prepare a place for you, I will come again, and receive you unto myself; that where I am, there ye may be also" (John 14:1-3). NOW IS THE TIME TO CLAIM THE PROMISE OF ETERNAL LIFE!

I trust that you have repented of your sins and have received the Lord Jesus Christ into your life. If you know the Lord as your Personal Savior and Lord, dedicate your life for Him and live every day by trusting the Lord as you walk by faith in Him. If you don't know the Lord Jesus Christ as Personal Savior and Lord, call upon Him today. If you do you will receive the Promise of Eternal Life. "Examine yourselves, whether ye be in the faith; prove your own selves. Know ye not your own selves, how that Jesus Christ is in you, except ye be reprobates" (2 Corinthians 13:5). The Bible declares that in order to become a genuine Christian a person must call upon the name of the Lord Jesus Christ, repent of their sins and by faith believe that Jesus died for their sins on the Cross and Rose the third day. Salvation is a gift of God's grace that is provided to every one that believes on and receives the Lord Jesus Christ as their Savior and Lord. "For God so loved the world, that he gave his only begotten Son, that whosoever believeth in him should not perish, but have everlasting life" (John 3:16). I encourage you to believe on and receive Jesus into your heart now. The Gospel is the power of God unto salvation to everyone who believes (Romans 1:16). Now is the day of Salvation. Come to Christ today and become a genuine Christian. If you would like to know more about the Promises of God and/or how to become a Christian, please contact us by Email at fdcirone@aol.com or by phone at (845) 876-6923 or (845) 876-2122. ANDERSON FOUNDATION FOR AUTISM TO HONOR PATRICK AND VANESSA RYAN AT 2026 GALA

Anderson Foundation for Autism today announced that registration is now open for its 2026 Gala, sponsored by Pamal Broadcasting, NFP, and CDPHP. The event will be held on Saturday, October 24th at The Grandview in Poughkeepsie, with a cocktail hour beginning at 6:30pm, and dinner, dancing, and the program starting at 7:30pm. Honorees this year are Anderson parents, philanthropists, and advocates Patrick and Vanessa Ryan, residents of Mahopac, New York.

Executives from Anderson estimate that 300 guests will attend the 2026 gala, and that the organization expects to meet or exceed its event fundraising goal of $200,000. Proceeds from the annual gala are used to advance the organizational mission by directly supporting the educational, vocational, residential and clinical services that help “optimize the quality of life for individuals with autism.” Said Patrick Paul, CEO and Executive Director of Anderson Center for Autism, “It will be our great privilege to honor Patrick and Vanessa Ryan this year, who have demonstrated unwavering commitment to our agency and to our broader cause. We fully anticipate that this will be a sell-out event, and encourage anyone interested in attending to reserve their tickets as soon as possible.”

A longtime accountant with a career spanning nearly 40 years, Patrick Ryan is currently the CFO of an asset management firm in Greenwich, Connecticut called AQR Capital Management. His wife of 30 years, Vanessa, is employed by the Putnam County Office of Senior Services, where she manages a program that provides medical transportation to senior citizens. Their family also includes three children: Peter, Ciara, and Sean.

In a joint statement, the couple responded to the news that they were being honored as follows: “We were initially surprised, and of course happy as we are proud of our association with Anderson Center - but most of all humbled. We feel honored to be chosen, but want to share that the group of Direct Support Professionals who live, work with, and take care of our son are the ones doing God’s work – we are just lucky to be part of this program.”

Said Dr. Tina Marie Covington, PhD., BCBA-D, LBA, Chief Operating Officer at Anderson (who will step in as CEO/ Executive Director following Paul’s retirement later this year), “In addition to honoring the Ryans with the well-deserved VV Anderson Community Service Award, we will also present two of our very own team members (yet to be named) with ‘Above and Beyond Awards.’ Having a chance to publicly applaud people we truly cherish and admire is always a moving experience; we very much look forward to an uplifting program again this year.”

Added Eliza Bozenski, Chief Program Officer at Anderson Foundation for Autism, “We are incredibly grateful to the many people who make our gala so successful, year after year - from our sponsors and volunteers to the attendees themselves. Like our other fundraisers, this tradition brings together people from all walks of life who share a passion for our mission. Not only do we get to recognize the inspiring honorees and award winners during the gala program, but we all have a chance to celebrate Anderson’s far-reaching impact and our vision for the future.”

For more information and to purchase tickets and/or sponsorships, call 845.889.9208 or visit AndersonCenterforAutism.org/Gala.

Step Back in Time: Germantown Garden Club Uncovers the Secrets of Columbia County’s “Ancient Forests”

The Germantown Garden Club will hold its next meeting on Tuesday, October 13, 2026, at the Hover Room at the Germantown Library, 31 Palatine Park Rd., Germantown. The meeting begins at noon.

This month’s featured program, “Ancient Forests in Columbia County,” brings the region’s living history to life with two experts from Hawthorne Valley Farmscape: Kyle Bradford and Josie Laing. Members will learn about land-use history, discover how researchers identify true Ancient Forests, and explore the remarkable plants, animals, and fungi that call these rare habitats home. Guests will also get a first look at the team’s fascinating “Map of Potential Ancient Forest Remnants,” a guide to the hidden natural treasures scattered across our own county.

Kyle Bradford holds an MS in Conservation Biology and a BS in Environmental Science. His work spans the ecology of human-managed habitats, insect ecology and biogeography (with a special passion for ants), landscape history, and rare species conservation. Josie Laing, botany technician at Hawthorne Valley Farmscape, holds a BA in Botany and Food Systems. Her work centers on

War and Totalitarianism in Literature* | Eric Karpeles
Saturday, October 3
2:00 - 3:30pm

In preparation for giving the opening address at a conference at the Museum of the Second World War in Gdansk, Poland, Eric Karpeles will be offering a version of this talk to the Millbrook community. Entitled “History Experienced, History Told: War and Totalitarianism in Literature,” the talk will cover a wide range of eastern, western and central European writers who lived through the cataclysm of the war and the constrictions and deprivations of Nazi and Soviet rule. A variety of literary forms will be discussed and an overall context of the situation will be given.

Mask Making with Deborah Coconis for Teens and Adults
Tuesdays, October 13 & October 20
4:00-5:30pm
Come and learn mask

construction basics with artist Deborah Coconis! This two-day workshop is for teens and adults and is brought to you in partnership with the Millbrook Arts Group.

About Deborah Coconis:
Deborah has been making masks and teaching mask making since 1999. Her first large-scale body mask/puppet debuted in Boston’s First Night parade in 2000. After moving to Millbrook, she continued the tradition of creating roving characters for New Year’s Eve Millbrook. All of her masks are made to be worn and performed in. “Miss Deborah” taught at and was the Director of Millbrook Community Preschool for many happy years.

Millbrook Silent Book Club
Wednesday, October 14
6:00-8:00pm
Join the Millbrook Silent Book Club by the Millbrook Library fireplace for a quiet evening of reading in good company. There’s no assigned book, and you can bring whatever you’re currently reading or borrow from a provided selection of books. Millbrook Silent Book Club is brought to you by the Millbrook Library with the support of Innisfree Garden. We plan to meet once a month - outdoors at Innisfree in the warmer months and by the fireplace at the library when the weather calls for cozier quarters. We welcome your suggestions for other locations to meet around the community!

Great Give Back: Halloween Costume Swap
Saturday, October 17
12:30 - 3:30pm
The Costume Swap is a win for both budgets and the environment. Participants can refresh their Halloween looks without the expense of purchasing new costumes, declutter their closets for a good cause, keep textiles out of landfills, and foster a culture of reuse within our community. Starting October 10th, community members can bring gently used costumes and accessories of all sizes during regular library hours and get a ticket for each costume donated. The collection period runs through the start of the Costume Swap at 12:30pm on October 17th— an afternoon of costume browsing and selection, completely free for all participants.

Costumes for all ages are welcome. Please ensure donated items are clean and in good repair. Any leftover costumes will be donated to local charities.

Death Café
Wednesday, October 21
6:00 - 8:00pm
Death Café is part of a worldwide movement (over 24,000 death cafés have been held worldwide since the idea’s inception in 2011) to promote open discussion of death, dying, and mourning in a welcoming, communal environment. It is a discussion group rather than a grief support or counseling session, meant to “increase awareness of death with a view to helping people make the most of their (finite) lives”. In keeping with Death Café tradition, light refreshments will be served.

About Grace Burns:
A lifelong Dutchess County resident, Grace holds a Bachelor’s degree in Social Work and has worked in a variety of social work capacities for over 30 years. She is also a certified Death Doula. Grace brings compassion, openness, and a welcoming, nonjudgmental approach to conversations about death, dying, and the experiences that surround them. She looks forward to facilitating a warm and welcoming, peer-led conversation where community members can come together, share thoughts and experiences, ask questions, and explore this universal part of life together.

Patterns of Life Artist Talk & Opening Reception
Friday, October 23
Artist Talk - 4:30pm
Reception - 6:00-8:00pm
Millbrook Arts Project presents Patterns of Life, an exhibition of work by Shari Diamond, Rich Garrison, Paul Lewandowski, and Jim Morris, four artists who explore the ways patterns shape how we experience and remember the world around us. An Artist Talk with Shari Diamond, Rich Garrison, and Paul Lewandowski will take place on Friday, October 23 at 4:30pm, followed by the exhibit Opening Reception from 6:00 to 8:00pm.

The exhibit runs through November 28.

A Dark and Stormy Halloween Storytime for Adults
Saturday, October 24
2:00 - 4:00pm

Storytime isn’t just for kids! Get ready for Halloween with an afternoon of terrifying tales brought to life by local talent. Light refreshments will be served.

Meet the Readers:
Stephen Paul Johnson is a twenty year veteran of the Hudson Valley Shakespeare Festival, where 50 roles have included King Lear, Prospero, Shylock, and Titus Andronicus. One Of The Only Doctors That Still Makes House Calls
HAVE YOU HUGGED YOUR TREE TODAY?

Reducing Anxiety in the Veterinary Hospital

By Julianne Porter

A visit to the doctor’s office is not typically anyone’s idea of a fun time. So much so that there is a term called “white coat syndrome” where just being around doctors can cause an otherwise healthy human to have elevated blood pressure. Not surprisingly, this can also occur in our pets. We are asking them to venture out of their house, ride in a car, and enter a building full of strangers and unfamiliar pets, as well as an overwhelming number of scents, noises, and bright lights. And we then ask them to stand still while being poked and handled by those strangers. In a perfect world, our pets would understand the purpose of their visit and know that we just want to take care of them and make sure they are healthy. Obviously, this is not what happens. However, there are steps we can take to help minimize their stress and keep everyone safe and as happy as possible. Reducing anxiety should start at home. Familiarize your pet with being touched and restrained while they are as young as possible. Pay special attention to their mouth, ears and paws, as these are areas often examined by the vet. Always provide positive reinforcement (give tasty treats and/or lots of praise, for example). This way, when they need to stay still for their exam, vaccines, nail trims, or other procedures, they have some familiarity with the approach. Acclimating cats and smaller dogs to their carriers can also help reduce a tendency to associate them with a visit to the hospital. This also applies to larger dogs who only wear harnesses or leashes when coming to the hospital – if you can get them used to wearing those in general, that can help mitigate some of the anxiety. When coming into the clinic, it is best if they arrive hungry. This helps reduce the chances of carsickness but also allows the veterinary staff to use treats as positive reinforcement and distraction during an appointment or procedure. At the hospital, keep pets on leashes or in carriers to keep them safe. Cats like to be high up, so try to keep their carriers on your lap or on a nearby table/shelf. You can also call the hospital ahead of your visit and see if you are able to wait in your car (or park at an alternative entrance) to avoid the waiting room as much as possible. Some people have success in acclimating their dogs by performing “happy visits”. This doesn’t usually work with cats as they often are stressed out by the car ride itself. Bring your dog to the parking lot or front lawn for a few trips to just sniff around. If time allows, you can also ask a veterinary staff member to greet you outside with treats. Then, gradually work up to going into the clinic with your dog. These visits can at least get them used to the building. Just be sure these visits have no stressful stimuli involved – if there’s another pet at the hospital making your pet anxious when you bring them, this approach may not work. Often, we cannot spend as much time as we’d like allowing our pets to warm up to a veterinary setting. No matter how hard we try, some pets really panic, and veterinary professionals may recommend varying degrees of sedation. Acute stress can have lasting effects on overall health, cause immune dysfunction, and make each subsequent visit even more difficult. While some people worry about the effects of medication on their pets, it is often far safer to use the treatments as opposed to having the pet experience the stress. If we can avoid or reduce the stress of the visit, it is safer and healthier for all involved. For some pets, this may mean a mild oral anti-anxiety medication before an exam or procedure. For others, full sedation may be necessary. Our goal in veterinary medicine is to improve the health and wellbeing of pets, and to keep the human-animal bond we share with them strong. Entering an unfamiliar place can be really frightening, and veterinary professionals and staff aim to make you and your pet’s experience as pleasant as possible. A discussion with your veterinarian can help determine the best way to make that happen!

Claverack Free Library Celebrates Volunteer Firefighters with Special Movie Night During the Great Give Back

Who protects our community when an emergency strikes? Our neighbors do! The Claverack Free Library invites the community to a special movie night on Friday, October 16, 2026, at 6:00 PM, featuring a free screening of the inspiring documentary Odd Hours, No Pay, Cool Hat.

This event is part of The Great Give Back, a statewide initiative encouraging New Yorkers to give back to their communities through volunteerism and service.

The film takes viewers behind the scenes of America's volunteer fire service, sharing the heartwarming, humorous, and thrilling stories of everyday people who answer the call to help their neighbors. It offers a glimpse into the dedication, challenges, and camaraderie that make volunteer firefighters such an important part of our communities. But the evening is about more than just a movie!

Following the screening, volunteers from the A.B. Shaw Fire Department and Mellenville Fire Department will be on hand to answer questions about volunteering and share their experiences. Attendees will also have the opportunity to see real firefighting gear and equipment up close and learn more about what it takes to serve as a volunteer firefighter.

AB SHAW FIRE CO.

MELLENVILLE FIRE CO.

"The strength of our volunteer fire service depends on having a robust group of people willing to step up and serve," says Thea Schoep, Director of the Claverack Free Library. "We have no paid firefighters in our community, so it's especially important that we recognize the neighbors who volunteer their time to keep us safe and encourage others to consider getting involved."

Whether you've ever considered joining a fire department, want to learn more about the people who protect our community, or simply enjoy a great movie with your neighbors, this event is for you! Light refreshments will be served, and free childcare will be available with advance registration, making it easier for families to join in the fun.

The Claverack Free Library is proud to participate in The Great Give Back and celebrate the neighbors who give their time, energy, and skills to help keep our communities safe.

Tyte Gallery is pleased to present Julia Whitney Barnes: Cyanopaintings and the Botanical World.

This exhibition will showcase lush botanical paintings based on the artist's interpretation of the 19th century Cyanotype photographic process. The exhibition opens with a public reception on Saturday, October 3, from 5:00 PM to 7:00 PM, and will remain on view through Sunday, November 15, 2026. Beginning with unique cyanotype prints on watercolor paper, Whitney Barnes builds her surfaces by painting multiple layers of watercolor, gouache, acrylic and ink, often integrating multiple plant species, many of which are gathered from the artist's Hudson Valley garden, into a single composition. Though grounded in painting, the artist's practice draws on a wide range of media that informs the layered quality of these works. The results are richly detailed images that honor the floral tradition while expanding it, offering contemporary interpretations of a time-honored genre. The Artist: Julia Whitney Barnes is an artist living in the Hudson Valley who works in a variety of media from cyanotypes, watercolor, oil paintings, ceramic sculptures, mural, and site-specific installations. She has exhibited widely in the United States and internationally. She was awarded fellowships from New York State Council on the Arts, Abbey Memorial Fund for Mural Painting/National Academy of Fine Arts, and the Gowanus Public Art Initiative, among others.

Born in Newbury, VT, Julia Whitney Barnes spent two decades in Brooklyn, before moving to Poughkeepsie in 2015. She received her BFA from Parsons School of Design and her MFA from Hunter College. Whitney Barnes has created site-specific installations at the Albany International Airport,

FilmColumbia 2026 to Honor Writer/Director Jane Schoenbrun, a Chatham Native From hidden gems to heavyweights, the fest serves up another banner year of unforgettable films

FilmColumbia, upstate New York’s premiere film festival, returns for another banner year this October 16 - 25 at the renovated Crandell Theatre in Chatham, NY. The 42 long-form and seven short films selected for this year’s ten-day programming slate are among the very best upcoming and as yet unreleased

American and international features, documentaries and shorts. Columbia County’s longest running film festival, FilmColumbia has showcased more than 750 films since its inception 26 years ago. Of those films, 158 have gone on to receive Academy Award nominations and 58 have won.

FilmColumbia is proud to celebrate filmmaker Jane Schoenbrun as this year’s festival honoree. The writer/director will be fêted at the annual Kick-Off Party on opening night, Oct. 16, at 7pm. Appetizers and buffet are provided by Bimi’s Canteen, a popular restaurant on Chatham’s Main Street. To purchase tickets to the Kick-Off Party honoring Schoenbrun, which includes admission to I Saw the TV Glow and her post-film Q&A prior to the party, visit: <https://crandelltheatre.org/film/kick-off-party-honoring-jane-schoenbrun/>.

A Chatham native, Schoenbrun recently released the critically acclaimed indie hit Teenage Sex and Death at Camp Miasma, a psychosexual, blood-soaked horror-comedy that hat-tips everything from Sunset Boulevard to the very best and worst of 1980s horror classics. It screened at the Crandell in August. Schoenbrun’s new novel, Public Access Afterworld, comes out on October 27. Pre-orders of the book will be available for purchase by FilmColumbia Kick-Off Party attendees or at the Crandell Theatre throughout the festival.

Several of the hotly anticipated films in FilmColumbia’s lineup already generated awards buzz at the Cannes, Venice, and Toronto film festivals earlier this year. Behemoth!, starring an astonishing Pedro Pascal and written and directed by Oscar winner Tony Gilroy (Michael Crayton), is a love letter to the music of the movies. The film’s cast includes Eva Victor, Olivia Wilde and Will Arnett.

At Cannes, Oscar-winner Ryusuke Hamaguchi (Drive My Car, 2022) electrified critics with his new film, All of a Sudden, which Variety hailed as an “unassumingly momentous miracle.” Two adult women in Paris, a director of a nursing home and a Japanese playwright, meet unexpectedly and soon, through a series of conversations, develop a friendship. Virginie Efira and Tao Okamoto shared the Best Actress award at the festival for their performances. The film is Japan’s official entry into the Academy Awards Best International Feature Film category.

Writer/director Jesse Eisenberg’s A Real Pain was a highlight of FilmColumbia 2024. His latest, The Debut, is already generating Oscar buzz. An uneasy comedy, the film follows suburban housewife Mona Friedman (Julianne Moore), who wins a part in a regional musical; she is directed by Jerry (Paul Giamatti), “the biggest name in New Jersey community theater.” Mona is eager but not particularly gifted; Jerry is a perfectionist.

Sparks fly, attitudes change, and Moore, Giamatti, and Eisenberg, who also wrote the songs for the fictional musical, are utterly delightful as amateur thespians. This way, way Off-Broadway production soars. See it on Monday, October 19 at 7:30pm.

Hidden gem The Condor Daughter, a magical and wondrous Bolivian film shot high in the Andes, is in the region’s native Quechua and Spanish, with English subtitles. Clara, the daughter of a Quechuan sacred singing midwife who attends tribal births, dreams of making it in the big city as a famous Chicha singer. See it on opening day, October 16 at 2:30pm.

This year, the annual free Children’s Program (Saturday, October 17, at 10:30 am) will be a curated selection of classic cartoons. Introduce your children and grandchildren to the cartoons you loved as a child! This free morning program is the festival’s gift to the community.

FilmColumbia is curated by Co-Executive and Co-Artistic Directors Peter Biskind and Laurence Kardish. Biskind is a nationally recognized film historian, cultural critic and best-selling author. Kardish is senior curator emeritus for film and media at the Museum of Modern Art in New York. The festival is run by longtime Festival Director Calliope Nicholas, who is also Chief Operating Officer at Millay Arts in Austerlitz, NY.

All FilmColumbia tickets, including All-Film Passes, go on sale to Crandell Theatre Members Only on Friday, September 25 at 12pm, and to the general public on Friday, October 2 at 12pm. For more about ticket prices, visit: <https://crandelltheatre.org/filmcolumbia/ticket-info-2/>

The film program, which includes several special events and filmmaker Q&As, is live online at <https://crandelltheatre.org/filmcolumbia/schedule/>.

The printed program is also available for download at <https://crandelltheatre.org/>.

A week before the festival, the Crandell’s landing page will transition to FilmColumbia.

About the Crandell

The Crandell Theatre is a 501(c)(3), nonprofit community cinema in Chatham, NY. It is one of only 54 independent, single-screen movie theaters left in the United States and one of a handful left in the Hudson Valley. The theater is supported by ticket sales and earned revenue, contributions of members and friends, and private Ghost Stories of the Hudson Valley to be presented in the Widow Jane Mine in Rosendale.

Theatre on the Road, a traveling company based in Rosendale, New York, will produce and stage Ghost Stories of the Hudson in the Widow Jane Mine in Rosendale on Friday, October 2nd, Saturday, October 3rd and Sunday, October 5th at 7:00 pm. Producer and writer Frank Marquette will perform as host, The Night Watchman.

Frank Marquette describes the presentation as follows: “As the 18th century colonist The Night Watchman, I will tell some tales associated with the Hudson River valley beginning with Henry Hudson in 1609. As I approach the 19th century and the ghost train of Abraham Lincoln and the hauntings at West Point and the Ulster County Jail, you’ll be introduced to four historic characters, each representing different facets of local history. Whether you believe in ghosts or not, I’ve learned over the years that this is an entertaining and engaging way to introduce local history.”

The 18th and 19th century historic characters making appearances and telling their stories include: Governor George Clinton, a Revolutionary War soldier and statesman, the first governor of New York State and the fourth Vice-President of the United States.

Julia Dillion, an artist and Kingston native who broke the mold by running an ironworks company in the 19th century. Mama Nuchwe, a member of the Esopus tribe will talk about life before the arrival of the Dutch settlers.

Thomas Cornell, a 19th century businessman and politician who was instrumental in the growth of the local shipping, canal, railroad and hotel industries.

This presentation is family-friendly. Tickets are $20 and can be purchased by visiting www.centuryhouse.org. For information call 845-658-9900 or 845-475-7973. Theatre on the Road is the creation of actor, writer and director Frank Marquette and wife and producing partner, Kristen. Producing plays for educational, charitable and private events since 1998, they offer original scripts, professional actors, period styling and handmade costumes. Original productions include Poe’s Last Mystery, Voices from the Past, Whiskey Women, A Taste of Shakespeare and seasonal living history tours in Kingston, Hurley and Rhinebeck.

Arts Mid-Hudson Presents
40th Annual Dutchess County Executive’s Arts Awards

The Dutchess County art scene is set to shine as Arts Mid-Hudson proudly presents the 40th Annual Dutchess County Executive’s Arts Awards. This year’s awards ceremony, to be held on Wednesday, October 7 at The Roundhouse, will celebrate eight remarkable individuals and organizations who have made outstanding contributions to the arts in Dutchess County. The event will begin with food and drinks at 5:30 p.m., followed by the awards presentation at 7:00 p.m. Attendees will gather to honor this year’s awardees, each recognized for their unique impact on the local arts community. The community nominates the recipients who are chosen based on their important contribution to the growth of Dutchess County’s cultural life over a significant period of time, the extraordinary support they show for the arts, and/or their vision and leadership in using the arts to enhance community life. Dutchess County Executive Sue Serino said, “In Dutchess County we celebrate every form art takes, whether its music or dance, theater or poetry, or the visual arts, every creative spark shapes the heartbeat of our community. We are so grateful to Arts Mid-Hudson for continuing the Dutchess Arts Awards tradition, ensuring the arts remain a vibrant force throughout our region. This year’s honorees stand as powerful examples of how creativity uplifts, connects, and strengthens residents and visitors alike. Congratulations to all of the honorees; thank you for the impact your work carries forward.” Arts Mid-Hudson Executive Director Melissa Dvozenja-Thomas said, “For 40 years, the Dutchess County Executive’s Arts Awards have celebrated the artists, organizations, businesses, and community leaders whose creativity helps shape Dutchess County. Reaching this milestone is an opportunity not only to honor this year’s remarkable awardees, but also to recognize the generations of people who have invested their talent, passion, and leadership in our creative community. This year’s theme, ‘Harvesting Creativity,’ reminds us that a thriving arts and cultural landscape is something we cultivate together, and we are incredibly proud to celebrate those whose work continues to make Dutchess County a vibrant place to live, work, and visit.”

Date: Wednesday, October 7, 2026

Stacey Burgay is a New York–based artist, creative producer, and Founder of That Creative Space. After years in television and advertising, Stacey—a lifelong maker—found herself disconnected after she stopped creating art. A continuing education mixed media class at Parsons became her path back to herself. After losing her job in 2024, she looked around Beacon and saw a need for affordable studio space and a welcoming place where adults could explore creativity. She opened That Creative Space in September 2025, believing creativity brings people together and strengthens community. Since then, the studio has welcomed more than 200 students and was voted Chronogram Readers’ Choice #3 Best Art Class in the Hudson Valley.

Nicole Asendorf is an artist, arts educator, and owner of Hoshyla Farms in Manorville, New York. Since 2007, she has inspired creativity through private instruction, public schools, and as an Art Specialist for the Department of Defense. Her work is known for its expressive use of color and texture, evolving from abstract painting to landscapes inspired by nature. Working primarily in oil and acrylic, she incorporates resin and organic textures to create richly layered pieces that capture the tranquility and energy of the outdoors. Through her art, Nicole invites viewers to slow down, reflect, and reconnect with nature.

Arts Organization: Mid-Hudson Discovery Museum

Founded in 1989, the Mid-Hudson Discovery Museum has become a regional leader in youth arts programming and creative learning. For more than three decades, MHDM has helped children discover their voices through visual art, performance, storytelling, design, and imaginative play. Its Art Studio, interactive exhibits, school and library partnerships, community festivals, outdoor arts experiences, and accessible family programs have brought high-quality arts education to generations of Hudson Valley children. From its beginnings as a small children’s museum to its home on Poughkeepsie’s waterfront, MHDM remains committed to making the arts joyful, inclusive, and central to how young people learn, connect, and see themselves.

Business: Hudson Valley Hospice Music Therapy Team

Founded in 2003 by music therapy pioneer Dr. Russell Hilliard, Hudson Valley Hospice’s Music Therapy Program has become a hallmark of compassionate, innovative end-of-life care. Using the power of music to comfort, connect and heal, the program helps patients and families ease anxiety, foster communication and create meaningful memories. Established in 2004, the Music Therapy Internship Program has mentored 75 students worldwide. Under the leadership of Terry Blaine, LCAT, MT-BC, since 2008, the program has grown to include ten board-certified music therapists and three interns providing care in homes, hospitals, nursing homes and the Hospice House, advancing Hudson Valley Hospice’s commitment to comfort, dignity and compassion.

Individual Artist: Rachel Handler

Rachel Handler is a writer, filmmaker & actor known for her stint as Peg Leg Doris on AMC’s “Interview With the Vampire” and her award-winning Slamdance films “Committed” and “HOW MUCH AM I WORTH?” Other acting credits include, “Best Foot Forward,” “NCIS: New Orleans,” “New Amsterdam,” and “The Upside.” Handler became an amputee after a car accident. She believes deeply in the power of stories to create social change and is passionate about healthcare and human rights. Her awards include the AT&T Underrepresented Filmmaker Award, Best Writer, Best Awareness, and Best Actor in the Disability Film Challenge, and Best International Film in Focus on Ability. Think DIFFERENTLY in the Arts: Andre West Andre West is a talented artist whose creative journey has grown from drawing cartoon superheroes to creating a diverse collection of expressive characters. His dedication and artistic growth have earned him recognition in the community, including a featured two-month art exhibition at Adriance Public Library in Poughkeepsie, where he was honored for his exceptional talent. Accompanied by a heartfelt story written by his mother, the exhibit celebrated both his artistic ability and inspiring journey. Though quiet and soft-spoken, Andre communicates powerfully through his artwork, bringing joy to those who admire his creations. His passion shines from his personal art studio and in every work he produces. Andre’s story will also be featured in an upcoming direct mail campaign, reaching thousands of homes and inspiring others to pursue their dreams. In recognition of his remarkable achievements and positive impact, Andre is proud to be honored with the 2026 Dutchess County Executive’s Arts Award.

Youth with Exceptional Promise in the Arts: Jonah Sebastian P. Espinosa

Jonah Sebastian Espinosa is a recent graduate of Beacon High School and has been most involved with the Beacon Players, the school’s drama program. He loves performing and has been involved in several shows for the Beacon Performing Arts Center and Beacon Players’ productions. Some roles he’s played include Chip (Beauty and the Beast), Troy (High School Musical Jr.), Jesus (Godspell Jr.), Enjolras (Les Misérables), the Phantom (Phantom of the Opera), Don Quixote (Man of La Mancha), Nathan Detroit (Guys and Dolls), Laurie (Little Women), Jekyll/Hyde (Jekyll & Hyde), and most recently Paul (A Chorus Line). Jonah plans to continue to pursue his passion of the arts through a BFA in Acting at the Carnegie Mellon University School of Drama! *Arts Mid-Hudson is the leading nonprofit arts service organization dedicated to enriching the Mid-Hudson region through the arts. Since 1964, Arts Mid-Hudson has been at the forefront of initiatives that engage and promote the arts, providing invaluable support and resources to artists, arts organizations, and communities.
