By Hilary Hart
Remember the ads on TV where a car is sitting in someone’s driveway with a big red holiday gift bow on it? That could be for someone you know this year – or for YOU!! Owner Tim Melino’s friendly and easy-going manner may fool you into thinking his Greenport Auto Sales business is casual with him, but don’t be fooled – this man knows a lot about vehicles of all sorts, foreign and domestic, and runs an incredible business.

Greenport Auto Sales opened its doors at 401 Fairview Avenue in Hudson, NY (12534 for you GPS people) almost fifteen years ago and has been continually expanding ever since. Now they are planning further expansion into the service/maintenance and repair end of the business soon. They already are a New York State registered repair shop, with Tim’s son Brad running most of that part of the operation, but soon they will be doing even more. Their expanded repair facility will be offering a larger variety of services, including brake work, tires, and mechanical services,

Brad Melino & Tim Melino

The Germantown Holiday Stroll... Locals Planning for a Day of Festive Fun

By Joe Doran
The joy of Christmastime is in giving. No matter the holiday trappings, that’s the spirit of the season. Unfortunately, with online shopping at just a few huge retailers becoming so prevalent, the process of getting gifts can feel disconnected from the season, and not particularly pleasurable.

The Germantown Holiday Stroll, set this year for December 7th, is more than just a way to pick out something for a loved ones and friends. It’s a great way to enjoy the journey, connect with local community, and experience some of the traditional holiday sights and sounds. Whether it’s watching a child meet Santa, or the lighting of the tree in the town square, the Germantown Holiday Stroll puts a little more of that treasured joy into the holidays.

“The event is something that Germantown has been doing for a long time,” says Tracy Martin, of Otto’s Market and the Germantown Laundromat. “It’s a way to do something for the community, bring people together, and have fun! It’s also meant to support the small businesses here in Germantown, and encourage people when out doing their holiday shopping, to shop local. It’s important to give a boost to makers and small businesses in the hamlet. And it’s a great way to all get together to celebrate and support one another.”

There are some neat activities, bargains and entertainment that Holiday Strollers can expect along the way, according to Tracy. “This year there is going to be a holiday window decor competition between the hamlet businesses, with the winner receiving a gift certificate to Lawlor’s Package Store. We have a tree that we just put up in the hamlet square, and the it’s going to be lit as part of the festivities, at 5:30pm.”

ACCORDING TO QUACKERS

Wassailing and Yulesinging

The tradition of wassailing (also spelled wasselling) falls into two distinct categories: the house-visiting wassail and the orchard-visiting wassail. The house-visiting wassail is the practice of people going door-to-door, singing and offering a drink from the wassail bowl in exchange for gifts; this practice still exists, but has largely been displaced by caroling. The orchard-visiting wassail refers to the ancient custom of visiting orchards in cider-producing regions of England, reciting incantations and singing to the trees to promote a good harvest for the coming year.

The word wassail comes from the Anglo-Saxon greeting Wæs þu hæl, meaning “be thou hale”—i.e., “be in good health”.

Traditionally, the wassail is celebrated on Twelfth Night (variously on either January 5 or 6). Some people still wassail on “Old Twelvey Night”, January 17, as it would have been before the introduction of the Gregorian Calendar in 1752.

In the middle ages, the wassail was a reciprocal exchange between the feudal lords and their peasants as a form of recipient-initiated charitable giving, to be distinguished from begging.

The lord of the manor would give food and drink to the peasants in exchange for their blessing and goodwill.

This would be given in the form of the song being sung. Wassailing is the background practice against which an English carol such as “We Wish You a Merry Christmas” can be made sense of. The carol lies in the English tradition where wealthy people of the community gave Christmas treats to the carolers on Christmas Eve such as ‘figgy puddings’.

Although wassailing is often described in innocuous and sometimes nostalgic terms—still practiced in some parts of Scotland and Northern England on New Years Day as “first-footing”—the practice in England has not always been considered so innocent. Similar traditions have also been traced to Greece and the country of Georgia. Wassailing was associated with rowdy bands of young men who would enter the homes of wealthy neighbours and demand free food and drink (in a manner similar to the modern children’s Halloween practice of trick-or-treating). If the householder refused, he was usually cursed, and occasionally his house was vandalized. The example of the exchange is seen in their demand for “figgy pudding” and “good cheer”, i.e., the wassail beverage, without which the wassailers in the song will not leave; “We won’t go until we get some, so bring some out here”.

In the cider-producing West of England (primarily the counties of Devon, Somerset, Dorset, Gloucestershire and Herefordshire) wassailing also refers to drinking (and singing) to the health of trees in the hopes that they might better thrive. The purpose of wassailing is to awake the cider apple trees and to scare away evil spirits to ensure a good harvest of fruit in the autumn.

The Importance of Spreading Local Joy

The trend towards online holiday shopping has only accelerated in the past few years. Local businesses are responding, of course, by becoming part of that online presence. But the penchant of consumers to shop just at few large e-commerce websites is a problem.

Website consultants websitesetups.org recently compiled statistics about the trends from over a dozen different authoritative sources, including the National Retail Foundation and Experian. Among their findings:

- Holiday retail sales crossed the $1 trillion mark for the first time in 2018.
- The average American shopper spent $846 on gifts in 2018 — a 14 percent increase from 2017.
- The average holiday shopper purchased about 16 gifts in 2018.
- Holiday e-commerce sales were responsible for $126 billion in 2018 — a 16.5 percent increase from the $108.2 billion generated in 2017.
- In 2018, Cyber Monday generated $7.9 billion in online sales — making it the biggest sales day in US e-commerce history.

There's some good news for brick and mortars and local entrepreneurs. Black Friday, for example, is still the largest shopping day of the year. It's the busiest traffic day of the year, so there's no doubt people are getting out of the house. And 56 percent of shoppers believe that Black Friday is when they can get some of the best deals on items like electronics, clothing and toys.

Local businesses are becoming much more focused on proactive promotion to help them respond and thrive. They're using chambers of commerce, coordination with local municipalities, and online resources and networking, to do it. According to LocalIQ, a news blog of USA Today, there are several key things people can do to help local businesses during the holiday shopping season. They can participate in "Small Business Saturday", a national day of awareness meant to drive traffic to local businesses. It's the Saturday after Black Friday.

Keeping an eye out for local Maker's Markets, and seasonal festivals like the Germantown Holiday Stroll, is another major way to keep it local. And don't forget to opt for local business gift certificates, when shopping for friends and family. People enjoy getting out to the scenic towns of the Hudson region, but a gift certificate incentive gives them that much more incentive to do it.

The Support of Jack Frost Will Be Appreciated Like any near winter-time event in the Hudson Valley, the success of the Germantown Holiday Stroll will get a boost if the weather cooperates. "Turnout is totally weather dependent, which is why we're having it as early on in December as possible. We also have a rain date set for December 8th" says Tracy. "It's hard to predict just how many people might be there, but we hope a couple of hundred people will turn out throughout the day. Hopefully they'll spend quality time wandering around and enjoying the holiday cheer."

Theatre On The Road celebrates their 20th anniversary performance of the Charles Dickens classic with a commemorative CD of carols sung by show performers.

This season, don't just watch the story unfold, be a part of it during Theatre On The Road's interactive dinner-theatre performance of Charles Dickens' A Christmas Carol. Kick off the holiday season with merry songs, laughter, and heart-warming nostalgia as actors and carolers bring the story to life at the historic Beekman Arms in Rhinebeck, on Wednesday, December 11 at 7 pm and Sunday, December 22 at 1 pm and 5 pm.

This event features a sumptuous three-course meal following a reception where guests meet Ebenezer Scrooge, Tiny Tim, Nephew Fred, and carolers in authentic Victorian costume. Audience members are encouraged to interact with the Dickens' characters throughout the performance. "Theatre on the Road's dinner theater presentation of A Christmas Carol has become a holiday tradition at The Beekman Arms. The actors and singers are professional and engage the audience much to our delight. We look forward to hosting them every year." - Brenda Catalano, The Beekman Arms, Rhinebeck, NY

Adapted from Charles Dickens' classic, the production is a tribute to the spirit of a traditional holiday, with script written by Theatre On The Road founders Frank and Kristen Marquette. This year marks the fifth consecutive year that the traveling theatre troupe will produce this event at the Beekman Arms, and the show's 20th year in production overall. In honor of this anniversary, a commemorative CD featuring songs and scenes by the show's cast is available for purchase. The album includes 10 carols sung by actors and five short vignettes featuring Scrooge, Tiny Tim, the ghost of Marley, and the Cratchit family. The CD is for sale at all performances in December, and online at theatreontheroad.com, for $15.

"There's no better way to feel the enchantment of the holiday season than by gathering with friends and family to enjoy a performance of this holiday classic over a delicious, three-course meal at the beautiful and historic Beekman Arms," says cofounder Frank Marquette.

"And now you can take the magic home with you with our commemorative CD." Admission includes dinner and the performance, priced at $75 per person (includes tax and gratuity). For tickets visit www.theatreontheroad.com and information call 845-475-7973.

On Saturday December 14, 2019 at 5:00 p.m. PS 21 will present two celebrated 20th century chamber works, played by Ensemble Connect.

Ensemble Connect is a group of extraordinary classical musicians who take part in a two-year fellowship program created by a partnership of Carnegie Hall, The Julliard School, the Weill Music Institute and the New York City Department of Education. It has been acclaimed for its "energy and virtuosity" and its ability to actively engage any audience. Poulenc's Trio for Oboe, Bassoon and Piano (1926) is the French composer's first mature work of chamber music, loved for its "clarity," unpretentious "youthful verve", tonality and effervescence. It is the only standard work for this unusual combination of instruments. Massiaen's Quartet for the End of Time was written while Messiaen was a prisoner of war at the Nazi's Stalag VIII-A camp, for the unusual combination of piano, clarinet, violin and cello - reflecting the instruments and players who were available at the camp. Its eight movements balance religious certainties with a sense of longing, with titles drawn from the biblical Revelation to John. The music varies from the simple to the complex, from nimble and dancelike, to floating, open harmonies to pulsing fury. The work is considered "majestic" and transcendent. Following the concert, the audience is invited to a reception with the artists, a holiday toast and a festive dessert. Advance tickets are $25 general/$20 members/$10 students. Tickets at the door are $30 general/$25 members/$10 students. For more information go to PS21chatham.org, or, tel. 518-392-6121. The PS 21 theater is located at 2980 NY-66, one mile outside Chatham, NY 12037.

Rhinebeck Has a Brand New Art Gallery.

And its name is Art Gallery 71. Opening day was Nov. 16, 2019. A very well attended reception was held 4-8 PM. The installation contained a great diversity of paintings and photos by local Hudson Valley artists.

Paintings were sold. We love red dots. Fun was had. DM catered the event and did an amazing job.

Support local artists and enjoy your visit if only to browse. Perhaps you might find something you want to take home.

It's located at 71 E Market St #5 in Rhinebeck, NY 12571, right across from the fire station. During winter months it's open Friday 11-7, Saturday 10-8 & Sunday 11-3. (845) 516-4878.

OLD DUTCH VILLAGE GARDEN CLUB

Think Small for Holiday Cheer. At the November meeting of the Old Dutch Village Garden Club we welcomed Donna Croshier who is a Master Gardener Volunteer at Dutchess County Cornell Cooperative Extension. Ms. Croshier presented an informative talk on Small Space options for the holiday season. Many people live in smaller accommodations and just have no room or inclination to decorate extravagantly. However, as the weather gets colder and the holidays approach, a bit of cheer would be just the ticket. She brought several examples of just what one could put together with a minimal amount of effort and few "ingredients". There were pinecones with glued on berries and touches of white paint sparkling with glitter. A big pinecone masqueraded as a Christmas tree! A few purchased snowman ornaments and some shiny silver balls encircled with a wide silvery ribbon in a glass vase was another. The numerous slides showed some relaxing pale blue chunky candles on a white tray sprinkled with ersatz snow. Perfect for Hanukkah. There were many small examples to prepare your home to be ready and cheerful. In early November the club held an evening meeting about roses at the Community Center which was well attended. It gave folks who cannot attend during the day an opportunity to meet new friends and see what the garden club does. Winter is not conducive to driving and once it gets dark, well, you just don't want to go out so we will not have another one until hibernation is over. It's time to do more decorating. Some members of the Garden Club went to Provost Park in Tivoli to do just that. Large jardinières were filled with greens, bittersweet and white branches to place in the common area and beribboned wreaths hung along entrances. It looks great. Last year Red Hook Commons was decorated and will be done again this year. Soon our Memorial Garden as you enter Red Hook will be transformed from Fall to Winter with bright lights and wreaths. December is upon us and we will be celebrating the season with our annual luncheon which will be at the Beekman Arms. We will meet again in January to begin the year, as is our wont, with homemade delicious soups. Fantastic! We meet at St. John's Reformed Church in Upper Red Hook at 12:30 on the second Thursday of each month, except for August. New members and visitors are always welcome. Please contact Linda Lawson at 845-758-5653 for additional information.

Folk/Blues Music Legend Geoff Muldaur at Spencertown Academy

Spencertown Academy Roots & Shoots Concerts Series presents folk/blues music legend Geoff Muldaur on Saturday, December 14 at 8:00pm. General admission tickets ($25 public, $20 Academy members, and $10 students) may be purchased in advance via www.spencertownacademy.org and, pending availability, will be available at the door.

"Geoff Muldaur was here, there, and everywhere in the '60s, and has kept true to his inspirations in the decades since, while expanding his vision and his reach," says Gerald Seligman, member of the Academy's Music Committee. "Now, he comes to Spencertown Academy in a format that best showcases his talents—solo—in an environment with the intimacy of a small folk club."

Guitarist, singer, songwriter, composer, and arranger Muldaur is one of the great voices and musical forces to emerge from the folk, blues, and folk-rock scenes centered in Cambridge, MA and Woodstock, NY. During the 1960s and '70s, Muldaur made a series of highly influential recordings as a founding member of the Jim Kweskin Jug Band and the Paul Butterfield's Better Days group, as well as collaborations with then-wife Maria Muldaur and other notables (Bonnie Raitt, Eric Von Schmidt, Jerry Garcia). He has composed scores for film and television and produced off-beat albums for the likes of Lenny Pickett and the Borneo Horns and the Richard Greene String Quartet. His definitive recording of "Brazil" provided the seed for—and was featured in—Terry Gilliam's film of the same title.

Muldaur is what's known as a 'musicians' musician.' "Geoff has always been one of my favorite singers," says Bonnie Raitt and Loudon Wainwright III deems him "one of my musical heroes." Richard Thompson sums up his admiration this way: "There are only three white blues singers, and Geoff Muldaur is at least two of them."

Roots & Shoots Concerts is a monthly series that showcases artists who reach back to earlier traditions in music (Americana, jazz, blues, rock, and world music) for inspiration, while incorporating more recent forms and influences of the present. Upcoming shows include The Nields (January 18), Tracy Grammer (February 22), Embe Esti with special guest Rob Fisch (March 21), Jim Kweskin (April 4), Rachele Garniez (May

2), and The Kennedys (June 6). Founded in 1972, Spencertown Academy Arts Center is a cultural center and community resource serving Columbia County, the Berkshires, and the Capital region. Housed in a landmark 1847 Greek Revival schoolhouse, the Academy is located at 790 State Route 203 in Spencertown, New York. For more information, please see www.spencertownacademy.org or call 518-392-3693.

A GILDED AGE CHRISTMAS AT STAATSBURGH STATE HISTORIC SITE

NOV. 29 – DEC. 31

Staatsburgh State Historic Site will present A Gilded Age Christmas, featuring lavish decorations in a Gilded Age mansion, from late November through New Year's Eve. The decorations are done in turn-of-the-century style, recreating the atmosphere of holidays long-ago at one of the great estates of the Hudson Valley.

"Each year, the mansion receives a different decorative scheme," says site manager, Pam Malcolm: "The theme this year includes a design in the dining room featuring the Nutcracker. The historic rooms are filled with Christmas trees, garlands, lights and our annual tradition of tucking mouse houses into the historic rooms for kids to locate. The mouse houses are inspired by a children's book—Mr. Willowby's Christmas Tree—about a rich man in a mansion who has to cut down his enormous Christmas tree, and shares part of it with a mouse who lives in his walls."

Staatsburgh will open for the holiday season on Friday, November 29. Touring hours will be Thursday through Sunday from 11 a.m. to 3 p.m. through December 31. Additional open hours include special evening hours on Friday December 20, from 5 p.m. to 8 p.m.; and December 30 and 31 (Monday and Tuesday) from 11 a.m. until 3 p.m. The site will be closed December 23-25. Admission is $8 per person; $6 for seniors and students; children age 12 and younger are free. The mansion's gift shop offers many wonderful gift items for holiday shopping and is open whenever the site is open.

"We have many special holiday craft and kids' programs during A Gilded Age Christmas," says Malcolm, "including during school vacation. Our Facebook page has listings for all events and programs: www.facebook.com/StaatsburghSHS"

Staatsburgh was the Gilded Age country home of financier and philanthropist Ogden Mills and his wife, Ruth Livingston Mills, a prominent figure in New York Society. Their stately home, overlooking the Hudson River in the hamlet of Staatsburgh, was redesigned and expanded to 79 rooms in 1895 by the famous architect Stanford White.

Staatsburgh State Historic Site and the Ogden Mills & Ruth Livingston Mills Memorial State Park are located on Old Post Road in Staatsburgh, off Route 9 between Rhinebeck and Hyde Park. The historic site is one of 6 sites and 15 parks administered by the Taconic Region of New York State Office of Parks, Recreation and Historic Preservation. For more information, call 845-889-8851, or visit Staatsburgh's websites at <https://parks.ny.gov/historic-sites/25/details.aspx> www.facebook.com/StaatsburghSHS and www.staatsburghstatehistoricsite.blogspot.com. Staatsburgh's events are listed at <https://parks.ny.gov/events/>

The New York State Office of Parks, Recreation and Historic Preservation oversees more than 250 parks, historic sites, recreational trails, golf courses, boat launches and more, which are visited by 74 million people annually. A recent study found that New York State Parks generates $5 billion in park and visitor spending, which supports nearly 54,000 jobs. Once repaired with laser technology, things will look as good as new - if not better! He can work with the most basic designs or the most intricate. Michael is often referred for his quality work and has repaired and designed pieces as far away as California.

Some people find jewelry stores intimidating, and the people who own and staff them the same -- not so at 14K Jewelers. There is a simple elegance about the store, not like the often - overdone, ornate interiors of some jewelry stores. Nancy manages the retail and customer service end of the business and their sons enjoy working side by side with their parents whenever possible. All

WOMEN'S SUFFRAGE LECTURE COMING TO THE PINE PLAINS FREE LIBRARY

For centuries, women have allowed themselves to be squeezed, twisted, and squished to conform to desired shapes. The history of underwear reveals a lot about women's changing roles in society - how we perceive ourselves, and how we're viewed by others. The 1910s saw an end to the hourglass figure with a tiny waist. Women were finally able to breathe and move more freely. Did the demise of tightlacing help women gain the right to vote in 1920? Underwear matters. Herstory Unsanitized presentations explore the engrossing "taboo" subjects omitted from history. When a zany teacher and grounded green witch join forces, they create Grounded Goodwife. Velya Jancz-Urban's gregarious personality and Ehris Urban's serene energy enable this mother/daughter duo to connect with audiences. Their delivery is funny and frank. Laugh, grimace, and honor our foremothers' journeys. This lecture is free and open to the public. You do not need a library card, or to be a Pine Plains resident to attend.

is interested in a priceless piece, it is obvious that all the people at 14K really enjoy helping people find just what they want.

14K provides an array of services and everything is done on premise. They do full jewelry repair, as well as eye glass repair and watch repair, including battery replacement. They also engrave on premise and all services are done in a timely manner. They even have great "stocking stuffer" gifts and ornaments in several different styles that can be engraved and personalized. This really is a store where there is something for everyone.

Customized jewelry is one of the specialty services they offer, and they have many loyal customers who wouldn't think of going anywhere else for their special occasion. There's much to be said about working with a local establishment that stands beside their work, both its quality and its authenticity. Today, they point out, some people buy jewelry online and then bring it to 14K to have it sized or repaired. Unfortunately, they sometimes have to inform people that what they bought was not what they thought it was or paid for. Many times, if the price seems too good to be true, people may not be getting the quality they think they are getting.

Jewelry has been around for all of recorded history, not only as adornment, but also as symbolic of cultural and traditional beliefs. It is important. As the selection of jewelry has grown over the years, so has the technology for creating, presenting and preserving it. 14K Jewelry Store Inc., with the advanced technology and expertise it brings is the ideal

The Franklin D. Roosevelt Presidential Library and Museum presents a Pearl Harbor Day author talk and book signing with Lew Paper author of IN THE CAULDRON: TERROR, TENSION, AND THE AMERICAN AMBASSADOR'S STRUGGLE TO AVOID PEARL HARBOR

Saturday, December 7, 2019 at 2:00 p.m.

Henry A. Wallace Center at the FDR Presidential Library and Home Visit www.fdrlibrary.org to register The Franklin D. Roosevelt Presidential Library and Museum presents a Pearl Harbor Day author talk and book signing with Lew Paper author of IN THE CAULDRON: TERROR, TENSION, AND THE AMERICAN AMBASSADOR'S STRUGGLE TO AVOID PEARL HARBOR on Saturday, December 7, 2019 at 2:00 p.m. The program will be held in the

Henry A. Wallace Center at the FDR Presidential Library and Home. This is a free public event but registration is required. Visit www.fdrlibrary.org to register. Synopsis: IN THE CAULDRON is the story of Joseph Grew, America's ambassador to Japan, and his frantic effort in the months before the Pearl Harbor attack to orchestrate an agreement between Japan and the United States to avoid the war he saw coming. It is a story filled with hope and heartache, with complex and fascinating characters, and with a drama befitting the momentous decisions at stake. In those months before the Pearl Harbor attack, Japan and the United States were locked in a battle of wills. President Franklin D. Roosevelt's economic sanctions were - m o r e - crippling Japan. America's noose was tightening around Japan's neck -- but the country's leaders refused to yield to American demands. In this cauldron of boiling tensions, Joseph Grew offered many recommendations to break the deadlock. Having resided and worked in Tokyo for almost ten years, Grew understood what Roosevelt and his administration back home did not: that the Japanese would rather face annihilation than endure the humiliation of surrendering to American pressure. Relying on Grew's diaries, letters and memos, interviews with members of the families of Grew and his staff, and an abundance of other primary source materials, Lew Paper presents the gripping story of Grew's effort to halt the downward spiral of Japan's relations with the United States. Grew had to wrestle with an American government that would not listen to him -- and simultaneously confront an increasingly hostile environment in Japan, where pervasive surveillance, arbitrary arrest, and even unspeakable torture by Japan's secret police were constant threats. Lew Paper is the author of OF JOHN F. KENNEDY: THE PROMISE AND THE PERFORMANCE; BRANDEIS: AN INTIMATE BIOGRAPHY; EMPIRE: WILLIAM S. PALEY AND THE MAKING OF CBS; DEADLY RISKS (a novel revolving around the assassination of John F. Kennedy); and PERFECT: DON LARSEN'S MIRACULOUS WORLD SERIES GAME AND THE MEN WHO MADE IT HAPPEN. Lew's articles and book reviews have appeared in a variety of newspapers and magazines, including the New York Times, The Washington Post, The New Republic, and The American Scholar. He is a former Adjunct Professor at Georgetown University Law Center and a former Teaching Fellow in Government at Harvard College. - m o r e -

A HOLIDAY "HISTORY MYSTERY" FOR CHILDREN AT STAATSBURGH STATE HISTORIC SITE

SUNDAYS IN DECEMBER, 1:00 - 3:00 PM

Staatsburgh State Historic Site will host The Holiday Whodunit, a mystery for children, every Sunday afternoon this December. Children ages 6 to 11 and their family members can come anytime between the hours of 1 p.m. and 2:30 p.m. to attend the program. The children become detectives and solve a mystery by interviewing costumed interpreters, who portray Gilded Age houseguests and servants. One of Staatsburgh's most popular programs, the Holiday Whodunit has become an annual tradition for many families, who come each December to enjoy the holiday decorations and crack another Gilded Age case.

While the children question suspects, their parents can enjoy decorations that evoke the spirit of the turn of the century. Staatsburgh's holiday décor reflects the style of Gilded Age

Christmases, from the over-the-top dining room ornamentation to the old fashioned plain white gift wrap paper used on presents heaped under the mansion's 18-foot Christmas tree. The tree is decorated with electric lights, as trees might have been in other mansions of the period. Tree lighting was an early application of electricity, first used by one of Thomas Edison's engineers on his Christmas tree at home.

Parents should plan about an hour for the children to make their way through the mansion. After an introduction to the mystery, the children go room to room interviewing suspects to uncover clues. In each room, between not too hard and not too easy," said Staatsburgh Educator, Donald Fraser. "We want a mystery that is easy enough that a 6-year-old could figure it out, maybe with some help from the parents, but not so easy that an 11-year-old would see through it right away. If the children pay close attention, they'll pick up the clues that will help them deduce the one right answer."

All ballots will be entered in a drawing for a prize, to be awarded after the Holiday Whodunit is over at the end of December. Winners will receive a $20 gift certificate from The Holiday Whodunit's sponsors, Oblong Books & Music and the Friends of Mills at Staatsburgh.

the Elemendorph Inn. That's a trip of about 160 miles. By car, it's three hours with no traffic; by carriage, it's around 20 hours. The Albany Post Road is actually a good example of how technology has changed the way we do things, including moving the mail....from stage coaches that carried letters that the recipient (not the sender) paid for, to rural delivery, to today's mail that arrives in your mail box two days after it was sent from San Francisco or Seattle. They also talked about other technologies that effected mail, such as the telegraph that put the Pony Express out of business, zeppelins and, later, airplanes that carried ever more letters, and, now, fewer and fewer letters as they are being replaced by cell phones, email, electronic bill paying, as well as texting and all forms of social media. At the end of the session, all the kids left with a packet of stamps. The members of StampTrotters welcome both experts and folks just beginning. Our youngest member is 7, and she comes with her grandmother. We meet twice each month on the second and fourth Thursdays of each month (only the second for November and December) at the VFW in Red Hook. We have a website where you can get more information (<https://www.stamptrotters.net/>) or call 518-821-5467 (you'll talk to Brad, who runs our web site and specializes in Swiss cantonal issues)

The World of Stamps

One would expect to be able to learn about the moon walk, now 50 years ago, join Cinderella as she slips on the errant shoe, walk among British kings and queens, starting with Queen Elizabeth and ending with Queen Elizabeth, or explore distant lands such as Bohemia and Moravia, Czechoslovakia, or Ceylon any time one enters the library because, to paraphrase Simon and Garfunkle, it's all happening at the library. And, one evening earlier this month, that's exactly what was happening, although the 14 kids from Red Hook elementary school and several home schools weren't opening books, looking at videos, or doing online research. Instead, they were exploring the world of stamps and the worlds that stamps can open. Charlie Steele, Bud Weaver, and George Jahn, three members of a local stamp club, StampTrotters of the Hudson Valley, were there to use stamps to show kids how stamps open new worlds and new vistas. They all took US stamps that commemorated our 50 states and matched a stamp with a state on a map. They were joined by Red Hook library staff members Renee Zhang and Paul Agne. Amy Smith, Director of Programs & Youth Services at the library, had arranged the meeting. Red Hook was an important stop for travelers on the way between New York City and Albany. The men talked about Albany Post Road, which really referred to the post that travelled between the cities in the coaches that would stop at

Figgy Pudding

Ingredients

1/2 cup (1 stick) butter, plus more for greasing
 1 cup boiling water, plus more as needed
 3 tablespoons brandy
 1 pound dried figs
 3/4 cup granulated sugar
 3 eggs
 1 1/2 cups all-purpose flour
 1 teaspoon baking powder
 1/2 teaspoon ground cinnamon
 1/2 teaspoon salt
 Confectioners' sugar, for dusting

Directions

Preheat the oven to 350 degrees F. Grease an 11-cup Bundt pan. Melt the butter in a medium saucepan set over medium heat. Continue cooking until the butter turns golden brown, then transfer to a heatproof container and refrigerate until solid, about 1 hour. In a medium bowl, pour the boiling water and brandy over the figs and soak until softened, about 30 minutes. Coarsely chop 1/2 cup of the figs, and set aside. Place the remaining figs and the soaking liquid in the bowl of a food processor and puree until smooth. In a stand mixer fitted with the paddle attachment, combine the chilled brown butter with the sugar and beat until combined. Add the eggs one at a time, and mix until combined. Add the fig puree, flour, baking powder, cinnamon and salt, and beat on low speed until smooth. Stir in the chopped figs. Pour the batter into the prepared Bundt pan, then cover tightly with foil and secure with a rubber band. Place the Bunt pan in a 12-by-17-inch deep roasting pan and set on the bottom rack of the oven. Pour 2 inches of boiling water around Bundt pan, then cover entire roasting pan with foil. Bake until the pudding is firm to the touch and a toothpick inserted in the center comes out clean, about 1 hour 15 minutes. Cool the pudding for 10 minutes, then invert the Bundt pan over a plate to un mold the pudding. Sprinkle the pudding with confectioners' sugar and cut into slices to serve.

Cannabis Toxicity in Pets

By Dr. Janette Relyea

The Cannabis sativa plant has two famous varieties – hemp and marijuana. They are, technically speaking, the same plant (Cannabis sativa) but hemp varieties contain less than 0.3% THC and marijuana varieties contain more than 0.3% THC. THC (tetrahydrocannabinol) is the psychoactive chemical lends marijuana all of its recreational effects and some of its medicinal effects. The other important compound is cannabidiol, or CBD. While marijuana is grown for its THC and CBD, hemp is grown for its fibers (for textiles and other industrial uses) and its CBD. CBD appears to be a relatively safe compound in pets and humans. We encounter problems when CBD is in very high concentrations or is incorporated into edible products, most notably chocolate (which is toxic for dogs). There are now many CBD products marketed for pets. It is important to remember that the FDA does not recognize these products as legal medicinal products. Therefore they are not regulated, companies are not required to show evidence that they are effective and there is no regulation of how much CBD they contain. Veterinarians cannot legally prescribe these products and most have not been formally investigated for safety and efficacy. This is changing and we expect to see this market expanding. THC, on the other hand, is responsible for many cases of pet intoxication. This has become an alarming problem in states with legalized recreational marijuana and the culprit is usually edible products. Many edibles are meant to be ingested in small amounts but since dogs cannot read labels, they tend to eat way too much. This is a problem particularly in small dogs, as deaths related to toxicity have been reported. Clinical signs of marijuana intoxication occur within 30-90 minutes after ingestion. Symptoms can linger for several days because THC is stored in the body's fat deposits. Intoxicated dogs are uncoordinated and sleepy. They often have dilated pupils, a slow heart rate, low body temperature and in some cases urinary incontinence. The classic symptom is the "startle reflex" – the dog will look like it is about to fall asleep on its feet, then startle abruptly as it is about to fall over. Cats may have alternating episodes of sedation and agitation and even aggression. Dogs and cats may also have seizures. Your veterinarian will likely check your pet for signs of other toxins that can look similar in the early stages. It is very important to let your vet know if there is a chance of exposure to marijuana or other recreational drugs. Your vet will also watch for signs of chocolate toxicity or pancreatitis, depending on what the edible base was. Treatment involves sedation, maintaining a normal body temperature and heart rate, and controlling seizures. Pets are usually hospitalized on intravenous fluids and injectable medication until the toxin wears off. As edible marijuana products become more available, it is important to keep them stored safely away from your pets.

KEEPING THE HOLIDAY SEASON FUN & SAFE FOR YOUR DOGS

Presented by Barbara Sweeney Fassett and Bark Busters Home Dog Training Dutchess County

It is hard to believe but the holiday season is once again upon us. Good times with family and friends; decorations, parties, excitement and gifts abound. But the holiday season can also be stressful for our dogs that don't quite understand what is going on. While we humans try to get more done in the time we have, our dogs only see an upset to their normal routine, trees growing in the living room and, in many homes, an unusual amount of kitchen activity that produces amazing aromas.

HOLIDAY FOODS

- While the array a food that comes from our kitchen are treats to be had by the human members of our households, they can be dangerous when consumed by our dogs; some even toxic. These include fatty or spicy foods, bread dough, fresh herbs, alcoholic beverages and sweets of all kind, especially those with chocolate or xylitol, an artificial sweetener.
- Particularly dangerous are cooked poultry bones. Cooked bones easily splinter, and the bone shards can cause choking or get stuck in your dog's gums. Instead, give "dog bones" specifically designed for dogs to chew. Ask your veterinarian or trainer for suggestions.

DECORATIONS ARE NOT PLAYTHINGS.

- Discourage your dog from foraging in the garbage. Secure all trash cans. It's natural that you do want to share holiday treats with your dog. While a small taste of turkey or sweet potatoes can make your dog happy, don't over do it. Too much of a good thing can make him sick.
- Keep your pets away from holiday plants, many of which are poisonous, such as holly, mistletoe, poinsettias and amaryllis.
- Snow globes can contain antifreeze, which is extremely toxic to dogs. Keep any antifreeze products away from your happy, tail-wagging dog. If there is an antifreeze spill, send your dog out of the room while you clean up the liquid. Dilute the spot with water and floor cleaner to ensure your dog does not lick the area later.

CHRISTMAS TREES CAN BE HAZARDOUS.

- Keep electrical wires and batteries out of your pet's reach. Chewing or biting anything electrical can cause shock or burns.
- Don't leave lighted candles unattended. A lit candle knocked over by a swinging tail can burn your pet or cause a fire.
- Anchor the tree to the ceiling or wall to prevent it from tipping over.
- Hang non-breakable ornaments near the bottom of the tree. Avoid putting tinsel on your tree. If ingested, tinsel can twist in your dog's intestines and be deadly.
- Don't let your dog drink Christmas tree water. The water may contain preservative chemicals, which can

Staying Connected: Did We Forget All The Benefits?

by Charlotte Michos, RN, MS, CNS, CLNC®

Getting together with friends is fun, but did you also know it has health benefits? The holidays are coming up and instead of getting consumed with the hustle-bustle, take time just to enjoy feasting and socializing with others. “Gathering is good for our body and our spirit” (<https://www.nytimes.com/2019/11/18/smarter-living/holiday-meals-family-tips.html>). Even though it may seem obvious, researchers have concluded that social connection is good for our health; so turn around your thought process this holiday season and instead of feeling like there are too many bad habits related to the holidays, eat, drink, and be merry!

A healthy diet and exercise are important prescriptions for good health, but so is our social connection. For those of you who enjoy alone time – no worries. Social connection is about quality time, not quantity. On the other hand, social isolation is risky business, with researchers concluding that it is equal to the physically-linked risk factors of smoking, obesity or lack of exercise (<https://www.ncbi.nlm.nih.gov/pmc/articles/PMC3150158/>). A more apparent observation is that social connection leads to better mental health; people are less depressed and less anxious when they stay connected (The Happiness Track, by Emma Seppala).

What is the meaning of social connection? Researchers define it as: “the feeling that you belong to a group and generally feel close to other people. Scientific evidence strongly suggests that this is a core psychological need essential to feeling satisfied with your life” (<http://www.liherald.com/islandpark/stories/the-power-of-human-connection,102632>).

Dr. J. Martino et al – in their 2017 study addressing the power of human interaction – characterized social connection as a “dose of the human moment—a positive contact with other people.” As with Maslow’s Hierarchy of Needs, social connection is considered a vital human need, and it is now utilized as treatment and prevention, along with medical therapies, for various health conditions such as depression, obesity, anxiety, addictions, etc. (<https://www.ncbi.nlm.nih.gov/pmc/articles/PMC6125010/>).

How powerful is social connection?

1. A lack of social connection is worse for our health than smoking
2. Having social connections increase our chances of longevity by fifty percent.
3. Social connection can help us ward off disease. Feeling connected boosts our immune system and decreases inflammation.
4. People who are connected with others have lower rates of depression.
5. Our self-esteem and empathy, improves when we feel connected to others. (<https://www.inc.com/jessica-stillman/5-ways-social-connection-makes-you-healthier.html>)

What about our connection with our physicians and other healthcare providers?

Doctor-patient relationships have changed, and we need to be mindful of maintaining a connection. We see more specialists, more tests are done, computers are being utilized more in health settings, and hospitalists (instead of our own doctor) see us when we are hospitalized. Although these advancements improve our health in some ways, they also lead to being more distanced from our doctors. For example, it’s great that our medical history is stored in the electronic medical record for easy access to our providers, but it also tends to lead to less “face-time” with our doctors. The advanced technology with equipment and testings, have helped in the advancement of our treatments, but this also takes away from the basics of being “touched and examined” by our doctors. Having hospitalists, who are better trained to deal with patients in the hospital setting, is an asset, but we also lose the connection of our primary physician (who knows us well) being with us when we are hospitalized (<https://www.health.harvard.edu/blog/keeping-the-human-connection-in-medicine-2016121210837>).

In conclusion, we need to seek a balance of utilizing the advancements in medicine wisely and still maintaining our connection with our doctor and other providers.

Interesting that social connection is part of town planning.

Although town planning has changed as a result of economics, people’s interest in downsizing, desire to be within walking distance to schools, stores, restaurants etc., there is also a link to social connection. I have a friend who is a town planner, and she has addressed the fact that many areas of our country are changing the design of their towns because of the way people want to live. More people are living closer to their village and town centers in traditional neighborhood developments (TND), where they can be in proximity to each other, socialize, share recreational facilities, and overall build better community relationships. Perhaps researchers will find that these communities are healthier.

As society discovers the benefits of the simplicity of social connection, we might see changes in the way we live, socialize, do business, and take care of our health. Currently our digital and success-driven world doesn’t seem to be working for us and it has the potential to result in “connected disconnection.” The outcome is loneliness, and with our elderly population, loneliness is becoming an epidemic known as the “hidden killer” (<https://medium.com/thrive-global/the-science-of-human-connection-and-wellness-in-a-digitally-connected-world-611eb8c1b51c>). We are gravitating toward reconnection to each other, and science had discovered that we are getting healthier and feeling better as a result. After all, “the most precious commodities on this planet are our health, love, and happiness. Regardless of what we accomplish and accumulate in life, we are unable to take it with us” (Marina Rose, in 2017’s The Science of Human Connection and Wellness In A Digitally Disconnected World).

Alzheimer’s Awareness Workshop at the Hudson Area Library

The Hudson Area Library and the City of Hudson Senior Center are hosting a workshop in their healthy living series sponsored by The Alzheimer’s Association of Northeastern New York State: “Understanding and Responding to Dementia-related Behavior” on Wednesday, December 4, 5-6pm. However, some behaviors can present real challenges for caregivers to manage. Join us to learn to decode behavioral messages, identify common behavior triggers, and learn strategies to help intervene with some of the most common behavioral challenges of Alzheimer’s disease. Understanding and Responding to Dementia-Related Behavior is appropriate for community presentations, corporate employee wellness meetings, support group programming and more. This program will be held in the library’s community room, which is wheelchair accessible. The program is free, but registration is encouraged. To register call Sierra at 518-867-4999 x1691 or email ssnoddy@alz.org. ## Picture Perfect Nativity

As the Christmas decorations come out of the attics. The box containing the nativity set is opened, each piece carefully unwrapped from the newspaper that has been protecting it throughout the year. One at a time each porcelain figurine gets set on the mantel or under the tree. There are figures of angels and shepherds, camels and wisemen, Mary and Joseph with a babe lying in a manger. Perhaps the nativity scene causes you to feel nostalgia of Christmas' past, or fills your heart with the sentiments of peace and love, which are so tied to the Christmas season. But Christmas calls for more than sentiment and tradition. It calls for faith. Believing that Jesus existed, that He was born as a baby doesn't take much faith. In fact, the Bible says even the demons believe. (James 2:19) This believing is a mental consent, but until belief comes from the heart, changing our words and actions it is meaningless. Belief also goes beyond the manger, to the whole story of the life of Christ. His life was meaningful as a whole; His birth, death, and resurrection. Romans 10:9 reminds us that "If you declare with your mouth, "Jesus is Lord," and believe in your heart that God raised him from the dead, you will be saved." Faith is not just a mental assent. Our words should reflect that we believe, and it must come from the heart. In His book The Divine Conspiracy, Dallas Willard puts it this way, "To trust the real person Jesus, is to have full confidence in him in every dimension of our real life, to believe that he is right about and adequate to everything." (p49)

The image of the nativity on our mantels or under our trees should serve as a reminder of the daily relationship we can have with Christ. He did not come to earth to live and die to simply be an icon of faith or religion. He came because He loved you so much that He wanted you to have a relationship with God. John 1:12 says that He gives the right to become children of God, to all who receive Him and believe on His name.

As you celebrate this season reflect on the love of God, who sent His Son for you. Don't turn away from His love, instead open your heart to receive it. His love pouring into your heart is the beginning of daily relationship with the One who wants to be a present part of your life all year round. By Naomi Fata President of Christian Resource Ministry Inc. More information can be found at www.christianresourceministry.com

Truth of the Christian Faith is that the Word was God. Then at the appointed time the Word was made Flesh. This occurred when the Angel Gabriel came to a Virgin by the name of Mary to inform her that she was chosen to give birth to Jesus (Luke 1:30,31). She was told that she would conceive when the Holy Spirit would come upon her and the power of the Highest would overshadow her (Luke 1:35). Mary was engaged to Joseph, but they hadn't come together yet in Marriage. The Angel of the Lord appeared to Joseph in a dream to inform him about what had occurred with Mary and that she would give birth to Jesus (Matthew 1:18-25). The Virgin Conception and Birth of Jesus is another Foundation Truth of the Christian Faith. For Jesus is the Perfect Lamb of God without sin: The Lord Jesus Christ is Perfect God - Perfect Man! Mary and Joseph were from Nazareth. The Prophet Micah stated that Jesus would be born in Bethlehem (Micah 5:2). The Roman government decided to bring a taxation on Israel, so each person had to go to their hometown to be registered for the taxation. Since both Mary and Joseph were of the House and Lineage of David they had to go to Bethlehem. Mary was in her ninth month of pregnancy when they traveled the ninety miles to Bethlehem! When they got to Bethlehem, they checked the Inn and there was no room in the Inn (Luke 2:7).

Jesus was born somewhere near the Inn and placed in a Manger! He was born in a very humble setting. The Eternal Word became a man. The Birth of Jesus was Announced to Shepherds outside of Bethlehem. The Angel appeared to the Shepherds and said, "... Fear not: for, behold, I bring

Bark Busters from page 12 trigger severe indigestion in dogs. Stagnant clean water can breed bacteria and cause nausea or diarrhea to the pet which imbibes. Regularly sweep up fallen pine needles, as they can puncture holes in a dog's intestines if ingested.

HELP YOUR DOG FEEL SAFE AND RELAXED

- Most dogs get very excited when guests arrive. To help your dog be calmer, exercise him prior to the festivities. After 30 minutes of walking or playtime, your dog will likely be relaxed or want to nap.
- As a general rule, don't allow the family dog to greet unfamiliar guests since unusual activities and commotion can cause him extra stress.
- Give your dog a break from the hubbub by putting him in his crate or in a quiet room with his bed. Allow him to re-join the festivities after guests have arrived. Don't put your dog outside, especially in cold temperatures, where you might forget about him.
- Pets stressed by unfamiliar events typically pant more, so keep your dog's water bowl filled with freshwater. PETS LIKE PRESENTS TOO.

- Help your dog stay busy and out of the holiday trimmings by giving him fun, safe gifts.
- Bark Busters' Game Changer and Kong are virtually indestructible puzzle toys that reward your dog with treats and keep him well entertained.

A FINAL NOTE:

Please, please, please don't give a pet as a surprise gift. A cute puppy might seem like the perfect gift choice, but many of these holiday presents end up in animal shelters. Owning a dog takes a genuine commitment of time and responsibility, and adoptive owners must be ready to participate in training and other activities. If you are absolutely certain the recipient is up to the challenge and wants the responsibility, seriously consider giving a leash and a collar or, better yet, a gift certificate for Bark Busters training along with the note saying a dog of the recipient's choice will come with it. This helps ensure the lucky person gets just the right pet to bring into the family. Caution and common sense in caring for your dog during the holidays will help ensure a safe and happy holiday season for all. And the results? Happy Dogs = Happy Families Bark Busters is the World's Largest and Most Trusted Dog Training Company. Our techniques have been used to train more than 1.1 million dogs worldwide without the use of treats or physical force and we provide Guaranteed Support for the Life of the Dog. We teach our clients how to view the world through the eyes of the dog and to "Speak Dog". By learning how to effectively communicate with a dog and tapping into what the dog already instinctively understands, you build a relationship with the dog based on trust, respect and bonding. Barbara Sweeney Fassett is the Owner of Bark Busters Home Dog Training, Dutchess County. As such, she has done business in the mid-Hudson Valley for the past 12+ years. On the eastern side of the Hudson River, her territory includes all of Dutchess County and on the western side of the Hudson her territory extends from Saugerties on the north to Newburgh on the south and Kerhonkson on the west. For more information about Bark Busters, please visit our website at www.BarkBusters.com where you can take a free 20 question quiz to rate your dog's behavior. ANCRAM OPERA HOUSE SEEKS LOCAL STORYTELLERS REAL PEOPLE REAL STORIES

An evening of homegrown stories told by local residents Ancram Opera House seeks local storytellers for its popular series REAL PEOPLE REAL STORIES, which will close out the 2019 season on Saturday, December 21. Interested participants can email a story summary to paul@ancramoperahouse.org or leave a one-minute version on AOH's pitch line at 518-250-9791. The deadline to submit stories is Friday, December 6th. All stories must be true, experienced firsthand by the storyteller, and run no more than 15 minutes. Ancram Opera House Director Paul Ricciardi created REAL PEOPLE REAL STORIES after being inspired by The Moth Radio Hour on NPR. "REAL PEOPLE REAL STORIES has become an audience favorite that we produce twice a year" said Ricciardi. "The intimacy of our theater provides the perfect setting." Ricciardi works with storytellers to help them prepare their stories for the stage. "The goal is not to create a polished monologue, but to allow the spontaneity of a real-lifestory to shine through," he said. Ancram Opera House is located at 1330 County Route 7, just north of the corner of Route 82. For more information visit www.ancramoperahouse.org.

you good tidings of great joy, which shall be to all people. For unto you is born this day in the city of David a Savior which is Christ the Lord" (Luke 2:10,11).
Praise God that the True Light has come into the world! Jesus is the Light of the world (John 8:12). He came to be our Savior and to give His Life on the Cross for our sins. He paid the price in full for our sins by His Death on the Cross. Then on the third day He Rose bodily from death and the grave to guarantee Eternal Life to all that call upon His name and receive Him as their Personal Savior!

Jesus is the True Light of the world. "In him was life; and the life was the light of men" (John 1:4). Have you come to the Light, the Lord Jesus Christ? If you haven't come to the True Light, the Lord Jesus Christ, now is the time to believe on and receive Him as your Personal Savior! "But as many as received him, to them gave the power to become the sons of God, even to them that believe on his name" (John 1:12). Greenport Auto from page 1

my opinion,” says Melino, “these service contracts are the best thing that ever came out for used vehicles. They cover a large variety of car parts and much of the labor costs.”

Naturally, their inventory changes every week, as they selectively add to it and sell stock. But if you cannot get up to the Fairview Avenue location, their website at www.greenportauto.com has pictures and information on each of their vehicles and even a list of coming soon vehicles that they are in the process of obtaining or preparing for sale. You can check on any vehicles of interest and get detailed information on any of the choices. In addition, because the inventory changes constantly, let Greenport Auto know if you are searching for a particular vehicle and they can be on the lookout for you. The website also provides a secure site to apply for credit, which many places don't help folks with except to vaguely send them off to a bank. Greenport Auto works with a variety of financing institutions to help get any resident best rates for their circumstances. In particular, for Columbia County residents, they have a special first-time buyers program available where if a prospective customer has NO credit but has been employed for six months and can show an ability to handle the payments and meet eligibility requirements, they may qualify for best rates on a loan.

In addition to offering a great selection of quality previously-loved vehicles, Greenport Auto is also a distributor for Backyard Outfitters, a premium company for customized utility sheds, cabins, lofted barns and garages. These are well-constructed with quality materials and good workmanship. There are several to be seen on the lot at Fairview Avenue and much literature on the company and their products. Customers can choose one from the lot or design and order their own. There is free delivery up to thirty miles and very reasonable delivery rates for greater distances.

The Melino family have been well-known for several generations around Hudson and have continuously run successful businesses and given back to the community in many ways. People may remember Tim from his involvement helping his parents, Joe and Marge Melino, operate the popular Joe's Bar and Restaurant just up the road from Greenport Auto – a popular place to meet, greet and eat for almost forty years. Some of Greenport Auto patrons are new to the business and the area, but many have known and used Tim's knowledge of the automotive industry for decades.

People say they love dealing with Greenport Auto because they are not pushy salespeople just trying to get customers into a vehicle they are wanting to sell off the 9am to 6pm, Wednesday and Thursday 9am to 7pm, Saturday from 10am to 5pm and Sunday from 11am to 4pm. CALL first, however, at (518)605-9205, and if they are busy with other customers, they will call you back.

If you discover a local person you can trust to find you a reliable vehicle for the colder months ahead, how nice that they will now be taking care of basic maintenance on that vehicle as lot, but rather trying to listen to each customer and try to get them into the vehicle of their choice, whatever it may be. Greenport Auto is not, and doesn't have to be, pushy. They have collected MANY satisfied customers over the years and get referrals every day for new potential customers.

The hours of Greenport Auto are Monday, Tuesday and Friday well. This is prime season to situate your transportation for the winter, and the inventory is terrific. Going to a local person who has been trusted for years is worth its weight in gold. Take a look this holiday season and see if Greenport Auto Sales can't find a great reason for you to “put that big red bow” on something for yourself or a loved one this year.

HARP PERFORMANCES DURING HOLIDAY TOURING HOURS AT STAATSBURGH STATE HISTORIC SITE

SATURDAYS, DECEMBER 7, 14 AND 21, NOON TO 2:00 PM

On three Saturdays in December, Staatsburgh State Historic Site will present performances of period music, performed by harpist Elysia Roman. Set amidst the historic rooms, decorated for the holidays, Ms. Roman's performances are not formal concerts, but are meant to be enjoyed as visitors tour the house. Roman will perform holiday songs that are now classics but were brand new during the Gilded Age like What Child Is This? (1865) and Away in a Manger (1882), along with elegant classical music from the same period including Claude Debussy's Clair de Lune (1890) and Jean Sibelius's Finlandia (1899). The performances are included in the price of site admission: $8/adults; $6/seniors and students with an ID; and children 12 and under are free. Before studying harp at the collegiate level, Elysia Roman performed many times at Carnegie Hall and Ozawa Hall, among many other famous concert halls. She toured Asia with an orchestral ensemble in 2012 and performed that same year at the World Harp Congress.

Beginning studies at the age of nine, Elysia has maintained an attitude of excellence, passion and dedication throughout her musical studies and professional career. Her full sound and expert tone production can fill cathedrals and historic mansions alike. The Gilded Age (1865-1913) was a time when Americans wanted the best of everything, from the finest Italian marble - to the best European music - to uniquely American inventions. Music of the Gilded Age is a project developed by Dr. Christopher Brellocks, Academy of Music Chair at Dutchess Community College, in which authentic music from this time is performed in beautiful mansions where it would have originally been heard. Ms. Roman's performances are being presented by The Friends of Mills at Staatsburgh, the volunteer support group for Staatsburgh. Staatsburgh was the Gilded Age country estate of financier and philanthropist Ogden Mills and his wife, Ruth Livingston Mills, a prominent figure in New York Society. Their stately home, overlooking the Hudson River in the hamlet of Staatsburgh, was redesigned and expanded to 79 rooms in 1895 by the famous architect Stanford White, and still contains the family's original furniture, art and décor. The mansion is set within Mills Memorial State Park, overlooking the Hudson River, just north of Hyde Park. A Gilded Age Christmas, featuring lavish decorations in a Gilded Age mansion, is presented by Staatsburgh from late November through New Year's Eve. The decorations are done in turn-of-the-century style, recreating the atmosphere of holidays long-ago at one of the great estates of the Hudson Valley. Staatsburgh will open for the holiday season on Friday, November 29. Touring hours will be Thursday through Sunday from 11 a.m. to 3 p.m. through December 31. Additional open hours include special evening hours on Friday December 20, from 5 p.m. to 8 p.m.; and December 30 and 31 (Monday and Tuesday) from 11 a.m. until 3 p.m. The site will be closed December 23-25. Admission is $8 per person; $6 for seniors and students; children age 12 and younger are free. The mansion's gift shop offers many wonderful gift items for holiday shopping and is open whenever the site is open. "We have many special holiday craft and kids' programs during A Gilded Age Christmas," says Malcolm, "including during school vacation. Our Facebook page has listings for all events and programs: www.facebook.com/StaatsburghSHS" Staatsburgh State Historic Site and the Ogden Mills & Ruth Livingston Mills Memorial State Park are located on Old Post Road in Staatsburgh, off Route 9 between Rhinebeck and Hyde Park. The historic site is one of 6 sites and 15 parks administered by the Taconic Region of New York State Office of Parks, Recreation and Historic Preservation. For more information, call 845-889-8851, or visit Staatsburgh's websites at <https://parks.ny.gov/historic-sites/25/details.aspx> and www.facebook.com/StaatsburghSHS Staatsburgh's events are also listed at <https://parks.ny.gov/events/event-results.aspx?hs=25> The New York State Office of Parks, Recreation and Historic Preservation oversees more than 250 parks, historic sites, recreational trails, golf courses, boat launches and more, which are visited by 74 million people annually. A recent study found that New York State Parks generates $5 billion in park and visitor spending, which supports nearly 54,000 jobs. Tivoli Artists Gallery presents annual Holiday Show, with creative gifts and novelties

Festive annual show offers wide array of unique handmade arts and crafts for sale during the holidays. Tivoli Artists Gallery, the Hudson Valley collective of artists, artisans and photographers, announces its final presentation of the year, a showcase of handmade artwork, jewelry, goods and novelties via its annual HOLIDAY SHOW (November 22 - December 22, 2019). This trademark TAG event features work from members and guest artists in the area, offering everything from fine art to traditional crafts to whimsical fancies and creative, one-of-a-kind pieces, all at a variety of prices. There will be an artists' opening reception on Saturday, Nov. 23 from 6pm - 8pm - a chance to meet the many talents whose work will be for sale, and to mix and mingle with the community. No charge to attend, light refreshments will be served.

The Holiday Show, which will run for five-weekends, has always been a time for members and non-members alike to exhibit items for holiday giving, often unique objects created just for this show. Show curator Peggy Farrington will guide the exhibit and look to feature unique gifts such as paintings, photographs, handmade jewelry and accessories. Pottery, other artistic items and more will also be on display and available. In the spirit of supporting local artists and supplying more special gift ideas, the gallery will also offer gift certificates in any amount, which can be used for gift memberships or to purchase future items.

According to Farrington, "We aim to bring art into your life. If you're looking to give a special gift of creativity this year, while supporting the local arts community, you have come to the right place." Farrington's goal is to unite artists with the region and create an environment of positivity and prosperity. She adds, "We are passionate about local, handmade goods and sharing the works of member and guest artists with the rest of world."

Tivoli has become a destination for the arts in the Hudson Valley and TAG, now in its 26th year, has been a mainstay for artists and arts enthusiasts. The Tivoli Artists Gallery Holiday Show and Sale, November 22 - December 22, 2019 @ Tivoli Artists Gallery, free. Opening reception Sat. Nov. 23, 6 pm - 8 pm; tivoliartistsgallery.com

St on Route 9] and their proven position as an industry leader made this an ideal merger.” Ms. Hickman is excited to be a part of 30 offices, over 1,300 agents and a global network of partners. “Their technology is outstanding. It’s state-of-the-art.”

She is enthusiastic about bringing together the HH Hill Team’s area expertise with data-driven insights from the Houlihan Lawrence comprehensive marketing platform. “The world is changing so quickly,” she adds, “and real estate has to keep up.”

Houlihan Lawrence can offer professional real estate photography, drone footage, and professional copywriters in addition to its high-end website -- houlihanlawrence.com.

com. “Together we can do so much more for our buyers and sellers,” she explains. “These are powerful marketing tools.”

If it seems like everything in the real estate world is now computerized, that isn’t entirely true. The new Houlihan Lawrence space is still located in the original H.H. Hill building in Rhinebeck across the street from Fosters and the Upstate Movie theatre. It is fully appointed for comfort with an irresistible café vibe (and WIFI) of “country living at its finest.” There is no pressure to buy – neither is there a rush from a realtor to grab and claim you. There are magazines to read at your leisure and a relaxing opportunity to experience Rhinebeck and the environs. The Rhinebeck office is a quaint, white clapboard building that once served as the law office of Mr. Hill’s father. Authentically vintage, it’s a premiere part of the Rhinebeck scene. Mr. Hill has an intimate knowledge of the local region and continually evolving real estate trends. The Hill family has lived in Rhinebeck for several generations and Huck is an avid outdoorsman with a love for the land. Vicki Hickman discovered her passion for real estate in 1997 after moving from the Washington, DC area with her family for the Hudson Valley quality-of-life. Together, they bring over 50 years of combined real estate experience to the table. “We specialize in both full time and weekend residential properties, river estates, farms, land, commercial real estate, and rentals -- both residential and commercial.” They work as a team and clearly their close relationship is part of their continued success. Ms. Hickman suggests this is a good time to sell as regional inventory is tight. There are many first time buyers who are looking at starter-homes and baby boomers who are downsizing to more manageable dwellings. There has also been a dramatic movement of people from the city looking on both sides of the river for properties. As NYC becomes more expensive, they are in the market for full time residences as well weekend properties.

While the HH Hill team is recognized for listing and closing multi-million-dollar homes and luxury properties, Ms. Hickman also enjoys facilitating “entry-level” homebuyers who need assistance navigating what can be a confusing process.

“I love real estate and I remember getting my first home. It means a lot to me to help a new generation achieve the American dream of homeownership.” She enjoys the challenge of “figuring out how to make it happen.”

As members of the Mid Hudson Multiple Listing Service (MLS), CCGND (Col Co Greene No Dutchess) MLS, Ulster MLS and Hudson Gateway MLS, the friendly HH Hill team is famous for being reliable, consistent and attentive to every detail. They can quickly and accurately access information from all the MLS as well as the Houlihan Lawrence listings.—

“Our goal is customer satisfaction

above all else,” she declares. “When talking to potential sellers, we can do a comparative market analysis to identify/discuss your selling price and recommend contractors to repair and/or stage your property.” They maintain a constantly updated and splendid catalog of highly skilled and reputable tradespeople and artisans such as carpenters, electricians, and painters who can faithfully restore historic properties to their original splendor, renovate unique properties with special settings or update full-time residences for contemporary lifestyles and additions -- for a variety of budgets. Being helpful is just what they do.

“We look forward to meeting and exceeding your real estate goals,” she declares. For more information, visit houlihanlawrence.com and type in Rhinebeck in their search bar to see local listings. To contact the HH Hill team at Houlihan Lawrence call 845.876-4443 or ring Vicki Hickman on her cell at 845.389.9952. You can also visit Rhinebeck.com, the Team’s website, with links to local resources, shopping, dining, wineries, farm markets, inns and entertainment -- a good resource when friends or family come visiting.

End of Year Schedule for Hudson Area Library's Book Groups

The year is coming to a close, and along with it, the Hudson Area Library book groups are embarking on their final selections for 2019. Each group has just one more meeting this year, but each with a special twist of its own! Then, following a holiday break, the groups will return with strong literary lineups for 2020.

The Hudson Area Library

General Reading Book Group meets monthly on Wednesdays 5-6pm and is reading City of Girls by Elizabeth Gilbert on November 20. For this final meeting of 2019, the group will enjoy their discussion over dinner at Coyote Flaco Restaurant, located at 6032 Route 9H in Claverack. This group reads fiction and nonfiction and is facilitated by long-time member of the Friends of the Hudson Area Library, Sharon Getty. To register for this book group email programs@hudsonarealibrary.org.

In his New York Times review titled, Elizabeth Gilbert's 'City of Girls' Delivers a Love- and Booze-Filled Romp Through 1940s New York, author David Gates also describes the book as "the story of a conflicted, solitary woman who's made an independent life as best she can." He concludes that "this open-endedness, this refusal of received literary templates, is what makes "City of Girls" worth reading."

The Nonfiction Book Group meets monthly on Mondays, 6-7:30pm and for its final meeting in 2019, on December 9, will discuss the documentary film The Dust Bowl, by Ken Burns. Be sure to watch the film beforehand, as the meeting will be a discussion group, not a viewing party. The film, in 2-parts totaling 4 hours, examines the ecological, humanitarian, and political aspects of this devastating period in American history. This group focuses on history and social & political life in North America and is facilitated by library Board President Mark Orton. To register for the book group email morton@hudsonarealibrary.org.

City of Girls is available for borrowing through the Mid-Hudson Library System. The film The Dust Bowl can be accessed through the Hudson Area Library's new Kanopy streaming service, which can be accessed via this link. Use your library card to register for the free service.

The Hudson Area Library is located at 51 North Fifth Street in Hudson, NY. The mission of the library is to enrich the quality of life by providing free and equal access to programs, services and resources, and by creating opportunities for all members of our community to connect, create, learn and grow. For more information visit hudsonarealibrary.org.

 Knowing what to get kids for Christmas is easy, but what about the adults? What do you get your family and friends who already seem to have everything they could want? Why not give them a gift certificate for dance lessons? Perfect for friends about to get engaged, or that couple floundering with empty nest syndrome and in need of a hobby, or that recently divorced or widowed friend starting a new life path. Any of them might appreciate the gift of dance. And don't forget the not-so-secret desire of your spouse to bring a little dance into your lives together. It's a gift that lasts a lifetime. "The Christmas gift certificate for dance lessons that I received in 2010 literally changed my life," said Susan Simon of Red Hook. "I actually procrastinated almost a year before getting started but once I did, I was hooked and haven't stopped since! I just got back from a cruise where I was selected to dance in front of an audience with a Filipino cruise staff member who was decades younger than me and I had a ball dancing with him and entertaining the crowd. I never could have done that before!"

Got2Lindy Dance Studios has been swinging the Hudson Valley since 2004 and offers instant e-gift certificates online for private lessons or group classes with no partner required. E-gift certificates can be ordered and received instantly online, so this gift is perfect even at the last minute!
