Palmiter Business Solutions, Inc. Helps Clients Choose The Right Medicare Plan

By Joe Doran

Medicare Annual Enrollment season starts in mid-October. For anyone on Medicare, or newly eligible, it's a time to evaluate your current plan, different insurance plans, and to make sure you're getting the best coverage for your needs.

With so many carriers, plans and options out there, it takes expert guidance to find the right fit. Palmiter Business Solutions, Inc. provides that help at no cost to clients. With a spacious office location at 4354 Albany Post Road, their brokers are ready to help people "shop plans", whether virtually, or in person, adhering to Covid-safe protocols.

Aaron Palmiter says it always makes sense to check medical insurance during the Annual Enrollment Period (AEP), which occurs from October 15th to Randy Ezekowitz, Breana Palmiter, Colleen Palmiter & Aaron Palmiter.

December 7th. "First of all, plans change every year. Everything from providers in the network, to the costs of medications, to the benefits. They can become less, or more, the cost share could go up or down.

"Our big thing is suitability, personal needs and the best fit for the client. You may be perfectly happy with your current provider and plan, because it's working for you. And every year you get your Annual Notice of Change letter that tells you what's

A New Take On An Old Halloween Favorite at Clermont State Historic Site

Come to Clermont State Historic Site on October 16, 17, 23 and 24 for Legends by Candlelight Ghost Encounters which are the highlight of Clermont's fall season. Guests who come to Clermont will find themselves at a special lecture given by Clermont's curator when something goes wrong and the spirits of the house are released. Ghosts will emerge from Clermont to tell their stories of love, loss, success and failure. Some ghosts are scary, and some are funny, but all the stories they tell are true!

Visitors will be seated on the lawn of Clermont surrounded by the flickering specters of Jack-o'-lanterns; hand carved by the museum's staff. Visitors for the ghost encounter should bring their own chair or blanket as none will be provided. As the entire event is outside it is suggested to dress for the weather.

Tickets go on sale for the event on October 4, 2020. Three encounters will be given each night at 6:00, 7:00 and 8:00 pm. Advanced tickets are required for this event and no walk ins will be allowed. Tickets are $12 for adults and $5 for children ages 5-12. To reserve your tickets or for more information please call (518)537-4240

Please note Clermont follows all NYS Department of Health guidelines for safety during the Covid-19 pandemic. Masks and social distancing will be required of all visitors until these guidelines are lifted by New York State Parks.

Clermont State Historic Site is located at 1 Clermont Avenue in Germantown, off Route 9G. The Historic Site features the mansion, formal gardens, scenic Hudson River views and miles of hiking trails. The Friends of Clermont is a private, non-profit educational corporation, founded in 1977 to support and supplement the museum education and historic preservation programs at Clermont State Historic Site. Designated a National Historic Landmark in 1973, Clermont is one of six historic sites and 15 parks administered by New York State Office of Parks, Recreation and Historic Preservation in the Taconic Region.

The New York State Office of Parks, Recreation and Historic Preservation oversees 180 state parks and 35 historic sites, which are visited by 77 million people annually. A recent study found that New York State Parks generates $1.9 billion in economic activity annually and supports 20,000 jobs. For more information on any of these recreation areas, call 518-474-0456 or visit www.parks.ny.gov, connect on Facebook, or follow on Twitter.

2020 Car Show At Staatsburgh Rescheduled To 2021

"The Gathering of Old Cars," the annual October car show at Staatsburgh State Historic Site, will not take place this year because of the ongoing COVID-19 health crisis. The show is slated to continue next year. "We'll miss seeing all the devoted fans of the Gathering," said Staatsburgh's Educator, Don Fraser, "It's one of our most popular events, and a long-standing tradition at Staatsburgh. Our wonderful partner, the Red Hook Car Club, has been hosting the Gathering here for 33 years." Fraser noted that the dramatic setting of the car show adds to its appeal. Cars of every class and era are displayed before the 1895 Beaux Arts mansion, with autumn foliage and the Hudson River in the background. Car clubs from throughout the Hudson Valley attend the event. "We hope to be back as big as ever next year," Fraser said.

Staatsburgh State Historic Site and the Ogden Mills & Ruth Livingston Mills Memorial State Park are located on Old Post Road in Staatsburg, off Route 9 between Rhinebeck and Hyde Park. The historic site is one of 6 sites and 15 parks administered by the Taconic Region of New York State Office of Parks, Recreation and Historic Preservation. For more information, call 845-889-8851, or visit Staatsburgh's websites at parks.ny.gov, www.facebook.com/StaatsburghSHS and www.staatsburghstatehistoricsite.blogspot.com. Staatsburgh's events are listed at parks.ny.gov/events New York State Office of Parks, Recreation and Historic Preservation oversees more than 250 individual parks, historic sites, recreational trails and boat launches, which were visited by a record 77 million people in 2019. A recent university study found that spending by State Parks and its visitors supports $5 billion in output and sales, 54,000 private-sector jobs and more than $2.8 billion in additional state GDP. For more information on any of these recreation areas, call 518-474-0456 or visit parks.ny.gov, connect on Facebook, or follow us on Twitter. The Hudson Polish Deli: A Very Special Place

By Hilary Hart

The Hudson Polish Deli is a very special place, in so many ways. In the first place, the charming little stone-faced building tucked behind 14K jewelers at 303 Fairview Avenue in

Hudson is such a private, one-on-one shopping experience. Yes, they are safely operating and requiring masks, but they are friendly and informative and have time to answer questions as you browse, so unlike the hassled experience (especially these days) of shopping at a large store

You wouldn't think you could "browse" much in this seemingly small building, but you will be AMAZED at the amount of product they carry. Even though their inventory this year is slightly less extensive due to some import and availability complications, there is still an unbelievable amount of stuff to be discovered. Not only do they have many many foodstuffs -- fruits, vegetables, meats and fish -- all unique -- but they also have every condiment and spice you can think of, all this on their grocery shelves, without even counting the enticing deli counter and refrigerated cases with extensive choices. Virtually all of these are items you won't find in other stores.

Before going into those delicious choices, one of the primary reasons more and more people return to the Hudson Polish Deli is to visit owners Margaret and Slavek Golebiowski. Although there have been many changes since they arrived from their native Poland almost forty years ago, and even since opening up the shop six years ago this month, they remain unfailingly cheerful and welcoming. They raised their son Jacob and daughter Joanna here, who have now given them grandchildren, and have made

Paul Hallenbeck Real Estate Where Hard Work and Experience Make the Difference

By Lisa Dudley

If you're wondering if now is a good time to buy a home or sell, Paul Hallenbeck, of Paul Hallenbeck Real Estate, Inc., located at 6370 Mill Street in Rhinebeck (across from M & T) is here to help you navigate your decision.

Mr. Hallenbeck really enjoys his life and after 35 years in the business he still gets great satisfaction from his work. "I love what I do," he proclaims, "and I'm a firm believer there is a house for everyone, whatever your budget. We don't give up until we find the perfect home for all our buyers. Persistence is our virtue! Every home can be sold. It needs to be priced for the market and properly marketed. We are experts here and we never give up until our listings are sold.

"We are experienced brokers and sales associates. We have a long term reputation for honesty, enthusiasm, persistence, and hard work."

Paul Hallenbeck Real Estate is a family-run business which also includes his wife Sally Hallenbeck and his son Stephen Hallenbeck as principal broker. Additional agents include Peter Clark, Susan Peckmann, Patricia Karr Seabrook and Sean Warman -- along with office manager Linda Honicker.

The Paul Hallenbeck Real Estate website has idyllic photos of houses, condos, rentals and land along with the ability to sign up for alerts that automatically match your criteria. "We are always listing new properties," he adds, "so if you don't find what you want, call us to see what's in our listing pipeline or contact us about listing your property."

Hallenbeck's (as they are sometimes called) is a "busy and dynamic office in Rhinebeck

ACCORDING TO QUACKERS

Fall leaf colors are actually present year-round

The gorgeous red, orange, and yellow pigments in fall foliage are actually there all year, just under the surface. Sunlight helps fuel plant cells containing a chemical called chlorophyll, which gives leaves its vivid green color while working to turn light into energy. When sunlight diminishes in fall, chlorophyll breaks down, letting the plant's hidden red, yellow, and orange hues shine.

hundreds of friends here from near and far. These devoted patrons return often and can even call Margaret ahead to order specialty items. In fact, Margaret can be reached by calling (518)828-1800 to ask about her selections and set things aside for pick up. They also now are associated with HUB so folks can order through HUB for what they need. Margaret is a wealth of information and suggestions for how to prepare and combine various of her wares for occasions, and is a pleasure to speak with.

They come from the second largest city in Poland (after Warsaw), Wroclaw, in southwest Poland, which is known as the home of "the pierogi guy," that cute gnome that appears on their ad and logos everywhere. They tell me that in Wroclaw, these little gnomes are all over, representing every profession. This is appropriate for their deli also as pierogis are one of their most popular items, and they offer 14(!) different kinds in their deli case for take home. These include Cheese, Potato Dumplings, Fresh Cabbage, Sauerkraut alone or with Mushroom or Potato, and Potato alone or with Cheese, or Onion, or Mushroom or Spinach or Garlic. There are also many Kielbasa choices, also a favorite with their customers.

If you come in to browse and sample the food, they even have limited outdoor seating as weather permits. Margaret makes at least two homemade soups every day (Potato, Split Pea, Chicken, Tomato - to name a few) that can be consumed there or taken home. The sandwiches she makes are legendary and delicious. Hudson Polish Deli has several different kinds of cheeses as well as many hams, bologna, liver sausage and goose pate and Gypsy style, Village style, Danish style, and Hungarian style bacon. In all of these categories, it would be impossible to list everything.

One very special category is Hudson Polish Deli's breads and pastries. They always carry certain breads, rice cakes and waffles for special treats, and their regular breads and pastries are delivered usually on Fridays. Even though it is only October, inquire about their holiday pastries, which have to be ordered weeks in advance. At this printing, they are not available yet, but there is a brochure which highlights some of the items you might want to order in advance for yourself for Christmas or for gifts, or as part of a holiday gift basket, which can be made up of anything. There are European chocolates with liquors and other candies, cookies and sweet goods that would make any gift better! ASK about their holiday items and when the deadlines are for ordering them. These are also unique so not likely to be duplicated, whether for a housewarming or hostess gift or at any occasion.

Even beyond edibles, the store is a perfect place to find a very special NON-edible gift that will be unique. They have women's slippers made in Poland with real wool and real leather. They have adorable 100% Euro wool children's vests in various sizes and colors. There are decorated soaps in wooden boxes. And again, visit and order early to make your holiday gift giving this season really wonderful, both from the foods you prepare or bring to other gifts people have never seen before.

This authentic store is open Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday from 10 to 4, Friday from 10 to 5 and Saturday from 10 to 3. Hours may be expanded as it gets closer to Christmas. Call 518-828-1800 for further information.

All in all, this is the ideal place to visit before and during the holidays. Everything there is special. The people there are wonderfully helpful with whatever you need, and if they don't have what you are looking for, they will try to order it for you. Margaret will make up any combination of items into a fabulous gift for you. There is a privacy and unheard-of peace in taking your time to look around and savor all their goodies. Everything they have and make is superb. Don't you need a break from the maddening rush? THIS IS IT!!

Congratulations,

Margaret and Slavek, for six terrific years in business!!

TWO Special Local Mentions from the Garden Club

By Pat Owens

Here we are ushering in autumn and still able to find particularly fine gardens in the area. With all the sheltering and self-distancing, the happiest things you can see make it all tolerable.

The Old Dutch Village Garden Club has “staked” two places this month.

The first is the Countryside Self Storage facility at 81 Albany Post Road in Upper Red Hook. I am sure everyone has seen the establishment for years at the corner of Route 9 and Pitcher Lane. There has been a reawakening at this site. I first noticed that the area at the roadside was being treated to a beautifully created wall, then it was embellished with colorful plantings and just to gild the lily, two blooming Rose of Sharon bushes. Scott Cano, who is in construction, is the owner since 1999. Scott likes to add beauty to his business with grapevines and flower beds throughout the property as well as the roadside. Previously, there was a sawmill on the property and the wee log cabin was used as an office and Scott uses it for an office also. The cabin has been spruced up and can be enjoyed by passersby even more so than before.

Staying on Route 9 south you will have undoubtedly watched the fantastic renovation of David and Lillian Tiberio house at 7752 Albany Post Road. The 1924 stucco bungalow did have a sunroom and large open porch added over the years, but the final step was removing the stucco, adding Hardie plank siding and a standing seam roof. It already looked quite different but when the columned front entry and bluestone walks were completed it was perfect. The final flourish was the cedar arbor designed and built by a friend. While this outstanding improvement certainly deserves all the accolades it has gotten, the gardens are in their infancy in the front yard. Established shrubs were given a face lift as well by the addition of perennials and more landscaping with be forthcoming. I think the house looks very handsome. A complete transformation. I am sure the Tiberios must be thrilled.....I’m thrilled for them!

During these strange times, we are not meeting at all. We are seriously considering January. Remember, there are no requirements: you do not have to know anything, you do not even need a garden! You can visit the Club’s garden in Red Hook. It looks extremely abundant now. If you have an interest in joining, (and we hope you will) the Old Dutch Village Garden Club usually meets at 12:30 on the second Thursday of each month, except for August, at St. John’s Reformed Church in Upper Red Hook. New members and visitors are always welcome. Please contact Linda Lawson at 845-758-5653 for additional information.

WASTE NOT, WANT NOT–THE 7R’S FOR A MORE SUSTAINABLE FUTURE

On Saturday October 17 from 4 - 5:30 PM the Claverack Free Library will host a virtual program on Zoom aimed at adults, teens, and tweens who want to learn how to create a more sustainable environment. Members of the citizens’ group Zero Waste Columbia and Columbia County’s Department of Solid Waste Management will offer practical ways to rethink, reduce, refuse, reuse, repair, recycle and recover waste to adopt a more sustainable lifestyle. Small changes can have a large economic, environmental and community impact. “Zero in” on more ways to act locally to lessen environmental degradation and create a more sustainable, resilient and prosperous world for future generations. Zero Waste Columbia is a citizens group committed to volunteerism, education, and collaboration with individuals and organizations to reimagine resource flows, adapting behavior, and improving processes that move toward zero waste. Members of Zero Waste Columbia come from many different towns across Columbia County. This program is sponsored by the Claverack Free Library in association with Columbia County libraries, The Town of Claverack, and the Claverack Climate Smart Communities Task Force. For login information RSVP to ZeroWasteColumbia@gmail.org or call the Claverack Library at 518 851-5667. An RSVP is required to receive Zoom login prior to the event.

Germantown Garden Club Holds Virtual Flower Show

Because of Covid-19 the Germantown Garden has had, as have most other organizations, to cancel club meetings, events and programs. The first meeting for 2020 was held in February and welcomed two new members. As March approached it became clear that that months meeting could not take place. What followed was the cancellation of meetings for all the remaining months. However, we were able to accomplish a few of the items in our year book. By June a few members were able to tour The Churchtown Dairy. Only the outdoor gardens and keeping with the social distancing and wearing masks of course. In June, as we do every year, we created arrangements for the Germantown CSD High School graduation ceremony. We were able to award the annual $500 scholarship. In July, we entered a phase that allowed members who chose to attend our annual luncheon outdoors at a local restaurant following the state guidelines.

The Germantown Garden Club

has had some form of flower show each year since it was formed in 1928. With Covid-19 this was not a possibility for 2020. With the encouragement of flower show judges Barbara Campbell and Beth Walker a virtual flower show titled ‘Pandemic Posies’, was planned. Member Gloria Cestero-Hurd handled the registrations expertly. Because this was a virtual show and our first we had only a Horticulture Division with three Sections and 9 classes. Thirty six entries were judged. A Best In Show award winner was Triona Fritsch. Other first place winners were, Rita Edwards, Fran Bufi, Irene Clum, Gloria Cestero-Hurd, Elke Crane, and Mimi Brauch. To see some of the entries go to the Germantown Garden Club Facebook page or use this link: <https://www.facebook.com/media/set/?vanity=germantowngardenclub&set=a.3045445075682043>

The Germantown Garden Club is a member of The Federated Garden Clubs of NYS, Inc., Third District, Central Atlantic Region and National Garden Clubs For more information about the Germantown Garden Club call President, Fran Bufi at 518-537-4868.

At Your Local Libraries: Virtual Program about Current NYS Health Plan Marketplace

The Hudson Area Library, Claverack Free Library, Philmont Public Library, and Roeliff Jansen Community Library are joining forces to present a Zoom webinar led by Deborah La Due, community relations specialist with Fidelis Care, covering information on the New York State of Health enrollment guidelines; NYS’s special enrollment period; health insurance enrollment, options, and benefits; and health insurance renewal changes. The Zoom meeting link for What You Should Know about Health Coverage through the NYS Health Plan Marketplace is: <https://centene.zoom.us/j/95376403169?> To register email programs@hudsonarealibrary.org or call 518-828-1792 x101.

The Hudson Area Library is located at 51 North Fifth Street in Hudson, NY. The mission of the library is to enrich the quality of life by providing free and equal access to programs, services and resources, and by creating opportunities for all members of our community to connect, create, learn, and grow. For more information, visit hudsonarealibrary.org. Roeliff Jansen Community Library, which is chartered to serve Ancram, Copake, and Hillsdale, is located at 9091 Route 22, approximately one mile south of the traffic light at the intersection of Routes 22 and 23. Its mission is to inspire lifelong learning and curiosity, advance knowledge and understanding, and strengthen the vitality of the Roe Jan area. For more information visit roejanlibrary.org.

ART GALLERY 71

Our featured artist for Oct 2020 is Marcia Slatkin, a poet, musician & collagist. She began as a b&w photographer looking to see connections between human, animal and natural forms.

Later she became fascinated with digital collages. She invented a technique of making copies of photos of different sizes, cutting out areas of interest, playing with placement, then scanning & further tweaking the print.

She makes frames limited editions of archival prints. Because of this she is able to keep prices low and call her Exhibit "Affordable Beauty." Now at: Art Gallery 71, 71 E Market St, Rhinebeck. F, Sat: 12-6, Sun: 10-4, 845-516-4878

A Message from Morton Memorial Library

So happy to note that we have had several new signups during National Library Card

Month - many of you have been supporters and attendees of events and now you see how much more the library can offer. We are also going to offer our annual Fiber Arts Show, though in a different guise. We will be going virtual this October but are putting out the call for images of your amazing textile work. Please contact the library if you would like to be included.

We are also hoping to enlist many of you in our 2 Great Give Back events! From October 1 - October 17, we will be collecting food to help support our local food pantries and to compete with our fellow Mid-Hudson libraries for a friendly competition. On October 17, in conjunction with Riverkeeper Sweep, Backyard to Table, and the Rhinebeck Grange we will be doing a cleanup and planting at the Rhinecliff Dock - more info to follow.

Remember, not only can you check out library items, you can also contact us to help with your printing/copying jobs. We also have our socially distanced porch rocking chairs ready for you to enjoy, either with a book or using our WiFi.

While you are here, feel free to pick up a garbage bag to help keep Rhinecliff clean. November 3 is fast approaching. If you aren't registered to vote, you can pick up forms at the library!! September 22 is National Voter Registration Day, but we are not limiting you to only register on that specific day.

We are here for you, let us know if we can do more! Now that school has started, Lawrence is happy to offer online tutoring help. Our curbside hours are: Tuesday & Thursday: 10:00 - 2:00 Wednesday & Friday: 2:00 - 6:00 We are always available online!! Ghostly Gallop Goes Virtual for Its 20th Year

Run a 5K on Race Weekend: October 16-18

Adults & Kids Can Support Hudson Area Library

The Ghostly Gallop 5K and Kids Fun Run Challenge to benefit the Hudson Area Library will be a virtual race in 2020, the event's 20th year. Race weekend is October 16-18. "Supporters of the Hudson Area Library can get out and walk, run and have fun during Ghostly Gallop weekend," said Gary Sheffer, race director. "Even though we won't be walking and running together, there will be an adult competition for first place and a way for children to support the library." Concerns about COVID-19 make it unwise to hold a mass gathering such as the Ghostly Gallop, which traditionally draws several hundred runners to Hudson. Brendan Cranna, son of the late William Cranna, who helped create the Ghostly Gallop, said "While it's disappointing that we can't celebrate the 20th year of the Ghostly Gallop in person, we can still raise funds for the Hudson Area Library."

Runners and walkers can register for the Ghostly Gallop 5K at www.ghostlygallop.info. Each registrant will receive a printable Ghostly Gallop race bib to wear, if they choose, when they run a 5K distance on October 16th, 17th or 18th (Friday, Saturday, and Sunday). Runners then submit their times on the Ghostly Gallop website. Runners can choose their own 5k route to run.

The male and female runners who submit the fastest 5K times will receive the Cranna Cup, which is awarded to the race's top finishers.

The first 100 people to register for the race will receive a free t-shirt celebrating the 20th year of the race and the 60th anniversary of the Hudson Area Library. Shirts can be picked up at the library beginning on race weekend.

Race fees have been reduced from previous years to reflect the virtual nature of the event. Participants age 17 and under are free. Kids Fun Run Challenge The Kids Fun Run for children age 12 and under has been a popular part of the Ghostly

Gallop in years past, with many children and parents donning Halloween costumes for the run. This year, instead of a children's race, parents and friends are asked to take a photo of children running any distance and email it to ghostly.gallopkids2020@gmail.com for posting on the Ghostly Gallop website. For every photo received in the Kids Fun Run Challenge, $1 will be donated to the Hudson Area Library. "The Ghostly Gallop Kids Fun Run is a joyful event and we want to continue it virtually this year," Sheffer said. "Just submit a photo of a child running to help support our great community library." The Hudson Area Library is located at 51 North Fifth Street in Hudson, NY. The mission of the library is to enrich the quality of life by providing free and equal access to programs, services and resources, and by creating opportunities for all members of our community to connect, create, learn and grow. FREE PROGRAM ON THE PORTICO: STAATSBURGH AND THE TITANIC

This autumn, Staatsburgh State Historic Site will offer occasional outdoor programs on the mansion's front portico. On October 11 at 3 p.m., members of the staff will give a ½ hour presentation on Staatsburgh and the Titanic. Staatsburgh's owners, Ruth and Ogden Mills, planned to sail on the Titanic. First class passengers on the ship included the Millses' friends, neighbors and Mrs. Mills' cousin, John Jacob Astor. The Program on the Portico will explore Staatsburgh's connections to the world's most famous maritime disaster. The historic site staff will display some reproductions of items that would have been seen on the Titanic, including life vests (both children and adult sizes), a telegraph key, and an officer's jacket.

There is no charge to attend the program, but visitors must register in advance. Attendance will be limited to aid in social distancing. To make reservations, visit our Eventbrite page at www.staatsburgh.eventbrite.com.

Staatsburgh follows all NYS Department of Health guidelines for safety during the COVID 19 pandemic. Masks and social distancing will be required of all attendees until these guidelines are lifted.

Staatsburgh State Historic Site and the Ogden Mills & Ruth Livingston Mills Memorial State Park are located on Old Post Road in Staatsburg, off Route 9 between Rhinebeck and Hyde Park. The historic site is one of 6 sites and 15 parks administered by the Taconic Region of New York

State Office of Parks, Recreation and Historic Preservation. For more information, call 845-889-8851, or visit Staatsburgh's website at parks.ny.gov, their Facebook at Facebook.com/StaatsburghSHS, and blog at Staatsburghstatehistoricsite.blogspot.com. Staatsburgh's events are listed at parks.ny.gov/events

New York State Office of Parks, Recreation and Historic Preservation oversees more than 250 individual parks, historic sites, recreational trails and boat launches, which were visited by a record 77 million people in 2019. A recent university study found that spending by State Parks and its visitors supports $5 billion in output and sales, 54,000 private-sector jobs and more than $2.8 billion in additional state GDP.

For more information on any of these recreation areas, call 518-474-0456 or visit parks.ny.gov, connect on Facebook, or follow us on Twitter. Fiber Arts Exhibition Call for Art

Morton Memorial Library

This year we are asking textile artists: knitters, quilters, rug hookers, embroiderers, crocheters, weavers, spinners, etc. to virtually share their creations with the Morton community for an online art exhibition. Sadly, the Sheep and Wool Festival had to be postponed until next year and our in-library programs are on hiatus but your creativity is still evident! In fact this may allow some artists who are usually too busy with the S&W Festival to participate. Our online opening will be Friday, October 23. It would be lovely to see creations ranging from freshly carded wool, to colored skeins of yarn, to quilts, handbags, scarves, embroidery, and beyond! You will have until October 10th to create/photograph your piece. Send images to [sandy\[at\]mortonrhinecliff.org](mailto:sandy[at]mortonrhinecliff.org). This is open to everyone; kids' creations are welcome! Please e-mail: [sandy\[at\]mortonrhinecliff.org](mailto:sandy[at]mortonrhinecliff.org) if you have questions or are interested in participating.

Dental Disease and Dental Care in Our Pets

Julianne Porter, DVM

You've probably heard this before: periodontal disease is the most common disease in dogs in cats. By age 3, seventy percent of cats and eighty percent of dogs have some level of periodontal disease, and that number is likely underestimated.

How can you tell if your pet has dental disease? A lot of times you can't – our pets rarely show signs that they are in pain or discomfort. This is a survival mechanism, much like their wild ancestors/counterparts would have. However, sometimes you can get clues such as bad breath, trouble chewing (chewing on one side, dropping food, etc.), crying when yawning, hiding or running from their food, not grooming, acting grumpy, etc. You may also see bleeding due to advanced dental disease, or even a bump under their eye from a tooth-root abscess. But it's not always that obvious. Pain aside, periodontal disease has direct links to heart, kidney, liver, and lung issues. It is known that this can shorten your pet's life by 3-5 years.

So what can you do? If you get your pet as a puppy or kitten, start brushing their teeth right away. You don't actually have to start using toothpaste or really brushing thoroughly until they are 6 or 7 months of age – but get them used to the act of brushing. Brushing daily would be amazing, but at least 3-4 times per week will be enough to make a difference. Use a finger brush, a children's toothbrush, or a dog/cat-specific brush. Be sure to use pet-friendly toothpaste as human paste can be toxic (and probably won't taste as good). Now, brushing is way easier said than done, and this is not always something we can realistically accomplish with our pets. While brushing will be the most effective, thankfully, we do have other options. There are many dental treats, diets, chews, water additives, etc. that can help. While bones and antlers can also keep the teeth clean, they can lead to broken teeth, which can be a dental emergency. Because of this, they are not recommended. The Veterinary Oral Health Council (<http://www.vohc.org/>) has a list of approved products for dogs and cats. Refer to the website to learn about what that "VOCH seal" means and what products are available for you.

Lastly, having your veterinarian perform dental x-rays and a cleaning (above and below the gums) is also an important piece of maintaining oral health. Just like humans – we brush/floss our teeth and are still advised to seek out our dentists for cleanings and radiographs. And often, we still need to have dental work done because of periodontal disease. Think of a tooth like an iceberg – there is a lot below the gum line and most disease is actually found where you cannot see. In order to get the proper radiographs and thoroughly evaluate all aspects of each tooth, along with the tongue, gums and back of the oral cavity, anesthesia is required. Our pets don't understand this procedure and if they are awake or only sedated, this can be frightening, painful, and dangerous. An awake pet would not allow the full evaluation or proper cleaning/polishing. While anesthesia may sound scary, it's the best way to address the oral issues in our pets. The American Veterinary Dental College (<https://avdc.org/animal-owner-resources/>) is a great site to learn more about dental procedures.

Dental disease is often a silent issue in our pets, but it can cause detrimental effects on the rest of the body. Brushing or at-home dental care can significantly reduce periodontal disease to allow your pet to live a happy and healthy life for as long as possible!

FIRE SAFETY TIPS FOR DOG OWNERS

Presented by Barbara Sweeney Fassett and Bark Busters Home Dog Training Dutchess County

I don't really understand what happened to summer 2020 and how it could be over already but the chilly mornings and grabbing a jacket or sweater before heading out the door certainly are signs of the Fall season heading our way. And along with the Fall chill comes the need to restart our heating systems and stoke up our fireplaces. Unfortunately, along with the need to heat our homes comes the increased danger of fire.

In the event of a fire, your pets need protection as much as the rest of your family. The following are some tips to help you prevent fires and know what to do if a fire breaks out in your home. Be sure you have working smoke detectors on every level of your home. Place detectors near bedrooms and in the kitchen, either on the ceiling or 6-12 inches below the ceiling on the wall, well away from air vents. Be sure detectors are in good working order. Mark your calendar to remind yourself to check the batteries regularly (for example, at the start of a new season). Another smart home safety measure is to install a carbon monoxide detector in your home. Carbon monoxide is a poisonous gas that can cause severe illness or death to both people and pets. Have an emergency exit plan that includes your pets and practice the plan regularly. Once a fire starts it can spread rapidly, so everyone should know what to do to escape. Affix window decals around your home so rescue workers know here are pets inside. Decals can be obtained from your local Bar Busters trainer, or possibly the SPCA or your local fire department.

- Fire experts report that many dogs perish in fires because they are confined in a crate or room and cannot escape. Be sure your fire plan accounts for crated dogs.
- Keep leashes at hand so you can leash your dog to prevent him from escaping in panic.
- Keep hallways and exits free of clutter to allow you to get out of a burning house more safely.

Make sure pets always wear current identification.

Consider subscribing to a service that provides collar tags with phone numbers to help locate a lost pet. Name tags and phone numbers on your pets' collars are also helpful to relocate a lost pet. Research a safe place to take your pets. Ask friends or relatives in advance if they would shelter you and your pets if necessary, and check with local pet boarding facilities so that you have a plan in case you need it. Assemble a dog disaster kit. Include some of your dog's food and medications, copies of his health records, your veterinarian's phone number and a list of facilities you can take your pet to, recent photo taken of you with your dog, favorite toy or bedding and extra leash and collar affixed with the dog's identification. Give a house key to a trusted neighbor. Make sure your

Part 1: The Realities of The COVID Vaccine

by Charlotte Michos, RN, MS, CNS, CLNC

I will start with the ending:

If the full regulatory licensing process is carried out (even with Operation Warp Speed in place), a COVID vaccine will likely be available for mass distribution later into 2021. But the vaccine will not be a magic bullet that will put an end to wearing masks and practicing physical distancing. These practices will have to continue, and it will take until 2022 before we see some “normalcy” again. Recovery from a world-wide pandemic takes time; here’s why.

One of my sources was an excellent interviewee, who addressed the COVID-19 vaccine. His credentials are impressive: *Paul A. Offit, MD, is the director of the Vaccine Education Center at Children’s Hospital of Philadelphia (CHOP), and he serves as the *Maurice R. Hilleman Professor of Vaccinology at the Perelman School of Medicine at the University of Pennsylvania. An internationally recognized expert in virology and immunology, he has published more than 150 papers in medical and scientific journals. (Maurice R. Hillman is considered the “father of modern vaccines” and is credited with saving more lives than any other medical scientist of the 20th century (https://www.medscape.com/viewarticle/936937?src=mkmcovid_update_200910_mscpeedit_&uac=64796DZ&impID=2558382&faf=1#vp_8).

General information about the vaccine for coronavirus: Vaccines do not cure a disease; they prevent a person from getting it by activating our immune system to build antibodies against – in this case– the coronavirus. The antibodies of our immune system have “memory” and the next time the virus enters our body, the antibodies prevent the virus from attacking our system and we do not get sick. In the case of the COVID-19 vaccine research taking place, some vaccine candidates are utilizing dead or weakened coronaviruses, others are using fragments of the viruses, some will take the proteins of the virus and transfer them to viruses that don’t cause disease (you could say that the proteins of the coronavirus are piggybacking) and finally, other vaccines are employing the virus’s genetic materials (mRNA). Per Dr. Offit’s interview in addressing the use of genetic material for vaccines, he concludes: “I think when you have no commercial experience with a vaccine strategy and you’re using that as a way to try to stop a new virus, there will be something of a learning curve “ (https://www.medscape.com/viewarticle/936937?src=mkmcovid_update_200910_mscpeedit_&uac=64796DZ&impID=2558382&faf=1#vp_8).

Some vaccines provide protection long-term or even over a lifetime (polio, measles); others require boosters (tetanus) and some are seasonal (flu). Interesting that it appears that the MMR vaccine is helping to protect against and reduce the severity of COVID-19 (<https://www.iadvanceseniorcare.com/covid-19-and-the-elderly-could-mmr-vaccination-slow-the-pandemic/>). We have yet to discover how the COVID-19 vaccine will work and how long it will last. Some current research strategists are seeing the need for two-dose vaccines, taken a few weeks apart (<https://www.nationalgeographic.com/science/health-and-human-body/human-diseases/coronavirus-vaccine-tracker-how-they-work-latest-developments-cvd/>).

What are the phases and steps in development of this vaccine? To get a vaccine to market can take at least a decade or more; the vaccine for mumps was considered fast (1960) and that took four years. Due to the fact that this virus is infecting and affecting the entire world, the U.S. has created Operation Warp Speed (OWS) in order to fast track the development of a vaccine (<https://www.hhs.gov/coronavirus/>

Phases and Steps to produce a vaccine:

Phase1: After studying and identifying the virus, potential vaccine candidates are identified.

Phase 2: Pre- Clinical Testing of these vaccine candidates is carried out with animals to determine if the vaccine safely triggers an immune response.

Phase 3: Clinical Trials with human populations

A) Clinical Trial occurs when the testing pool is widened to include humans – groups of people who may have the disease or will be more likely to catch it, in order to gauge the vaccine’s effectiveness

B) The testing pool expands to the thousands to make sure the vaccine is safe and effective among a wider array of people, given that immune response can vary by age, ethnicity, or by underlying health conditions.

The next steps after the phases of the clinical trials include:

The vaccine candidates go through a rigorous regulatory process for approval, which includes the type of populations who should get it first and at what cost. Although the regulatory process addresses safety issues and a vaccine can be determined safe, it might not be “perfect.”

Meaning: We will likely see further testing done after the initial COVID-19 vaccine is out in order to establish a more effective vaccine. This occurred with the shingles vaccines: Earlier vaccines were not as effective as the later version.

Some researchers will maintain a perpetual stage of regular study, which will likely be the case for the novel coronavirus, since this is an atypical virus. Keep in mind, this is not a human virus; it is a virus found in the bat. As a result, we have witnessed odd symptoms, which also fluctuate in degree from mild to deadly. These assorted conditions include: Respiratory, resulting in various degrees of severity from a mild dry cough to being put on a ventilator.

Multi-inflammatory syndrome in children. Circulatory: There are cases of vasculitis, resulting in strokes, heart attacks, liver, kidney, and other distal organ disease and Cytokine Storm, which is an overreaction of the immune system as seen in trauma, sepsis, & cardiac arrest.

Production: Significant manufacturing capacity – such as infrastructure, personnel and equipment – is needed to produce large quantities of a vaccine for use. Quality control must be in place and all processes are monitored. Once licensed, policy must be developed to decide how to prioritize those who should be vaccinated; and of course in this case, distribution will be a massive undertaking since the vaccine needs to be distributed to the world (<https://theconversation.com/coronavirus-vaccine-here-are-the-steps-it-will-need-to-go-through-during-development-134726>).

Why Do Vaccine Trials Take Time?

The reason for the length of time is that the researchers have to wait to see how the testing pools (animals or humans) respond, then evaluate the responses, and finally, tally and measure the outcome. It takes time for the virus to activate in the body and for the immune system to respond. Obviously, this is the part of the development that the researchers cannot speed up. The testing groups start out small (for safety purposes) and are gradually increased once the vaccine presents itself to be effective. The research is in progress and changing almost daily, so when this article was written, the following was in place: Out of the 169 COVID-19 vaccine potentials worldwide, 26 of these are in the human trial phases with eight companies being in the midst of phase 3B (large clinical trials with thousands in the testing pool) as noted above (<https://www.who.int/emergencies/diseases/novel-coronavirus-2019/covid-19-vaccines>).

A sample timeline of vaccine candidates: November - December 2020 clinical trials in progress: There are two 30,000-participant trials with the Pfizer and Moderna vaccine candidates. Keep in mind you have two groups in a study: the experimental group (gets the vaccine) and the control group (gets the placebo or “fake” vaccine). The study approach is called a double-blind randomized clinical trial because the study groups are random in selection and the participants are unaware of which vaccine they receive. With these example studies, both happen to have a two-dose program. So after the first dose, there’s a booster given a month later (end of October or beginning of November), and then it will take a few weeks (at least) before the full expected immune response occurs (in one group) and those who get sick in the other group is known.

Early 2021 best-case scenario for the regulatory process to start: Even Moncef Slaoui, who is the head of OWS (Operation Warp Speed), thought a best-case scenario would be the end of the year, most likely the beginning of next year as the timeframe for the vaccine research to go forth with the regulatory process for approval. Dr. Offits agrees with this and thinks that’s a more accurate representation (https://www.medscape.com/viewarticle/936937?src=mkmcovid_update_200910_mscpeedit_&uac=64796DZ&impID=2558382&faf=1#vp_8).

Well into 2021 before the vaccine processes are complete and production and distribution starts: The completion of the approval process will likely take us well into 2021 if we follow the full regulatory licensing process, even with OWS. Then the next stage will be the production and distribution of the vaccine (HealthLetter.MayoClinic.com-September 2020). If (and that is the key word) a vaccine is developed that is 75% effective, we will need about 2/3 of the American population immunized. With a two-dose vaccine, that totals to over 400 million doses.

Realistically, even with warp-speed measures in place, we are easily looking well into 2021 for an initial vaccine roll out. Keep in mind, this is assuming that the research, approval & distribution processes have no glitches. (https://www.medscape.com/viewarticle/936937?src=mkmcovid_update_200910_mscpeedit_&uac=64796DZ&impID=2558382&faf=1#vp_8).

Could we see a vaccine come out at an earlier date? See next month’s column: Part II

Center for Healthy Aging presents two-part talk on Alzheimer’s

The Center for Healthy Aging’s Virtual Wellness Series will kick off this fall with a two-part series, Living with Alzheimer’s for Caregivers, from 2-3:30 p.m. on Mondays, Oct. 19 and 26. This virtual educational talk will be presented by guest speaker Tara DeLuca, a care consultant with the Hudson Valley chapter of the Alzheimer’s Association. DeLuca will provide answers to many of the questions that arise in the middle stage of Alzheimer’s disease. Those include developing a care team, treatment options, communicating and connecting, legal and financial planning, coping strategies and maximizing independence. This program is open to caregivers and people with Alzheimer’s.

To register, visit nuvancehealth.org/wellness or call Nancy Walsh at (845) 876-4745 (TTY/Accessibility: 1-800-421-1220). All registrants will receive an email confirmation with the link to access the event.

changed with your plan for the upcoming year. Coverages can change based on current trends, where a medication isn't covered anymore, or a doctor's not in-network or the premium changes up or down and sometimes entire plans are eliminated. And that's where we shop the market, and check and look for a more suited plan, that covers your medications for less perhaps, or works with your preferred pharmacy that's closer to you or includes benefits and providers more suitable to your current needs."

There are other factors that play into decisions regarding Medicare insurance. Some companies offer mostly HMO plans, which are often cost effective, but which limit care to "in-network" medical providers. Other plans are PPO (Preferred Provider Organization), which allows members to seek out-of-network coverage. That can be especially important for people with special needs or medical conditions, since it means being able to see a doctor or specialist that isn't in the plan's network. Some larger carriers have national PPO networks, which makes it possible to find a provider when traveling out of state, and represents a great fit for "snowbirds" who winter in sunnier climes. Helping Members Find the Best Medicare Insurance Options Colleen Palmiter, who launched Palmiter Business Solutions, Inc. with her son Aaron in 2012, after working in the insurance field for more than 20 years, knows the Medicare system can seem complex. It offers options and flexibility as far as coverage. But the different insurers and plans, and the structuring of the Medicare benefit, with Parts A and B and C and D, are not exactly intuitive. Even signing up can be intimidating.

"We help a lot of newbies," says Colleen. "For people who are newly eligible for Medicare, we help them with the process of actually getting their original Medicare ID card, and then from that point, picking out a plan that's suitable for them. I do a lot of helping people transition from employer group plans at retirement, and getting them on an individual-based Medicare plan that would be suitable for them after exiting their employer plan. So, there's all kinds of different scenarios that, when somebody calls us, we have to ask them a lot of questions to find out where they're coming from, and where they want to go during this transition phase." Anyone who's Medicare eligible can schedule to meet with Palmiter Business Solutions, to sign up for the first time, or to undergo a fresh evaluation of their insurance situation and needs. "We're always happy to help," says Aaron. "Our compensation for our service as brokers is built into the plans, so we don't charge anything for seeing someone and sitting down for a review. When they sign with us and get onto a plan, we get paid a commission fee from the insurance carrier. Aaron and Colleen and their team are expert in cross-comparing available plans and components, and individually tailored insurance solutions for members. "We really kind of plug in what I call the 3 P's: your providers, your prescriptions, and price, or premium," says Aaron. "We look at all those factors, and the numbers. For some people

Listen to your Dog. Canines have a keen sense of smell and can detect smoke long before humans. If your dog is acting strangely, look into the situation promptly and be prepared to gather your family and follow your evacuation plan.
If you must evacuate and can't find your dog in the house leave an outside door open and then call your dog's name once you get out. He may be able to hear you and escape.
If your dog is in a smoke-filled building, or if you can smell smoke on his fur, take him to your veterinarian. Toxic fumes can be deadly.
Most importantly, do everything you can to prevent fires from happening.

- Ensure your dog doesn't have access to dangerous combustible items.
- Keep electrical wires and batteries out of your pet's reach.
- Chewing or biting anything electrical can cause him shock or burns, or could start a fire.
- Don't leave lighted candles unattended. A lit candle knocked over by a swinging tail can burn your pet or cause a fire.

- Every once in a while, get down on the floor at the same level where your dog lives and look for any potential fire hazards. And the results?

Happy Dogs = Happy Families
Bark Busters is the World's Largest and Most Trusted Dog Training Company. Our techniques have been used to train more than 1.1 million dogs worldwide without the use of treats or physical force and we provide Guaranteed Support for the Life of the Dog. We teach our clients how to view the world through the eyes of the dog and to "Speak Dog". By learning how to effectively communicate with a dog and tapping into what the dog already instinctively understands, you build a relationship with the dog based on trust, respect and bonding.

Barbara Sweeney Fassett is the Owner of Bark Busters Home Dog Training, Dutchess County. As such, she has done business in the mid-Hudson Valley for the past 12+ years. The Columbia-Greene Humane Society/ SPCA receives animals from hurricane-ravaged Louisiana

CGHS/SPCA has received four dogs and eleven cats from the Louisiana Humane Society that were evacuated due to Hurricane Laura. All of the animals are up for adoption. Two of the dogs need to be treated for heartworm, but are expected to make a full recovery. Since Hurricane Katrina in 2005, CGHS/SPCA has opened its doors and assisted humane societies and SPCAs throughout the country by accepting homeless pets that were displaced because of natural disasters. "Our thoughts and prayers are with all the families that were affected by Hurricane Laura. We're proud to assist in rehoming these pets that were displaced because of this disaster," said Ron Perez, President/CEO of the Columbia-Greene Humane Society/SPCA. Pictured are some of the animals taken in from Louisiana. Betty is 3 years old, Oakley is 2 years old, Hollie is 2 years old, and Giselle is 1 year old. The cats are various ages. For more information, please call (518) 828-6044 ext. 100 or email info@cghs.org. To be pre-approved for adoption, you can visit cghs.org and submit an adoption application online.

Guard Your Heart Above all else guard your heart, for it is the wellspring of life. Proverbs 4:23

By Naomi Fata

President of Christian Resource Ministry Inc. (CRM)

Throughout the day we all experience a variety of emotions. Have you ever wondered how or why your emotions change so quickly from one moment to the next?

When you want to be physically healthy, you pay attention to diet. You are conscious of your sugar, carbs and calories. In a similar way our mental and emotional health is affected by what we take in through our senses, especially through what we see and hear.

In his book The God-Shaped Brain, Dr. Timothy Jennings writes, “Neurologically speaking the ‘heart’ is the anterior cingulate cortex (ACC), the part of the brain right between your eyes and slightly back from your forehead. It is in this brain region where we experience empathy, compassion and love, and where we choose right from wrong.” This is the heart that Solomon, the author of this Proverb, exhorts us to guard. Throughout each day our minds are bombarded by a constant flow of triggers, emotions, experiences, disappointments, and feelings. These play out in our actions, thoughts, and decisions.

These days our senses are overwhelmed by the media, from the TV to Facebook to our google feed to our email. Aside from that anytime you stop to talk to a friend or acquaintance you may have the opportunity to hear their latest fears and speculations about the election, the Black Lives Matter Movement and the COVID virus.

All this can quickly begin to affect your internal state of mind. There are times when we can't control all that we see and hear. But we can take responsibility for ‘guarding’ or watching over the state of our hearts. When you find yourself jittery or exceptionally fearful, think about the people or media that you interacted with today or this week. Were these negative or positive? Can you pin-point a specific piece of news or conversation that made you feel more anxious than you were previously?

Guarding one's heart doesn't just happen. It takes purpose, focus and perseverance. God's instructions are for us to actively reject thoughts or feelings that bring fear and anxiety. His desire is for us to be living continually with His peace. Living in peace doesn't mean we believe the world is going to be perfect or that the pain the people of our country are experiencing will go away. It does mean that we can continually put our focus on Christ who is our hope, finding confidence in verses like Hebrews 4:16 which says “let us draw near with confidence to the throne of grace, so that we may receive mercy and find grace to help in time of need.”

This is a time of need for all of us and for the people we know. Rather than let your heart become overwhelmed with fear, guard your heart by drawing near to Christ.

FOUNDATIONS OF LIFE! WHAT ARE YOU BUILDING YOUR LIFE UPON?

“Therefore, whosoever heareth these sayings of mine, and doeth them, I will liken him unto a wise man, which built his house upon a rock. And the rains descended, and the floods came, and the winds blew, and beat upon that house; and it fell not: for it was founded upon a rock. And every one that heareth these sayings of mine, and doeth them not, shall be likened unto a foolish man, which built his house upon the sand. And the rain descended, and the floods came, and the winds blew, and beat upon that house; and it fell, and great was the fall of it.” Matthew 7:24-27

When Jesus finished the Sermon on the Mount, He challenged the people of His day and of our day about the importance of building their life on the right foundation. There is a stark difference between the two foundations He mentioned in Matthew 7:24-27. Those that build on either foundation will face the same difficulties of life, but the one who builds on the rock will stand, while the one who builds on the sand will fall. It is imperative that people build their lives on the right foundation, which is Jesus Christ and the teachings of God's Word, the Bible. The Apostle Paul wrote, “For other foundation can no man lay than that is laid, which is Jesus Christ” (1 Corinthians 3:11).

In the Apostle Peter's confession, about Jesus, he said, “Thou art the Christ, the Son of the living God” (Matthew 16:16). Jesus responded by saying, “Blessed art thou Simon Bar-jona: for flesh and blood hath not revealed it unto thee, but my Father which is in heaven. And I say also unto thee; That thou art Peter, and upon this rock, I will build my church; and the gates of hell shall not prevail against it” (Matthew 16:17,18). Jesus Christ is the foundation and He is the Chief Corner Stone of the Church. Jesus also needs to be the foundation of our lives. On Christ the Solid Rock I stand, all other ground is sinking sand! If you haven't confessed Jesus as your Lord and Savior and received Him into your life, I encourage you to do so now (Romans 10:9-13).

You need to ensure that you are building your life on a solid foundation that will survive the trials of life. To be sure we are living in very difficult and trying times. We need to have our lives built on the solid foundation of Jesus Christ. “Laying up in store for themselves a good foundation against the time to come, that they may lay hold to eternal life” (1 Timothy 6:19).

Brethren, I trust that you are laying up a good foundation for your life and for your family! When you are on the solid foundation, then your life will reflect the love of God to others and to the world in which you live. Life is short and it goes by very quickly, so it imperative that you use the time the Lord gives us to Glorify the Lord and to be a blessing to others. We all should be willing to Serve the Lord joyfully and others with a heart of love and compassion.

We are not to be like the world! In the world people are always worried about themselves and what is in it for them. As Christians we are to seek to Glorify and Serve the Lord with our whole Heart. If you want to be great in God's Kingdom, be a Servant of all. Are you laying up a good foundation against the time to come? By placing your Faith in the Lord Jesus Christ and living your life in the Power of the Holy Spirit you will be building your life on the solid foundation, which is a life on the Rock, the Lord Jesus Christ. Now is the time to do so - Lay hold of Eternal Life and be assured of a solid foundation now and for all Eternity!

If you would like to know more about being a Christian and/or about the Foundation of Life, contact us by Email at cdcfirone@aol.com or by phone at (845) 876-2122 or (845) 876-6923. “STAATSBURGH IN COLOR” AT STAATSBURGH STATE HISTORIC SITE Throughout October 2020, 9am to 5pm

Tucked on the portico of Staatsburgh State Historic Site is a box containing coloring kits offered to site and park visitors. Inside are colored pencils and a choice of line drawings of the mansion and surrounding landscape which visitors can borrow, to sit in the sun by the river, or under a shady tree, and color as they wish. The program is offered every day in October from 9am to 5pm. The brainchild of site interpreter Frank Pidala, the program offers people a relaxing and creative way to experience the site, while the mansion is still closed due to the pandemic. “Many people, of all ages, find coloring meditative and calming,” says Pidala, “I wanted to create another option for enjoying the site in these rather stressful times.”

Visitors to Staatsburgh can also enjoy a picnic or stroll by the river, or a hike on the woodland trails in Mills and Norrie State Parks.

Coloring materials are available for use during normal park hours, from sunrise to sunset. For safety, each kit is returned to another box, and carefully sanitized by staff before re-use. In addition, Staatsburgh follows all NYS Department of Health guidelines for safety during the COVID 19 pandemic. Masks and social distancing are required of all park visitors until these guidelines are lifted.

Colorists can also submit their handiwork for a chance to win a gift certificate to Adams Fairacre Farms, by depositing their coloring onsite or by emailing a photo of their work to the site. A winner will be selected among the submissions by the end of each week in October.

Staatsburgh State Historic Site and the Ogden Mills & Ruth Livingston Mills Memorial State Park are located on Old Post Road in Staatsburg, off Route 9 between Rhinebeck and Hyde Park. The historic site is one of 6 sites and 15 parks administered by the Taconic Region of New York State Office of Parks, Recreation and Historic Preservation. For more information, call 845-889-8851, or visit Staatsburgh's website at parks.ny.gov, their Facebook at Facebook.com/StaatsburghSHS, and blog at Staatsburghstatehistoricsite.blogspot.com. Staatsburgh's events are listed at parks.ny.gov/events

New York State Office of Parks, Recreation and Historic Preservation oversees more than 250 individual parks, historic sites, recreational trails and boat launches, which were visited by a record 77 million people in 2019. A recent university study found that spending by State Parks and its visitors supports $5 billion in output and sales, 54,000 private-sector jobs and more than $2.8 billion in additional state GDP. For more information on any of these recreation areas, call 518-474-0456 or visit parks.ny.gov, connect on Facebook, or follow us on Twitter. Palmiter from page 11 some of the co-pays don't bother them too much. Where others would rather pay a five-dollar copay, versus a 30-dollar copay. Or they'd rather pay a flat fee for a diagnostic test, versus a co-insurance, where they really don't know what the costs could be. So that's where we can kind of sit down and really help them understand Medicare as a whole, and the options on each plan based on their needs." Times are limited as far as when beneficiaries can change plans. So, it's important to act during the Annual Enrollment Period(AEP), since this is the time when anyone eligible for Medicare can change plans. There is another period called "Open Enrollment Period(OEP)", that takes place from Jan 1st, thru March 31st. But "Open Enrollment Period" plan changes are only available to people who have a "Medicare Advantage" type plan. The Open Enrollment Period is great for people who have a Medicare Advantage plan, who may have missed the AEP," says Colleen. "They might be traveling, or hospitalized. Or they might have enrolled in a different plan, and then decide, in say February, that they want to make a change." A Safe and Efficient Insurance Shopping Experience Covid-19 has meant evolving and preparing to meet clients in different ways this season, according to Aaron. "This is the first year that we're not doing formal meetings with large groups of people, which has traditionally been traditionally our bread and butter. We're doing more resource meetings, where people make appointments, or they come in at a staggered time frame. And then they'll meet with us individually. Of course, we're going to have six feet social distancing practices."

The team at Palmiter is well aware that many of their clients represent the Pandemic's hardest hit group. "We've revamped things in our office to be Covid compliant," says Colleen. "It's especially important, because of the age group of our clients, who are in a compromised time-frame in their life." Office safety precautions include wearing face masks and offering them to those who don't have them. Work stations are cleaned according to protocols, and hand sanitizer is offered and used during meetings. Palmiter Business Solutions has also re-designed their website, palmiterbusinesssolutions.com, to be able to handle virtual information gathering. Zoom and Facetime type appointments are being offered, as well. "Because of Covid, we're taking more of a virtual approach this year," Aaron explains. "We can actually do an assessment through our website. There's a tab on the right of our homepage that says 'Needs Assessment'. So, a member can input their vital information, like prescriptions, and providers. And there's a field where they can add any additional information they want us to know. The information gets sent right to us securely. And then we can reach out, and we can do the homework. It gives us all the information we need to run cross comparisons and find out whether a plan they're on really is well suited for them."

With the help available from the experienced agents at Palmiter Business Solutions, Medicare members can feel confident about taking advantage of the Annual Enrollment Period to make sure they're getting the right health insurance coverage, at the best possible price. Tales from Hudson’s Crypts: The Tour with Kelley Drahushuk

Hudson Area Library presents a special tour of Cedar Park Cemetery, Tales from Hudson’s Crypts: The Tour on Saturday, October 24, 12-1:30pm (RAINDATE: Sunday, October 25, 12-1:30pm). Registration is required and participation is limited to 10 participants. Mask wearing and social distancing at all times is required. Register by emailing programs@hudsonarealibrary.org or calling 518-828-1792 x101. Kelley Drahushuk’s talk at the library, Raising the Dead: Tales from Hudson’s Crypts, was so popular we began this tour and it has become an annual event. Kelley once again acts as our tour guide and has added new graves and new stories to the tour. Donations are appreciated but not required and they will support the archiving of the library’s History Room collection based in the history of Hudson, Greenport and Stockport. Attendees will meet in the cemetery office parking lot promptly at 12pm. As this is a walking tour, wear appropriate footwear & dress for the weather & conditions. We may encounter uneven ground, semi-steep hills, and mud and will not always be sticking to the paved pathways. Long-touted as “a virtual treasure trove for historians and enthusiasts of American funerary art”, the Hudson Cemetery includes over 10,000 grave sites for a wide range of interesting and notable individuals, including the Proprietors and their ancestors, war heroes, famous artists, paragons of industry, disaster survivors and much more. Learn about the history of the original cemetery, more recent history and discoveries as well as its current layout. All attendees will receive a free map of Cedar

Park with highlighted sites discussed in this presentation—do your own walking tour and make new discoveries! Kelley Drahushuk is a long-time resident of Hudson, NY with family history in the city dating back to the 1800’s. She, along with her husband Alan, own The Spotty Dog Books and Ale, now in its 14th year of operation on Hudson’s Warren Street in the former CH Evans Hook & Ladder building. She has served on the board of the Hudson Area Library and continues as a member of the History Room Committee. She earned a BS from Rochester Institute of Technology in Industrial Engineering. Two adorable children, a very chill cat and two noisy guinea pigs keep her quite busy. The Hudson Area Library’s History Room Committee Local History Speaker Series offers free monthly talks on diverse topics related to the history of Hudson, Greenport, Stockport, and Columbia County. The library’s History Room houses a special collection that pertains to the history of the City of Hudson, Greenport and Stockport; as well as Columbia County and New York State. The History Room is closed to the public at this time but online research requests are available at <https://hudsonarealibrary.org/history-room/> and the public can submit requests for information on local history that volunteers will research. The Hudson Area Library is located at 51 North Fifth Street in Hudson, NY. The mission of the library is to enrich the quality of life by providing free and equal access to programs, services and resources, and by creating opportunities for all members of our community to connect, create, learn and grow. Paul Hallenbeck from page 1

Village,” open seven days a week.
“There are no worries about traffic and parking because we own our historic building, circa 1850, and the private driveway and parking lot behind.”

Faithfully restored to historical Rhinebeck splendor and quality, the office building is a lovely example of their fine listings. Hardwood floors are refinished to a shine, elegantly adding to the ambiance of country sophistication and professionalism. Designed with clients in mind, Hallenbeck’s has a private conference room with natural light for discreet meetings.
“We listen to your needs so we can quickly match you with one of our many exclusive listings or one of the numerous properties listed on MLS -- both immediately accessible by computer.”

Mr. Hallenbeck is proud of his team because he is committed to individual attention. “You can get lost in the bigger national real estate firms,” he explains.
“We know the neighborhood and we all work together to give our clients exceptional service. We are experts in the area because we live here too.”

The Paul Hallenbeck Real Estate website has an impressive testimonial page that describes the exceptional service of which he speaks – producing steady repeat business.

One happy client wrote, “Great communication, attention to detail, excellent website presentation of the home and positive energy are coupled with a work ethic. My previous real estate experiences were filled with promise and not action. You were confident and you delivered. You and your real estate family were the absolute tonic to my extremely stressful and time sensitive situation. Your agency is the gold standard.”

Another says, “The beautiful listing pictures and description, but especially your professional attitude and execution, gave us confidence that our home would sell (and it did within 30 days)!”

Mr. Hallenbeck believes in being honest with his clients. “We keep up with the market. We can tell you what homes are selling for. We can tell you the condition of those homes and use that information to help you determine a fair price for the property

you want to purchase or sell.”
“We follow the Realtor’s Code of Ethics to be truthful and honest. When we list a property, we look at what needs to be done to get it ready to market. We discuss any repairs that need to be made, how to stage the house and those first impression considerations that really matter.”
“It’s a very unique time right now,” Mr. Hallenbeck articulates, “in part because mortgage rates are so low.” There is a large demand from people leaving the city, “for a variety of reasons, not just Covid-19.”
“It’s really beautiful here, we live in a wonderful, highly desired area, and the market is incredibly active. I’ve never seen it quite like this.”

So, if you are wondering if this is a good time to sell, Mr. Hallenbeck recommends a good look at your life. Ask yourself where would you go? What can you afford? Do you have a plan? Do you want to buy or rent? “These are big considerations,” he insists. “You have to know if the time is right, what is next in your life and whether you are willing and able to face change. If the time is right, you are ready to sell your house and move, we are here for you.”
In the words of a satisfied client, “After listing, you took charge. You did a virtual tour, came up with a plan to market the house, and made up a book of information that you placed in my home for prospective buyers. You took the listing seriously and you were total professionals. You took the extra steps to sell my house. For that I will always be grateful.”

Hudson Valley Radio Theatre, now in 25 states and 21 countries, presents DRACULA as their 12th program.

After having their 2020 schedule of live shows wiped out by the pandemic, Frank Marquette’s Murder Café looked for alternative ways to entertain their loyal fans and friends. Over the past 22 years, they have achieved a reputation for presenting quality entertainment, and Frank was not going to let the quarantine stop him. The answer was “theatre on the mind” – sound.
Hudson Valley Radio Theatre made its debut in early April with “Murder Me Always”, a whodunit Murder Café first presented on stage at Mohonk Mountain House in 2017. It has been followed by 12 additional radio programs, all performed by members of our Murder Café troupe on Zoom. Editing, sound effects and music are added by the company’s tech director, Kenny Drao.

The most recent addition to their programming is an acclaimed version of “Dracula”. Written by Crane Johnson, and licensed by Dramatists Play Service, Marquette’s troupe staged a live version of the same play on Bannerman Island in 2018 and 2019 to enthusiastic audiences and positive reviews.

“Dracula” is being sponsored by Bannerman Castle Trust, Inc., which is dedicated to the Preservation of Bannerman Castle in the Hudson Highlands State Park, NY, USA.

Director Frank Marquette offers, “In this production Van Helsing is played by a woman and she follows The Count as he travels from Transylvania to England to find new blood and spread his undead curse. Professor Van Helsing and Doctor Seward engage in a battle of wits and a desperate race to save Renfield and others from Dracula’s evil clutches. Audiences responded well to the live staged version and thanks to our amazing actors and sound engineer it has translated well to an audio.”

Using Anchor.com as their hub, Hudson Valley Radio Theatre’s programs can be heard on 9 different platforms, including Spotify, RadioAmerica, Apple Podcasts, Google Podcasts, Breaker and iHeartRADIO. You can also access our plays on our YouTube channel and website, hudsonvalleyradiotheatre.com. All programming is free although Marquette relies on donations and sponsors to support actors and production expenses. To date those sponsors include Ulster Savings Bank, Meadbrook Lodge in New Windsor, Bannerman Castle Trust and Studio KTM in Red Hook.

Analytics show Hudson Valley Radio Theatre’s programs have listeners in 21 countries and 25 states.

Hudson Valley Radio Theatre owner and operator, Frank Marquette, summarizes his venture into radio theatre as follows, “Consider us as an alternative to the streaming choices on your tube or screen. You can access and be entertained by us, no matter where you are or what you’re doing. It’s theater, anytime, anywhere.” Photos and interviews are available upon request. Please contact Frank Marquette at hudsonvalleyradiotheatre@gmail.com or 845-475-7973. About Frank Marquette Frank has been involved with hundreds of interactive comedy plays since 1994. Performing since the age of 17, he has appeared with theatre groups in New York, Nevada and New Mexico. As an actor and director, Frank recently collaborated with the Manhattan Repertory Company in New York City. He has produced, written and emceed variety shows for many charitable causes. Frank’s on camera work has included national commercials for Konica, Unsolved Mysteries, The Marvelous Mrs. Maisel and dozens of local and regional commercials. Since 1998 Frank has been the owner-operator of Murder Café. About Murder Cafe Founded in Las Vegas in 1998, Murder Café is the creation of actor, writer, director Frank Marquette along with wife and producing partner, Kristen Marquette. Since returning to their native New York in 2009, they have been serving quality entertainment for both public and private events. Primarily known for comedies, musicals and murder mysteries, Murder Café provides entertainment for company parties, fundraising events, schools and colleges, casinos and a number of choice public venues.

Springbrook Plaza is located on the north side of the Rhinebeck Village across the street from the DC Fairgrounds on the busy Route 9 corridor. High traffic counts, plenty of parking and surrounding business’s offer ample exposure for any retail business or professional offices. At current there are several first floor and second units available for rent in a variety of sizes.
