Diana Wilson (she/her), is a Licensed Clinical Social Worker in Santa Clara County with over 25 years of experience in various roles, including private practice, consulting, non-profit leadership, school-based services, and acute mental health. She is the Crisis Response Consultant for The HEARD Alliance at Stanford School of Medicine Department of Psychiatry and Behavioral Sciences. Diana is known for her high energy, creative problem-solving, inclusivity, and affirming approach. Her work revolves around enhancing suicide prevention and mental health supports, strategies, and responses. Diana prioritizes partnering with school communities, behavioral health agencies, and community organizations to improve mental health outcomes and to identify and address the needs of the K-12 youth communities. As a mom of two teens who attend local public schools, her personal experiences deepen her commitment to supporting staff, teachers, administrators, families, and youth within our educational system. Diana's approach centers on building capacity, strengthening community, and encouraging connections to drive impactful change. Diana can provide the following:

- Specialized training tailored to the needs of K-12 youth communities.
- Collaboration with school districts and youth-serving agencies to enhance their strengths, identify effective strategies, and address barriers or unmet needs to support youth mental health and well-being.
- Training and consultation workshops to support youth mental health and well-being in Santa Clara County, focusing on the Toolkit for Mental Health Promotion and Suicide Prevention K-12 and other relevant resources.
