From the Pastor's Desk

Belden Faith Family,

As we enter November, our hearts naturally turn toward gratitude. But more than food, family, and fellowship, our deepest thanks belong to God for the indescribable gift of salvation through Jesus Christ. Scripture says, “Thanks be to God for his indescribable gift!” (2 Corinthians 9:15, CSB).

Through Jesus, we’ve been rescued from darkness, forgiven of sin, and given eternal life. That truth alone gives us endless reason to give thanks—no matter what life brings. As Paul wrote, “Give thanks in everything; for this is God’s will for you in Christ Jesus” (1 Thessalonians 5:18). Gratitude isn’t about pretending life is perfect; it’s about proclaiming that God is faithful and His grace is enough.

This Thanksgiving, let’s express our gratitude by:

- Remembering the cross—thank Him daily for salvation.
- Sharing our story—tell someone what Jesus has done for you.
- Opening our homes—extend grace and hospitality to others.

Even if the table feels a little emptier this year, Christ’s presence fills every heart that trusts in Him. Let’s be a church marked by grateful hearts and gospel hope.

With a grateful heart,

Pastor Shane
