(1) Customers can order an one or multiple year Software Maintenance & Support Agreement (SMSA) with any Fiery XF full version, upgrade or trade-in. Channel partners need to provide the information on their order on how many years of SMSA are wanted for the full version, upgrade or trade-in.

(2) The channel partner places an order for an upgrade at EFI Customer Service specifying

a) the Dongle ID of the Fiery XF 5.0-6.x product. EFI Customer Service is going to create LACs matching the EAC licenses associated to that dongle ID and informs the channel partner once the process is completed.

The customer can then install Fiery XF 7.x, plug in the dongle ID and will be able to activate the LACs associated to that dongle ID.

OR

b) the License Activation Code (LAC) of the Fiery XF 7.x product. EFI Customer Service processes the order and informs the channel partner once the process is completed.

(3) The channel partner places an order for a trade-in at EFI Customer Service specifying

a) the information about the competitive product, i.e. product name, version, dongle ID or activation code OR

b) the Dongle ID of Colorproof eXpress 3.5 or eXpress 4.1 -4.6.x.

EFI Customer Service processes the order, holds back the invoice for 30 days until the return of the dongle (if any) / serial number and program CD. EFI Customer Service simultaneously releases the shipment of the Fiery XF software.

If EFI Customer Service receives the returned dongle and software DVD (if any)

- within 30 days, EFI Customer Service invoices the trade-in to the regular trade-in price.

- after 30 days, EFI Customer Service invoices the trade-in for the full version price.

(4) When ordering, channel partners need to

- order Fiery XF Proofing or Production.

- order a minimum of 1 Printer Option (max = number to create the configuration needed).

- order the required additionally available Product Options for the configuration needed (max = 1 per Option type (optional)).

- specify all part numbers for the configuration needed on the order.

(5) Customers can order an one year Software Maintenance & Support Agreement (SMSA) renewal, or multiple year renewals, for any SMSA included with Fiery XF 7.x which is expiring or is already expired.

Channel partners need to provide the following information on their order: The License Activation Code (LAC) of the customers Fiery XF 7.x version for EFI Customer Service to determine the SMSA expiration date, plus how many years the SMSA shall be renewed for, (quantity being equal to number of years renewal, e.g. order quantity 2 = 2 YRs renewal).

PLEASE NOTE: SMSA renewals can now be backdated. SMSA renewals start one day after the previous SMSA's expiration date, regardless of how long ago the SMSA expired. SMSA renewals no longer need to be ordered within 30 days of expiration.
