WOMENS GROUP CANCELS COMMUNITY BUILDING EVENT DUE TO MEDIA ATTACKS

Mamalitia community has canceled all public meet and greet events due to media attacks, irresponsible reporting and false claims that have invited terrorist organizations to threaten our women and children. In a time where all should be embracing and encouraging strong women with goals to protect their home and family, the media and politicians try to create a story that puts those same women and children in danger.

Though Mamalitia is making this change to our process, the organization will not allow these extremists to intimidate and change the narrative of the organization's mission:

Mamalitia is a community of constitution loving women that recognize our empowerment comes from fully engaging in our children's education, our wellness, food and financial sovereignty, and overall skills. We are committed to building the world we want to live in, getting back to our roots while empowering women from every walk of life.

Regardless of the cancellation of public facing meet and greet events, Mamalita is still accepting new members. Women who resonate with the mission statement and have an interest in membership are encouraged to visit <https://mamalitia.org/contact-us> and complete the two forms. A member of the organization will follow up with those expressing genuine interest.
