

Sulfur Removal from Gas Streams - Consulting and Support

SulfurSWEET® located in The Woodlands, Texas, provides consulting, engineering and technical services for H<sub>2</sub>S and mercaptan removal from gas streams.

With more than 40 years of global expertise our extensive expertise and innovative critical first thinking can help you with design, application, and operation of chemical additive systems and processes

We can be a valuable resource for you to ensure that you attain are operating at peak efficiency, productivity, and performance.

SulfurSWEET® onsite services and support includes:

- System/process audits (efficiency, process control, optimization)
- Process troubleshooting and testing
- Equipment installation, commissioning and startup
- Training and education for operation and maintenance
- Identify opportunities for improvement
- Recommendations for remote systems to improve productivity and safety
- Chemical evaluations and audits to drive best practices and productivity
- Chemical selection review and optimization
- Assist with new well feasibility studies
- Provide SME input to your organization

Please contact us at info@sulfursweet.com or visit www.sulfursweet.com to learn how our expert consulting services can help you.