THE SACRIFICE, AND THE SPIRIT OF HOLY WEEK

This weekend, as we enter into the holiest week of the church with the blessing of palms, we are reminded of the greatest story of our salvation – that God died for us. If we do not do anything else during this Holy Week, may I ask, dear church, that we pause and think about that sacrifice of Jesus on the cross. He died for you and me, that the doors of heaven may be opened up, so we may take a journey together as His Church to be with Him forever. May I share these verses that I wrote in my personal reflection time:

I DIE FOR YOU

*This is how much I love you:
I die for you.
With thorns on my head
And stripes of blood on my back,
I die for you.
With spit, mud and tears on my face,
The cause of shame for sin,
I put on my holy face,
So I can die for you.
My hands and feet, nailed upon the
Beams of a criminal's cross,
Which I bore on my shoulders,
Embracing all the shame, until I feel
Alone, abandoned and thirsty for you:
I die for you.
I hang between heaven and earth
To my final breath, to die for you,
And if I have to do it again,
To win you over to me,
And let you realize that it is real,
And take you away from your misery,
Will you take my love and live in me?*

Whenever I think of sacrifice, I think of the people who made a decision to not think of themselves but think of the greater good that they can do for others. They are heroes who gave their time, their efforts, their gifts and their support to the cause of someone else's betterment.

I have been around many communities around the world, trying to understand people's way of thinking and people's cultures. I have known many stories of successful communities building themselves to success. I have noticed common threads in the stories of these successful communities throughout the world. In the stories of success, I discovered that the higher the rate of collective sacrifice, the higher the rate of success. But when people do not sacrifice for their community, the community begins to die. Isn't it true all the way down to the unit of family, where the success of a family depends of each family member's sacrifice for the success of the entire family. Is it also not true in the personal level, where one's success depends a lot on how much one is willing to sacrifice to achieve one's goals in life?

Jesus made the greatest sacrifice by dying on the cross for us. And so all of us can live, and His Kingdom triumphs to the end. During this holy week, I ask that we all take little sacrifices to pray together, to fast and abstain together, to listen to each other, and to do good and holy work together. God works in these details.

May the Lord bless and guide our holy week celebrations and liturgies, and may he bless our first Holy Week as Saint John Paul II Parish! Amen.

With devotion and prayers,
Fr. Sunny Castillo

EL SACRIFICIO Y EL ESPIRITU DE SEMANA SANTA

Esta semana, mientras entramos a la semana más santa de la iglesia con la bendición de las palmas, se nos recuerda de la historia más grandiosa de nuestra salvación – de que Dios murió por nosotros. Si no hacemos nada más durante esta Semana Santa, puedo pedir, querida iglesia que hagamos una pausa y pensemos acerca del sacrificio de Jesús en la cruz. El murió por ti y por mí, para que las puertas del cielo se abrieran, para que podamos tener una jornada junta como Su Iglesia para estar con Él por siempre. Puedo compartir estos versos que escribí en mi tiempo de reflexión personal:

YO MUERO POR TI

*Esto es cuanto te quiero:
Yo muero por ti.
Con espinas en mi cabeza
Y marcas de sangre en mi espalda,
Yo muero por ti.
Con escupidas, lodo y lágrimas en mi cara,
La causa de vergüenza por el pecado,
Pongo en mi Santa cara,
Para que pueda morir por ti.
Mis manos y mis pies, clavados en las
Vigas de la cruz de un criminal
Las cuales taladraron mis hombros,
Abrasando toda la culpa, hasta que me siento
Solo, abandonado y sediento de ti:
Yo muero por ti.
Estoy suspendido entre el cielo y la tierra
Hasta mi último aliento, para morir por ti,
Y si lo tengo que hacer nuevamente,
Para traerte hacia mí,
Para que te dé cuenta que es verdad,
Y quitarte de tu miseria,
Tu tomarías mi amor y vivirías en mí?*

Cuando pienso en el sacrificio, pienso en la gente quienes tomaron la decisión de no pensar en sí mismos pero en el grandioso bien que pueden hacer por otros. Son héroes que dieron su tiempo, sus esfuerzos, sus talentos y su apoyo a la causa del mejoramiento de alguien.

He estado en varias comunidades alrededor del mundo, tratando de entender la manera de pensar y cultura de las personas. He conocido muchas historias de comunidades triunfadoras construyéndose al éxito. Me he dado cuenta de los lazos comunes en las historias de estas comunidades exitosas en todo el mundo. En estas historias de éxito, descubrí que entre más alto el índice de sacrificio colectivo, más alto el índice de éxito. Pero cuando las personas no se sacrifican por su comunidad, la comunidad comienza a morir. Acaso no es verdad, desde abajo hasta la unidad de la familia, donde el triunfo de la familia depende del sacrificio de cada miembro para lograr el éxito de toda la familia? Además no es verdad en el nivel personal, donde el triunfo de uno depende mucho de cuanto uno está dispuesto a sacrificar para lograr su meta en la vida?

Jesús hizo el más grande sacrificio de morir por nosotros. Para que todos pudiéramos vivir y Su Reino triunfa hasta el final. Durante esta semana santa, pido que todos hagamos pequeños sacrificios rezar juntos, ayunar y abstenerse juntos, escucharse unos a otros, hacer cosas buenas y juntos hacer trabajo santo. Dios trabaja en estos detalles.

Que el Señor les bendiga y guie nuestra semana santa de celebraciones y liturgias y que bendiga nuestra primer Semana Santa como Iglesia de San Juan Pablo II! Amen.

Con devoción y oraciones,
Padre Sunny Castillo
