

NOTES FOR SUNDAY MASS REPORTS from 3rd July meeting

1. In regard to the elections for new members of the Parish Pastoral Council, it was disappointing that no nominations were received by the due date for the current 4 vacancies.

We have therefore decided to co-opt some interested parishioners, and are happy to report that we have been successful, and would like to welcome the following new members;

Emma Thomson

Manuel Donebus

Sr Rosemary

We will be having a changeover dinner at the RSL Club on the 14th August.

2. The Finance Committee informed us that the landscaping in front of the church will begin on July 9th and hopefully be completed by the end of the school holidays. Permission has been received to remove the big gum tree. After this work, the roadway in front of the church will be done, giving extra disabled parking.
Lighting for the carpark is also being investigated.
3. The new parish website is now up and running – see your newsletter for the web address. Please do check it out and send us any feedback and ideas.
Thank you to Roxy for all her work on this project.
4. Meetings and discussion groups for input to the Plenary Council will be announced soon – we hope everyone, not just regular church goers, will have a chance to have their say on where our church should be going.
5. If you have not heard, the Broken Bay Institute econference will be broadcast on August 8th, and you can take part at McAlroy House. The event will also be looking at the way forward in preparing for the Plenary Council
