

Work Life Balance

Being a faculty member involves multiple forms of professional and academic work and service. As the chart included with this talk illustrates, faculty life includes teaching, professional work, community service, research, and various forms of creative and professional output. Please join us for a conversation about the strategies available for faculty in terms of achieving professional balance. Depending on interest, we may also create a similar chart to get a sense of what types of things we need to balance in our professional lives.

