

Small Bites, Bold Flavors

October 23, 2013

To whom it may concern,

I have had the pleasure of working with Chris Del Rossi since the middle of 2012 when we had to implement changes to pest control here at our facility. More recently I have been fortunate enough to be able to work closely with Chris in preparing for a Silliker audit. Chris's experience in Pest Control and overall good plant management make him an invaluable resource to any food production team. Chris "sets the bar high" and develops and mentors a team that can "reach that bar" and perhaps more importantly maintain that level of excellence independently.

Any team would be lucky to have Chris/"Food and Drug and the Bug" as a member, his tenacity, drive and industry knowledge make him and his company an ideal partner.

Sincerely,
