Notes  This diagram is an objective part of the exam and you should only report what you see. This is not a place to mark the area of complaint--if a person says "my arm hurts" but it is not tender to touch and doesn't have trauma or visual changes, do NOT mark anything. When you do mark, describe it. You can use shorthand:          A - abrasion          L - laceration          E - ecchymosis          T - tenderness          S - swelling
Exam THIS PART OF THE CHART IS OBJECTIVE, WHERE YOU REPORT YOUR FINDINGS. (For areas not examined write "detailed exam omitted" for one system and DEO for the rest)
Gen Appearance: Does the PT appear in any distress? Is he/she anxious appearing or tearful?		HEENT: Head, eyes, ears, nose and throat exam. Check for trauma on head, see if pupils dilate and the eyes move equally. Take a look at throat, mouth, nose and ears if c/o a "cold."
Neuro: Is the PT oriented to person, place, time/date, and situation?		Respiratory: Listen to lungs. Notice any wheezing or sounds that are out of the ordinary? Ask PA or physician to listen if PT has respiratory complaint.
GI: When you listen to the stomach, are bowel sounds present? When you touch the stomach, does the PT report pain or is it nontender? If tender, where is it tender?		CVS: For cardiovascular exam, you can listen to heart sounds and comment on pulse rate. If unsure of heart sounds, ask PA or physician.
Musculo/Skeletal: If the PT hunched over? Sitting up straight?		Skin: Is the PT's skin warm and dry? Are they diaphoretic (sweaty)? Document any laceration/rashes/bruises here with size, location and appearance.
Gait/posture transfer: Gait: How does PT walk? Does PT need assistance? Transfers: Does PT stand up and sit down with ease?		Always comment
Assessment  An overview of what the PT "has" --a diagnosis		Plan What are you going to do for the PT. This is a list of: - Medications with dosage instructions and for how many wks (Please put "New" or "Trial" by medication that is being started today?)  -Instructions you will give PT  -Description of bandages you will apply/crutches you will supply/adult diapers you will provide, etc.  Always list the issue next to the plan: DM - Metformin 1000mg, 2x daily, for 2 wks  Fungus between toes - Antifungal cream, 2x daily, for 1 wk PT in footbath for 10mins @ clinic Provided 1 pair new socks Encourage PT to F/U next wk to check feet
