

How to Donate:

To donate items, simply go to one of the Blessings Boxes and place the items being donated onto one of the shelves. All items should be new, unopened, unexpired and not require refrigeration.

If you cannot get to the Blessings Box location you may arrange to drop off items with Ohio County Family Resource Network or Soup Kitchen of Greater Wheeling. Both organizations are also able to accept monetary donations to help support Blessings Boxes.

Food Security Team

VOLUNTEERS

For each location, there is at least one volunteer who plays a key role in managing the Blessings Box.

Role of Volunteers:

Check the box a minimum of once a week to make sure donations are organized, unexpired and unopened

Communicate with Food Security Team on items needed to restock for the box

Collect items from Food Security Team organizations and replenish items as needed

What is a Blessings Box?

Take What You Need Leave What You Can

The idea is simple: Provide access to shelf stable food to those who are not able to get to existing food pantries. The box is well marked with the words FREE PANTRY and anyone who needs help is able to get what they need anonymously for themselves, their families, friends, and neighbors.

Blessings Boxes are supported by the community, for the community:

- Food Donations
- Monetary Donations
- Volunteers
- Grant funding for initial costs

Blessings Boxes have been made possible through funding provided by:

- Sisters of St. Joseph - Gift Committee and Health and Wellness Foundation
- UniCare an Anthem Company
- Southwestern Energy
- Community Foundation for the Ohio Valley
- Soup Kitchen of Greater Wheeling
- Ohio County Family Resource Network and donations from generous volunteers
