UNMASKED: The True Story of the World's Most Prolific, Cinematic Killer

BY MICHAEL ALOISI & KANE HODDER

KANE HODDER. To fans, this name is synonymous with horror, an icon on the level of Bela Legosi, Boris Karloff and Vincent Price. Kane has appeared as a stunt man and actor in more than two hundred television shows and movies in a career spanning over thirty years. His role as Jason Voorhees in four consecutive films of the Friday the 13th series came to define the character feared by millions of fans the world over. The man behind the hockey mask would seal his fate as horror royalty years later by starring as the monster Victor Crowley in the Hatchet series.

Unmasked documents the unlikely true story of a boy who was taunted and beaten relentlessly by bullies throughout his childhood. Kane only escaped his tormentors when he moved to a tiny island in the South Pacific where he lived for all of his teen years. After living shirtless in a jungle for a while, he headed back to America where he fell in love with doing stunts... only to have his love burn him, literally. For the first time ever, Kane tells the true story of the horrific burn injury that nearly killed him at the start of his career. The entire heart wrenching, inspirational story of his recovery, the emotional and physical damage it caused and his fight to break back into the industry that almost killed him... and triumphant rise to become a film legend are told in Kane's own powerful voice. Take a peek inside the head of the man behind the mask. Be inspired by his triumphant comeback and laugh at his onset hijinks as you unmask the world's most prolific, cinematic killer.

"Kane came up from the ground, being a stunt man paying his dues... to being one of the best horror icons in the business. I know that on any location I'm on with him that he has my back."

TONY TODD
Candyman

"After years of hanging out and working with Kane I thought I'd heard all his stories but his book is a surprisingly honest and revealing peek behind the mask of one of horror's busiest stars. Ch-ch-ch-check it out!"

ROBERT ENGLUND
Freddy Krueger, The Nightmare on Elm Street films

"Kane is more psycho without the mask on."

Tawdry Tales

And Confessions From
Horror's Boy Next Door

BY WILLIAM BUTLER

#1 AMAZON BEST SELLER!

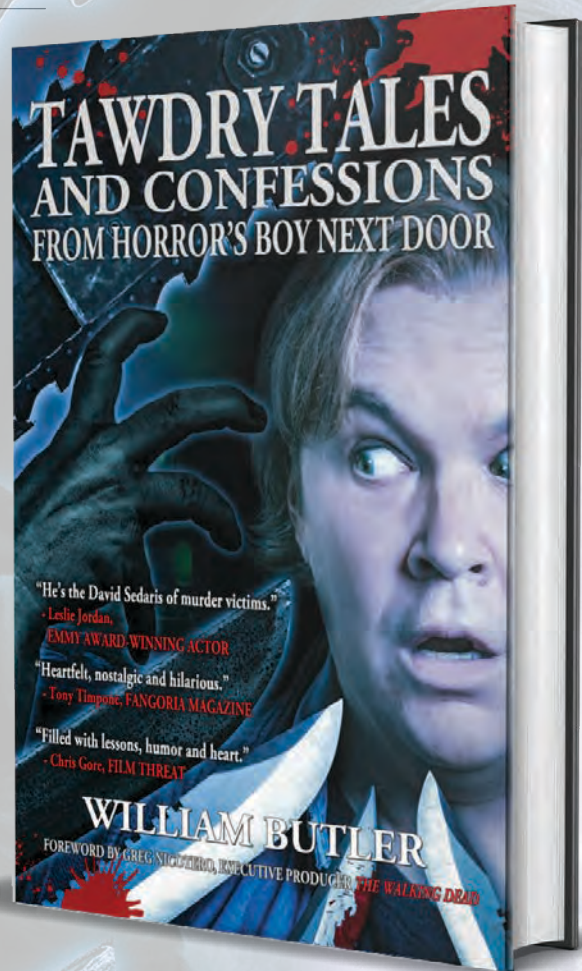

In the last 40 years, actor, director and former effects artist William Butler has easily lived three lifetimes. From his early beginnings creating super-8 horror shorts and working the circus midway to a blissful existence as a producer-director living in the Hollywood hills, he's seen it all, gained it all and... lost it all.

Tawdry Tales chronicles the jaw-dropping, sometimes hilarious, sometimes heartbreaking life of an industrious young artist who started out with an unflinching determination to work in film and who somehow became "Horror's Boy Next Door", appearing in dozens of movies alongside the genres most legendary villains, including Jason Vorhees from Friday the 13th, Leatherface from the Texas Chainsaw Massacre the George Romero's zombies from Night of the Living Dead. Butler chalks it all up to having a face you just want to hit with a butcher knife.

Butler lovingly has transcribed 35 years worth of journals he kept into one fascinating and heartfelt memoir that follows his story around the world as he worked with and in some cases lived with some of Hollywood's most beloved and "colorful" personalities including Viggo Mortensen, Leslie Jordan, Tom Sizemore and the legendary Prince.

"It's rare when I meet and become friends with someone who is more fucked-up in the head than I am. That's Bill Butler. Especially his sense of humor. Having said that, Butler is also one of my most trusted friends and a guy who is always straightforward with you. He is a genuine and honest person that will always have your back".

KANE HODDER

"Billy Butler's remarkable career is filled with lessons, humor and heart. Part biography and part guidebook to the benefits of being a good guy in a crazy industry that doesn't always reward good behavior, Billy's relentless optimism is infectious. And by infectious, I mean, I may have actually contracted something. It's nice to know that nice guys can finish first and Hollywood dreams can come true... even if those dreams are filled with blood, guts and dismembered limbs."

Savini

BY TOM SAVINI

ADDITIONAL MATERIAL
BY MICHAEL ALOISI

WHAT CAN YOU SAY ABOUT TOM SAVINI?

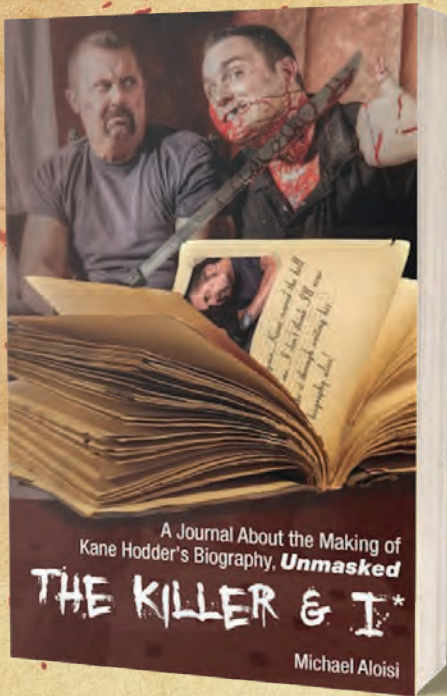

Well, the facts work just fine for this multi-hit wonder. He created the zombies and all of the iconic special makeup effects for the mother of all zombie movies, Dawn Of The Dead. He created Jason, one of the most prolific movie villains of all time, for the movie franchise Friday The 13th and for the mega-hit video game. He created Leatherface in the much-loved fan favorite Texas Chainsaw Massacre Part Two. He created the crate creature Fluffy, the grave-rising cadaver Nate, and all of the twisted, cockroach-filled, water-soaked zombies for the five horrific chapters of the movie CREEPSHOW and continued to dazzle audiences with his work on a dozen other horror movies in his career as a special makeup effects magician. He played the crotch rocket-wearing character Sex Machine in From Dusk Till Dawn and mesmerized movie-goers with his many other standout roles as an actor, including those in Grindhouse, Machete, and The Perks Of Being A Wallflower. He directed three of the most memorable episodes of the television series Tales From The Darkside and the much loved and respected remake of the movie Night Of The Living Dead, and most recently he was called upon by his pal Greg Nicotero to direct an episode of the new Creepshow television series for AMC's Shudder.

In this beautiful picture book, Tom, in his own unique writing style, tells his life story, discusses his movies, shares anecdotes, gives his opinions, and of course, talks about the movies in a way only Tom can.

The Killer & I

BY MICHAEL ALOISI

Legendary horror movie star, Kane Hodder, and the author of his biography are the odd couple of the horror world. The Killer and I documents the yearlong journey the two spent together writing Kane's book, Unmasked: The True Life Story of The World's Most Prolific Cinematic Killer. Everything from Kane playing pranks on Mike to being on film sets, causing trouble at conventions and going on ghost hunts is told in a humorous, light hearted way that will make any fan of Kane's laugh with delight.

I might be bias, but The Killer and I is one of the funniest things I have ever read... If you want to see how I really am these days... read Mike's journal!

Exorcising My Demons

BY EILEEN DIETZ AND DANIEL LOUBIER

Exorcising My Demons is the story about dreams, about taking great chances, believing in yourself, and never looking back. For Eileen Dietz--a skinny, little, flat-chested, buck-toothed child from Queens--those dreams and a myriad of choices led to a role in the scariest movie of all time... The Exorcist. For the first time, Eileen tells her heartbreaking, funny and inspiring story. From auditioning for the role of a demon to becoming the legendary "Pazuzu," to performing some of the most infamous scenes in the movie, Eileen got to be part of film history...only to be denied credit for the work she did. With over fifty film, stage and television credits to her name, Eileen has had a career most actors dream of. But like most, her success was not had without a price. Her story is one of a fighter, but also a dreamer. For Eileen, it was never enough to simply have the dream; you have to follow the dream.

The Art & Unedited
Antics of Steve Johnson

FOREWORD BY JOHN LANDIS

Prepare to take a journey into the insane mind of one of Hollywood's most legendary and controversial Special FX artists, Steve Johnson. From sculpting Slimer from Ghostbusters while strung out on cocaine, to disguising Michael Jackson so the King of Pop could go into public, to hiding out in the jungles of Costa Rica after losing tens of millions of dollars in one day, Johnson's journey is an unbelievable ride through the mind of a mad effect's genius.

Join Steve on a time traveling journey through his life as he observes his insane achievements as well as his failures of epic proportions. Johnson's uniquely creative writing turns his life story into a beautiful narrative that will keep you wanting more...thankfully, this is a multi-volume series.

BEHIND THE SCENES PHOTOS, NEVER SEEN BEFORE FROM:

Ghostbusters, Magnolia, Scooby Doo 2, Lord of Illusions, Blade II, Dreamcatcher, Jarhead, The Stand, and The League of Extraordinary Gentlemen.

In addition, there is the crazy concept art and FX tests from movies that Steve...almost worked on, which includes, Ghost Rider, Zathura, I am Legend, Creature From the Black Lagoon, Spider-Man III, Hulk, Where the Wild Things Are, as well as rare pictures of Jean-Claude Van Damme as the Predator!

"A 'how to do make-up' book this is not. But a free wheeling, hallucinogenic roller coaster tale of movie making, fame, fortune and drug abuse."

Chainsaw Confidential:

How We Made the World's Most Notorious Film

BY GUNNAR HANSEN

The original 1974 film The Texas Chain Saw Massacre seized the imaginations of audiences and critics, going from controversial cult sensation to being ranked by Total Film as the greatest horror movie ever made. It's been shown at Cannes, briefly banned in England, and included in the permanent collection of New York's MoMA. This fascinating literary memoir of the making of the film comes from the unique perspective of Gunnar Hansen, the actor who played the chain saw wielding Leatherface. A critically acclaimed poet and author, Hansen tells the real story of the film, debunking myths, giving behind-the-scenes details, and offering insights on the film's reception and our enduring fascination with the horror genre today.

On Location in Blairstown

The Making of Friday the 13th

BY DAVID GROVE

On Location in Blairstown: The Making of Friday the 13th covers the creation, planning and filming of the iconic 1980 film, Friday the 13th in a way that no other film has been documented before. Through the memories of the cast and crew, many speaking for the first (and last) time, as well as previously undiscovered production information and materials, On Location in Blairstown takes the reader "on location" and back in time to 1979 for the filming of Friday the 13th and behind the scenes for all of the adventures, conflicts and dramas that went into the making of one of the most enduring and popular horror films in history.

"It's the definitive, behind-the-scenes look at the ultimate summertime slasher movie, and fans of the series, and of the genre in general, will not be disappointed....9/10."

Dead Summit

BY DANIEL LOUBIER

Fifty years ago, an event happened in the White Mountains of New Hampshire that had the potential of wiping out the entire human population within that region. The event was quickly addressed by a local group trained to handle this kind of crisis. The death toll was more than anyone had expected, but the event was ultimately silenced, hidden from the radar of the authorities. Since that time, things have been quiet... until now. Charlie and Grace have a shared goal: to summit the tallest peak in each of the 50 states. Five years ago, their journey began at Mt. George, the tallest mountain in the northeast. After Charlie sustained a damaging injury during their ascent, Grace was afraid they might never realize that goal. Five years later, they've come back to where it all began. However, injuries and unpredictable weather patterns won't be the only challenges; they'll now have to find a way to survive an outbreak of the undead. Charlie and Grace must find a way off the mountain, alive, before they succumb to the zombie plague. But there's a secret, buried beneath three-hundred years of lies and deceit. A secret that may prove even more devastating than the zombies themselves.

"A high-speed, adrenaline-soaked tale of survival at all costs... a thoroughly entertaining read."

Invasive Species

BY STEVEN STREETER

Australia has always had a problem with feral animals, especially those creatures introduced to the ecosystem by humans from other nations. They wreak havoc on the native fauna, on the agricultural industries, on people's homes and at times, they can be deadly.

On the Yorke Peninsula of South Australia, a rural community, some distance from the state's capital city, a local snake catcher and school teacher find a reptile they assume is just another feral species. However, this one is different.

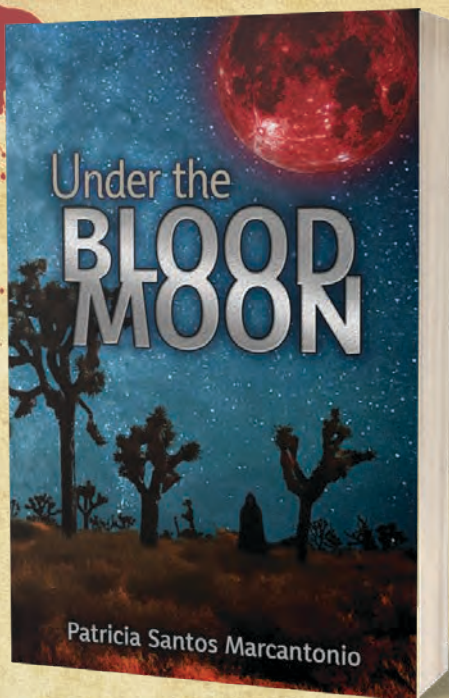

Its bite causes flesh to rot off the bones of their victim.

Second it grows fast. Way too fast.

Third, there's more than one.

Lastly, it is not a mere snake. It is the immature form of something much larger, much more dangerous and mythical and it falls on this duo to try to stop these creatures before they reach maturity and nothing can stop this... INVASIVE SPECIES.

Under the Blood Moon

BY PATRICIA SANTOS MARCANTONIO

Guadalupe, New Mexico is usually a pretty quiet town. That is until everything starts going to hell with a series of bizarre murders. Not to mention, a demon gives birth at a park. A boy disappears in the middle of a swimming pool. Rattlesnakes invade the town. Asked by his best friend the sheriff to assist in the investigation, Prosecutor Matthew Riley suspects a high-end resort development is at the heart of the crimes. But he also discovers a conspiracy of the living has opened the door for an ancient evil seeking revenge for old and new betrayals that threaten his own family.

Come Join the Murder

BY HOLLY RAE GARCIA

Rebecca Crow's four-year-old son is dead, and her husband is missing.

Divers find her husband's car at the bottom of a canal with their son's small, lifeless body, inside. The police have no suspects and nothing to go on but a passing mention of a man driving a van. Guilt and grief cloud Rebecca's thoughts as she stumbles towards her only mission: Revenge.

James Porter knows exactly what happened to them, but he'll do anything to keep it a secret.

James didn't plan to kill Rebecca's son, but he's not too broken up about it, either. There are more important things for him to worry about. He needs money, and his increasing appetite for murder is catching the attention of a nosy detective.

Pieces

BY REBECCA ROWLAND &
MICHAEL ALOISI

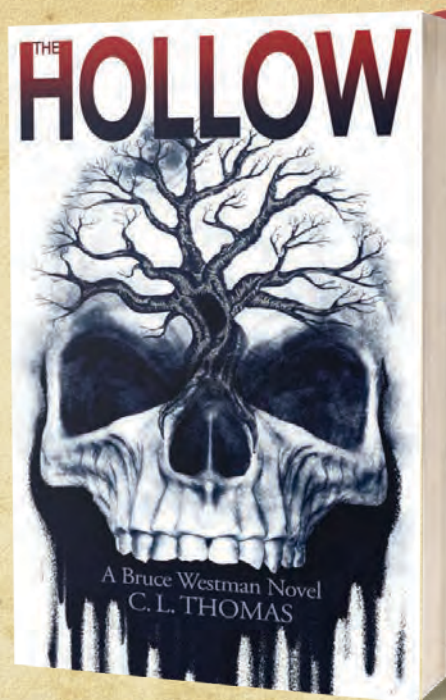

Thirty boxes. Thirty body parts. Eighteen turned in to authorities. A forensic technician from a quiet Massachusetts suburb does the unthinkable: stalks a local woman, abducts her, divides her body into thirty pieces, and mails the sections to random Americans across the country. Each white postal box that Dennis Sweeney prepares contains an ambiguous note and a piece of Julie Piedmont. Most of Sweeney's intended recipients contact the authorities about their gruesome packages, but twelve of the parcels go unreported. Pieces, the genre-bending hybrid of crime thriller infused with a short-story vibe, takes a closer look at the body parts that were never recovered and the possible reasons why their recipients never told anyone about their grotesque discoveries. Weaving the accounts together is Dennis' story as well as Jackson Matthews', the reporter to whom Dennis chooses to document his sick game.

"Pieces has a clever premise, innovative format, [and] writing that will keep you engaged"

Taste: A Novel

BY N.C. WANTZ

A young, troubled, free-spirit has her new life turned upside down when she discovers her gift for righteous murder and gastronomy...

Claudia grew up in a trailer park and had anger issues stemming from a rough childhood and abandonment. Anton grew up in a seemingly idyllic household that was harboring a fiendish secret. They meet in the seaside town of Merrick when they are in their teens and have a summer fling that ends after he ghosts her.

Ten years after a childhood fling, two former lovers, Anton and Claudia, reconnect on social media and quickly fall in love. When the two meet back up in their home town, the illusion of happy ever after quickly dissolves as heavy drinking and a failing business gets in their way. That is until one night, when in a fit of rage, Claudia kills a man. To cover up the crime, she chops up the body in the basement and turns him into restaurant fare. She's sure that the problem solved itself but her gift of anger keeps rearing its ugly head and the body count starts to stack up. The restaurant begins to become more popular than ever, causing a new need for more victims. But the deeper they go into their slaughter the more their lives unravel.

Dexter meets Sweeney Todd in this hilariously dark and twisted romance, love kills and murder is on the menu. Taste will leave you pondering the eternal question, is evil something you are or something you do?

The Maddening

BY PAUL THALER

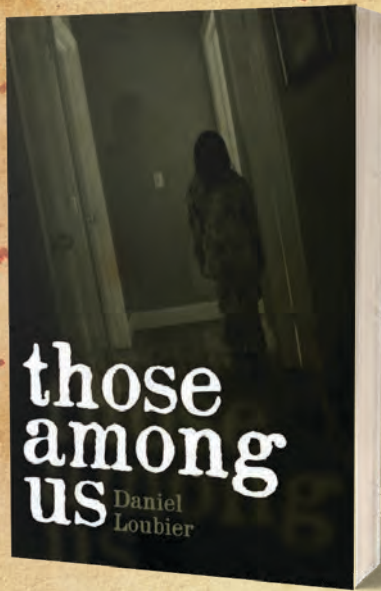

A serial killer obsessed with Edgar Allen Poe, a traumatized young woman who survives his horrific violence, and a disgraced detective face off in this dark and devious tale of murder and revenge.

After the "accident" that takes his parents' lives, young Daemon Utrecht escapes into the nightmarish stories of Edgar Allan Poe. His obsession intensifies, inking his body with the inhabitants from his "mentor's" macabre tales—until he becomes "Poe," a psychotic killer, penning his own terrifying stories born from the ashes of his murderous deeds.

Poe's first victim is 21-year-old Clara Knox, an "Irish beauty" who survives his sadistic attack, a brutality that scars her body but inflicts even deeper psychological wounds. Driven by rage and revenge, she seeks to destroy the monster that has shattered her life, seducing PJ Bones into her twisted plan. The disgraced former NYPD detective turned best-selling author finds himself helpless against Clara's dives into madness and then her betrayal.

The lives of all three converge in chilling fashion as they plunge headlong into the maddening, where there is no escape from the looming destiny that awaits them.

Those Among Us

BY DANIEL LOUBIER

Doug Mitchell's daughter, Janie, has a new imaginary friend...who wants Doug to leave his house. After being awoken by strange sounds night after night, Doug realizes his daughter's imaginary friend might be something paranormal. In his pursuit of answers, Doug exhumes details about the history of their property, including a possible reason for the spirit's presence. After a near-catastrophic injury to his wife, and a shocking revelation from Janie, Doug learns this spirit doesn't simply want Doug to leave-it wants young Janie for itself. As the paranormal power increases and Janie's will to resist the spirit's advances weakens, Doug must fight for the safety of his entire family. Based on one family's real-life experience, and backed by video evidence, as well as Electronic Voice Phenomenon (EVP), Those Among Us is one of the most factual and honest ghost stories you will ever read.

DARK INK

Fifty Cents for Your Soul

BY DENISE DIETZ

Frannie Rosen's psychic mentions a brilliant future, but she never tells the relatively straight-laced and naive Frannie that she will be possessed by a promiscuous, stage-struck doppelgänger. All Frannie wants is an Oscar-winning role, a "to die for" role. What she gets is far more than that, especially when she's cast in a horror film about a demonic possession, directed by the legendary Victor Madison. While being piloted by Madison, Frannie is also orchestrated by a doppelgänger/demon. She has been "chosen" for her role, and there is more involved than a doppelgänger's dream of stardom! Victor Madison, womanizer and director is universally and deservedly hated, yet unexpectedly irresistible to Frannie. His murder surprises no one but Frannie. His killer is a surprise to everyone but Frannie. But then, only Frannie is faced with disembodied voices, psychic predictions gone truly insane, and an innocence threatened by a reality she knows cannot be real. The Author's sister worked on The Exorcist, inspiring this story.*

The Language of Crows

BY ELAINE PASCALE

It is in the darkest moments, during the loss of hope, that the language of crows is most clearly heard. The words are as menacing as piercing beaks, the events as perilous as a sea of black feathers. The corvid tongue spreads diabolical thoughts and devious visions.

Legend has it that crows prophesize offenses of the worst kind, their harsh tones are harbingers of horror. Collectively, crows are a murder, and they call out orders about their own name. The Language of Crows and other stories contains dark fairy tales, historical horror, and psychological horror in voices of the violent and the violated. It is a collection of witches' spells, monsters' murmurs, and voices within one's head.

Do you dare to listen to the language of crows?

What He Became

BY EDDIE GENEROUS

When one gets away, the pack always finds them...

After the sudden death of their parents, the Gerber siblings take over the family farm, quickly learning that fending for themselves is much harder than they'd assumed. This hardship leaves them open to letting a strange man they'd rescued from winter's clutches stay on for room and board, oblivious to the ferocious evil he's carrying as well as ravenous beasts it will draw to their home.

Following a string of grisly chaos across the country, a private detective finds herself directly on the heels of a pack of spree killers she'd been paid to locate. But things aren't as they seem; she never anticipated that she'd come face-to-face with a bloodthirsty pack of werewolves.

The Horrors Hiding in Plain Sight

BY REBECCA ROWLAND

Three adolescent bullies discover that the vicious crime for which they were never charged will haunt them in unimaginably horrific ways; a dominatrix and a bondage fetishist befriend one another as one's preoccupation grows to consume his life. A man persuades his wife to start a family, but her reluctant pregnancy comes with a dreadful side effect. A substitute teacher's curiosity about a veteran teacher's methodology provides her with a lesson she won't soon forget. An affluent, xenophobic lawyer callously kills two immigrants with her car with seeming impunity; a childless couple plays a sadistic game with a neglected juvenile each Halloween. An abusive father, a dating site predator, a neglected concierge, and an obsessed co-worker: they are all among the residents of Rebecca Rowland's universe, and they dwell in the everyday realm of crime and punishment tempered with fixation and madness. There are no vampires, zombies, or magical beings here; no, what lurk in this world are even more terrifying. Once you meet them, you will think twice before turning your back on that seemingly innocuous neighbor or coming to the aid of the helpless damsel in the dark parking lot. These monsters don't lurk under your bed or in the shadows: they are the people you see every day at work, in the supermarket, and in broad daylight. They are the horrors that hide in plain sight, and they will unsettle you more than any supernatural being ever could.

"Rebecca Rowland paints a very vivid picture with her writing, keeping me in the moment; as a horror reader, that's exactly what I want. I am glad these thoughts are in her head and not mine, which I consider a compliment of the highest regard!"

STEVE GONSALVES

"Sometimes the best special effects are the ones done in the reader's mind; for her magically detailed description, Rebecca Rowland deserves an honorary FX award."

TOM SAVINI

Growth

BY ELIN OLAUSSON

Twenty dark tales of psychosocial horror fill the pages of Elin Olausson's stunningly creepy short story collection debut. Three sisters live isolated in the wilderness, unbothered, until their world shatters with the arrival of a stranger. A young man revisits the childhood home where his sister danced and his mother died. A woman is promised the house of her dreams and goes mad when she doesn't get it. Two evil teens stand united against the world, until one of them falls in love. In an abandoned asylum in the desert, a girl chants her own name.

Filled with madness, darkness and the truth of the human condition, Olausson's stories will leave readers thinking about their own sanity and questioning the motives of those who are closest to them.

Death by Misadventure

BY THOMAS KEARNES

Thomas Kearnes, Lambda-nominated author of Texas Crude, returns with a story collection that's even darker, more controversial, and more unforgettable. An aging gay man finds a way to remain forever young on hookup sites, but his real face pays a terrible price. A sexual fetish takes an ominous turn from boyhood to adulthood. A meth-addicted middle-aged man hangs on to life and sanity in order to receive visits from his long-dead mother. And a desperate man kidnaps his terminally-ill romantic rival in hopes of receiving an atonement he may not deserve.

Thomas Kearnes, with over 125 published stories to his credit, has established himself as one of the most divisive and prolific short story authors in indie publishing. In Death by Misadventure, he introduces the reader to indelible characters in shocking situations through eighteen stories that first appeared in venues as diverse as Berkeley Fiction Review, Black Dandy, Pseudopod, TIMBER, Word Riot and more. Prepare to have your worst nightmares come to life.

The End of Summer

Thirteen Tales of Halloween

BY J. TONZELLI

The world's oldest celebration comes to life in The End of Summer: Thirteen Tales of Halloween, an anthology that honors the darkest and strangest night of the year. Each story is designed to be intrinsically and intimately about Halloween—its traditions, its myths, and its effects—and they run the gamut from horrifying to heartbreaking. Halloween night is the tapestry through which a haunted house, a monstrous child, a late-night drive to a mysterious destination, and other tales are weaved. Demons are faced, death is defied, and love is tested. And not everyone makes it out alive. The End of Summer has arrived.

COMING HALLOWEEN OF 2024!

Ghosts, Goblins, Murder, & Madness

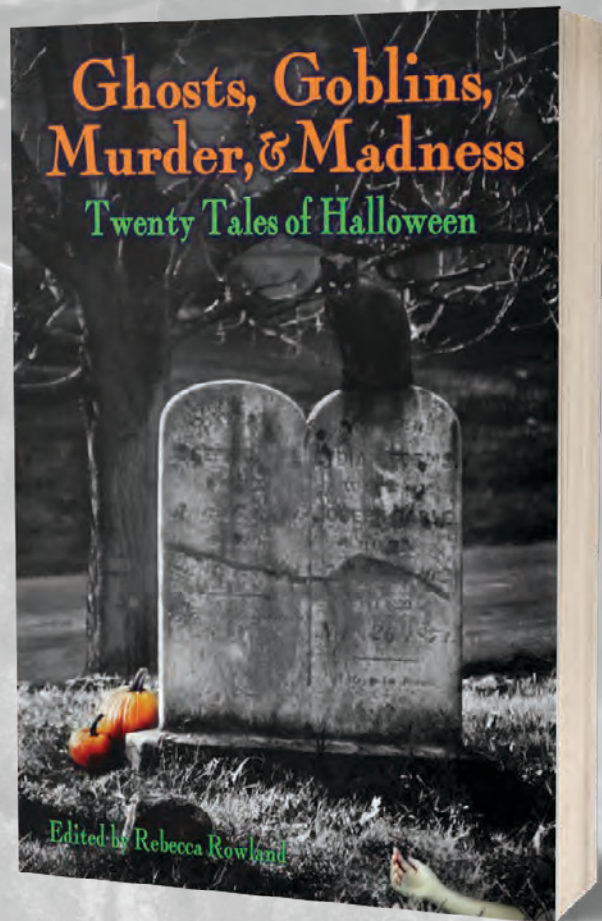

Twenty Tales of Halloween

EDITED BY REBECCA ROWLAND

Featuring twenty-one different voices hailing from five different countries and eleven states, Ghosts, Goblins, Murder, & Madness is certain to strike a chord with every horror aficionado. Devil's Night, Day of the Dead, and Halloween have been celebrated around the world in one form or another, beginning with the Ancient Celts over two-thousand years ago. For some revelers, it's a time for guising, or dressing up in elaborate costume; for others, it's a time for practical jokes and mischief, and for some, it's a reverent occasion to acknowledge the thin line between earth and the spirit world. In this same vein, the stories in this collection provide a wide-angle lens at what comprises the unique expanse of horror fiction today. From hobgoblins and apparitions, to haunted dwellings and cursed possessions, to good intentions gone awry and evil ones turned on the perpetrator, these twenty tales will unsettle, frighten, tickle, and caution, and in the end, readers may take heed before ever again accompanying their children trick-or-treating, striking up conversations in anonymous chat rooms, or fortifying their homes in an attempt to prevent Halloween vandalism.

Generation X-Ed

EDITED BY REBECCA ROWLAND

Bestselling editor Rebecca Rowland (Unburied: A Collection of Queer Dark Fiction) and Dark Ink Books (Savini, Unmasked: The True Life Story of the World's Most Prolific Cinematic Killer) present a unique anthology of monster, folk, paranormal, and psychological horror as glimpsed through the lens of the latchkey generation. In this assortment of spine-chilling tales, twenty-two voices shine a strobe light on the cultural demons that lurked in the background while they came of age in the heyday of Satanic panic and slasher flicks, milk carton missing and music television, video rentals and riot grrrls.

These Gen-X storytellers once stayed out unsupervised until the streetlights came on, and what they brought home with them will terrify you.

FEATURING BRAND NEW FICTION from Kevin David Anderson, Glynn Owen Barrass, Matthew Barron, C.D. Brown, Matthew Chabin, L.E. Daniels, C.O. Davidson, Douglas Ford, Phil Ford, Holly Rae Garcia, Dale W. Shadowy Natures

Stories of Psychological Horror

EDITED BY REBECCA ROWLAND

"The boundary line between instinct and reason is of a very shadowy nature"

EDGAR ALLAN POE (1840)

With its twenty-one stories of serial killers and sociopaths, fixations and fetishes, breakdowns and bad decisions crafted by authors as diverse as their writing styles, Shadowy Natures leads fans of psychological horror down dark and treacherous roads to destinations they will be too unsettled to leave.

Under the tutelage of a charismatic caretaker, a young boy learns that the rules don't apply to "exceptional" people; under the blinders of parental love, a parent considers the after-effects of his daughter's criminal exoneration. One suburban dad finds himself inexplicably drawn to something he spies while walking the family pet, and another discovers buried compulsions awakened by his daughter's dental deformity. Sorting through a deceased relative's belongings, a family stumbles upon a horrific treasure, as a drifter with a dark secret wanders the Old West. While a military officer spends his days delivering despair, a procrastinator is consumed by guilt after making a deadly mistake, and a businessman stumbles upon a bizarre family photo gallery. Postpartum paranoia and isolation threaten one mother's sanity until an outside threat pushes her over the edge while another mother picks at her son's psychological scabs until he scrambles for release. Urban blight bears down on a convenience store owner; a middle-aged man takes a terminally ill acquaintance captive to avenge his lover's death; a depressed suburban housewife makes a strange new friend, and a neglected teen finds solace and inspiration in a vicious classmate's company. When her brother moves back into the family home, a woman becomes consumed by what he leaves behind; when a man disappears, his sister considers the warning signs he may have been leaving since childhood. One couple abandons urban life for the isolating wilderness while another plays a dangerous game, hoping to rekindle their relationship. While one son revisits the scene of his father's horrific crime spree, another returns home to ponder his family's well-hidden secret.

From unique twists on traditional terror tropes to fresh frights found in the most innocuous of places, these tales will surprise and unnerve even the most veteran horror fans. Featuring brand new fiction from Jeremy Billingsley, C.W. Blackwell, Barrie Darke, Matthew R. Davis, Christina Delia, KC Grifant, Liam Hogan, K.N. Johnson, Thomas Kearnes, Rudy Kremberg, Scotty Milder, Bryan Miller, Hollee Nelson, Elin Olausson, James Edward O'Brien, Andrew Punzo, Lee Rozelle, Joseph Rubas, Paul Stansfield, Louis Stephenson, and Thomas Vaughn.

"These 21 dreadfully dark tales held me captive from first to last story...[they are] still embedded in my mind days after finishing"

The Half That You See

EDITED BY REBECCA ROWLAND

"Believe nothing you hear, and only one half that you see."

EDGAR ALLAN POE (1845)

The System of Dr. Tarr and Prof. Fether

Poe's classic tale told of a state of the art hospital boasting a curiously experimental treatment, but things were not as they seemed. In The Half That You See, twenty-six writers from around the globe share their literary optical illusions in never before seen stories of portentous visions and haunting memories, altered consciousness and virulent nightmares, disordered thinking and descents into madness. Take a walk down the paths of perception that these dark fiction raconteurs have tunneled for you, but keep a tight grip on your flashlight: the course twists and turns, and once you're on route to your destination, there is no turning back. That which creeps about in the poorly lit corners of the human mind has teeth, and it's waiting for you.

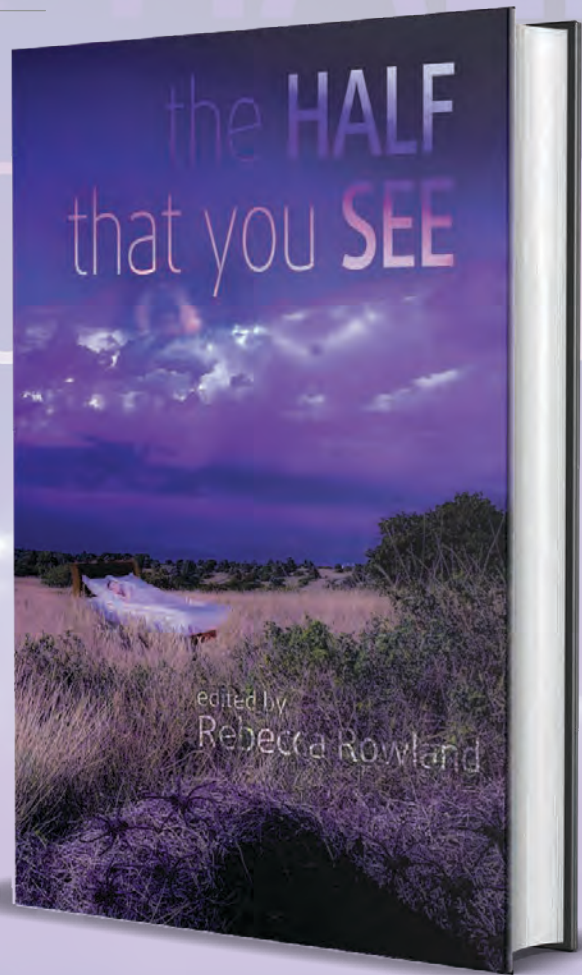

FEATURING:

WRITTEN BY DANIEL LOUBIER
ILLUSTRATED BY BRIAN J. ORLOWSKI

Bailey loves trains... and Halloween! While Trick-R-Treating with his Dad and friends, he meets a group of Zombies who need help getting to their Halloween party. Scared, Bailey and his friends will have to decide whether to help the Zombies by driving the Spooky Train to the party, or to turn around and run! Inspired by a young boy's love for trains, the Spooky Train combines the fun of Halloween with values like helpfulness and not judging others by their appearances. It also aims to take the "scare" out of traditionally scary concepts like Monsters, The Dark and Fears of the Unknown.

The House on Creep Street

BY THE BLOOD BROTHERS

Twelve-year-old Joey Tonelli is a Halloween fanatic, so when his best friends Kevin and Barry tell him a few days before the spooky holiday that they are "too old" for trick-or-treating, he is devastated. Desperate to get his two killjoy friends into the Halloween spirit, he dares them to go inside that scary abandoned house on Creep Street—the house all the kids in town think is haunted. Well, the kids in town are right: the house really is haunted—by the malevolent ghost of Bob Smah, a young boy who died many years before under mysterious circumstances. Reborn as an angry spirit, Bob is determined to destroy anyone who sets foot in his home. Despite the horror that Bob unleashes upon the Fright Friends, they become determined to help free the dead boy's trapped spirit. Will the Fright Friends successfully free Bob Smah from the House on Creep Street, or will they end up as ghosts themselves? Find out for yourself when it all goes down on Halloween night.

Beware the Monstrous Manther!

BY THE BLOOD BROTHERS

There's something fishy about Joey's new neighbor - that old man named Carl White. Joey can't help but notice his strange behavior... like those pet crates he carried into his house on the night he moved in, and those weird lights and noises coming from his basement window, and how he leaves his house late at night in his rusty old van. But Joey's weird new neighbor isn't his only problem. A friend from his past named Glenn asks him for help after his dog goes missing. And then Kevin's cat disappears. Soon, pets all over Blackwood are vanishing and Joey has more questions than answers. Like, what's with Barry's new cat, Midnight? The one that can go invisible and walk on the ceiling? And what's with those sightings of a creature described as half-man/half-beast? Does Joey's new neighbor have something to do with it? Things start to get really hairy in Blackwood, and soon the Fright Friends' curiosity is piqued. If they only knew curiosity killed the cat.

Bob Crane

The Definitive Biography

BY CAROL FORD WITH DEE YOUNG
AND LINDA J. GROUNDWATER

Since his untimely death on June 29, 1978, Bob Crane's unofficial biography has become akin to a broken record. Like a skip in the acetate, his murder and the scandal that grew from it have been the repeated focus of attention, to the exclusion of nearly everything else. Over time, the line between fact and fiction blurred, and his life story became distorted. All perspective on Bob Crane as a human being was lost, and he became nothing more than a two-dimensional cartoon character without depth, understanding, or definition. Now, nearly two hundred people who knew the Hogan's Heroes star personally and better than most (family; friends as far back as elementary school; colleagues in radio, television, theatre, and film) have spoken out on Bob Crane's behalf, and in many instances, for the first time. Within the pages of this book, they share their memories and thoughts about a man whom they knew as an exceptional and talented musician, a genius in radio, a sharp-witted comedian, a gifted actor and director, a man driven to success, a doting and loving father, a loyal friend, and a kind and gentle spirit with a sunny personality, a man who, while not perfect, was vastly different from how he has been presented over the decades. Bob Crane: The Definitive Biography balances the scales and sets the record straight, providing a full and complete history of Bob Crane, clarifying who he really was, and just as importantly, who he was not.

DELUXE, EXPANDED HARDCOVER EDITION CONTAINS:

- ▶ Exclusive, never-before released historical documents chronicling Bob Crane's life and career.
- ▶ More than 200 family and professional photographs, many exclusive, courtesy of Bob Crane's family, friends, and colleagues.
- ▶ 660 pages containing first-hand accounts from nearly 200 people from Bob Crane's life.
- ▶ A pre-print of Bob Crane's original signature.

ISBN: 978-0991033072 | Pages: 660 | Formats: Hardcover, Paperback, eBook, Audio | Trim: 5x8

All editions contain the same editorial content. The paperback contains fewer photographs and documents than the hardcover. The electronic edition contains editorial content only (no photographs).

"Bob Crane was a broadcasting pioneer who made landmark contributions to the industry on both coasts. Ford et al. delve into Crane's radio career like never before. What they have discovered...is nothing short of amazing."

DANNY LYONS

WICC/WEBE Operations Manager, Bridgeport, CT

Ford et al. have ripped the lid off the real story of Bob Crane--talented drummer, radio veteran, and comic genius. The public has had too much useless information about Crane--here is the real deal...to understand one of entertainment's most gifted and complex performers.

Arm Candy

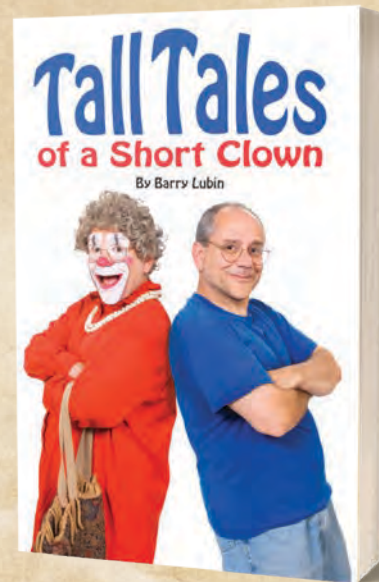

A Celebrity Escort's Tales from the Red Carpet

BY CHRIS GAIDA AND MICHAEL ALOISI

#1 AMAZON BEST SELLER!

From Julia Roberts to Angelina Jolie and even Tom Hanks, Chris has escorted them all down the red carpet. Despite the sinful connotations that the title "escort" has, a celebrity escort is a professional job that has given him ALL ACCESS to Hollywood's most exclusive events accompanying the biggest stars including Sandra Bullock, Fergie, Jennifer Aniston, Mariah Carey, Taylor Swift, Megan Fox, Courtney Love, Reese Witherspoon, Nicole Kidman, Pamela Anderson, Queen Latifah, Susan Lucci, Betty White as well as dozens of others. Arm Candy: A Celebrity Escort's Tales From the Red Carpet tells Chris's amazing journey from a small town in Pennsylvania to NYC and finally Hollywood where he has rubbed elbows with the world's biggest stars. From the red carpet to the amazing after parties, Chris reveals what happens when the cameras are turned off, shares backstage secrets, dishes the dirt on what celebrities have behaved like divas, provides his coveted party crashing tips and even tells a heartfelt tale about a celebrity that inspired Chris while he battled cancer. Arm Candy is a book for anyone who loves glitz, glam, celebrities and the red carpet!

Tall Tales of a Short Clown

BY BARRY LUBIN

Tall Tales of a Short Clown is the story of Barry Lubin, whose alter ego, Grandma, became one of the most successful clowns in American history, and was named "The World's Funniest Grandma" in Germany. Barry has entertained well over a hundred million people in circus rings, stadiums, arenas, on stage, in festivals, in films, and on television as the funny little carpetbagger with a mischievous view of the world. Barry is undoubtedly the only person to have achieved the combination of performing a running headstand onto a whoopee cushion on stage at Carnegie Hall, eating well over 10,000 bagels, and managing to piss off Ringo Starr, Meryl Streep, Gene Kelly, and Bruce Springsteen as well as being inducted into the International Clown Hall of Fame. Tall Tales of a Short Clown follows Barry's journey from Emerson College dropout to Clown College graduate, from his early failures on the Greatest Show on Earth to his induction into the Ring of Fame, the highest honor in clowning and in circus. He reveals his struggles with drug abuse and alcoholism and his journey into sobriety, his bout with thyroid cancer and his triumphant return to the ring, and his love affair with audiences on six continents over five decades, to earn his place as one of the most beloved clowns in history.

Adventures with Dad:

A Father & Daughter's Journey
Through a Senior Acting Class

BY LEE GALE GRUEN

After retiring at age 60, Lee Gale Gruen started attending an acting class for seniors just as a pastime. A few weeks later, her mother died. Seeing her 85-year-old father so grief-stricken, she invited him to come to class with her. That began a magical journey of bonding and learning about life in the twilight of theirs. For three years, they performed numerous times in the class showcases, and became a popular, father-daughter acting team adored by their audiences. With emotion and humor, Lee Gale recounts the endearing tale which also includes her writing their scenes, gathering the props and rehearsing with her dad. Finally, as her new professional, acting career starts to take off, his health begins to decline. This remarkable story will resonate with Baby Boomers, seniors and their family members and friends everywhere.

To Live on Anyway

A Memoir

BY ANN HAGEUS

To Live on Anyway documents one mother's struggle after losing her child in the catastrophic 2004 Tsunami. While having an ideal vacation in Singapore, Ann and her Swedish family were separated and devastated by this natural occurrence. From the impact of the wave, to the realization of the loss and her refusal to leave until her son, Gosta was found, Ann documents her struggles, pain and grief in a powerful, diary style. This book is about what many people would agree is the worst thing that can happen to someone, losing a child. It is about how to continue life and how to relearn to... live on anyway.

Golden Linings

EDITED BY CAROL M. FORD

#1 AMAZON BEST SELLER!

Life. It is both beautiful and difficult. As we journey through life's ups and downs, we seek love, acceptance, and peace. Often, we find it through our pets. Pets love us unconditionally. They bring us joy. They don't judge. They are always happy to see us. And sometimes, during our darkest hours, only they can provide the quiet comfort we need. Our pets teach us so much. Compassion. Playfulness. Kindness. Love. Through them, we learn to appreciate life and to focus more on living in the moment, rather than worrying about the future or dwelling on the past. This book honors pets from around the world, offering a collection of photographs and stories written by their owners to warm your heart and comfort your soul. It is also for pets. Author proceeds from sales of this book are donated to animal rescue organizations and shelters to help animals in need.

Golden Linings II

EDITED BY CAROL M. FORD

Pets are magical creatures. With the wag of happy tail or the hum of a soft purr, our troubles are eased. We become enchanted by their presence, almost as if they have cast a spell on us. Pets teach us to live in the moment. They elevate our spirits and bring us joy, and they nurture us in our despair. Not all pets have happy homes, however. These little lost souls have been abused, abandoned, and forgotten. If they are lucky, a shelter or rescue organization provides a temporary refuge until they find their forever home. Golden Linings II: More Tiny Tales about Pets, for Pets is a continuation of our efforts to assist shelters and rescue organizations in their heartfelt work of caring for animals in need. All author proceeds from both Golden Linings I and II go directly to our official endorsers, as well as to other rescue organizations and shelters. We hope you enjoy these tiny tales about pets written by their owners, knowing your purchase of Golden Linings helps make a difference!

Golden Linings III

EDITED BY CAROL M. FORD

In an era newly defined by a global pandemic and social unrest, now more than ever, we need our pets. They calm our fears, allow us to hug them without worry of social distancing, distract us with their playfulness, and give us their unconditional love. But homeless pets also need us. Unwanted and abused animals suffer unnecessarily and are abandoned daily. These innocent little creatures don't know what they have done wrong, but they find themselves in dire situations—confused, alone, hurt, and scared. As with volumes one and two in this series, the mission of Golden Linings III: Even More Tiny Tales about Pets, for Pets is to help animals in need. All author proceeds from sales of every book in the Golden Linings series are donated to animal rescue organizations. We hope you enjoy these tiny tales about pets written by their owners, knowing your purchase of Golden Linings helps make a difference!

The Deific Dozen

BY BRIAN J. ORLOWSKI

It has long been suspected that aliens have watched over us, interacted with us, and even tinkered with our nether regions. But until now, no one was brave enough to bring forth the truth about the connection between modern religion and aliens from another galaxy! Was Jesus given secret information from travelers from outer space? Were most of the major discoveries throughout history, like the recipe for KFC chicken, provided by spacemen? Who are the Twelvists and what is this secret society hiding? Why are Scientologists so nutty? All these questions are almost answered and semi-logically explained in an enlightening, thrilling, and comedic journey anyone with half a brain should read.

The Sorrows

BY M. EARL SMITH

For Esther, her plan is simple: Get to Bhutan, and end her life. For Travis, the plan is much more complex. When Travis Saint Croix enrolled at San Francisco State University, romance was the last thing on his mind. Meeting Esther, however, changed all of that. What followed was a whirlwind romance entwined with questions of race, society, mental health and two trips to Bhutan. It was in this tiny South Asian country that wars against both self-doubt and self-harm would be waged. With his name already embroiled in infamy due to events at San Francisco State, he must not only find Esther and stop her from her directive, but he must also find his way back to his own humanity as well. Both are forced to face their own demons and learn how to dance with each other's in this complex look at one woman's struggle to embrace life over death.

Nineteen to Go

A Peace O' Farce

BY JAMES CARPENTER

Getting a vasectomy these days can be a responsible social gesture, but for Hank and Chuck back in 1950s Appalachia, it's but a boozy night's whim and all about hating to use rubbers, leaving them unprepared for how complicated their lives are about to get because nobody told them that they would have to keep using those slimy things until they'd experienced twenty ejaculations. With malleable resolve, they work through the embarrassment of producing semen samples, counting down their ejaculations, and actually talking about sex with their partners. They also bravely confront daunting obstacles of mean-spirited doctors and nurses, judgmental preachers, just plain nasty neighbors, a partner's infidelity, and an inexplicable out-of-wedlock pregnancy—all while falling in love and without anybody getting shot.

Collateral Damage

And Stories

BY BOB MUSTIN

The stories in this collection examine the ways we use imagination to set aside human anguish and move on with our lives. Here baseball opens a passageway to life after death, obsession transforms romantic complexities into a corrupted form of happiness, conquest and empire begets guilt and a healing sacrifice, and the recipients of medical technology deal with the well-meant horrors inflicted on them. In Collateral Damage, the collection's centerpiece, writer John Fromme suffers a mental upset caused by his refusal to confront a family murder he witnessed as a child.

Wearing his favorite hat, Mattison Mouse is happy to venture outside on a beautiful day. Soon the little mouse hears mysterious footsteps behind him. What started out as a cheerful stroll turns uncertain as he begins to count animals who appear to be shadowing him. In a rush to run away, Mattison trips and loses his hat. It's only then he learns to refocus and overcome his anxieties, surprised by the special party his animal friends have planned for him.

Children can help count the fun party favors as everyone joyfully celebrates Mattison's best birthday ever.

Going Home:

A Companion Guide for Foster Children

WRITTEN BY HEATHER J. CUTHBERTSON
ILLUSTRATED BY BOHDI HILL

Going Home is a workbook for children entering the foster care system. The book will help them understand what is and will be happening to them in a simple and fun way through activities. Going Home will help ease the transition into foster care for children and caregivers alike. The author, Heather J. Cuthbertson was a caseworker for the Oregon Department of Human Services, Child Welfare for over six years both in Intake (child abuse/neglect investigations) and Permanency (working with families involved with the juvenile court system). In that time, she has seen a growing need for a book like Going Home for children entering the foster care system. She hopes Going Home will not only help children move past the uncertainty of entering and living in foster care, but to help them see the possibilities of happiness, security, and brighter tomorrows.
