FAPA College of Pharmacy (FAPA CP)

Elevating Pharmacy Excellence Across Asia

Empowering Pharmacists Through Advanced Training and for a Healthier Tomorrow.

The Federation of Asian Pharmaceutical Associations College of Pharmacy (FAPA CP) is an organization that serves as an advanced training platform for pharmacists across member countries of the Federation of Asian Pharmaceutical Associations (FAPA). Established in 1997 as an affiliate organization of FAPA, FAPA CP has been at the forefront of shaping the future of pharmacy practice in the region.

The Pillars of FAPA-CP: Education and Training

FAPA CP offers comprehensive postgraduate fellowship training in three major areas: Pharmaceutical Care, Pharmaceutical Technology, and Social and Administrative Pharmacy encompassing all subspecialties within these fields. These programs are designed to equip pharmacists with specialized knowledge and skills. Upon successful completion of training in accordance with FAPA CP's requirements, individuals will be awarded the prestigious title of "Fellow of FAPA College of Pharmacy" (FACP).

Key Objectives:

1. Harmonize International Professional Specialties: FAPA CP aims to harmonize and standardize international professional specialties for pharmacists, fostering excellence in every facet of the pharmacy profession.
2. Enhance Pharmacy Practice: We are committed to elevating and enhancing the standards of pharmacy practice across all domains of the profession.
3. Cultivate Scientific and Technological Competencies: FAPA CP focuses on developing the highest scientific and technological competencies in pharmacy practice to keep pace with evolving healthcare needs.
4. Promote Ethics and Professionalism: We encourage moral, ethical, and professional relationships among pharmacists and other healthcare professionals, fostering a collaborative and patient-centered approach.
5. Accredit Higher Education Programs: FAPA CP plays a pivotal role in accrediting programs for higher education and advanced training in various specialized fields of pharmacy.
6. Facilitate Scientific and Professional Exchange: We organize scientific and professional meetings to foster knowledge exchange, networking, and continuous professional development.
7. Foster Collaboration: FAPA CP actively seeks collaboration and cooperation in pharmacy practice, research, postgraduate education, and training to advance the pharmacy profession.

FAPA-CP's Activities

Our Activities: At FAPA CP, we are committed to advancing the pharmacy profession in Asia and ensuring that pharmacists are equipped with the knowledge and skills needed to deliver high-quality care to patients through a range of activities, including:

- Offering advanced training in three major areas: Pharmaceutical Care, Pharmaceutical Technology, and Social and Administrative Pharmacy
- Facilitating continuing professional development (CPD)
- Initiating and conducting impactful research aimed at advancing pharmacy knowledge
- Nurturing a robust network of pharmacists among member countries
- Advocating for the advancement of pharmacist roles within healthcare
