

For the last 15 years, there have been few bands that are more synonymous with live music in and around the Mid-Atlantic than STARCHRUSH. Having performed at some of the areas largest events and graced some of its most iconic stages, STARCHRUSH has built a following of loyal fans and continues to be one of the best drawing bands in the region.

STARCHRUSH is a pop/rock country cover band featuring Scott Patterson, Jon Adams, Mike Flynn and Brandon Sturm. Working with some of the areas largest radio stations, major sports franchises (Baltimore Ravens, Baltimore Orioles, DC United, Philadelphia Eagles), the NCAA and even MTV, STARCHRUSH remains one of the hardest working and most coveted bands in the area, performing 80-100 shows a year.

Having shared the stage with national headliners from the world of rock (REO Speedwagon, Puddle of Mudd, 3 Doors Down, Creedence Clearwater Revisited, Huey Lewis and the News, Peter Frampton, Sixpence None the Richer, Little River Band, Jars of Clay, Relient K), country (Chase Rice, LoCash, Sam Grow) and even some of the biggest international DJ's (Two Friends, James Hype); STARCHRUSH has a unique ability to cross genres and engage audiences no matter their musical tastes.

With a live show that features inspired performances of chart-topping songs from the world of country, pop and rock, the band maintains a passion for musicianship that is firmly rooted in their original endeavors; efforts that have led to critical acclaim for their work. Notably, STARCHRUSH lead singer Scott Patterson has been featured in multiple music publications over the years and his original songs "Win You Over", "Bigger Than You" and "Everything I Need" written with his brother on the nationally distributed album "FM Radio" have garnered radio airplay in major markets across the globe, hitting the top 10 charts at multiple stations in the Northeast and Mid-Atlantic upon their release and drawing praise from music critics for his strong vocals and catchy lyrics:

"Passionate, heartfelt lyrics, something akin to what you would might hear from Creed and Vertical Horizon....[with] some worthy, driving moments that seem very radio-friendly."

- Carmine Pascuzzi, Mediasearch

"Rock in the modern sense, a 'la Matchbox 20 type of rock. Nicely produced and orchestrated CD, and they have that following for something, the fans sure like it."

- The Celebrity Cafe.com

"Mixes powerful vocals, clever guitar hooks, and well-crafted lyrics together to form one of the best indie bands I've heard... The band carries a unique sound through its music, without falling into the trap of repetition that snares so many other indie bands."

- Hopperman, "For the Record"

"This band has come out with something that is geared for FM Radio. As the title implies, this is heading straight for your FM band. It is pop-rock. That is to say, not too risky, but good stuff. They can dish it out. This is a tight band with goals, and that is usually all it takes to make it in the biznass."

- Laurin Wollan, Music Monthly

"Radio-friendly modern rock that is so catchy, it virtually screams 'Play me! Please, please play me!'... It doesn't sound like your typical self-produced and self-released disc."

- Left of the Dial

"If you enjoy acoustic rock mixed with thoughtful ballads and smooth harmonies, definitely check this out."

- Julie Steffen, 1340mag.com

"'Win You Over' places the songwriting and singing gifts of Scott Patterson in an exciting, fresh musical context. Always energetic and fresh, this is Rock & Roll with pop sensibilities that will no doubt make them even more accessible to a more mainstream audience. Building upon their trademark acoustic foundation with tasty melodies and catchy hooks, they have fully developed into a band confident in their convictions.....Indie Rock just doesn't get any better than this!"
