NEXT GENERATION TRADING SYSTEMS

Introducing Hashed Plutus Leverage

Greetings Fellow Trader!

We have developed a trading system that exceeds even our own expectations. Read on to see what HP leverage is capable of.

We at Hashed Plutus strive for the very best. Our prized indicator PXI proved its mettle by absolutely crushing the altcoin market for unprecedented gains in the current cycle. Today we take a step back. Altcoins are very different from Bitcoin. The king follows no one; he carves his path. You can play golf with a single club, but only the seasoned ones know each has its purpose. Analyzing all your requests for a specialized strategy coded intentionally to obliterate the BTCUSDT futures on Binance, we bring to you HP Leverage. Back-tested over three years in multiple time-frames have brought results beyond exceptional. Built specifically for the wildest day traders and precision scalpers among you who endlessly seek higher ROI and less time charting.

The HP Leverage edge

What does this have that it blew my socks off? Opening TradingView greets you with thousands of indicators from their extensive library. Variations of RSI, MACD and other indicators which are similar to a general physician. Can handle numerous issues but doesn't specialize in anything. The neurosurgeon you need who is a master of his art is precisely what HP Leverage brings to the table. Lazer precision accuracy on a single pair. That's it.

Next Generation Trading Indicator

Bringing it all together, you have a phenomenally accurate strategy back-tested from the very first candle printed on BTCUSDT to the present day. The numbers speak for themselves by blowing any competition out of the water. And to enjoy moon rides on altcoins, you can yield our prized indicator PXI that has a proven record in catching trends in every altcoin. Why settle for one when you can grab both and enjoy the altseason without worrying about bitcoin analysis. Head over to hashedplutus.com now to catch the exclusive Black Friday sale!

How to use HP Leverage

Navigate to your TradingView chart, select HP Leverage from the invite-only subsection. CRITICAL! Change chart view to Heikin-Ashi. Set your desired time-frame and the indicator will automatically adjust itself. Buy and sell signals will be printed on the chart. Simple.

Hashed Plutus Leverage

Data analysis:

The number-crunching and data handling in this study are pivotal to its success. Thus being a mathematical system vs a visual indicator means we tweak every variable for maximum profit. Like tuning a 1000bhp Lambo on the dyno, we found the sweet spot over all the most popular time-frames. The 4h and 5min stand out as most profitable. Trading frequency is a significant variable in a strategy. The 4h time-frame maximizes the accuracy of HP Leverage with a fair trading turnover, while the 5min provides relentless frequency while effecting the loss rate by only 4%! Max Drawdown represents the most significant loss booked over the respective time-frame. It is under 2% on all time-frames. Enough said. The indicator is driven to close at break-even on losing trades. While entries seek best price entries that exceed market standards.

Alerts on the indicator

Alerts are programmed to give both buy and sell signals on a free TradingView account. No premium required to make full use of product

Future Ambition

The performance on this trading strategy is just phenomenal. The results have inspired us to fully solve the money machine dilemma we all dream about. We have successfully developed a way to automate trading, capable of 1000's of trades every month. We are in final testing. HP Leverage buyers will receive a rebate on the future product launch.
