Horses model living in the present moment and thrive on clear communication and reliable leadership. They teach us about our impact on others by picking up on our intentions and non-verbal communication and providing us with this feedback, regardless of our position or title.

WHAT DOES THE PROGRAM OFFER?

Safe space to work with horses developing personal insight and experimenting with new actions or behaviours.

Reflective processing with the team to create stronger relationships.

Integration of new learnings to work and personal life.

Sustainable growth through experiential learning activities with the horses.

PROGRAM DETAILS

- Full or half day programs
- Group sizes between 6 - 20
- Transport can be arranged on request
- No horse skills necessary
- No horse back riding will take place

“We were challenged to observe and interact with horses as a way of understanding how we as a team communicate and engage with each other. We were able to learn and reflect on how our energy, body language, thoughts and intentions impact and influence everyone around us. We walked away from the day feeling connected as a team, energised and incredibly grateful for the meaningful learning experience with the horses.”
