From Campfires to Bookstores: Local Singer-Songwriter Releases Powerful Pandemic Memoir

Victoria, BC – Known for his emotionally charged performances and poetic songwriting, alt-folk musician Rob Fillo is stepping into the literary world with the release of his debut memoir, Singing with the Trees, launching June 17, 2025 on Amazon.

A raw, soul-baring account of transformation, Singing with the Trees chronicles Fillo's journey of living in his vehicle and traversing the remote wilderness of Vancouver Island during the COVID-19 pandemic. It is an introspective blend of travel writing, spiritual discovery, and creative rebirth, all set in lush forests and small towns of the Pacific Northwest.

Singing with the Trees* is what happens when a songwriter lets go of everything and follows the call of the wild, in search of what's waiting on the other side.

The memoir offers a behind-the-scenes look at how Fillo reconnected with his calling as a musician, eventually returning to the stage with renewed purpose and over 100 original songs to his name. It's a tale of healing, perseverance, and the mysterious ways nature guides those willing to listen.

Review copies are available. Media professionals, book reviewers, and arts & culture editors are invited to request a promotional PDF by contacting Rob directly at robfillo@gmail.com

If you're looking for a compelling human-interest story tied to art, music, and the wild spirit of the West Coast, Singing with the Trees is a timely and unforgettable release.
