Since his personal revelation about the Hebrew Israelite way of life in the 1970's Tyrone has sought to enlighten and engage others through a variety of methods. In 2014 he created an online website and magazine called Hebrew Israelite Nation Times (HINT) to continue his quest to encourage dialogue and communication worldwide. It provided a new platform to create an open forum to examine and explore the State of a Nation, the Lost Sheep of the House of Israel scattered throughout this world, and the need to restore its relationship with the God of our forefathers, the God of Abraham, Isaac and Jacob.

Contributors to HINT include faith leaders, educators, community advocates, political leaders and others who present broad and diversified perspectives.

Identity is imperative for any person or people. It is the source of one's ancestors, history, language and culture. It is who you are.
