

FAQ for Clients

Cognitive Health Assessment

Brain & Cognition Clinic (BCC)

In collaboration with Alzheimer's Research Australia

What is the Cognitive Health Assessment?

It is a comprehensive 5-step cognitive screening assessment.

How it works?

The clinician will assess you and provide recommendations on cognitive areas needing improvement and the strategies available.

How much is the assessment?

The assessment is $100 and not for profit. Importantly, $30 from each assessment fee will be donated directly to Alzheimer's Research Australia and the remainder of the funds covers marketing, resources and the clinicians professional time.

Is there a health rebate?

The assessment is conducted by a qualified clinician. Depending on your level of health cover will depend on the rebate.

Can I continue with Brain & Cognition (BCC) Therapy beyond the assessment?

Yes. Beyond the cognitive assessment test, participants will have the chance to enhance cognitive reserve and abilities through Brain & Cognition's therapy platforms, which will be demonstrated during the screening process.
