HOW IT WORKS

The foreign exchange market (Forex, FX, or currency market) is a global decentralised or over-the-counter (OTC) market for the trading of currencies. This market determines the foreign exchange rate. It includes all aspects of buying, selling and exchanging currencies at current or determined prices. In terms of trading volume, it is by far the largest market in the world, followed by the Credit market

The modern foreign exchange market began forming during the 1970s. This followed three decades of government restrictions on foreign exchange transactions under the Bretton Woods system of monetary management, which set out the rules for commercial and financial relations among the world's major industrial states after World War II. Countries gradually switched to floating exchange rates from the previous exchange rate regime, which remained fixed per the Bretton Woods system.

FOREX TRADING BACKGROUND

EDP uses an innovative trading methodology and algorithmic processes to achieve maximum returns whilst trading. EDP has been set up to provide access to institutional FOREX trading service for its retail and corporate clients. The service is designed to maximise returns for the client and create a safer trading mechanism which will protect the client's profit margins and trading abilities.

The management team of the Company have more than ten years of a track record in FOREX trading in the financial markets.

The Directors, along with the management team, have developed a trading platform and they have the necessary experience to find and select profitable, successful trading opportunities that will maximise client returns.
