PROUDLY SUPPORTING THE TOTNES FRINGE FESTIVAL

THANK YOU, TOTNES & BEYOND

After a beautiful and vibrant three days of theatre at last year's inaugural Totnes Fringe Festival, we are delighted to return – with lessons learned, with even greater conviction that Totnes has a real appetite for theatre and live performance, and with an even bigger army of volunteers behind us.

It's important to reflect on the arts and cultural landscape across the UK right now. There continues to be a decline in touring work reaching the Southwest, fewer new productions are being commissioned nationally, and participation in the arts among children and young people continues to fall from primary school through to university. In many ways, the picture is bleak. But perhaps that is exactly why festivals like this matter.

Last year's response reminded us of how hungry people are for live performance, shared experiences, and spaces where artists and audiences can come together. Those realities only strengthen our determination to bring exciting work to Totnes: to provide a platform for artists, support graduating theatre-makers, offer family shows and workshops, and celebrate what theatre can do for us – individually and collectively. Performance can connect us more deeply to ourselves and to the people and world around us. It reflects how we live, but can also challenge us to imagine living differently.

The generosity that defined last year's festival has only continued to grow. Local businesses, sponsors and volunteers have once again given their support through donations, time and space, while artists are arriving from across the UK and Europe. This year, we are thrilled to welcome our first international companies, alongside our new Fringe Futures awardees and several returning artists bringing brand-new shows.

We are excited to welcome back Ben's Farm Shop as one of our two headline sponsors, alongside The Bull, and we are delighted that Josh Widdicombe has become our first patron – helping affirm something we felt strongly last year: that Totnes Fringe Festival can be deeply rooted in the local community while still reaching outward nationally.

Enjoy the festival. See something you know you'll love – then follow it with something you suspect you might not. Take a chance, discover a new artist, start a conversation.

And thank you for being here.

Danielle, Susie, Lucy, Ceni and Rosie

3-POINT CHALLENGE

1. Fringe Roulette

See a show you didn't plan to. Follow a sound, a vibe, or a stranger's tip. Let spontaneity lead the way.

2. Get Lost (On Purpose)

Wander down a street you've never taken. Find a corner of Totnes you've never seen. Explore with curiosity.

3. Fringe in a Frame

Seen something epic? Tell a friend, post a story, or drop a quick shout out online.

PLAN YOUR FRINGE

The programme is organised 'At a Glance' by day – Thursday, Friday, Saturday and Sunday – with shows listed in time order from morning to evening. To find out more about any show, head to the alphabetical show listings on page 16.

For tickets, artist info and last-minute updates, scan the QR code and visit our online Festival Box Office.

Already booked? Great – just head to the venue with the QR code sent after purchase.

Advance booking closes 45 minutes before each show after that tickets can be purchased on-the-door of each venue.

Need help, want to pay cash, or have a question?

Visit the Festival Box Office at Bogan House (opposite the Civic Hall).

Free & Unticketed Events

Some Fringe events are unticketed, including Leechwell Gardens, Rotherfold, Pop-Up Poetry, the Telephone Box and the Bay Horse. These events are free (donations welcome), but space may be limited – arrive early!

Accessibility

Totnes isn't the easiest town for access, but we're working to improve accessibility across the festival each year. The Civic Hall, St Mary's, The Mansion, Leechwell Gardens and the Castle are fully accessible venues.

NEED HELP? VISIT THE BOX OFFICE HUB OR ASK A VOLUNTEER IN ORANGE – THEY'RE HERE FOR YOU.

THANKS TO OUR SUPPORTERS

THANKS BEN...

Few will remember the early days, but Ben's Farm Shop began life as Riverford Farm Foods on Totnes market back in 1983.

Since then, Totnes has been pretty good to us. From the market stall to the farm shop, to Riverford Goes To Town and the much-missed Ben's Wine & Tapas, we've always felt at home here - supported by the people of Totnes and, we hope, striking a chord in return.

So when the team behind Totnes Fringe Festival approached us last year, it felt obvious: this was something worth backing. A chance to help something ambitious take root in the town.

A year on, it's clear the Fringe has found its place too. The packed rooms, lively conversations and buzz around town reminded us what makes Totnes special: people turning up for independent ideas, creativity and culture.

At Ben's, we've always believed local businesses should do more than simply trade here - they should help shape the place too. That's why we're proud to support Totnes Fringe Festival for a second year running. Because good food, farming, art and culture all come from the same instinct: people putting care, creativity and graft into something they believe in.

"Some say we're a Totnes institution. We'd like the Fringe Festival to

"We are delighted to welcome back Ben's Farm Shop, our 2025 Lead Sponsor, returning this year as Joint Headline Sponsor alongside The Bull Inn."

THANKS GEETIE...

Few places embody Totnes' independent spirit quite like The Bull Inn. The organic, values-driven pub with rooms has become nationally recognised for its commitment to sustainable hospitality and ethical business practices. In its first year of opening, it was named The Times and Sunday Times Best Eco Hotel of the Year, while its founder, Geetie Singh-Watson, a pioneer of the organic pub movement, has received numerous accolades including Publican of the Year, Business Woman of the Year and an MBE for Services to the Organic Pub Trade.

Operating under a "planet, people, profit" ethos, The Bull places environmental responsibility and conscious decision-making at the heart of everything it does, from organic, seasonal food and locally sourced ingredients to zero-to-landfill waste practices. In November 2025, Geetie and her team expanded their vision further with the opening of sister restaurant The Albatross Pizza Shop, just across the road from the pub, serving a weekly changing pizza menu focused on sustainability and local British produce.

"We wanted to be a Headline Sponsor this year because I truly believe in this kind of thing happening in local towns," comments Geetie. "Festivals are phenomenally important to local communities. They bring people together to share live experiences and connect in a real way. Supporting the Fringe feels like a natural extension of that."

"... Festivals are phenomenally important to local communities. They bring people together to share live experiences..."

PROUDLY SUPPORTING THE TOTNES FRINGE FESTIVAL

HELLO JOSH!

We're delighted to welcome Josh Widdicombe as our Patron. His support is a huge boost for us as he recognises that festivals are where emerging artists can cut their teeth, and one of our fundamental aims is to provide that launchpad.

Josh Widdicombe is one of the UK's most recognisable comedians and broadcasters, known for his work on The Last Leg, QI, Taskmaster, Live at the Apollo, as co-host of the hugely successful podcast Parenting Hell, and most recently announced as one of the new hosts of Strictly Come Dancing.

"Totnes Fringe is exactly the kind of festival that matters. Ambitious, independent, and genuinely open to a wide range of artists and audiences. It's rooted in the South West but has the potential to grow into something much bigger and I'm really pleased to support it as Patron."

FRINGE FUTURES

Totnes Fringe Futures is the festival's artist development programme, supporting recently graduated theatre makers to create, develop and showcase exciting new work. Participants receive mentoring, a bursary, and the opportunity to present their work as part of the festival, helping them bring ambitious ideas to life while building the next generation of creative talent.

Pending Approval emerged from a love of experimental and physical theatre, combining immersive storytelling with movement to comfort the disturbed. Having met during their time at drama school, their love for sharing difficult, dark and often dystopian worlds has come together to create something captivating. In You Need More (Sat, 5.15 pm), they combine sensory theatre, imaginative world-building, and unconventional staging to create a work that questions who really holds power in the worlds we inhabit.

Joss Affleck, a Bristol-based artist, recently moved into live performance, combining animation, storytelling and audience participation to create playful, strange and immersive experiences exploring transformation, folklore and queerness.

The Skin Show (Sun, 2.00pm) draws on folk horror, dark comedy, animation and ritual.

WORDS A STAGE

*Suppose one word— a flake of sound flung from a mouth—lands softly in the dark of you and says the thing
you never knew you needed.
This is poetry communing with theatre on solid ground.*

JULIE MULLEN

Words A Stage

Come to the Totnes Fringe Festival and expect your heart to be covered in graffiti. Is Totnes town beckoning you?

Yes? Good.

You'll be awash with words because a call is going out across the town: bring your portable typewriter to the streets. Listen for the clacking chorus of keys as poems spring into life on paper. If you've never written a poem before, consider this your official permission slip.

Our poet in residence Julie Mullen will be co-ordinating 'WORD LOVE-INS'. Write of passage she calls it...

The Community of Words will be popping up in places such as Totnes Museum, Dutch Flowers and unexpected corners of the town. Poets will be roaming, gathering, appearing and disappearing like Houdini's cat.

Try to bump into one. Ask for a poem. Let them whisper words directly into your heart. For one weekend, Totnes will become a living poem. Come and add a line!

"Poetry is eternal graffiti written in the heart of everyone."

Lawrence Ferlinghetti

ART KARAOKE

Art Karaoke transforms contemporary art into playful performance. Audiences become participants within a collision of karaoke, visual culture and creativity, where experimentation, humour and shared awkwardness combine into a celebration of participation, performance and artistic expression.
Running time 60 minutes

B. BED AMONGST THE LENTILS

Alan Bennett's beautiful monologue comes alive through Gina Carter's tender and sharply funny performance. Bed Amongst the Lentils explores loneliness, faith and longing with warmth and wit, uncovering unexpected humanity beneath ordinary suburban life and routine.
Running time 35 – 40 minutes

BLAME OF THRONES

An improvised period fantasy. The monarch is dying, uncertainty reigns. Who will get the throne and who will fall short? You decide in this comedic performance filled with corruption and conspiracy.
Running time 50 minutes

BLUES ON SUNDAY: THE BOAL WEEVILS

Wander up to the Bay Horse at the top of town for some Sunday Blues with the Boal Weevils, a highly popular local Delta blues duo in South Devon, England. Featuring musicians Stuart Cumberpatch (slide and lap-steel guitar) and Andy Boal (National guitar and vocals)
Running time 60 minutes

C. CARTOGRAPHY

Through story, song and poetry, Cartography traces England's evolving relationship with the land beneath our feet. From enclosure acts to miners' ballads, this musical journey explores belonging, ownership and memory through beautiful narratives and original songs.
Running time 45 + 40 minutes with interval

CIVIC MASH

Grace Surman reimagines folk traditions through vibrant contemporary dance inspired by Morris and social dance forms. Joyful, energetic and rooted in movement, this performance invites audiences into rhythms, rituals and connections between bodies, histories and communities.
Running time 20 minutes

COMMUNITY SERVICE

Geoff has to complete community service and he needs your help. Blending participation, comedy and social satire, this interactive performance explores bureaucracy, responsibility and collective action with warmth, awkwardness and increasingly chaotic consequences.
Running time 60 minutes

D. DRAWING ON THE BOTTLE

Through live projected drawing, storytelling, music and humour, this poignant and funny show follows one drinker's journey from childhood to adulthood, exploring what alcohol can be, how we use it, how we say goodbye to it, and the art of becoming unstuck.
Running time 60 minutes

DOOM AND GLITTER: A TRIBUTE TO TOM WAITS

Step into the smoky world of Tom Waits through this blues-soaked cabaret from Mr Brake Down and band. Blending music, storytelling and charm, Doom and Glitter celebrates a cult artist with warmth, wit and offbeat energy.
Running time 60 minutes

DANCE TRIPLE BILL: WE/US, MODI-NU, THE ORCHESTRAL BODY

WE/US
Contemporary duet, expect an intimate, dark, intense atmosphere supported by techno and dance music. A playful 12-minute performance by Dries and Sandrine.

MODI - NU

Dancer / choreographer Yolande Snaith with musicians Glyn Jackson, Eliza Jacobs and Roger Hall. In this moment, here, now, together, we sense the method, we feel the rhythm, the manner of composing, we follow the map through different worlds of sound, movement and images.

THE ORCHESTRAL BODY

Free improvisers Ambă Lucy Chenery and Roger Hall explore the relationship between movement and stillness, body and instrument, silence and sound.
Overall Run time around 60 minutes

THE DREAM

Two actors. Endless characters. Shakespeare's wildest dream bursts alive as VOX Theatre transforms A Midsummer Night's Dream into playful, intimate chaos. Fresh from Pride and Prejudice, Bristol Old Vic-trained performers deliver storytelling, comic invention and magic.
Running time 60 minutes

F. FELLED

Threading tales of trees, humans, life and death this immersive mother-daughter performance drags hope on an uphill journey. Dance with a deer through this playful performance centring nature, connection and community.
Running time 40 minutes

THE FIVE FLAVOURS OF MASCULINITY

Join us at the pub for an exploration of masculinity in the modern day, with everchanging roles and responsibilities. Conversation, poetry, imagination and song culminate in this light-hearted exploration of Bloke-dom!
Running time 60 minutes

THE FIRST MEN IN THE MOON

A comically dramatic ride through HG Wells' Sci-Fi classic. A struggling playwright and an eccentric scientist journey to the moon. Armed with avarice and ambition this unlikely duo set off where no man has ever been before.
Running time 60 minutes

DANCE DOUBLE BILL FLUX AND MY SISTER THE EEL

Immerse yourself in an evocative encounter with water through dance, music and generative visuals. A live, improvised performance exploring connection, transformation and our relationship with nature.

A dancer and musician weave contemporary dance, live music and folklore into an intimate exploration of femininity, nature and transformation, where human and animal collide.
Running time 60 minutes

FULL FRONTAL MIKEY MODE

Comedian Mikey delivers a glorious hour of clowning, awkwardness and freakish charm. The show embraces vulnerability, absurdity and playful audience connection, creating comedy that feels simultaneously ridiculous, heartfelt and joyfully unpredictable from beginning to end.
Running time 60 minutes

G. GRIMSPOUND BORDER MORRIS

Grimspound is an ancient hut circle on a western facing slope on Dartmoor, a wild and barren area of moorland in Devon, England. The atmosphere of the place inspired this team of morris dancers to re-create the way things could have been for the people who lived there in terms of their rituals and approach to life.

H. HUMANS IN THE LOOP

A fast, funny musical exploring the people driving the AI revolution. From earworms to touching solos Humans in the Loop blends satire, original music and chaos into a human story about technology, ambition and survival.

Running time 60 minutes

HAGS, HARPIS & HARRIDANS

Jane Flood and Rina Vergano conjure dark tales of crones, witches and wildwomen through story, spoken word and music. Punk spirit meets folklore, chants and fairytales in this celebration of ageing, power and untamed feminine energy.

Running time 60 minutes

HOW I WENT TO EVERY SUPERMARKET IN THE WORLD

For ten years, Dan has travelled the world recording prices from every supermarket in the world into a Dictaphone. From apples to cheese, this strange, funny and unexpectedly human story explores obsession, routine and global economics.

Running time 60 minutes

I. IMPROVISATION NOW

Live devised dance theatre. Utilising dance, sounds & text as tools to respond to our environment & audience, we create performances belonging to the moment. Our work is based in the joy of dance, collaboration, creativity & performance.

Running time 60 minutes

J. JACK AND THE BEANSTALK (SORT OF)

Kid Carpet doesn't care for pantos. The Noisy Animals love it. A nonsensical retelling of Jack and the Beanstalk, stuffed with songs silliness and air guitar, this family friendly show is loud, proud and full of surprises.

Running time 60 minutes
