

Slow Air

The Flower of Scotland

Traditional

The musical score for "The Flower of Scotland" is presented in four staves of treble clef notation. The key signature is one sharp (F#), and the time signature is 6/8. The melody is characterized by a slow, flowing character, typical of a "Slow Air". The notation includes various rhythmic values such as eighth and sixteenth notes, often beamed together, and rests. Phrasing is indicated by slurs and breath marks. The piece concludes with a double bar line.

FLOWER OF SCOTLAND

O flower of Scotland
When will we see your like again
That fought and died for
Your wee bit hill and glen
And stood against him
Proud Edward's army
And sent him homeward
Tae think again

The hills are bare now
And autumn leaves lie thick and still
O'er land that is lost now
Which those so dearly held
And stood against him
Proud Edward's army
And sent him homeward
Tae think again

Those days are passed now
And in the past they must remain
But we can still rise now
And be the nation again
That stood against him
Proud Edward's army
And sent him homeward
Tae think again
