SPECIAL HOUSE WINE

s o k o l

Symphony Edition

Sokol is a muscat variety, something between sauvignon and yellow muscat. This unique grape variety from Klanjec vineyard was first mentioned in 1686 records of the old Franciscan monastery. The unique blend of Sokol vines was originally produced by monks in the Klanjec hills region in the 17th century. Before WWII, these vines were believed to have died out, but fortunately 20 vines were saved and preserved. Today, in the vineyards of Klanjec, there are approximately 700 Sokol vines.

Red Wine

Producer

Wine Name

Matuško

Postup

Dry

Dry red wine, aged two years in steel tanks, medium purple color, has blueberry, prune, black cherry and vanilla flavors. Pairs great with red meat, delicate and nutty cheese.

Matuško

Zinfandel

Dry

Dry red wine, aged one year in old oak barrels, dark ruby red color, has a full body with aromas of black cherry, dark chocolate, coffee, light vanilla and light barrique notes. Pairs great with red meat, blue fish, cheese, fruity and chocolate desserts.

Korlat

Cabernet Sauvignon

Dry

Dry red wine aged in oak barrels with an incredibly dark, nearly black color, with a characteristic purple hue. Its aromatic profile is characterized by a wealth of diverse aroma including plum, blueberry, black currant and discrete spicy notes. The wine is full, harmonious, with concentrated aromas, and a more pronounced fresh note with plenty of ripe tannins. It pairs perfectly with ripe, strong cheese, four-cheese pasta, roast beef, roast lamb, veal roasted under the bell, steak tartare and plum or sour cherry strudel.

Korlat

Syrah

Dry

Dry red wine of a deep burgundy-purple color, with a strong, rich structure. It is intensively concentrated and spiced with aromas of ripe berry fruit such as blackberries and red raisins. Its strong complexity and personality of its aroma is added with the aroma of coffee, dark chocolate, and the discrete aroma of tobacco, which is partially an expression of its aromatic potential, and partially the result of carefully cultivating the wine in oak barrels. Pairs best with soft cheese, grilled dishes, especially pork chops or bluefish, goulash made with game, roast beef, smoked meats (e.g., sausages made with game), desserts made with forest fruit.

*Kraljevski
vinogradi*

Crljenak

Dry

Crljenak is an old Croatian indigenous variety whose records and memorials date back to the 15th century. It is scientifically proven that American Zinfandel and Italian Primitivo are identical to Crljenak, and they trace their ancestry from it. The wine is fruity, easy to drink, with soft flavor and intensive red-ruby color. The aromas are accented with fruity charm of blueberries, blackberries, plums and raspberries. On the palate it acts rounded, with moderate tannins, of a very elegant structure and with fine dosage of wood.

Matuško

Dinča Royal

Dry

Dry red wine, aged 4 years in oak barrels, deep purple color, has a full body with balanced tannins, aromas of vanilla and all range of dried fruits, chocolate notes and jam. Pairs great with red meat, dry fruit, nuts, dark chocolate, strong and firm cheese.

White Wine

Producer

Wine Name

Katunar

Žlahtina

Dry

Dry white local wine from indigenous grapes of Vrbnik characterized by crystal clarity, yellow-green color, pleasant and refreshing taste, a gentle scent of a sophisticated aroma where one can detect apple, citrus fruits and flowery scents. It pairs with šurlice (home-made local pasta) with goulash, sheep cheese, lamb and sea delicacies.

Matuško

Chardonnay

Dry

Dry white wine, aged one year in steel tanks, medium straw color, has a medium light body, crispy, mineral and floral. Pairs great with white meat, fish and soft cheese.

Katunar

*Žlahtina
sv. Lucija*

Dry

Dry white wine made of the indigenous variety of the island of Krk, the white Žlahtina, from the location of Supele, not far from the church of St. Lucy. Considering the location from which it originates, you will be dazzled by its yellow-green to golden-green color of deeper shades. The aroma reminds one of quince, peach, citrus fruits, roses. The play of acids and sugar shows its elegance, one might say grandeur. It expresses mineral quality with a fine ending which, refined with the pineapple and ripe grapes provide an elegant sweetness, so it leaves a pleasant taste on the palate. Best pairs with meals containing white meat, fish, pasta and rice with seafood.

Matuško

Pošip

Dry

Dry white wine, aged one year in steel tanks, medium yellow, moderately acid, light herbal notes, aromas of lemon, apple, pear with a light note of elder flower. Pairs with white fish, shellfish, light chicken dishes.

KozlovićMalvazija

Dry white wine, aged one year in steel tanks with pale golden colour. It is very open on the nose, outspoken and talkative, yet never too intense. It possesses a certain crystalline-like quality and precision demonstrating a fine palette of very delicate aromas: orange blossom, white flowers, ripe yellow fruits, lemons, delicate oriental spices, pineapple, and wet stone. Pairs with seafood, white fish and risotto.

GalićSauvignon Blanc

Dry white wine distinguished by its sophisticated mineral character and a freshness of crisp acidity. Intensive and full fruity elderberry, melon and gooseberry notes are intertwined with the herbal aromas of pepper, asparagus and lemongrass. 15% of the wine is macerated for 6-12 hours and aged on its lees in 500-litre oak barrels. Pairs with seafood, white fish and risotto.

*Kraljevski
vinogradiPošip*

Authentic Dalmatian white grape variety whose breeding tradition dates back to the times of the ancient Greeks. It is the wine with expressed personality, dazzling golden yellow color and greenish hues. Its aroma is distinctive, with strong body, with the fullness of fruity taste of apricots, figs and subtle hint of Mediterranean herbs. It perfectly suits to all fish dishes, shellfish and white meat.
