

NAS Native American Studies Center

W. Brent Burgin Lunch and Learn Lecture Series 2022

“Natives Dancing: The Presence, Practice, & Purpose of Dance in Native American Culture Today”

Friday, November 11
Noon

By Jess Moore,
Dance Education Specialist, Columbia College

In Native American cultures, dancing plays an important role in one's identity, serving as a form of connection, personal expression, and representation. This lecture will discuss ways Native Americans are using concert dance and pan-Indian powwows to bring about remembrance and recognition to contemporary Native American culture. Moore's Lunch and Learn is held in conjunction with the 17th Annual Native American Studies Celebration.

To attend the lecture in person at 119 S. Main Street in downtown Lancaster, please call (803) 313-7172 or email usclnasp@mailbox.sc.edu to reserve your spot. To attend via Zoom, register via the link on our Facebook page. Please direct any questions or comments to the Center.

UNIVERSITY OF
South Carolina
LANCASTER