*Catawba Archaeology of the Late 18th Century
University of North Carolina
Ph.D. candidate David Cranford*

The late 18th century was a turbulent and formative period for the Catawba Nation. Epidemics, conflict, and an influx of new neighbors forced the Catawba to dramatically change the way they lived and organized their communities. Recent archaeological investigations at several sites in York and Lancaster Counties have provided new insights into how this community adjusted to new social, economic, and political realities of the late 18th century.
